DENVER INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT

This is basically a picture story book. It is a brief bit of information on my discovery in the Denver, Colorado area.

When I first started doing research on the Denver International Airport (DIA), I was giving it the giving it the benefit of the doubt. Then I ran across a statement made by a former CIA operative, which told me I was on to something big.

Clinton appointed, as head of the U.S. Department of Transportation, the former Mayor of Denver, Federico Pena, whose primary qualification for the job was his help in promoting the new Denver airport. That airport project was riddled with corruption involving key people from the Denver area HUD and savings-and-loan scandal and involving the CIA and its proprietary, Silverado Bank Savings and Loan. Inside CIA sources tell that Pena was paid one and one-half million dollars for his help in getting Denver voters to approve the new Denver Airport project. Pena had been involved with the MDC Holdings and related groups, in which U.S. Attorney Michael Norton was also financially involved. It appears that Pena's office was bugged, and he and the CIA agents that were involved with Pena are recorded where Millman's exact words are, "Ok, here's the million and a half god-damn dollars, now we want the f... airport to go through." Pena got a million and a half dollars in cash, and there is a tape recording to prove it.

I would assume from that that there is much more to the airport than meets the eye. When the CIA is pushing something that hard, it has to be a front for something else. There are many rumors running around. One such is the statement that I was given by a member of the board that was doing research to oppose the airport. It was stated that the planners only planned for the airport to be used for an airport for five years. What then? No more airplanes coming into Denver? Or do they plan to move back to Stapleton Airport and use the new airport for a country club or maybe for a "Global Masonic Temple," for that is what it truly appears to be anyway. No, I think that it literally goes much deeper than that.

When I first went to the new airport, I was accompanied by an engineer who had been involved for many years working in construction for the Industrial Defense Complex building giant, "Deep Underground Bases." He told me that he had been offered the position of head engineer for the construction of the base ethat was to go under the new "Denver International Airport," back in the early eighties. He said that it covered an underground area of 85 square miles, with a depth of 88 cubic miles. He said it had in the complex a 4.5 square mile city, complete with stores and shops, etc, and complete with hundreds of miles of underground roads, all connecting with the high-speed bullet trains that can go at "Mach" speeds. He also went on to tell me that most of these bases are now jointly occupied by humans and either ancient earth races or alien races. According to him, these underground bases are to serve many different purposes, such as medical research labs, prisons, work camps, military accommodations, food storage, etc.

If there truly is an eight-level deep underground base below DIA, as he said there is, during the last year after the airport was finished and just sitting there, were they really doing the final hook-ups between the surface base, DIA, and the underground base, as I was told? The next question you must ask yourself is, what are the real plans or DIA? According to the FEMA 41-10 plan, it appears that Denver is the central location for collecting people and processing them into other areas of the world to be transported out from there by plane. I keep remembering reading somewhere that Hitler's concentration camps were also used to collect, hold and have people transported by alien craft to the moon and Mars for slave labor, and then possibly returned to earth. We know the holocaust was a hoax, with all the Nazi and alien interaction that was going on even back then. We also know that after the war, the American and German shadow governments joined forces and have been working together ever since. Could the DIA be a very large human processing center for slave labor to go to other worlds or elsewhere on earth? Are those tunnels under DIA with four concrete sides running adjacent to the tram lines that are covered up with sprinklers just what they are said to be--fire extinguishers--or could that be a giant gas chamber or a decontamination chamber to get people ready to deport to other worlds?

After making the trips underground that I have made, I feel in my heart that, without any question, this airport is far more than they are telling us. Just as the Great Hall at the airport where nothing is permanent, so too in the underground, nothing is permanent-- not even the steel I-beams that support the steel mesh floors--they are bolted to the walls. It appears that everything down there is largely a dead baggage system that is not in use. They have a simple running baggage system there, and then all of this other equipment is just sitting there, taking up room and lots of it--acres! There are many catwalks in places, and there is an overrun of security cameras everywhere.

There is a road system down there what is a wide two-lane highway. In some areas, it has an area next to it, fenced off with chainlink fencing, that would be perfect for holding cells if there was an occasion to need it for that. There are many huge areas where there are chainlink fences installed. For what reason, I can't tell you. It is just there.

I have been down as far as it is possible to go at this time without finding the secret door to go farther. I will tell you this--it is strange down there under the Denver Airport. This airport underground puts out a set of feelings and vibrations that make me sick to my stomach. My friend and I experienced the same feelings. I can't tell you if what I am picking up there are things that are going on underground in that area at this time, or if I am picking up what has happened there in the future which we have not arrived at yet. The one thing I am sure of is that this place can produce no good. It is dripping with Nazi and Masonic symbols everywhere either by accident or design. As I said before, I live my life today and operate by the seat of my pants and my gut feelings, and they never tell me wrong, if I only stop and pay attention to them. As I have said before, I don't have any good feelings about this place. This short book, is basically a picture book. After you read it, do take the time to go to Denver and experience this place for yourself, and see how you feel about it. May the God of love and life that is your Father bless each of you.

Thank you.

The May 1995 Lecture by Phil Schneider

Phil Schneider, a very brave man, recently lost his life due to what appeared to be a military-style execution in January 1996. He was found dead in his apartment with piano wire still wrapped around his neck. According to some sources, he had been brutally tortured repeated before being killed. Phil Schneider, was an ex-government engineer who was involved in building underground bases. He was one of three people to survive the 1979 fire fight between the large Greys and U.S. intelligence and military forces at Dulce underground base.

In May 1995, Phil Schneider did a lecture on what he had discovered. Seven months later he was tortured and kill by those for whom he previously worked. This man's final acts should not go unnoticed.

The Lecture

"It is because of the horrendous structure of the federal government that I feel directly imperiled not to tell anybody about this material. How long I will be able to do this is anybody's guess. However, I would like to mention that this talk is going to be broken up into four main topics.

Each of these topics will have some bearing on what you people are involved in, whether you are patriots or not.

I want you to know that these United States are a beautiful place. I have gone to more than 70 countries, and I cannot remember any country that has the beauty, as well as the magnificence of its people, like these United States.

To give you an overview of basically what I am, I started off and went through engineering school. Half of my school was in that field, and I built up a reputation for being a geological engineer, as well as a structural engineer with both military and aerospace applications. I have helped build two main bases in the United States that have some significance as far as what is called the New World Order. The first base is the one at Dulce, New Mexico. I was involved in 1979 in a firefight with alien humanoids, and I was one of the survivors. I'm probably the only talking survivor you will ever hear. Two other survivors are under close guard. I am the only one left that knows the detailed files of the entire operation. Sixty-six secret service agents, FBI, Black Berets and the like, died in that firefight. I was there.

Number one, part of what I am going to tell you is going to be very shocking. Part of what I am going to tell you is probably going to be very unbelievable, though, instead of putting your glasses on, I'm going to ask you to put your "scepticals" on. But please, feel free to do your own homework. I know the Freedom of Information Act isn't much to go on, but it's the best we've got. The local law library is a good place to look for Congressional Records. So, if one continues to do their homework, then one can be standing vigilant in regard to their country.

Deep Underground Military Bases and the Black Budget

I love the country I am living in more than I love my life, but I would not be standing before you now, risking my life, if I did not believe it was so. The first part of this talk is going to concern deep underground military bases and the black budget. The Black Budget is a secretive budget that gainers 25% of the gross national product of the United States. The Black Budget currently consumes $1.25 trillion per year. At least this amount is used in black programs, like those concerned with deep underground military bases. Presently, there are 129 deep underground military bases in the United States.

They have been building these 129 bases day and night, unceasingly, since the early 1940's. Some of them were built even earlier than that. These bases are basically large cities underground connected by high-speed magneto-leviton trains that have speeds up to Mach 2. Several books have been. written about this activity. Al Bielek has my only copy of one of them. Richard Souder, a Ph.D architect, has risked his life by talking about this. He worked with a number of government agencies on deep underground military bases. In around where you live, in Idaho, there are 11 of them.

The average depth of these bases is over a mile, and they again are basically whole cities underground. They all are between 2.66 and 4.25 cubic miles in size. They have laser drilling machines that can drill a tunnel seven miles long in one day. The Black Projects sidestep the authority of Congress, which as we know is illegal. Right now, the New World Order is depending on these bases. If I had known at the time I was working on them that the NWO was involved, I would not have done it. I was lied to rather extensively.

Development of Military Technology, Implied German Interest in Hyperspacial Technology, and More

Basically, as far as technology is concerned, for every calendar year that transpires, Military technology increases about 44.5 years. This is why it is easy to understand that back in 1943 they were able to create, through the use of vacuum tube technology, a ship that could literally disappear from one place and appear in another place. My father, Otto Oscar Schneider, fought on both sides of the war. He was originally a U-boat captain, and was captured and repatriated in the United States. He was involved with different kinds of concerns, such as the A-bomb, the H-bomb and the Philadelphia Experiment. He invented a high-speed camera that took pictures of the first atomic tests at Bikini Island on July 12, 1946. I have original photographs of that test, and the photos also show UFO's fleeing the bomb site at a high rate of speed Bikini Island at the time was infested with them, especially under the water, and the natives had problems with their animals being mutilated. that time, General MacArthur felt that the next war would be with aliens from other worlds.

Anyway, my father laid the groundwork with theoreticians about the Philadelphia experiment, as well as other experiments. What does that have to do with me? Nothing, other than the fact that he was my father. I don't agree with what he did on the other side, but I think he had a lot of guts in coming here. He was hated in Germany. There was a $1 million reward, payable in gold, to anyone who killed him. Obviously, they didn't succeed. Anyway, back to our topic - deep underground bases.

The Fire Fight At Dulce Base

Back in 1954, under the Eisenhower administration, the federal government decided to circumvent the Constitution of the United States and form a treaty with alien entities. It was called their 1954 Greada Treaty, which basically made the agreement that the aliens involved could take a few cows and test their implanting techniques on a few human beings, but that they had to give details about the people involved. Slowly, the aliens altered the bargain until they decided they wouldn't abide by it at all. Back in 1979, this was the reality, and the firefight at Dulce occurred quite by accident. I was involved in building an addition to the deep underground military base at Dulce, which is probably the deepest base. It goes down seven levels and over 2.5 miles deep. At that particular time, we had drilled four distinct holes in the desert, and we were going to link them together and blow out large sections at a time. My job was to go down the holes and check the rock samples, and recommend the explosive to deal with the particular rock. As I was headed down there, we found ourselves amidst a large cavern that was full of outer-space aliens, otherwise known as large Greys. I shot two of them. At that time, there were 30 people down there. About 40 more came down after this started, and all of them got killed. We had surprised a whole underground base of existing aliens. Later, we found out that they had been living on our planet for a long time, perhaps a million years. This could explain a lot of what is behind the theory of ancient astronauts.

Anyway, I got shot in the chest with one of their weapons, which was a box on their body, that blew a hole in me and gave me a nasty dose of cobalt radiation. I have had cancer because of that.

I didn't get really interested in UFO technology until I started work at Area 51, north of Las Vegas. After about two years recuperating after the 1979 incident, I went back to work for Morrison and Knudson, EG&G and other companies. At Area 51, they were testing all kinds of peculiar spacecraft. How many people here are familiar with Bob Lazar's story.? He was a physicist working at Area 51 trying to decipher the propulsion factor in some of these craft.

Schneider's Worries About Government Factions, Railroad Cars and Shackle Contracts

Now, I am very worried about the activity of the federal government. They have lied to the public, stonewalled senators, and have refused to tell the truth in regard to alien matters. I can go on and on. I can tell you that I am rather disgruntled. Recently, I knew someone who lived near where I live in Portland, Oregon. He worked at Gunderson Steel Fabrication, where they make railroad cars. Now, I knew this fellow for the better part of 30 years, and he was kind of a quiet type. He came in to see me one day, excited, and he told me "they're building prisoner cars." He was nervous. Gunderson, he said, had a contract with the federal government to build 107,200 full length railroad cars, each with 143 pairs of shackles. There are 11 sub-contractors in this giant project. Supposedly, Gunderson got over 2 billion dollars for the contract. Bethlehem Steel and other steel outfits are involved. He showed me one of the cars in the rail yards in North Portland. He was right. If you multiply 107,200 times 143 times 11, you come up with about 15,000,000. This is probably the number of people who disagree with the federal government. No more can you vote any of these people out of office. Our present structure of government is "technocracy", not democracy, and it is a form of feudalism. It has nothing to do with the republic of the United States. These people are god-less, and have legislated out prayer in public schools. You can get fined up to $100,000 and two years in prison for praying in school. I believe we can do better. I also believe that the federal government is running the gambit of enslaving the people of the United States. I am not a very good speaker, but I'll keep shooting my mouth off until somebody puts a bullet in me, because it's worth it to talk to a group like this about these atrocities.

America's Black Program Contractors

There are other problems. I have some interesting 1993 figures. There are 29 prototype stealth aircraft presently. The budget from the U.S. Congress five-year plan for these is $245.6 million. You couldn't buy the spare parts for these black programs for that amount. So, we've been lied to. The black budget is roughly $1.3 trillion every two years. A trillion is a thousand billion. A trillion dollars weighs 11 tons. The U.S. Conuess never sees the books involved with this clandestine pot of gold. Contractors of stealth programs: EG&G, Westinghouse, McDonnell Douglas, Morrison Knudson, Wackenhut Security Systems, Boeing Aerospace, Lorimar Aerospace, Aerospacial in France, Mitsibishi Industries, Rider Trucks, Bechtel, I.G.Farben plus a host of hundreds more. Is this what we are supposed to be living up to as freedom-loving people? I don't believe so.

Star Wars and Apparent Alien Threat

Still 68% of the military budget is directly or indirectly effected by the black budget. Star Wars relies heavily upon stealth weaponry. By the way, none of the stealth program would have been available if we had not taken apart crashed alien disks. None of it. Some of you might ask what the "space shuttle" is "shuttling". Large ingots of special metals that are milled in space and cannot be produced on the surface of the earth. They need the near vacuum of outer space to produce them. We are not even being told anything close to the truth. I believe our government officials have sold us down the drain - lock, stock and barrel. Up until several weeks ago, I was employed by the U.S. government with a Ryofite-38 clearance factor - one of the highest in the world. I believe the Star Wars program is there solely to act as a buffer to prevent alien attack - it can nothing to do with the "cold war", which was only a toy to garner money from all the people - for what? The whole lie was planned and executed for the last 75 years.

Stealth Aircraft Technology Use by U.S. Agencies and the United Nations

Here's another piece of information for you folks. The Drug Enforcement Administration and the ATF rely on stealth tactical weaponry for as much as 40% of their operations budget. This in 1993, and the figures have gone up considerably since. The United Nations used American stealth aircraft for over 28% of its collective worldwide operations from 1990 to 1992, according to the Center for Strategic Studies and UN Report 3092.

The Guardians of Stealth and Delta Force Origins of the Bosnia Conflict

The Guardians of Stealth: There are at least three distinct classifications of police that guard our most well-kept secrets. Number one, the Military Joint Tactical Force (MJTF), sometimes called the Delta Force or Black Berets, is a multi-national tactical force primarily used to guard the various stealth aircraft worldwide. By the way, there were 172 stealth aircraft built. Ten crashed, so there were at last count about 162. Bill Clinton signed them away about six weeks ago to the United Nations. There have been indications that the Delta Force was sent over to Bosnia during the last days of the Bush administration as a covert sniper force, and that they started taking pot shots at each side of the controversy, in order to actually start the Bosnia conflict that would be used by succeeding administrations for political purposes.

Thoughts on the Bombings in the United States

I was hired not too long ago to do a report on the World Trade Center bombing. I was hired because I know about the 90 some-odd varieties of chemical explosives. I looked at the pictures taken right after the blast. The concrete was puddled and melted. The steel and the rebar was literally extruded up to six feet longer than its original length. There is only one weapon that can do that - a small nuclear weapon. That's a construction-type nuclear device. Obviously, when they say that it was a nitrate explosive that did the damage, they're lying 100%, folks. The people they have in custody probably didn't do the crime. As a matter of fact, I have reason to believe that the same group held in custody did do other crimes, such as killing a Jewish rabbi in New York. However, I want to further mention that with the last explosion in Oklahoma City, they are saying that ft was a nitrate or fertilizer bomb that did it. First, they came out and said it was a 1,000 pound Fertilizer bomb. Then, it was 1,500. Then 2,000 pounds. Now its 20,000. You can't put 20,000 pounds of fertilizer in a Rider Truck. Now, I've never mixed explosives, per se. I know the chemical structure and the application of construction explosives. My reputation was based on it. I helped hollow out more than 13 deep underground military bases in the United States. I worked on the Malta project, in West Germany, in Spain and in Italy. I can tell you from experience that a nitrate explosion would not have hardly shattered the windows of the federal building in Oklahoma City. It would have lolled a few people and knocked part of the facing off the building, but it would have never have done that kind of damage. I believe I have been lied to, and I am not taking it any longer, so I'm telling you that you've been lied to.

The Truth Behind the Republican Contract With America

I don't perceive at this time that we have too much more than six months of life left in this country, at the present rate. We are the laughing stock of the world, because we are being hoodwinked by so many evil people that are running this country. I think we can so better. I think the people over 45 are seriously worried about their future. I'm going to run some scary scenarios by you. The Contract With America. It contains the same terminology that Adolph Hitler used to subvert Germany in 1931. I believe we can do better. The Contract With America is a last ditch effort by our federal government to tear away the Constitution and the Bill of Rights.

Some Statistics on the Black Helicopter Presence

The black helicopters. There are over 64,000 black helicopters in the United States. For every hour that goes by, there is one being built. Is this the proper use of our money? What does the federal government need 64,000 tactical helicopters for, if they are not trying to enslave us. I doubt if the entire military needs 64,000 worldwide. I doubt if all the world needs that many. There are 157 FII 7A stealth aircraft loaded with LIDAR and computer-enhanced imaging radar. They can see you walking from room to room when they fly over your house. They see objects in the house from the air with a variation limit of I inch to 30,000 miles. That's how accurate that it is. Now, I worked in the federal government for a long time, and I know exactly how they handle their business.

Government Earthquake Device, AIDS as a Bioweapon based on Alien Excretions

The federal government has now invented an earthquake device. I am a geologist, and I know what I am talking about. With the Kobe earthquake in Japan, there was no pulsewave as in a normal earthquake. None. In 1989, there was an earthquake in San Francisco. There was no pulse wave with that one either. It is a Tesla device that is being used for evil purposes. The black budget programs have subverted science as we know it. Look at AIDS, invented by the National Ordinance Laboratory in Chicago, Illinois in 1972. It was a biological weapon to be used against the people of the United States. The reason I know this is that I have seen the documentation by the Office of Strategic Services, which by the way is still in operation to this day, through the CDC in Atlanta. They used the glandular excretions of animals, humans and alien humanoids to create the virus. These alien humanoids the government is hobnobbing with are the worst news. There is absolutely no defense against their germs - none. They are a biological weapon of terrible consequence. Every alien on the planet needs to be isolated.

Saddain Hussein killed 3.5 million Kurdish people with a similar biological weapon. Do we, the people of this planet, deserve this? No, we don't, but we are not doing anything about it. Every moment we waste, we are doing other people on the planet a disservice. Right now, I am dying of cancer that I contracted because of my work for the federal government. I might live six months. I might not. I will tell you one thing. If I keep speaking out like I am, maybe God will give me the life to talk my head off. I will break every law that ft takes to talk my head off. Eleven of my best friends in the last 22 years have been murdered. Eight of the murders were called "suicides." Before I went to talk in Las Vegas, I drove a friend down to Joshua Tree, near 29 Palms. I drove into the mountains in order to get to Needles, California, and I was followed by two government E-350 vans with G-14 plates, each with a couple of occupants, one of which had an Uzi. I knew exactly who they were. I have spoken 19 times and have probably reached 45,000 people. Well, I got ahead of them and came to a stop in the middle of the road. They both went on either side of me and down a ravine. Is this what its going to take? I cut up my security card and sent it back to the government, and told them if I was threatened, and I have been, that I was going to upload 140,000 pages of documentation to the internet about government structure and the whole plan. I have already begun that task. Thank you very much.

NASA Photographs Huge UFO
from:rich.boylan@24stex.com

On January 30, the Alan Handlemann radio interview program on WRFX-FM, Charlotte, North Carolina featured a NASA scientist, Dr. Bergrun, revealing that nasa's voyager space probe of Saturn's rings took photographs of an estimated 7000-mile long elliptical-shaped craft orbiting in the rings. Dr. Bergrun said that the port holes could actually be seen in the side of this huge spacecraft. Now, independent confirmation occurs in the February, 21996 issue of "Science News" (V. 149, No.5 p.71), where the Hubble Space Telescope was reported to have photographed a large elliptical non-satellite orbiting Saturn's rings in one photograph, which disappeared from a follow-up photograph. Two other very big and very bright objects were photographed 5/22/95 and 8/10/95, and disappeared by 11/21/95. Dr. Bergrun believes that the elliptical craft is intelligently controlled. when asked why NASA has not managed to get a photograph of the huge craft before, Dr. Bergrun said that "they have a tendency to hide". When asked why NASA and other governmental agencies haven't released this information before, Dr. Bergrun answered that the 1958 Space Act states that the public will be informed about results of space photos and data only IF it is determined that such data is not a threat; and that a craft this size would be considered a threat, and would be deemed to have great military significance. As such, it would fall under the "top black-budget military intelligence agencies",

THE DESCENDANTS OF MU AND ATLANTIS

Some where in the time frames of Lemuria and Atlantis came the advent of the great pyramids that sprang up all over the planet earth.

The first and greatest one was Giza and it was built by the people from beyond the north star along with the help of the Egyptian people who aided in the adventure.

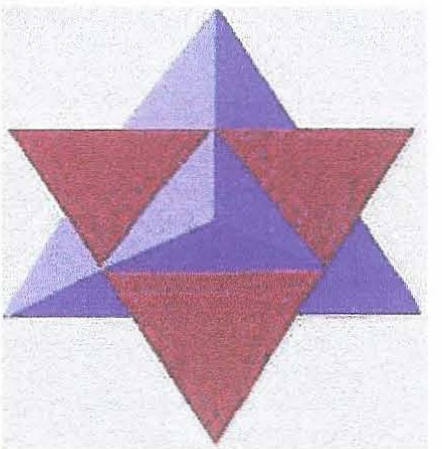
This effort of building the pyramids is in itself a long story and to cut it short for now we will tell you that the pyramids were built to stand through all time and in the face of any earthly disturbance as a reminder to every person that might ever look upon it or see an image of it that it stood not for a burial place to kings, nor a initiation center for cults, but to remind people that the fire in the center of your body, the soul, is "god within you". That is what the pyramids mean is "fire in the center".

The pyramid was also designed to be a communication center with the people from beyond the north star. Anyone that sat in the so called kings camber could communicate with people from other areas of the galaxy. It is a type of communication center.

If you look closely at the pyramid it also looks like one half of the Merkaba, with no dimensional plain. Did you know that the nucleus of every cell in your body is a little pyramid, it is not round as the scientist believe?

For almost 40,000 years we have lived in a consciousness that has been called the Dark Ages. The last great age of sciences of medicine, physics and technologies and unlimited thinking was on a continent called Atlantis and its people were of red skin and were a superbly intellectual people. They were even more advanced in science than we are. They had ships that traveled on a beam of light that went from point to point that was provided by the pyramids that dot our globe even today. Once upon a time all the pyramids had light beacons as their capstone and by the projection of that light beam from pyramid to pyramid, it facilitated the ability of ships to travel around the earth on the beam of light because light does not bend, they had to go point to point. The Atlantis people were provided this science from beings from another star. It is known that there were extraterrestrial races of people that also inhabited Atlantis. One race was the Hebrews, whose origin is unknown, and they were not a problem, they really were helpful because of the advanced knowledge they shared. The other group of extraterrestrial were a problem race. They were here from Mars that existed about one million years ago. At that time Mars was a beautiful planet, alive and not dead as it has become. But their planet was dying because of the effects of the "Lucifer" rebellion. Lucifer knew the Merkaba principle but it was originally only intended to be enacted only internally by ones consciousness. By creating it internally meant that you had an emotional body intact with the mental body, which protected you. Lucifer went on step further. He decided to create the Merkaba and created it externally.

By separating yourself from God, the source, you are not able to do it internally. That is what this entire civilization is based on is the separation of man from the god within him. Because when you separate yourself from what you are the loser. In other terms you are a sinner, because "sin" is an old archery term for "missing the mark", which we have all done. The creation of a time-space ship outside of yourself that you step into and you use not love to drive it but a calculating mind of high technology. This is what the Grays which are descendants of the Martians have done. That is why they have no emotions and like the Martians were all intellect, no feelings, and no love. Even though their ships would have been considered primitive none the less they worked. Their communications with other life forms was very prevalent and was a common occurrence. And through the technology they begin to worship the intellect and forgot about the grand latent power within. They set apart the Merkaba. Intellectual science became the religion of the Atlanteans.



The Merkaba is part of the sacred geometry that is just now making its way back into the common peoples knowledge base. A Merkaba is a star tetrahedron and is made up of two interlocking tetrahedrons in a manner that resembles the Star of David but is three dimensional. The two interlocking tetrahedrons represent male and female energy in perfect balance, it also means involution and evolution. There is a star tetrahedron around everything, not just our bodies. We have a physical body, a mental body, and an emotional body and they all have star tetrahedral shapes. These are three identical fields superimposed over each other, the only tetrahedral shapes. These are three identical fields superimposed over each other, the only difference between them being that the physical body alone is locked, it does not rotate. The Merkaba is created by counter rotating fields of energy. The mental star tetrahedron, electrical in nature and male, rotates to the left. The emotional star tetrahedron, magnetic in nature and female rotates to the right. It is the linking together of the mind, heart, and physical body in a specific geometrical ratio and at a critical speed that produces the Merkaba.

"Mer" mean counter-rotating fields of light, "Ka" means spirit, and "Ba" means body or reality. The Merkaba then is a counter rotating field of light that encompasses both spirit and body and it is really your very own space-time ship just for you if you can figure out how to turn on the switch for the thing. It is also the image through which all things were created. It is a geometrical pattern that surrounds the body. This pattern begins at the base of our spine as small as the original eight cells from which our physical bodies first formed. When fully developed it extends out into a fifty-five feet in diameter.

Now, back to the land of Lemuria, that was called mother land Moo. The story of this land was quite different in contrast to the land of Atlantis. It was a wonderland or paradise and it was still covered by the cloud cover of the stratosphere. So its even temperature was always stable and everything flourished there because it was not bombarded by direct sun light. The continent was a paradise because the oceans that were in the stratosphere defused the sun light. This area was never exposed to the suns radiation.

The only problem that was there was the dinosaur that had been created were still prevalent on Lemuria. The Lemurian, the white people, lived in a vast underground culture, simple in design, but advanced even to us in some respects. The reason they lived underground was because of the monsters that would eat them that lived on the surface of the earth. So above ground was not always a safe place to be. They would build temples on very tall mountain tops in which they would worship in at twilight when it was safe to come out from within the earth.

They lived underground and their whole social system began to be build on the communications of extra scenery perception. They communicated by thought. They were spiritually advanced people.

Then the animals began to over run every place and cross the swamp lands of the Americas and on their travels they became a nuisance to the Atlanteans. Which lands were very dry and the dirt was red. It was the Atlanteans that broke the Stratosphere above Mu with a laser light while trying to destroy the dinosaurs. The Atlanteans forgot that light does not curve it only goes in a straight line and the laser missed the dinosaurs and went on to his the protective stratosphere shell. When this laser pierced and broke the Stratosphere the flood waters began and it was intense. And when the flood water came down and the direct sun light was exposed the temperate zones changed in a second. When the waters fell they froze instantly in the northern regions. The oceans that were in the Stratosphere around the earth were so vast that the frozen areas were so vast they created what is known as your Ice Age. In that moment what became the zones of extreme heat everything changed and the dinosaurs died because they could not survive in a climate that was so drastic either way hot or cold. With changing of temperature and the freezing and then when the ice started melting the land of Mu sank. Mu was a great and large valley surround by very high mountains.

The stratosphere was breaking up all over the earth. The area of Northern Atlantis was also frozen in a second. The greater cites were in northern Atlantis and they did not survive and they sank and when this action happened the Atlanteans lost all of their technology. Because of their own actions to get rid of the monsters in the Americas. The southern region of Atlantic survived for about 100 more years and became the primitive Atlantis which was still in danger of scrumming to the waters of the Atlantic. So the people decided to leave Atlantis.

The Lemurian people that were living in the underground cities decided that the children should be sent away for safety because Mu was sinking and the elders went down with their beloved Lemuria and the children were taken through a canal that connected the southern most port called Oni of Atlantis and so the young Lemurians became the pilgrims to the Atlantian people, but they were hated. And the reason they were hated because intellectual science was the god of the people of Atlantis. They looked upon the children of Lemuria as being soul less because they were without the cosmic understanding of the ratios of gases and light and because they did not posses the intellect of mechanics and they were soon turned into slaves and the Lemurian children were great in number. A Lemurian child was considered to be less than a dog in the street. The Atlanteans hated them. It was not uncommon to see the rape of women and the brutalization of children. The Lemurian children were put into the fields to raise food for the Atlanteans.

And out of the Lemurian people came a man that declared war on all of the Atlanteans and any other tyrant in the land and the Lemurian peoples with their leader waged war everywhere. And one of the last conquest they had was with the destruction of the Blue race. With the conquering of the blue race of people and the raping of their women by the Lemurian men they created the Prussian Empire of people which was based on the enslavement of women and children and the exhausting of men. And the women were considered soul-less.

And to this day the creeds that exist as a result of the seeds of the Persian empire formulated the person called Abraham who created the Jewish people and the house of Israel. And the men, they are still separated from the women.

Through the Prussian Empire and through the land of the Hittite kingdom and the city of Babylonia was a man called Abraham and he would be the one chosen by the god Jehovah that would create the house of Israel and make war upon the promise lands. And Abraham who was suppose to be so divine and god like was not above having relations with other women besides his wife and he had many children with his slave women. In this time the women still had no soul and they could not worship with the men.

In this city of Babylonia was one really strange place inside the main market place. When the market place was destroyed by fire this is the one area that was untouched. This area consisted of a great circular structure. It was constructed of white granite stone, the stones stood in columns that were about twenty feet high and on top of the columns other stones were laid flat across the columns so that you could walk around this circle on top of the columns. This was a very strange structure, which had very strange writings known as hieroglyphics. This structure was built so that a large ship could land on this platform. When the ship landed there its outer most parts stretched far beyond the city. This made it easy for the occupants of the ship to come and go easily. This structure was built as tribute to the people that came here in this great ship from beyond the north star. They had come to the survivors of the northern part of Atlantean that had fled and they gave them a great knowledge and of the person that delivered this great knowledge he was dressed in a garment of "Blue" and this garment had no seams and it was not woven. And the knowledge was given to the oracle and this knowledge was handed down from priest to priest. The teaching was simply this, to stay in this place, propagate and to become open and clear and to forget the past and as long as they stayed open and clear the people from beyond the north star would have open communication with them. In this time and because of the teachings men and women became of equals and then there came twenty years when the ship did not come to this city.

Soon supposition got a grip on a lot of the people of this city because the ship had not visited them. Because of greed for power there came a person who decided that he alone should have the communication with the ship. In the beginning he would tell the people that he was in contact with the ship and he would pass on the message to the people from the ship. It brought peace to the people but also it made the oracle realize that he alone had control over the people. For what ever he said was the way things were. Soon his power and control got the better judgment of this man and his power took control of him. Through his own greed he removed the threat call women. He made them subservient and gave them the message that hence forth that they were to be subservient to the oracle. He told them that their service was no longer just for a singular man but to all men because they were all divine. And the women bought into this game. When the oracle got control of the women he also got control of the men. This was the birth of religion, dogma was created and the truth was contorted, and it was passed on from priest to priest. Generations of people lived there and soon the divinity was removed and that is where it all started.

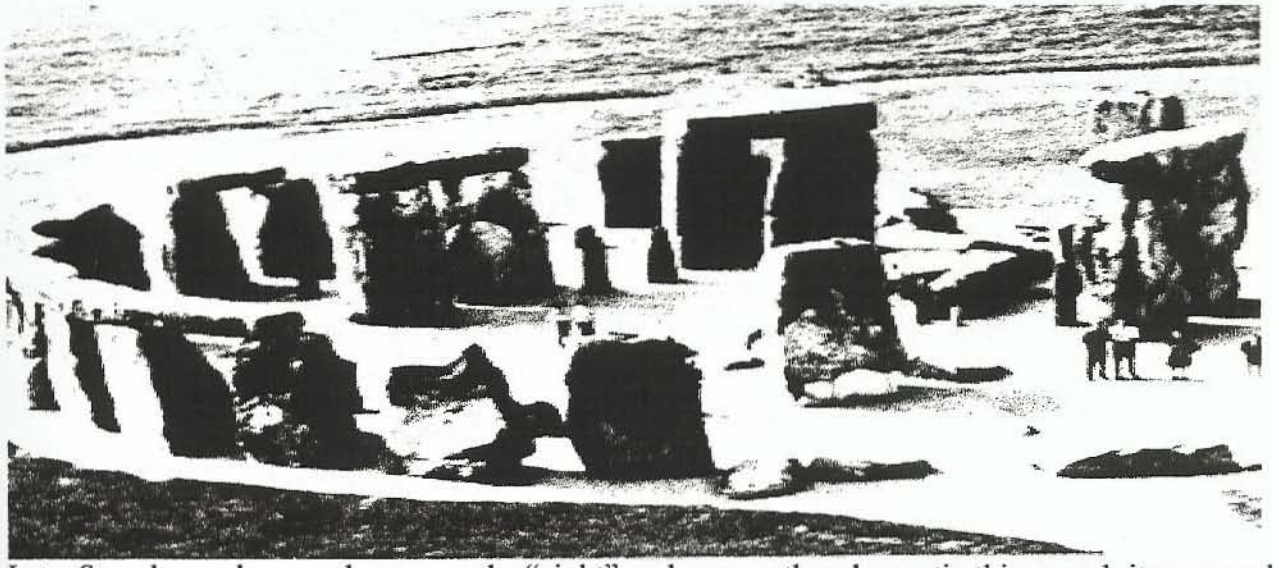
In times to come descendant of these people would make their way to the northern parts of the remnant of islands that were Atlantean and there they would have a meeting with the great ship once again and they built another great platform that you know today as "Stonehenge" and it was fashioned after the huge circle that once stood in Babylonia. And then the ship came and thought them many things and the people of the ship taught them many truths and sadly the people began to worship the ship and so the peoples from beyond the north star never returned to "Stonehenge". These people spent their life waiting for the ship to return.



Later Stonehenge became known as the "sight" and many other dogmatic things and it was used by pagans for pagan rites and there sacrificed virgins women to gods. The lesson here is that which you worship will always be taken from you. They would later go on in their search for divinity, their search to belong.

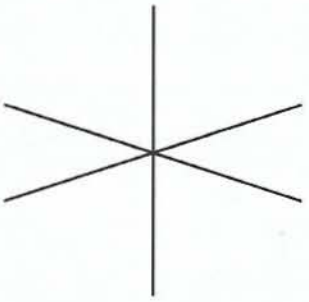
About the time of Abraham when the people were being taught by the people from beyond the north star the "Sacred Geometry", with its symbols and meanings and how it related to their life. It was later that the priest of the Jewish religion took the truth of the sacred geometry and its meanings on all levels and twisted and distorted it all and turned it into dogmas and the rites of sacrifice and lies an abominations.

There is today mounding evidence that these twisted knowledge were put into the Jewish Kabala and that this twisted information is what the later to be known as the Masonic order, the Illuminati and other secret societies have used to base their beliefs on. But remember it is twisted information from the Lucifer rebellion.

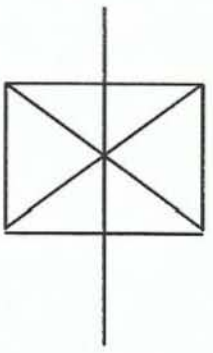
The Geometry symbols of the Sacred Geometry, are carbon copies of what is used by the Masonic orders. Also the mason's have taken some symbols and expanded them and create whole new meanings and creations off of the geometry to suit their own goals and purposes what every they might be.

The following are Sacred Geometry symbols:

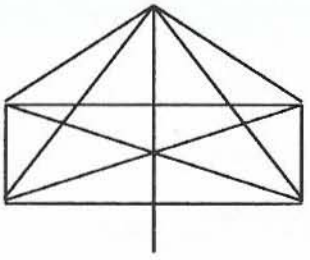
The Projection of Spirit in six directions



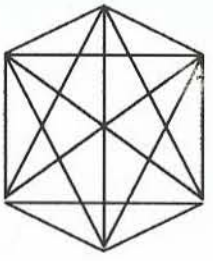
The Square

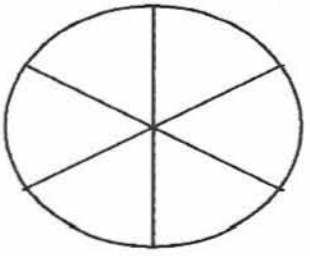


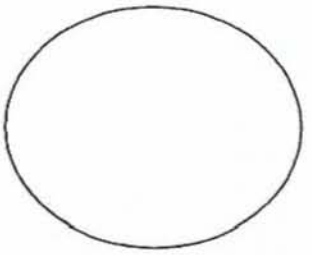
The Pyramid



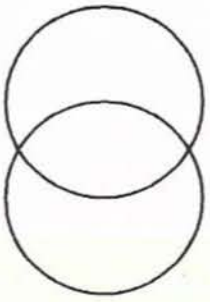
The Octahedron





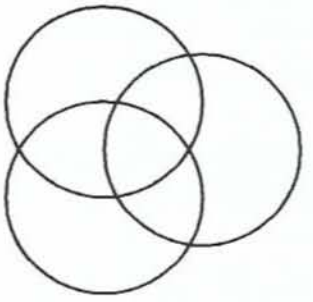


The image of a sphere



The first day of Genesis, also known as a vesica Pisces

The first motion out of the great void is to move to the surface.

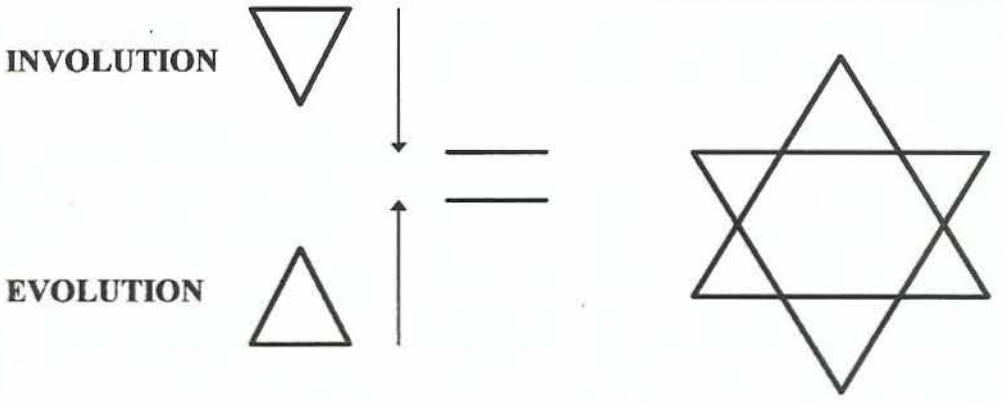


The second day of Genesis

INVOLUTION AND EVOLUTION

Involution is what is generally refereed to as the fall of man which will be explained on the next page. An evolution which can only be achieved in a time linear fashion.

EVOLUTION COMPLETED



This is what the Sacred Geometry meaning of these symbols are for, this is the original knowledge that was given to mankind and it as been adulterated by man.

THE FALL OF MAN

The term "The Fall of Man", is not a terrible term to use. It merle means that man became part of an outrageous plan long ago that would give him the capability to become part of the beautiful creation that he/she had been a part of when the playground called Earth was created. This was done in order for each of us to experience the senses of touch, smell, taste, and feelings. In order to interact with the creation of Earth we had to lower our body frequencies to a more dense frequency we fell (or lowered our light frequencies and mass) through all of the frequencies of the light spectrum to become dense matter. And now the only way to go home is to raise our frequencies back up through the light color frequencies. The only problem is that everyone, almost, have forgotten how to do that or even that they can do that. The information on how to achieve this was left here for us by our space brothers and others and the ignorance of man and the "Catholic Church" has hidden it all away from us or had it destroyed as the information was discovered down through the ages.

BRITISH ISREAL

THE PLAN TO CREATE A WORLD STATE OR WORLD ORDER WITH ENGLAND AS THE MOTHERLAND

The following pages were taken from the Congressional Records. This information is scattered throughout the record over a two year period.

This document is a detailed layout of how a secret society behind the creation of a British, Canadian and United States become one union again and to create a world state. These pages are only a tidbit of the spellbinding information that was presented to Congress.

The document also tells how people in high places that run our country and that are heads of large Railroad owned companies were working with and aiding a secret society called: "The Pilgrims" that started at the turn of the century trying to take us back into bondage to England.

The complete document is very lengthy and can be ordered from us if you are interested in reading the complete paper. It is about 100 pages.

Steps Toward British Union, A World State, a, International Strife-Part I

HON. J. THORKELSON OF MONTANA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, August 19,1940

Mr. THORKELSON. Mr. Speaker, in order that the American people may have a clearer understanding of those who over a period of years have been undermining this Republic, in order to return it to the British Empire. I have inserted in the RECORD a number of articles to prove this point. These articles are entitled "Steps Toward British Union, a World State, and International Strife." This is part I, and in this I include a hope expressed by Mr. Andrew Carnegie, in his book entitled "Triumphant Democracy." In this he expresses himself in this manner:

Let men say what they will, I say that as surely as the sun in the heavens once shone upon Britain and American united, so surely is it one morning to rise to shine upon, to greet again the reunited states the British-American Union.

This statement is clear. and the organizations which Mr. Carnegie endowed have spent millions In order to bring this about. This thing has been made possible by scholarships, exchange professors, subsidies of churches. subsidies of educational institutions: all of them working for the purpose of eliminating Americanism as was taught once in our schools and to gradually exchange this for an English version of our history.

These organizations were organized to bring about a British union. a union in which the United States would again become a part of the British Empire. However, this has been upset to some extent by the attempt of the internationalists to establish their own government as an International or world union. And there is, therefore, a conflict between the two for England wants a British union, with America as a colony and the international money changers want a Jewish controlled union, in order to establish their own world government.

It is, therefore. best for us to stay out of both of these, in order to save what is left of this Republic as it was given to us in 1787, by a people who knew more about international intrigue and the real problems that confronted the world, than we know today. These early founders not only understood the problems. but in drafting the Constitution they provided an instrument for us to follow, so that we could remain secure from foreign double-dealing and intrigue. Had we adhered to the Constitution as it was given to us. we would have been secure and safe today.

Therefore, it is our duty, in the interest of our people and in the interest of this Republic of the United States, to ponder seriously and to give fullest consideration to solving the problem which now confronts the world. In doing so, I am rather inclined to believe that the real American people will decide without hesitation to return to those fundamental principles that were set forth in the Constitution of the United States. Let no one tell you that this instrument is not as valuable today as it was in 1787; for the fact is that it is much more valuable today much so that complete disintegration of this Republic cannot be avoided should we fan to return our Government to the principles set forth therein.

I shall now quote an article by Andrew Carnegie, which he wrote at the request of the London Express. and which appeared in that paper October 14. 1904, entitled "Drifting Together.'"

Drifting Together WILL THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA UNITE? (Written by request for the London Express, October 14, 1904, by Andrew Carnegie)

Britain and America being now firmly agreed I that those who attempted to tax the American Colonies against their protest were wrong. and that in resisting this the colonists vindicated their rights as British citizens and therefore only did their duty. the question arises: Is a separation forced upon one of the parties. and now deeply regretted by the other. to be permanent?

I cannot think so, and crave permission to present some considerations In support of my belief that the future is certain to bring reunion of the separated parts. which will probably come about In this way: Those born north and south of an imaginary line between Canada and the United States, better all Americans. must soon merge. It were as great folly to remain divided as for England and Scotland to have done so.

It is not to be believed that Americans and Canadians will not be warned by Europe. with its divisions armed, against foreign foes. but against each other. It is the duty of Canadians and Americans to prevent this, and to secure to their continent internal peace under one government, as it was the duty of Englishmen and Scotsmen to unite under precisely similar conditions. England has 7 times the population of Scotland; the Republic has 14 times that of Canada. Born Canadians and Americans are a common type. indistinguishable one from the other. Nothing to surer in the near future than that they must unite. It were criminal for them to stand apart.

CANADA'S DESTINY

It need not be feared that force will ever be used or required to accomplish this union. It will come-must come-in the natural order of things. Political an well as material bodies obey the law of gravitation. Canada's destiny is to annex the Republic as Scotland did England. and then, taking the hand of the rebellious .big brother and that of the mother, place them in each others grasp, thus reuniting the then happy family that should never have known separation. To accept this view, the people of the United Kingdom have only to recall the bloody wars upon this island for centuries arising from Scotland and England floating separate flags, and contrast the change today under one flag.

The Canadians and Americans may be trusted to follow the example of the motherland and have but one flat embracing one whole race in America. Present petty jealousies melt away as the population north and south become in a greater degree born Americans.

Even if this blessed reunion came an early as the end of the next decade, say 16 years hence. Canada and the Republic the Scotland and England of America would embrace 115,000,000 of English speaking people, probably 7,000,000 of these in Canada. By the and of the present decade, 6 years hence, their population will be close to 97,000,000, 6,000,000 of these in Canada. That Republic added to her numbers the past 14 years more than the total al population of Australia or than that of Canada. the immigration having been enormous. One of these years it almost reached a million.

CECIL RHODES

The peaceful union of Canada and America would lead Britain to a serious view of her position, resulting in the conclusion that Cecil Rhodes reached-it will be remembered that he was at first a strong British Imperialist. Mr. Stead recounts that Mr. Rhodes went to Lord Rothschild and laid that scheme before him. who replied "This is all very well, if you can get America to join if not. It amounts to nothings this led Mr. Rhodes to a study of the subject, and the result was he saw clearly that Lord Rothschild was right.

British federation would leave Britain as a member of the smaller part of her own race, and out of the main channel of progress. Instead of sitting (with race imperialism accomplished) enthroned as the mother among hundreds of millions of her own children, composing all but a fraction of English speaking men. Hence he abandoned the scheme and thereafter favored race federation, and left to America more scholarships than to all other: lands. He saw that It was to the Republic, not to British settlements, his country bad to look for the coming reunion of his race, with Britain in her rightful place an parent of all. A few figures will leave no room for dispute about this. In the last decade, 1890-1900, Britain, Canada, Australia, and New Zealand, combined, added to their population 4,500,000 America 13,500,000. Canada only added 508,000,000 the Commonwealth of Australia only 660,000. In the 4 year since 1900 America added more than the total population of either Canada or Australia. During the present decade 1910, at the same rate of increase to date, she will add more than the present total white population of Canada, Australia. Now Zealand, and South Africa combined. So fast does the Republic grow, so slowly the Empire.

INCREASE OF POPULATION

The United Kingdom itself increased last decade more than three, times as much as Canada and Australia combined. It is not to her colonies, therefore. that Britain can look for much increase of population or of trade. The growth of Australia small as it was in the last decade, so far as reported in this decade is even less. Canada is growing faster only in the far northwest, which is separated by a thousand miles of barren land from the English-speaking Province of Ontario. Last decade Ontario Province (English) actually declined in British population; Quebec Province (French) slightly increased. The census of 1900 shows fewer British-born residents in all Canada than that of 1890. The wheat fields now reached by rail are being settled by Americans who Cross the border, selling their American farms and buying new farms in Canada at one-tenth of the price realized for the old. Except for this influx, about 70.000 so far, the rate of increase in Canada will be about as last decade.

When we come to the population of the United Kingdom, we find already in England and Wale 558 to the square mile. What thoughtful man could wish much further increase, even if it were possible? A denser population must cause deterioration. The density of population in England and Wales is not reached by any European country, except the small state of Belgium. France has only 188, Germany 270 (or one-half). Italy 290, Japan has only 296. The authorities agree that England and Wales are fully populated. Ireland proves that it is so by the small increase, Scotland has increased steadily for some decades. but little amps to left for or increase substantially. Ireland and Scotland have today all they can maintain in comfort.

Mark the contrast. America has only 21 people per square mile, one-sixteenth that of the United Kingdom, one for every 20 in England and Wales. These figures include Alaska, which resembles most of Canada. and is not likely to support many people. Excluding Alaska. the American population is 28 per square mile, one-twentieth that of England and Wales. It is evident that Green was right when he wrote years ago that the home of the English speaking race was not to be on the Clyde and the but Thames, but upon the Hudson, the Delaware, Ohio, Mississippi, and St. Lawrence. There Is not room for it in the dear old home, but there is, fortunately, in the new lands of her children in Canada and America.

When we note the development Britain has attained industrially, we are amazed. It to wonderful almost beyond belief: we doubt and investigate to assure ourselves that we have the facts. This little kingdom has today more shipping, and about as many spindles turning as all the rest of the world. She is the richest of all nations per capita. She makes more iron and mines more coal per capita than any nation. Marvelous! Nothing comparable to her in history! She positively dwarfs all previous records dwarf more powerful than most giants. Who is there, then, who can expect her to do more, what she has accomplished being scarcely credible?

PHYSICALLY IMPOSSIBLE

It is physically impossible that much further increase can come to Britain, and in addition to this, conditions otherwise are unfavorable to further development. Other nations by the use of her inventions, are more and more supplying their own wants, and will continue to do. so. They will also compete with her more and more, especially in iron and steel and in cotton manufactures, owing to her lack of the cotton plantations and of needed iron stone. If Britain succeeds in maintaining present production in the fields great will be the credit due to her captains of industry. As with population, therefore, so with industrial much increase is impossible.

This is the age of consolidation. industrially. and nationally. Consider the recent consolidation of Italy and the more recent consolidation and rapid growth of the German Empire. Who can imagine that the process has stopped? On the contrary, we are on the eve of or consolations in Europe of great extent. The successes of the American Republic,.45 States consolidated into one Union, with free trade over all, and that of Germany with its Zallverein are too significant to pass unheeded.

The day of small nations is passing. Their incorporation with larger areas is to be hailed by lovers of progress, provided always that one point be carefully preserved. The national sentiment of the small powers should not only be guarded, but fostered in every way, so that, as in the American Union and in Britain, the Virginian and the Scotsman remain as intensely Virginian or Scotch as ever. Pride in and loyalty to the wider empire do not but supplement love of the part where he was born. He loves the part and is proud of the whole.

What will Britain do? The day is coming when Britain will have to decide on one of three courses. First, shall she sink comparatively to the giant consolidations into a third or fourth rate power, a Holland or Belgium comparatively? Here note that we do not postulate her actual decline, but the increased growth of other powers. Or, second. shall she consolidate with a European giant? Or, third shall she grasp the outstretched hand of her children in America and become again as she was before, the mother member of the English speaking race?

Assuming that other powers are to increase their present population (as Germany and Russia have yet room to do), or by further consolidation, it being evident that there is not room in the 120,000 square miles of the little, crowded United Kingdom for further increase of moment, then the conclusion is inevitable that one of these three courses is the only possible alternative for Britain. has no adjoining territory she can annex.

Some have been disposed to regard British federation as a possible fourth alternative, but the figures given, which convinced Rothschild and Rhodes, we submit, compel its exclusion, especially to such as seek for my motherland, as I do, a destiny worthy of her a future commensurate with her glorious and unparalleled past. Let us rejoice that this open. Her Canadian and republican children across the Atlantic will hail the day she takes her rightful place in the high council of her reunited race that race whose destiny, I believe with faith unshaken is to dominate the world for the good of the world.

This article, in pamphlet form, was placed in the New York Public Library on February 27, 1906, by the Honorable Joseph H. Choate.

Steps Toward British Union, a World State and International Strife Part II

HON. J. THORKELSON
OF MONTANA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, August 19, 1940

Mr. THORKELSON, Mr. Speaker, we are now dominated and plagued by various pressure groups that care little or nothing about the United States as long as they can involve us in the present European war. Some of these groups are well known, others remain obscure, but nevertheless very powerful and effective in their insidious attempt to convince the people of this Nation that war is impending. Theses groups are composed of members who are generally classed as the "intelligentsia." I shall not question their intelligence, but if one is to judge them by what they have said and done, their intelligence is not being directed for the greater interest of the United States. Aiding these groups, I believe often innocently, are those whom we may take the liberty of calling their tools and servants. We have reached a stage where these anglophiles advance the thought that in order to qualify as a good American, one must be pro-English and willing to fight and die for England. These England first groups and hands across the sea organizations are made up of many Canadian and Anglo-American societies which are located in our larger cities. One of these, and the one to which I shall now refer, is the Pilgrims.

THE PILGRIMS

When the Pilgrims was organized in 1902, to aid in developing Anglophiles in the United States, the Canadians, being British subjects, were not solicited at first as members of this charitable and exclusive propaganda service to sell America to the British Empire. Like converts, many of these members are more loyal to England than the British themselves. In their fanatical zeal to serve Albion, I am informed by a student that one of them placed the English crown on the flagstaff of the Columbia University. If this is true, the Columbia alumni should "crown" him who gave orders for the mounting of it, and replace the crown with the eagle, so this noble emblem can rest in its rightful place, true, the Columbia alumni should "crown" him who gave orders for the mounting of it, and replace the crown with the eagle, so this noble emblem can rest in its rightful place.

The Pilgrim membership may be found in our military organization, in the Government, and particularly among professors. ministers, and authors. In wielding the pen, the aid of these writers is more valuable, for can they not write, as did Carnegie when in substance be said: Give America to England as a hemostat for the bleeding wound of the British Empire, which the surgeons left oozing after their operation in 1776; the operation which amputated the United States from the British Empire, and set America free.

These Pilgrims, being unfamiliar with the surgery of 1776, evidently do not realize that Canada joined to the United States will prove an equally efficient hemostat to stop this hemorrhage in the British Empire. The American Pilgrims no doubt fear this most sensible measure, because it might antagonize the noble and wealthy in the English Government and the Bank of England so much that they will pack up and leave for home. Such exodus might also prove inconvenient to our idle, wealthy. and charming ladies and their parents, when in their crusade to obtain a new or slightly used husband to hang on their family tree, they find it necessary to, embark for Palestine to satisfy their family ambition. It is this and more that the Americans must fight to counteract the propaganda which is now disseminated throughout the country and in our daily press, in order to save America for the Americans.

Many of the members of these groups are ignorant of the real purpose of these organizations and their influence in our political life. Some of the members are so blinded by the glamour and the exclusiveness of these clubs that they do not realize that in supporting their activities they betray America. I now quote from the annual meetings of the Pilgrims, held in New York, 1913 and 1934:

The Pilgrims, New York. Addresses delivered at dinner in celebration of the tenth anniversary of the Pilgrims or the United States, New York. Tuesday. the 4th of February, 1913, at the Waldorf Astoria, 19131.

(Hon. Joseph H. Choate. president of the Pilgrims and chairman of the evening, on rising and rapping for order, is roundly cheered and toasted by the members and guests assembled.)

Mr. Choate. I am going to ask you, in the first place, to rise. as you did just now for a much less worthy object. when I propose the loyal toasts. I ask you to fill your glasses and rise and drink to the President of the United States and his Majesty, the King of England. (The toast was drunk with great enthusiasm. cheering and singing The Star-Spangled Banner and God Save the King.)

Before the chairman could resume, at delegation of members, consisting of Messrs. P. Cunliffe-Owen. R. A. C. Smith, Herbert Noble, George W. Burleigh, Lawrence L. Gillespie. and George Gray Ward, presented Mr. Choate with a large and beautiful gold and silver saver. richly decorated and suitably inscribe4, Mr. Cunliffe-Owen addressing him as follows:

"Mr. Choate. your brother Pilgrims making you the offering herewith of the Pilgrim fare. bread and salt - bread signifying long life and prosperity and salt to ward off from you all evil spirits and every kind of harm and we ask you, our honored president, in the name of all our brother Pilgrims of the United States, to accept this gold and silver salver as a memento of the occasion."

Mr. CHOATZ. I accept the salver with profound gratitude, and I will eat the fare on some more suitable occasion. It will doubtless do for me all that you wish and foretell, but never having Until this moment heard of this munificent and wholly undeserved gift, I can only now express to you my warm thanks and high appreciation of your kindness.

I now read to you a message from the President of the United States:

White House
Washington, D. C., February 4, 1913.

Please extend to the Pilgrims of the United States and their guests at their tenth anniversary my hearty greetings and my best wishes for a delightful reunion. I am unable to be with you but I cherish the earnest hope that your gathering may emphasize the cordial relations which we know exist between Briton and Canadian and American.

Wm. H. Taft.

A message from His Majesty the King:

LONDON, February 4, 1913.

I am commanded to convey to the Pilgrims of the United States. celebrating their tenth anniversary. the expression of His Majesty's gratitude for their kind and friend sentiments contained in your telegram of this evening.

Private Secretary

A message from Her Majesty, Queen Alexandra, one of the best friends we ever had on the other side of the water:

I am commanded by Queen Alexandra to ask you to convey to Ex-Ambassador Choate and the members of the Pilgrims of the' United States, now celebrating their tenth anniversary under His Excellency's presidency, Her Majesty's sincere thanks for the kind sentiments expressed in the telegram which Heir Majesty has just received, sentiments which I am to assure the Pilgrims are much valued by Her Majesty.

"DIGHTON PROBYN."

Now gentlemen, it remains for me to say a few words. and a few words 6nly. I think, if I continue In this office, many years, I may make longer speeches, but I will begin with something very brief and very pertinent. I am a year younger than I was a year ago when you did me the honor to elect me your president, and if I go on, as I hope to do, and as I hope you will do, I shall be a very young man at last.

We are here to celebrate ourselves and our friends on both sides of the water, and among them the best friends that I have ever known and I knew well their sentiments some years ago, which I believe have continued and which I believe are not well represented in the heart of his present Majesty I will tell you, in the first. place, that King Edward VII, and his Queen Alexandra were two of the most constant and devoted friends that, the people of the United States ever had. They lost no occasion to manifest their good will to their kindred In America. and his present Majesty King George V was always most cordial, most friendly, and most determined. so far as I could judge from the sentiments that he expressed most determined. I say that the cordial relations between the two countries which have now been transmitted to him by his father should forever continue. We have no difficulty with the royal family. We have no difficulty and never have had that I know of with the people of England. The peopled of England and the people of the United States are always friendly to each other. Now and then the government of the two countries come to different conclusions for a brief time on some subject of mutual interest.

It Is 10 years since this organization was founded and they have been 10 years of success find constantly advancing prosperity, and, so far as I can understand. of constantly strengthened good will between the people of the two countries. And what I claim for the Pilgrims Is that they have done their fair share on both sides of the water to promote this great Interest In the world. the preservation of peace between the two countries that combine, all the English-speaking people o mankind.

It was not my good fortune to be present when this society vu founded In America on the 4th day of February 1903. but I had had the good fortune to be present In London. 6 months before. when the Pilgrims of Great Britain held their first dinner, under the presidency of' that grand old soldier and royal hero, Plaid Marshal Lord Roberts. He believes in making his nation a great fighting nation, but not to light against the United States. He would consider it the most barbarous, the most unnatural, the most unthinkable contest that ever could be raised. Let me read to you a dispatch from Field Marshal Lord Roberts, which is much better than anything I can say:

"Greatly - touched by the Pilgrims' charming and hospitable invitation. There In none I would sooner accept, but unfortunately it is quite impossible for me to be with you on February 4. So sincerely wish It were otherwise. All prosperity to the American Pilgrims."

And from Lord Charles Beresford, who was with, us at the foundation of the Pilgrims In England:

"All good luck to Pilgrims, Congratulations on brilliant success of efforts to bring together two great English-speaking nations."

Now gentleman. that is the object, and the sole object that I know of, that this nourishing society has the sole reason for its existence, to promote good will, good fellowship, abiding friendship and everlasting peace between the United States and Great Britain. And, for one, I have no fear of failure.

We are now entering upon the celebration of the one hundredth year of peace between the two nations. In 2 years more that celebration will be complete. It is going on all the time. from day to day. from week to week, and from month to month. You, will hardly hear so much of anything else for a long time to come. Well, how has it been accomplished? How is it that we have been able to keep the peace, notwithstanding the alarming controversies that have arisen from time to time, controversies .which between any other two great nations would probably and resulted in war? Why, it is because, in the long run, in the main, the people of the two countries are one. They are united sentiments and in the general object they have in, view, and in their valuation of things that go to make civilization. We might kept have fought a dozen wars in the last hundred years, but we have kept the peace always. And how is it? How has it been done? Why, as I believe, it has been accomplished by preservation on both sides of absolute good, faith in their dealings and in ultimate fidelity to the promises that they have made to other. I do not mean to say that they have not quarreled. They have quarreled many times. and sometimes not a little sharply.

They have threatened very much on both sides much more than you will ever hear them do again; but every quarrel has ended in reconciliation, in peace established either by diplomacy or by arbitration, arbitration, the great boast and glory of America.

We have a little difference just now, but I do not look upon it as half as serious as the differences that have arisen in former times 10, 20, 40, 50, 75, 100 years ago, and there is nothing in it that cannot be readily settled upon the principle of adherence on both, sides to, the doctrine, to the principle, of good faith and of hope with one another.

I had something to do with the negotiation of the treaty which has formed-I won't say a bone of contention, because I haven't heard anything like the gnawing of bones; not at all-but this little difference that has arisen.

It so happened that that negotiation was carried on in London for several weeks between Lord Pauncefote and myself and approved, as we went along by John Hay and by Lord there ever were two men who deserved the gratitude of their respective nations and each of the other's nation, it was those two men. Mr. Hay and Lord Pauncefote, for their perfectly plain, perfectly honest, perfectly straightforward. method of dealing with.' one another.

Their principle, their rule of action. was to say what they meant and to mean what they said, and their effort was always to express in perfectly plain English what both had equally in his own mind: and when they said, as they did say in that treaty that the ships of all nations shall have free passage on equal terms through the canal without any discrimination whatever, they thought they were using plain English. And I must say, now that both of these great men and diplomatists have passed away I must say, the survivor of them both, that they lived and died without believing or suspecting that their words were capable of any other than the plain meaning that they bore upon their face.

Well, but the wit of man passeth all understanding. and different meanings have been discovered for those very plain and simple words, and thus a difference has arisen as to the interpretation of a treaty. And how are you going to adjust and settle that difference?

Well, I should say, as any gentlemen would settle differences that they could not adjust which had arisen between them refer it to some other gentlemen; and my first proposition would be to refer it to the Pilgrims on both sides of the water. We would not have any difficulty. In the first place, we would take a secret vote, you, please, separately on both sides of the water. We would lot our brother Pilgrims of Great Britain answer the question try their hand at this little puzzle; it is only a puzzle the question is how to put it together. Let them give their answer first and seal it up, not communicate it to us, and then lot these 500 law-abiding, country-loving American Pilgrims answer the question for themselves by another sealed and secret vote.

Now, the people of this country are not going to allow anybody any Congress, any Government, any President to break their faith which they have pledged to the mother country. How are we going to maintain the peace for the next 100 years?

These English speaking people are going to increase on this side of the water in the next hundred years from one hundred millions to four or five hundred millions, and England and her dominions the less will increase in like proportion. How are they going to keep the . There is only one way. It is by keeping their word, by keeping their good faith, by being always honest in their dealings with one another. So I am not afraid. This little puzzle will be adjusted. I hope that Mr. Bryce will stay here long enough to settle it with Mr. TAFT. We know both are great lovers of peace. If not settled by them, why other men I won't say equally good; I won't say equally good, although I may think so other men will arise in their places and settle it, and then we shall have 10 years of balmy and delightful peace, and then some other question will arise and the puzzle solvers on both sides of the Atlantic will put their heads together and it will be settled, and so again and again and again and again, and our great-grandchildren celebrating in 2013 the second centenary of the Pilgrims, will have cause to bless their fathers that they founded this society and kept the world on the right track.

Now, gentlemen, I have read to you the various messages that we have received from our very eminent friends across the water and at Washington, and we did hope to have with us tonight His Excellency the British Ambassador, but I suspect that he has eaten as many dinners as be could stand his secretary nods assent and no man can stand the public dinner every night. I was never able to do it myself. And so we have the pleasure of welcoming here tonight as the representative of Mr. Bryce, the British Ambassador, the counselor I call him counselor I do not know whether he exactly likes to be called counselor, for they might think he is a counselor-at-law instead of, as he to in fact, the first secretary of the British Embassy, and I call upon him to give us his message from Mr. Bryce. I have the pleasure of presenting to you Mr. Mitchell Innes, Counselor of the British Embassy at Washington.

Mr. Speaker. It Is Interesting to read the speeches given by the American, members of the Pilgrims for they like all converts are more un-American and pro-English than the British themselves.

The address of Joseph H. Choate Is an example of Anglophile, pertinent at this time in view of the conditions that exist today. I shall now requote some of these statements in order to show how deceptive they can be. Mr. Choate states:

We have no difficulty and never have had that I know of with the people of England.

A statement that Is perfectly true, because the people of England have little or nothing to say in the British Government. Our trouble has been with the British Government, which has never at any time been friendly toward the United States-but the gentleman did not make such statement. Furthermore, It is well to note the servile attitude of the speaker to the Crown of England, and his praise of the rulers, which again is perfectly all right, yet he has failed In his speech as others have In theirs. to say one good word for the Government of the United States. He then goes on to say:

The people of England and the people of the United States are always friendly to each other: another statement which no one can criticize. but to which I want to add that the people of all countries-the common people-have always been and are now friendly to each other. if war depended upon them there would be no war. The trouble lies with the rulers of the different governments. It is they who advocate war; war of destruction, not only of property and human life but of Christian civilization itself.

So In view of this. let us remember that no country has been at war so much as England and no country has brought about more misfortune and suffering than the British Government. This should be clear as we review the early history of our own colonies, of India, Ireland, and the 400,000,000 opium addicts in China, all of which may be charged to the greed of the British Government. Mr. Choate, In making his statements, spoke for the people of the United States, when in reality he should have hesitated even to speak for himself. His sole concern appeared to have been our friendliness ard Great Britain. but not their friendliness toward us,. and again he placed the United States In the position of a suppliant to the British throne.

Mr. Choate then referred to a dispute which arose In regard to the passage of ships; through the Panama Canal, and intimated that It was the understanding of Hon. John Hay and Lord Landsdowne that the British should have equal rights with us in the use of this Canal; a right which the British have never conceded to the United States In the Suez Canal. We have even been driven out of foreign markets by England for many, many years, and in her wars she has brazenly furnished us with a blacklist of firms with which we are not supposed to trade; and we. like fools. comply with her demands.

Continuing his discussion on this topic, Mr. Choate expressed himself as being quite willing to leave the decision of the Panama Canal in the hands of the British and American Pilgrims, which anyone can readily understand would be a one-sided decision; that is, all for England and nothing for the United States.

Mr. Choate then makes his most extraordinary statement, upon which every Member of Congress and the people of this Nation should ponder particularly in view of the happenings since 1912:

Now the people of this country are not going to allow anybody any Congress, any government. any President to break the good faith which they have pledged to the mother country.

In making this statement, Mr. Choate takes the position that Great Britain or England is our mother country; the same position that was taken by Cecil Rhodes over 50 years ago and by Andrew Carnegie In 1893, when he wrote a book entitled, "Triumphant Democracy."

I want you to note particularly that this was In 1913, and that 1913 was the very year we changed our Government from a republic to a semi-democracy; the year In which we destroyed constitutional government, international security, and paved the road for us to become a colony of the British Empire. It was also the same year In which we, by adopting the Federal Reserve Act, placed our Treasury under the control and domination of the Bank of England and the international banking groups that are now financing the British-Israel movement in the United States. It was also the year preceding the World War; a war in which we became involved. as everyone knows, in 1917, but what everyone does not know is that we were committed to this war in 1910, and were to all intents and purposes in the war In 1914, when J. P. Morgan & Co. began to finance the Triple Entente. This statement is borne out by Mr. J. P. Morgan's own testimony before the Senate committee investigating the munitions industry.

Mr. Choate was, therefore, right, because nothing has stopped, not even Congress, the destruction of this Republic and Its gradual Incorporation Into the British. Empire through the efforts of the many subversive and pro-English groups. led and directed. u I have 'said, by the British-Israel movement.

Let me now quote a message sent by George T. Wilson, chairman of the American Pilgrims, to his brother Pilgrims in London. when they celebrated our entry into the World War. This message states the real hopes and the purpose of the Pilgrims:
Sir Harry E. Brittain,

Chairman
I should like to read two cables which have arrived within the last few minutes from New York. The first is from our good friends and fellow members, the Pilgrims of America, and it reads as follows:

"At last the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes are nailed to the same staff not to come down until the job is done. Our boys in Khaki are anxious to rub shoulders with yours in France and share your struggle and your triumph in freedom's cause. The Pilgrims' dream of 15 years at length has come to pass. (Signed) George T. Wilson, Chairman."

I shall now quote a speech delivered by Nicholas Muffay Butler, to a meeting of the Pilgrims in New York, in 1934:

ANNUAL PILGIUM MEETING, 1934

President Butler. You have before you the report of your committee on nominations proposing the names of seven gentlemen for election to the executive committee. their terms to expire In the year 1935. Are there other nominations?

Mr. CHARLE H. WARREN. I move that the secretary cast one ballot for the names mentioned In the report of the nominating committee.

Me motion was seconded.

President Butler. It has been regularly moved and seconded that the secretary be instructed to cast one ballot for the names mentioned In the report of the nominating committee. This requires a unanimous vote. So many as are in favor will please say "aye"; contrary-minded, "nay." if any. The vote being unanimous, the secretary Is so empowered.

Secretary Church. Mr. President, I report I have so cast a ballot.

President Butler. The secretary reports that he has cast a ballot for the gentlemen named In the report of the nominating committee. Therefore, Mr. Burleigh, Mr. Darrell, Mr. Demorest, Mr Lamont, Mr. Noble. Mr. Satteriee, and Mr. Shields are elected to the executive committee. terms to expire in 1935.

Fellow pilgrims, let me first recall to mind the fact that Sunday was the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of that distinguished and beloved American, linked with Great Britain, who served so long as our president, Joseph H. Choate. In the presence of that anniversary and in your presence, I salute his memory and bear tribute to the service which his years on earth rendered to the great cause which we have so much at heart..

There have been happenings in the year 1931 so grave. so far reaching In their Importance, and so massive in their historic Interest that It Is no slight task to make choice among them of those of which it is permissible to speak In your presence for a few moments this afternoon. Let me first. however, pay tribute to that splendid spirit of the British people which in time of storm and stress. of national embarrassment and portending danger, enabled them. in accordance with the best !deals of the race. to put aside and behind all partisan differences and all prejudices of party affiliation and to units in that most Impressive demonstration which they gave at the last general election. That spirit was voiced by Mr. Snowden on the floor of the House of Commons in the stirrlng words which he quoted from Swinburne's famous ode:

"Come the world against her,
England yet shall stand !"

It was not only a magnificent exhibition of political capacity and political power, but it might well be an example to other peoples on this earth. facing problems such as those which are before mankind today, to forget their superficial and often artificial differences and to unite all their power and all their patriotism to solve their great problems solely in the interests of the nation and of the world. Great Britain has shown that it can be done.

I recall that a year ago it occurred to me to say something on this occasion of the movement going on to bring into existence a British commonwealth of nations, a new form of political organization to take the place of the centuries-old organization of the British Empire. I invited your attention to the fact that that movement was going forward. more Anglicana, informally. quietly, illogically, under the pressure of opportunity In events and without any formal or public announcement. During the year, however, without the world paying much attention, and hardly noticed I these United States, that movement, which has been under way for the better part of a generation, came to its climax and has now been formally written Into the public law of Great Britain.

I hold In my hand the few printed pages which constitute the State of Westminster, 1931 beyond question the most important act In public law since the ratification of the Constitution of the United States. This statute, covering but three or four printed pages, contains three specific provisions which are its essence and which I should like to emphasize.
First, what is to be a dominion?

The expression "dominion" is to mean the Dominion of Canada, the Commonwealth of Australia, the Dominion of New Zealand, the Union of South Africa, the Irish Free State, and Newfoundland. law dominions in all.

What Is to be the relation of local self-government in each of those dominions to the British Parliament? The Statute of Westminster reads:

"No law and no provision of any law made after the commencement of this act by the parliament of a dominion shall be void or inoperative on the ground that it is repugnant to, the law of England, or to the provisions of any existing or future act of Parliament of the United Kingdom or to any order, rule, or regulation, made under any such act. and the powers of the parliament of the dominion shall include the power to repeal or amend any such act. order, rule. or regulation Insofar as the same to part of the law of the dominions"

In other words, absolute legislative self-control is devolved by the Parliament of Great Britain, where that control has rested for 800 years, upon the parliament respectively of the six Dominions.

What certainty and security have these dominions that their local self-government shall be permanent and complete? The Statute of Westminster reads:

"No act of Parliament of the United Kingdom passed after the commencement of this act shall extend. or be deemed to extend, to a Dominion as part of the law of that Dominion unless it is .expressly declared in that act that that Dominion has requested, and consented to, the enactment thereof."

Those three brief paragraphs, I repeat, are the most important contribution to the public law of the world made since the ratification of the Constitution of the United States. They 1]2troduce Into the government of mankind a now form of federal relationship, not a federal relationship such as exists between Our own States and the Federal Government. but a federal relationship which consists In loyalty and devotion to & Person who Is the symbol of unity; but the legislation power to as multiform as the Dominions. The British people consciously, after 25 years of discussion and experimentation. have formulated this great statute. enacted it Into law without dissent, and have started this new ship of state out on the sea of human political experience. I submit, my fellow pilgrims, that that is so stupendous a happening and so amazing an achievement that we would do well to, pause for a moment to remark upon it. Let me say two things about it in addition, and you will pardon a word of personal reminiscence.

In June and July 1921 the Imperial Conference was sitting in London, and the sort of question which underlay this movement was uppermost in the minds of the conferees. There were other delegates to the conference. but the Prime Ministers of the several Dominions as now defined and the Prime Minister in the Government of Great Britain itself were. of course. the leading personalities. Mr. Lloyd George was Prime Minister. He did me the honor to ask me to come to Chequers for the week end to meet these gentlemen and to hear them discuss the problem Of the possibility of a British commonwealth of Nations.

They spent the whole of Saturday, and Saturday evening, and all of Sunday until luncheon under the trees and in the library at Chequers discussing informally and familiarly and with profound knowledge and that grasp which only , comes from experience. the problems that were before them. There war the Prime Minister of Canada. Mr. Meighen. There was General Smuts from the Union of South Africa. There was the Prime Minister of Australia, Mr. Hughes. There was the Prime Minister of New Zealand. Mr. Massey, and there were two represetatives from the Government of India. The, Maharajah of Cutch Mr. Srinivasa Sastri of Madras.

It was my privilege and good fortune to be questioned by the gentlemen as to the working of our own Federal system. In particular. they wished illustrations of what happened when there was conflict of authority and of jurisdiction. They pointed out that we had in our great cities officers of the Federal Government. How did they operate without inducing conflict of authority and feeling with the State and municipal officials? How were these almost invisible lines of administrative power kept from overlap. ping and from friction? What was the function of the courts? What the limit, if any, of their authority? I assure you it was no small pleasure and pride to be able to answer questions to that distinguished and influential group as to how a 'different form of the federal principle had been operating for more than a century and a half in the United States.

Finally, when the luncheon hour came on Sunday, and these informal discussions were brought to an end, Mr. Lloyd Green turned the conversation into lighter vein and called attention to the fact that it was fortunate indeed that their minds were meeting, that the words British Commonwealth of Nations were beginning to be used by them, and that the day was Sunday. A benediction, as it were. upon their efforts!

"Yes," I said, "Mr. Prime Minister, but if you will pardon an American, there is something more important than that. Tomorrow will be the Fourth of July."

By pure accident they had brought their discussion of the reorganization, of the British Empire and its Dominions to a conclusion at the anniversary of the Declaration of Independence, surely an interesting coincidence.

One thing more. We do not realize. my, fellow Pilgrims, the foresight of our own fathers, how far those nation-builders saw into the future, and what an amazing. grasp they had upon the fundamentals of political life and social organization, I sometimes think we are in the habit of taking them too much for granted.

There Is on exhibition in this city today one of the two existing signed copies (the other being In the Record Office in London) off a document which in American history stands in importance and significance side by aide with the Declaration of Independence itself, and probably not one American in a million has ever heard of its existence. That is the paper which John Adams called the Olive Branch Petition. That petition was presented to King George III in July 1775, over the signature of 46 Members of the Continental Congress, praying for precisely the relationship which the statute of Westminster has, written into public law, the public law of England, for the Dominions. And who signed It? The first names which stands at the head of the signers of the Declaration of Independence a year later, John Hancock. Among the .4t names are those of Samuel Adams, John Adams, Roger Sherman, John Jay, Benjamin Franklin, James Wilson, Patrick Henry, Richard Lee and Thomas Jefferson. Washington did not sign because he was in command of the troops in Massachusetts, and the Congress was meeting in Philadelphia, Lexington, Concord, and Bunker Hill had been fought. And this very proposal, which 160 years afterward has been worked out in the life of the British people, were presented to them by the signers of the Declaration of Independence a year before they signed that Declaration as the alternative step. It is one of the most extraordinary things in the history of government, and we pay little or no attention to it.

What happened? The Olive Branch Petition was sent to England by the hands of William Penn's grandson. He was to take it to the Government. For weeks he could not be received. Finally he was received, not by his Majesty, but by the Colonial Office, and was then told that inasmuch an the petition had not been received on the throne, no answer would be given. As John Adams had said, "We have the Olive branch in one hand and the sword in the other." When the Olive branch was rejected, recourse was had to the sword, and these very same men in 12 months signed the Declaration of Independence and history took its course.

It is one of the most astounding things in the history of government that these men off in this distant series of colonies, economically in their infancy, financially helpless and dependent. had the vision of organization which has come now to all the British peoples, and for which surely every Pilgrim wishes the very greatest possible measure of success.

So it is, gentlemen, in the history of our race. Ideas, how slowly they travel, arguments, how slowly they are apprehended; action, how slowly it follows upon conviction! To be sure, as we look back we can see that these 46 members of the Continental Congress were in advance of the opinion of the world. British opinion could not at that time have accepted that course of action. They could not think in terms of a parliament whose legislative authority ended at the Island shores. Therefore. Revolution, independence, separate nationhood. were of the essence of the great undertaking, and so they happened. But in the intervening years a lesson has been learned by all, by the motherland and its captains of the mind, by the Dominions and those who speak their voice, and now with great fortune and wisdom they have in the Statute of Westminster written into the public law the principles of the Olive Branch Petition of 1775.
Let me only add that this great principle of federation of one kind or another in the principle which is to mark the life of nations In the days that am to come. Those that are of like race and faith, that have similar economic habits and interests, that have a common language, they will tend more and more to group the themselves into units as our United States of America have done. The British Commonwealth of Nations will, perhaps, be the only one of its type because Great Britain is the only far-flung empire which has gone out for 500 years and put its hand on the distant places of the earth for their enrichment, their betterment, and their increasing civilization. Other proud and powerful and ambitious nations will find ways and means, without losing their independence, their self-control, or limiting their pride, to bring themselves into new economic units for cooperation, enrichment. and the benefit and satisfaction of all their peoples.

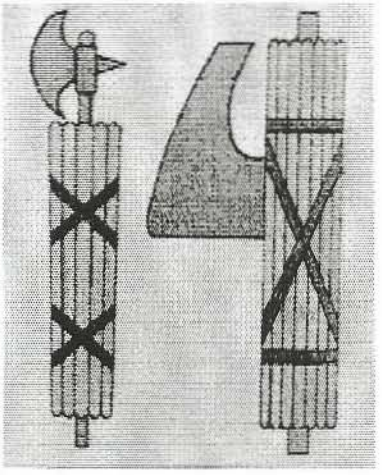
This principle of international cooperation, in one form or another. whether it be our form, whether it be the British form, or whether it be the forms which are slowly coming on the continent of Europe, that is the principle which we may look forward to as guiding and shaping the life of the world for the next century or. more. But as we Pilgrims look particularly at our own field of historic interest and affection, surely we may in the dark year of 1931 take profound pride and satisfaction in remarking the significance, the far-reaching importance, of this Statute of Westminster and the prophecy of it by our own nation-builders In July 1775.

Mr. Speaker, I have included Mr. Butler's address, in order to show how far we have drifted toward this British union. In this speech, you will note he brings out the fact that the olive branch petition has now been adopted by England and extended to her colonies. He further intimates that in view of this adoption it is now in order for us to join the British Empire. He makes the further statement that this movement has gone Anglican, or more English, which is quite true, for we are just about on the verge of capitulating to the forces which are driving us into the British Empire. To show this let me quote:

That petition was presented to King George III in July 1775, over the signatures of 46 members of the Continental Congress, praying for precisely the relationship which the Statute of Westminster has written into public law, the public law of England, for the Dominions.

I recall that a year ago it occurred to me to say something on this occasion of the movement going on to bring into existence a Commonwealth of Nations, a new form of political organization to take the place of the centuries-old organization of the British Empire. I invited your attention to the fact that that movement was going forward, more Anglican, informally, quietly, illogically, under the pressure of opportunity in events and without any formal or public announcement. During the however, without the world paying much attention, and hardly noticed in these United States, that movement, which has under way for the better part of a generation, came to its climax and has now been-formally written into the public law of Great Britain.

WHAT IS FASCES AND FASCISM?



The symbol of power in the days of the Roman Republic, of the Roman Empire, and, later, of Benito Mussolini's Fascist government in Italy. Fasces consisted of a bundle of birch or elm rods bound together by a red strap. The blade of an ax projected from the bundle. Servants called lectors carried these bundles ahead of such officials as magistrates, governors, and emperors. The fasces stood for the official's power to punish people or put them to death, and also symbolized unity. Fasces also appear on the back of some American dimes.

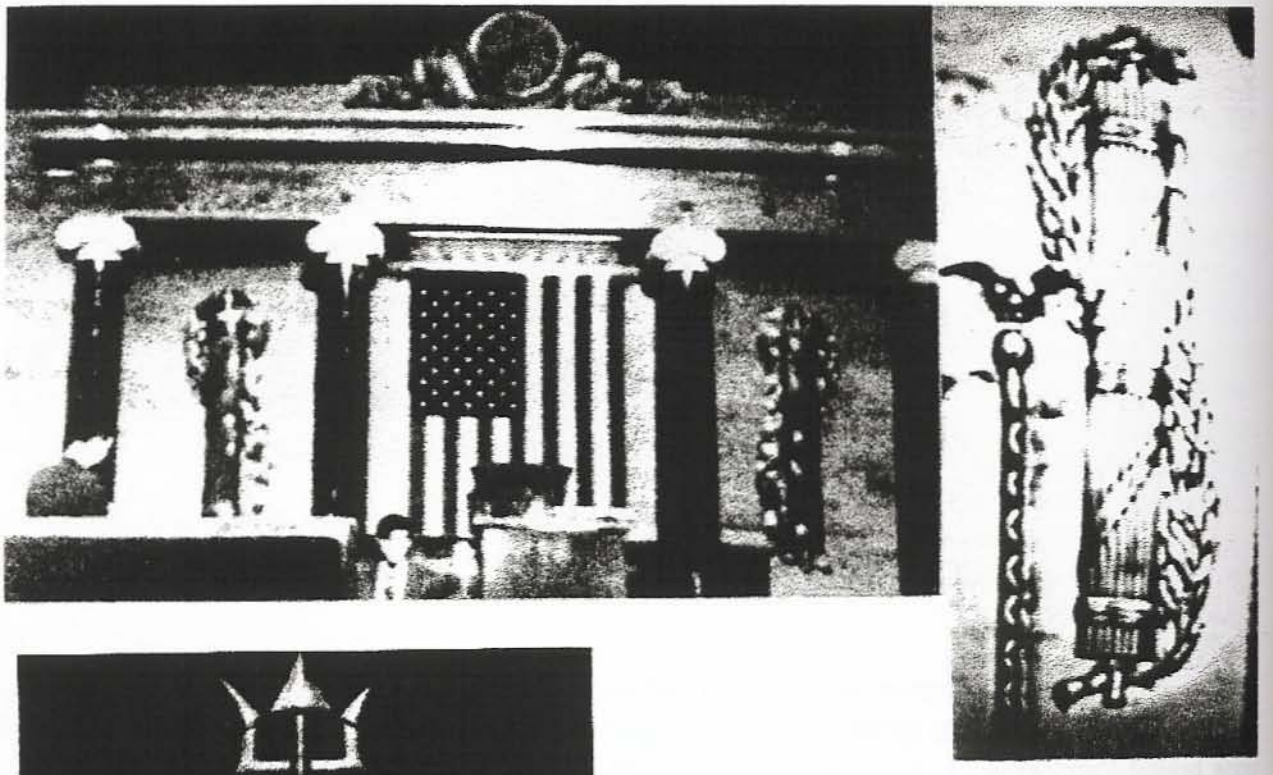
A FASCIST form of government is headed, in most cases, by a dictator. It involves total government control of political, economic, cultural, religious, and social activities.

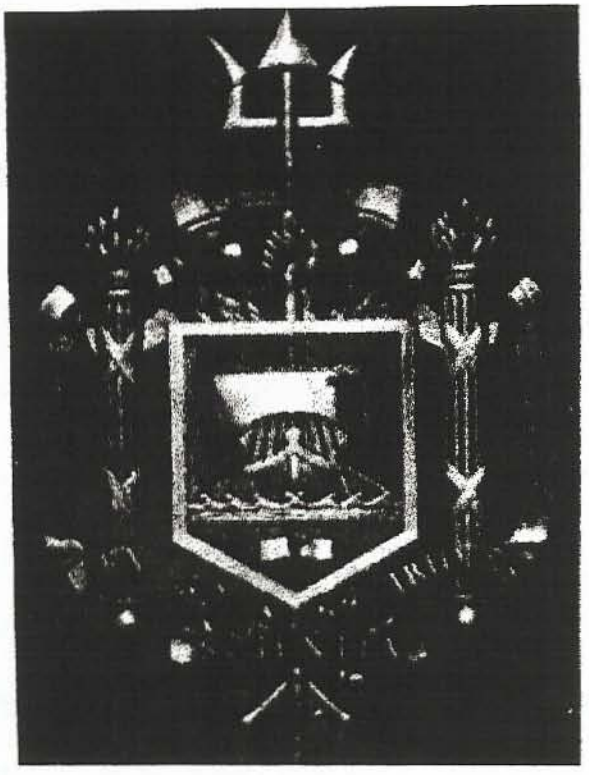
Fascism resembles Communism. But unlike Communism, which calls for the government to own all industry, fascism allows industry to remain in private ownership, though under government control. Other important features of fascism include extreme patriotism, war like policies, and persecution of minorities.

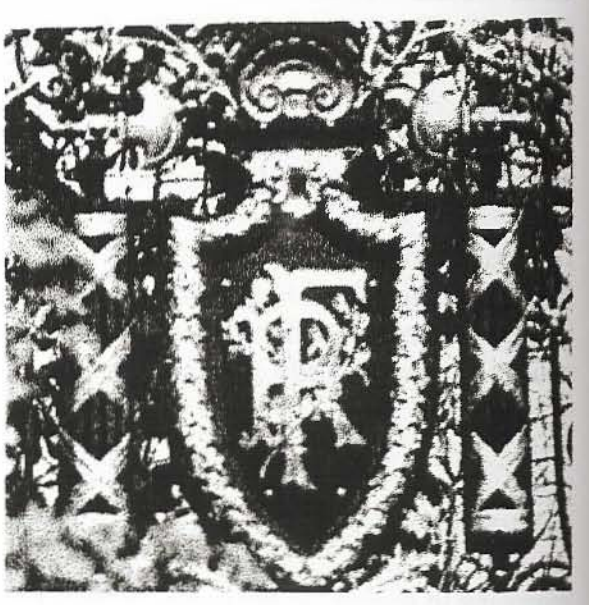
LIFE UNDER FASCISM

Political life. In most cases, fascists have come to power after a nation has suffered an economic collapse, a military defeat, or some other disaster. The fascists win mass support by promising to revive the economy and to restore national pride. They may also appeal to a fear of Communism or a hatred of Jews and other minorities. In time, the fascists may gain control of the government through peaceful elections or by force.

support by promising to revive the economy and to restore national pride. They may also appeal to a fear of Communism or a hatred of Jews and other minorities. In time, the fascists may gain control of the government through peaceful elections or by force.







Above are some examples of the Fasci. The large picture is of the two Fasci that are on the wall behind the speakers stand in "your Congress". Next to it is a blow up of the Fasci and then is the picture of the satanic symbol for one of the United States branches of the arm forces, and the second one is the Fasci on the gate of the President of France.

After the fascist party takes power, its members replace the men and women in the executive, judicial, and legislative branches of the government. In most cases, on individual usually a dictator with great popular appeal becomes the leader of the government. Sometimes, a committee of party members holds the government leadership. Fascists permit no other political party and no opposition to their policies.

The fascist desire for national glory leads to an increase in military spirit and a build-up of the armed forces. After the military forces become strong enough, they may invade and occupy other countries.

Economic life. A fascist government permits and even encourages private enterprise as long as such activity serves the government's goals. However, the government maintains strict control of industry to make sure it produces what the nation needs. The government discourages imports by putting high tariffs on certain essential products or by banning imports of those products. It does not want to depend on other countries for such vital products as oil and steel.

The government also forbids strikes so that production will not be interrupted. Fascism outlaws labor unions and replaces them with a network of organizations in the major industries. These organizations, which consist of both workers and employers, are called corporations, but they differ from those in other countries. Fascist corporations supposedly represent both labor and management. In reality, these corporations are controlled by the government. Through the corporations, the government determines wages, hours, and production goals. As a result, a fascist country is sometimes called a corporative state.

Personal liberty is severely limited under a fascist government. For example, the government limits travel to other countries and restricts any contact with their people. The government also controls the newspapers, radio, and other means of communication in its country. It issues propaganda to promote its policies, and it practices strict censorship to silence opposing views. All children are required to join youth organizations, where they exercise, march, and learn fascist beliefs. A secret police force crushes and resistance. Opposition my lead to imprisonment, torture, and death.

Fascists consider all other peoples inferior to those of their own nationality group. As a result, a fascist government may persecute or even kill Gypsies, Jews, or members of other minority groups.

HISTORY

The word fascism comes from ancient Roman symbols of authority called fasces. Many historians trace the beginning of modern fascism to Napoleon I, who ruled France as a dictator during the early 1800's. Napoleon carried out many liberal reforms and was not a true fascist. But fascists later adopted many of his methods. Napoleon promised his people that he would restore the glory of France through military conquest. To prevent opposition, he established one of the first secret police systems. Napoleon also controlled the French press and used propaganda and strict censorship to win support of his programs.

Now let us take a look at some of the places that we can find the symbol of fascism in our own country. Take a look at your old Mercury head dimes on the back you will find the symbol of the fasci. Next you will find the fasci on the Seal of our Senate, the Seal of the National Guard of the United States, and last but not least or last of the list is the wall behind the speaker in Congress has two huge fasci hanging on it.

MASONIC ENSLAVEMENT

These are very serious and dangerous times. The average gullible American has absolutely no thoughts as to what is about to come upon him. Awake! Awake! This is a very serious and dangerous anti-Christian and anti-Christ, (anti-Christ means any opponent or enemy of Christ, whether it is a person or a power and is a false claimant of the attributes and characteristics of Christ. A denier of Christianity) movement that has been working politically and socially since the French Revolution to destroy the sovereignty of this Nation and all nations around the world. This secret society came first in Europe during the French Revolution, and from there to Russia. George Washington, even though he was a deceived Freemason, was nevertheless a loyal American, and was very aware of this International Revolutionary force to destroy all governments and religions in his own time. The secret society of the Illuminati founded in 1776 came creeping into American even when the 13 original colonies were united.

However, even before the colonies were united, the Constitution adopted, and our Republic established, fifteen Lodges of the Order of the Illuminati were formed in the thirteen Colonies. This was the Colombian faction of the Illuminati and it formed the Columbia Lodge of the Order of the Illuminati and was established in New York City in 1785; the New Empire of the York Rite Mason's which were here to establish the New World Order to do away with the, The Old World Order. Members of this group were and included Governor DeWitt Clinton, and later Clinton Roosevelt; see the Clinton's have always been bad news, Charles Dana and Horace Greeley. The following year a Lodge was established in Virginia with which was identified Thomas Jefferson strongly defended him as an enthusiastic philanthropist.

George Washington sent a letter to a G. W. Snyder in which he stated: "It is not my intention to doubt that the doctrine of the Illuminati and the principles of Jacobinism had not spread to the United States. On the contrary, no one is more satisfied of this fact than I am."

"The idea I meant to convey was that I did believe the Lodges of Freemasonry in this country had, as societies, endeavored to propagate the diabolical tenets".

Russia is a perfect example today of what the Illuminati plans are for the world. There are about 1 1/3 billion persons, or about a third of the world's population, who now live under Communist rule. Contrary to what they would have you believe Russia has not done always with communism in that country it only looks that way to you because of the media propaganda that you are getting.

Political Science: is a plan to keep people in fear to control and keep your focus out of focus and off of the important things that is going on so that you don't get to smart or have time to think and figure things out so you can cause trouble for them. The keep your back bent over working your hands to the bone and keep just enough turmoil going in the world to put you and your family in a state of fear. Fear of, are you going to be able to work, will you be able to make the mortgage payments on everything so you can keep the house, car, furniture and your sanity. They want everyone to live in a state of STRESS, because stressed people are more open to a suggestion or solution to make life easier.

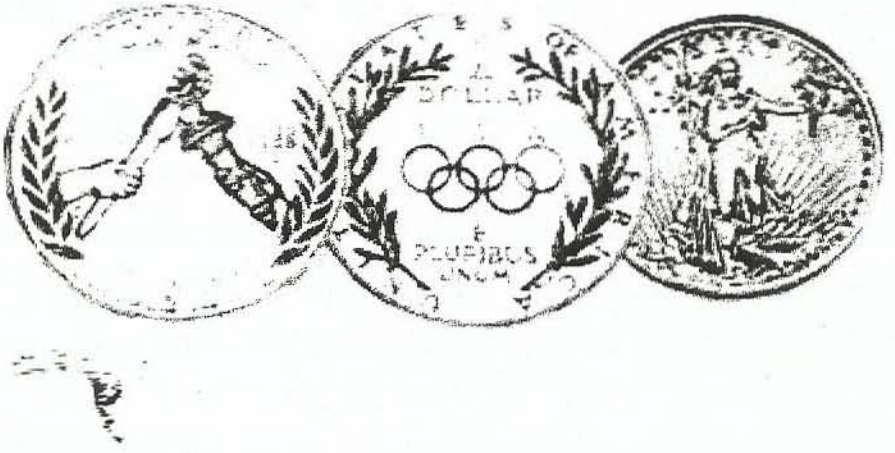
There are no accidents, everything is planned.

Sun worship the worship of Lucifer was camouflaged throughout this world. Those who obeyed the pagan precepts were actually bowing their knee before Lucifer, not before God the Father. Their God is not the Christian's God, so remember that when you see, "In God we Trust", all over your money, etc.. That is their God not ours. And that is their money not ours.

To begin this study, let us take a closer look at the name "Lucifer" itself. The name "Lucifer" in Latin means "light-Bearing" and may also mean the planet Venus, which is the "morning star" at "dawn." In Greek mythology, Lucifer was personified as a male figure bearing a torch. Hence, we have the origin of the light-Bearer of the Olympic games. The Greek transliteration of the name of this incarnation of Lucifer in the myth was Teitan. In middle English his name was Titan, which also meant "Sun-God." A distorted record of the rebellion of Lucifer and that of the rebel giant Nimrod has been preserved in Greek mythology. Titan, the personification of Lucifer, was the ancestor of a race of giant humans here on earth who were overthrown by the Olympian gods. Today, the word titan means "one gigantic in size or power." The word titanism toady in our language means "spirit of rebellion; or a defense of and revolt against the established order or authority"



There is one group of people that took the worship of the Sun-God to such a level of belief which was that for the Sun-god to bestow life on the world, he needed also to receive life from it. To show the murderous character of Lucifer displays in people, and what human beings can be led to do by his false religious spirit, we will explore some of the reasons behind the rites of human sacrifices.

To some ancient people the heart was the seat and symbol of life, and bleeding hearts of men and animals were presented to the sun-god to maintain him in vigor and enable him to run his course across the sky.

When the Israelites turned their back from their original worship they adopted the worship of the pagan gods. They too were led by pagan high priests to sacrifice human beings. "They joined themselves also unto Baalpeor and ate the sacrifices of the dead. They sacrificed their sons and their daughters to Lucifer and shed innocent blood of the children.

The ignorant Israelites were not sacrificing their children to gods, as they thought, but unto Lucifer. Over 1000 years later, the sacrifices of the Gentiles which the Israelites adopted were actually "Sacrifices to Lucifer."

As history has documented, that greatest object in pagan worship was the sun, who was symbolized all over the world as a heavenly bull. The pagans displayed the cosmic god in their arts as a bull standing on its hind legs with a tail, hoofs and horns, with a man's head and arms, with a three prong pitchfork in his hand. So the ancient cosmic symbol of the Sun-god, with hoofs, a tail, horns and a pitchfork, is where we today get our symbol for Lucifer as having hoofs, a tail, and horns, with a pitchfork in his hand.

In the ancient astrological system, it is the Sun-god who is the ruler and main god of the zodiac. All the gods of heaven (the stars) were considered offspring of the sun. According to pagan philosophy, all the star gods you have heard about in school were actually manifestations of the heat, fire and light which flowed from the sun. It was believed that it was the Sun-god who was the source of all things, and all the other gods were but emanations of the sun, "flesh of his flesh." Therefore, all the manifestations of the gods of nature were just manifestations of the one god, the Sun, whose worship by primitive man was in reality to Satan. Even Lucifer's name means "Day Star," the "Illuminated One," or "Shining One."

The word Baalim (the Sun-god) is a term to describe the whole system of Sun worship. Augustine said in his book, The City of God, that all the learned pagan doctors declared that all the chief gods of the Greek-Roman world were "one and the same Jove.

In pagan philosophy, the stars controlled the affairs of the human race. Hence, the science of Astrology claims to interpret the will of the star gods. The chief star gods of the pagans were the gods of Astrology, which were believed to be just emanations of the one god, the Sun-god, the ruler of the Zodiac. Astrology is the foundation of all the pagan sciences of the occult, whose author is Lucifer, and his spirit guides are his angels.

SYMBOL STUDY

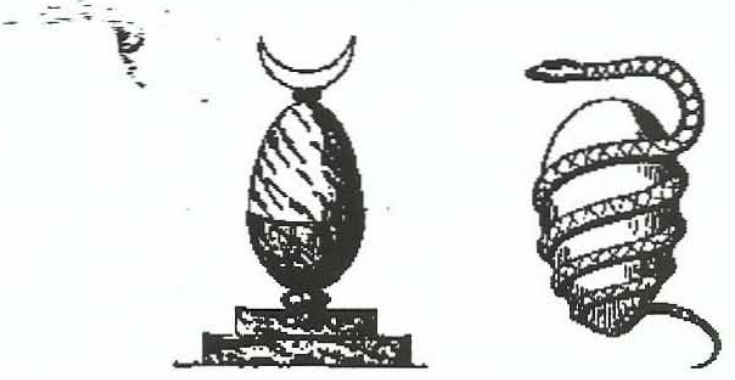
The eye Omniscience; the All-Seeing Eye; Divinity; the faculty of intuitive vision. The eye is a symbol of all sun gods and of their live-giving power of fertilization by the sun; their power is incarnated in the god-king. It is also the mystic eye; light; enlightenment; knowledge; the mind; vigilance; fixity of purpose, but also the limitation of the visible. The 1,000 or 10,000 (Remember Bush's 1,000 points of light), eyes of the sky gods are the stars, the eyes of the night, representing omniscience; never-sleeping watchfulness. The "eye" as applied to sacred architecture is the opening heavenwards in the center of the dome of a temple, cathedral, lodge, or any other traditionally constructed world center; it represents the solar door giving access to celestial regions. The eye of the heart is spiritual perception; illumination,; intellectual intuition. The eye can also depict the androgyny as being formed of the oval female symbol and the circle of the male.

The single eye is either symbolic of evil as with the Cyclops or monster of destructive power, or as the single eye of enlightenment, the eye of God and of eternity, the self-contained. A triangle with an eye in the center is the All-seeing Eye, omnipresence and omniscience. In the occident the right eye is the sun, the eye of the day, and the future, with the left eye as the moon, the eye of the night, and the past. The peacock feather can take on the symbolism of the eye. The All-seeing eye is suggested as the Pole Star and illumination; the eye of the mind.

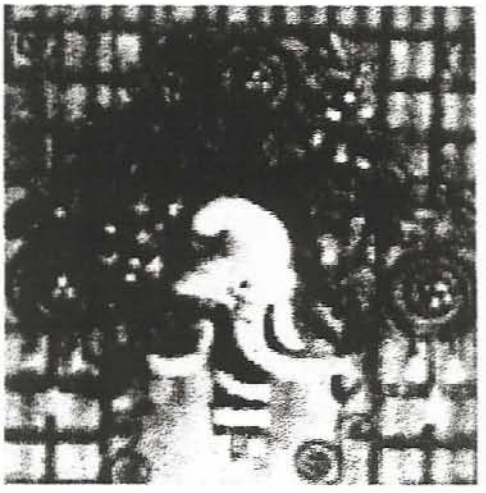
Egg. The Cosmic Egg, also symbolized by the sphere, is the life principle; the undifferentiated totality; potentiality; the germ of all creation; the primordial matriarchal world of chaos; the great Round containing the universe; the hidden origin and mystery of being; cosmic time and space; the beginning; the womb; all seminal existence; the primordial parents; the perfect state of unified opposite; organic matter in its inert state; resurrection. The cosmic egg is a symbol of the origin of the universe, suddenly burst asunder, a whole, it had yet contained everything existing and potential in the limited space of the shell. The egg as the origin of the world is found in Egypt, Phoenicia, India, China, Japan, Greece, Central America, Fiji and Finland. The golden egg is the sun. The serpent encircling the egg. Out of the egg grows the white flower (silver), the red flower (gold), and the blue flower, (the flower of the wise). The egg is also the sealed hermetic vase in which the Great Work (a Masonic term) is consummated. In Egyptian the Cosmic Egg from which the sun, Ra, was hatched was laid by the Nile Goose. All this was taken one step further by the secret socialites, and introdced into the Christian religion on our day of Easter, a celebrated date of the resurrection of Jesus. What most Christians do not know is that Easter is one of the names given Semiranis. This name is traced back to the pagan goddess Astarte or Ishtar. In the spring of each year, Ishtar the fertility goddess, was commemorated by decorating the Ishtar egg, a symbol of impregnation, or fertility. From Ishtar comes our English word "Easter."

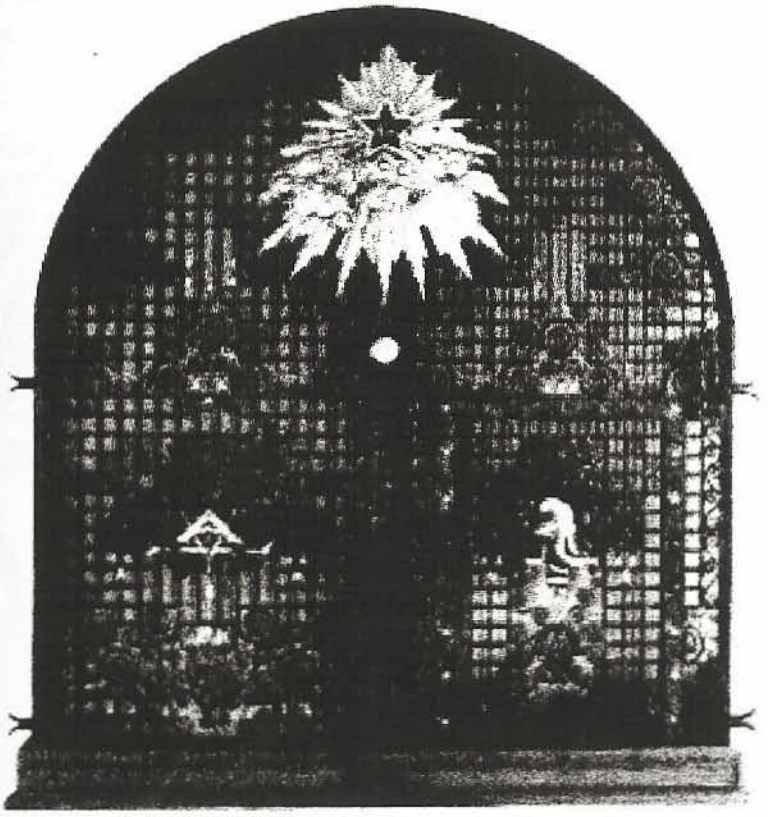


The Phrygian Red cap of Liberty

Is a cap that goes back to ancient Roman times and all though it is called the cap of liberty it does not necessarily mean your liberty, it is a hat for rebellion and conquest and during the French Revolution it was worn by the French Illuminati Freemasonry that were overthrowing the French Monarchy.

These are pictures of the phrygian red cap of Liberty, some of these pictures are from Masonic books. The design of the gates guarding the entrance to the Temple of the Grand Orient de France displays their style. Marianne Maconnique (the statue) is prominent in French Masonic Symbolism with her Phrygian cap on.. Next you see the little red hat causing trouble all over the world spring up even in the United States military.





THE PHRYGIAN RED CAP OF LIBERTY AND THE TROUBLE IT CAN CAUSE

(1) The metal that you see is from the French Revolution days. On the blue background you will see a red cap of liberty and around the edge are the words, "SOCIETY OF THE JACOBINS 1793". It is a proven fact that in every county that this Phrygian red cap of liberty shows up in the country is bound for trouble and to be taken into a Dictatorship.

(2) Notice on these coins from Mexico and Cuba all of the many different symbols for the Masonic Order such as the Phrygian red cap of liberty, the New Day Dawning or a surnrise, a Shield, keys, and a wreath. What I have found is that every countries money has Masonic symbols on it in some form.

(3) This is the symbol of the United States Army and War Office as you look on it you will notice that at the top of a pike is the Phrygian (Jacobin) Red Cap of Liberty. Does this mean that secret societies have control of our military also?

(4) This is the central symbol on the flag of Nicaragua, where they have been having trouble in recent time. You will notice that in the center of the Masonic triangle is the Phrygina red cap of liberty which is the Jacobin society.

The logo, or symbol, of the Trilateral Commission.

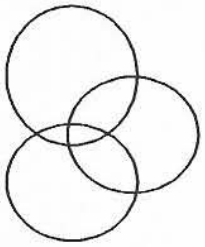
That the 6-6-6 shaped Trilateral logo has deep globalist significance is also revealed in the occult teachings of Alice Bailey, founder of the Lucis Trust and World Goodwill. In her works, we discover references to a *triangle of powers*three major centers (in Britain, "centres") of spiritual and physical influence-being set up on Earth in the last days by "Sanat Kumara'!-an occultic code name for Satan. Could this be a reference to the mission of the Trilateral Commission?

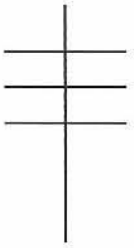
The Order of Skull & Bones operates as a Black Lodge of Freemasonry. This is its logo.

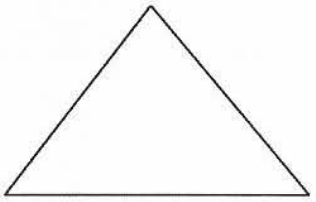
Lodge of international Freemasonry. Bonesmen, as its members refer to themselves, cfaim their initiation ritual to be of a special race and caste, while all those outside the Order are denigrated and described as "vandals and gentiles." I demonstrate in my book that the influence of Skull & Bones extends far beyond the hallowed walls of Yale University. Its power is in its clannish alumni. The present membership of this odious secret society includes former President George Bush, columnist William F. Buckley, Senator John Kerrey, and many others. However, the Order of Skull & Bones is only one of numerous fraternities, secret societies, orders and organizations used by the Illuminati to recruit its future "talent."

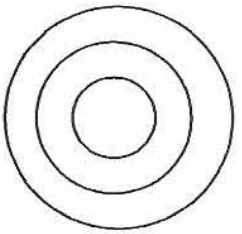
The Owl is a symbol of the secret societies (Bohemian Society) because the owl is wise and they can see things in the dark.

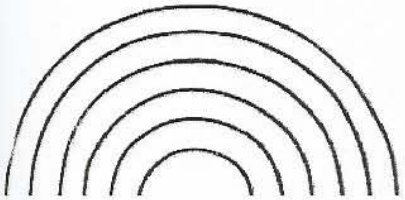
The Trinity is a theological concept of great symbolical importance. The Trinity is the doctrine of unity of God in three persons. After the tenth century the Holy Spirit was replaced by the figure of the Dove, or the Trinity. A triangle with its apex pointing upward and "God's eye" inside it, is another symbol of the Trinity. Other traditional symbols of the Trinity include three overlapping circles, three arcs enclosed by a circle, (as referring to a rainbow), the three leaf clover, the Tau cross with three arms of equal length, the Y-shaped "fork" cross, three tendrils on a grapevine, a pair of scales with three weights. All of these are used in Freemasonry.

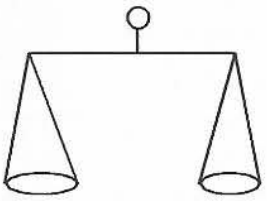


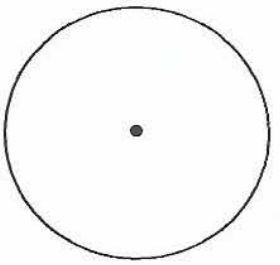












The Triads are distinguished from Trinities in that the latter are a three-in-one while the members of Triads are distinct, such as the Astrological Sun-Moon-Venus, the Zoroastrian Fire-Light-Ether, and the Taoist Great Triad of Heaven-Man-Earth, the divine, the human and the natural, with man the mediator between the celestial and terrestrial. The Triad, like the Trinity is often symbolized by a triangle, sometimes by a trident.

In Taoism the Tortoise, one of the four Spiritually Endowed Creatures, represents the Triad, with the upper shell as the waters and the earth, and the central body as man. Tortoise, the waters; the moon; the earth Mother; the beginning of creation; time; immortality; fecundity; regeneration. The tortoise is frequently depicted as the support of the world as the beginning of creation and the all-sustaining. The tortoise represents the mass confuse. The Cosmic Tree grows out of the back of the tortoise. The Four Spiritually Endowed, or sacred, Creatures, with the dragon, phoenix and ky-lin; it represents the watery element, the yin principle. Winter, the northern region and the color black, the color of primordial chaos. The tortoise is also called the Black Warrior, and then becomes strength, endurance and longevity. The dragon and tortoise banner was carried by the imperial army as a symbol of indestructibility since both creatures survive a fight, the dragon being unable to crush the tortoise and the tortoise being unable to reach the dragon. The tortoise frequently appears with the crane as a longevity symbol.

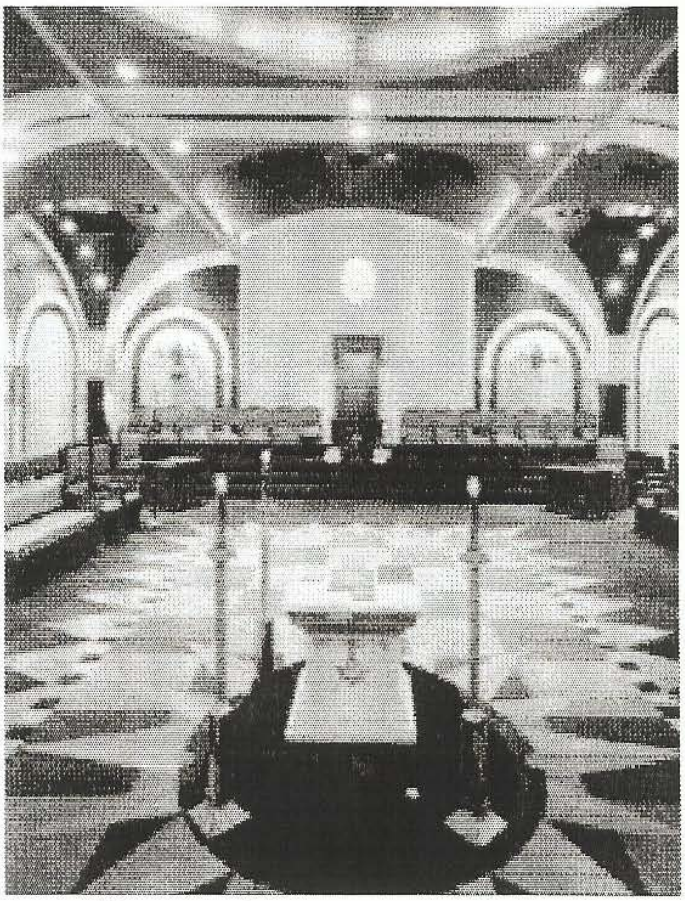
Upon pasting through the entrance to a Masonic Temple you enter what is called the "Great Hall"; where they conduct their business of the day.



In modern occultism, the initiate, if once a Christian, must take a ceramic cross, turn it upside down and break the cross-bar downwards to show he or she has rejected his faith. Ignorant Christians wear this thinking it is a sign for peace. The origin of the word peace was stamped on this because, when a witch casts its spells, they get peace of mind after breaking the cross.

The Peace Sign

The Rainbow is the modern 1980's version of the peace sign. However, the veiled deception of this evil occult sign borrowed from God's word, means today that the Luciferians are building a rainbow bridge between man and the over-soul who is Lucifer. Read Hidden Dangers of the Rainbow.

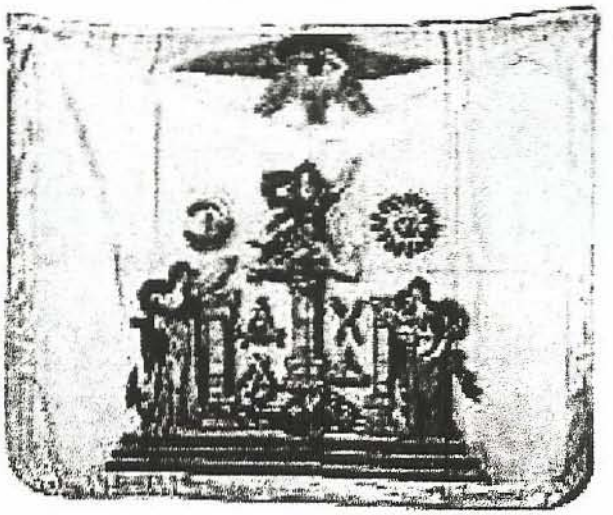
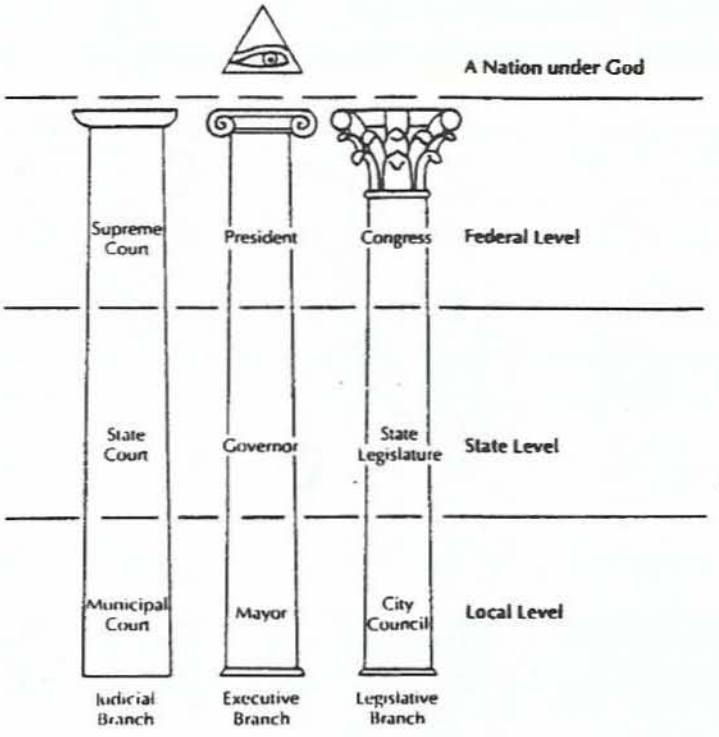
The Lambskin or white leather apron, which is an emblem of innocence, and the badge of a Mason; more ancient than the Golden Fleece or Roman Eagle, more honorable than the Star or Garter. Masonry has used the lamb, which in the Old Testament has always been representative of the coming Messiah.



The symbol that is used to represent the entrance to Solomon's Temple are two pillars set up in front of the porch of King Solomon's Temple. The one on the right, the other on the left. The one on the left is called Boaz, and signifies strength, the one on the right Jachin, and signifies to establish. In strength I shall establish my kingdom. These pillars were thirty and five cubits in height and were adorned with chapters of five cubits, making forty cubits.

They were adorned with lily work, net work and pomegranates, denoting peace, unity and plenty. The lily from its purity denotes peace, the net work from the intimate connections of its several parts denotes unity, and the pomegranates from the exuberance of its seed, denotes plenty. They were further adorned with globules or balls, representing globes celestial and terrestrial and signified the universality of Masonry.

By order in architecture is meant a system of all the members, proportions, and ornaments of columns and pilaster; or, it is a regular arrangement of the projecting parts of a building, which, united with those of a column, from a beautiful, perfect, and complete whole. From the first formation of society, order in architecture may be traced. When the rigor of seasons obliged men to contrive shelter from the inclemency of the weather, we learn they first planted trees on end and then laid others across to support a covering or canopy. The bands which connected those trees at top and bottom are said to have given rise to the idea of the base and capital of pillars, and from this simple hint originally proceeded the more improved art of architecture. The five orders are thus classed The Toscan, Doric, Ionic, Corinthian, and Composit.



The ancient and original orders of Architecture revered by Masons are no more than three: the Doric Ionic and Corinthian, which were invented by the Greeks. To these the Romans have added two: the Toscan, which they made plainer than the Doric; and the Composit, which was more ornamental, if not more beautiful, than the Corinthian. The first three orders alone, however, show invention and particular character, and essentially differ from each other; the two others have nothing but what is borrowed, and differ only accidentally; the Tucson is the Corinthian enriched with the Ionic. To the Creeks, therefor, and not to the Romans, are we indebted for what is great, judicious and distinct in Architecture. They also allude to the five senses of human nature - hearing, seeing, feeling, smelling and tasting.

Hiram Abiff, a workman of King Solomon's temple in Jerusalem, some how became the focal point in a ritual that is performed in the initiation of a Mason. Hiram Abiff, was slain and then was supposedly raise out of the grave to eternal life. In the ritual today the initiate is supposedly raised out of the grave by the lion's paw, (master mason) to eternal life.

Hiram Abiff, -was in possession of a secret password, known as the grand Masonic word which at one time was, "Jehovah", but is now "Mah-Hah-Bone" He was also a workman in brass and other metals at King Solomon's temple.

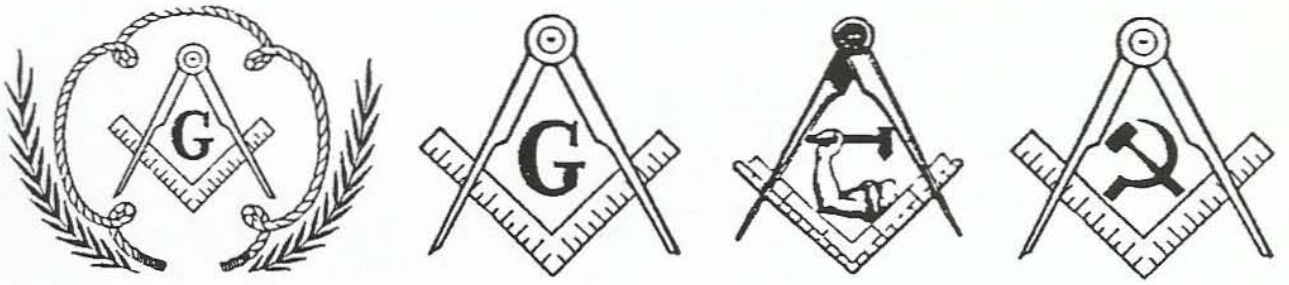
A mason in a lodge room may not always realize that the designs, set-ups and movements are based on worship of the sun, and generative forces of nature as practiced by the sex cults in ancient times.



To start, we need to study the symbol system of the Sun-god worshipers. The serpent which was said to be the very thing Satan used to deceive Adam and Eve became eventually one of the most sacred symbols of Sun worship! The serpent became a symbol of the "Great Benefactor and Healer" of mankind. The serpent was worshipped as the "God of Healing" and "Life-Restorer. The serpent, the god of healing, was generally represented in the pagan arts entwined on a stick, staff or a stock of a tree.

Here we find the origin of the strange symbol that the American Medical Association (AMA) uses today. This medical insignia was originally the symbol of the Egyptian god Hermes, thus came the word hermetic. The word hermetic means the hidden knowledge of magic, occult sciences. Not only was the serpent worshipped by the ignorant pagans as "The Great Benefactor" for mankind, the serpent ironically enough was worshipped also as the "The Great Enlightener." In Egypt, one of the common symbols of the sun, or sun god, is a disc with a serpent around it. The original reason of that identification seems just to have been that, as the sun was the great enlightener of the physical world, so the serpent was held to have been the great enlightener of the spiritual, by giving mankind the "Knowledge of Good and Evil."

The pagan wreath encircling the glove is also used as the emblem of the United Nations. To Masons who understand the symbology, the U.N. is a continuation of the one-world project begun by Bacchus "the seed of Cush, or Nimrod.

Likewise, world government has always been the goal of Freemasonry. Hence, the ivy wreath around the Square and Compass, as pictured in Mackey's Encyclopedia of Freemasonry, identifies the Brotherhood with Nimrod's Mystery Babylonian world government.

AMERICAN BRITISH FRENCH/ COMMUNIST

The ancient Mayans of the Yucatan in Mexico worshipped the serpent god under the name of Can. Can means "serpent" in the Mayan language, as Can or A-Can was the ancient Sumerian and Ancient Scottish word for serpent. Here we find the origin of our word canny, shred or serpent like. The Babylonians worshipped Can the serpent and Vul, the god of fire. The Romans simply combined the two words into "Vulcan," the Roman god of fire from when also comes our word "volcano."

This seems to be how the Mayans and Mexicans named their goods. They too combined two words to describe their serpent god. "Kulkul" means "beautiful bird," and "Can," serpent. Hence, "Kulkulcan," which means "Bird Serpent" in the Mayan language. This is the exact same meaning for Quetzalcoatl, The Mexican pagan messiah in central Mexico.
Interestingly enough, the cosmic symbol for Quetzalcoatl was a feathered serpent! Here is another interesting observation.

The origin of the word "Vatican" also derived from two words. The Latin word "vatic" or "vatis" means "prophet or soothsayer." The combined word, "Vatican," appears to mean "divination by the serpent"! The symbol for Astrology is often shown in pagan arts as a serpent in a circular position with his tail in his mouth. This represented eternal life.

There is the strong evidence from Scripture that the serpent originally had wings and flew, instead of having legs as the evolutionists say.

The feathered serpent that has been displayed in pagan arts and worshipped as the god of healing, is none other but "that Old Serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world."

While Satan changed the image of the serpent into something to be adored and worshipped, the goat, from antiquity, symbolized the Devil. The goat, known for its agility, stubborn character and having its own way, is what Astrologers say people are who are born under the sign of Capricorn, the He-Goat. Witches in the Middle Ages were widely reputed to worship the Devil in the form of a goat. In southern Europe the site where the witches met was called a synagogue; in Germany it was called a blocksberg. These meeting usually took place at midnight. It was brought out during the trials that witches claimed they came to their meetings by being carried by the Devil; others were able to fly by anointing themselves with oils from the bodies of murdered infants; still others rode broomsticks, or a cow or a goat.

It is interesting enough, however, that these modern witches exalt the horn gods and the pagan goddesses such as the Egyptian pagan trinity Oriris, Isis, Horus, which originated in the worship of the Sun, his wife Semiranis (the moon), and Tammuz (the Morning Star).

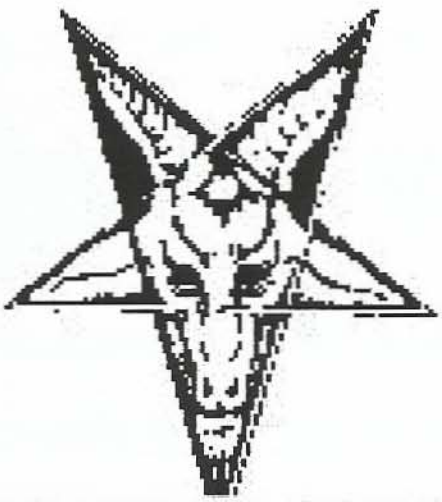
Modern day witches who worship the gods of cosmic forces claim now to work magic and cast spells for the general good of the community. This kind of witchcraft is called white magic. Those who practice casting spells that injure people practice what is known as Black Magic.

The group called Wicca which mean "Witch", is, however, nature worship. Just as the ancient Ball worshippers in Babylonia believed it was the cosmic Star gods that were responsible for pouring out the rain from Heaven and caused fertility among the plants and mankind, so do these ignorant people in these modern witch covens teach their little ones these things.

Kings of pagan nations often were considered the incarnation of the Sun-god, and to identify with the Sun-god the kings would adopt the name of his god.

Baal worship was basically a fertility cult that taught its followers that the Sun-god and Moon-goddess controlled the seasons, brought fertility.

The Pentagram symbolism is based on that of the number five which, according to Astrology, stands for the living world of nature, such as Air, Fire Water, Earth, and the Spirit, or the five senses, of their god and pagan goddess who used the elements, according to witchcraft, to create the Universe.



GOAT HEAD OF MENDES

The number five in Astrology also represents the four directions and the center, for the five senses (smell, taste, sight, touch and hearing).

These people of these secret groups see themselves as a microcosm (miniature universe); to the point that they think themselves as rulers of nature, and as the miniature image, the potential master of all things. So, the Pentagram (five pointed Star) with one of its point projecting upwards is imagined in Witchcraft as a man's body with arms and legs extended, and is a symbol of the dominance of the divine spirit.

Then they are portrayed as good people, who fight against the evil forces of this world such as "Wonder Woman," with her sign of white magic (the Pentagram) displayed on her forehead. It is said that a reversed Pentagram with two points upward is a symbol of Black Magic, and of those who do worship the Devil. The two points of the star pointed upwards suggests the horns of the Devil symbolized as a goat attacking the Heavens with his horns. This five pointed star which has two points upward was, and is today worn as an amulet by open Devil worshippers, and by many modern day magicians and wizards.

Doesn't it give you chills to know that they who call themselves Freemasons, and the ladies who call themselves "The Order of the Eastern Star" display this evil sign in their lodges?

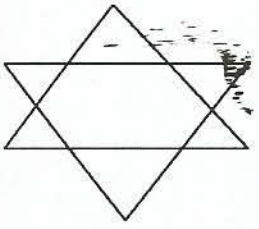
There are many sects of modern witchcraft today, and many variations found in their rituals. In some covens the cakes they use in their communion are made into the shape of a crescent, which is the symbol of the Moon-goddess. These cakes, by the way, are make of salt, honey, wine, meal, oil and in some covens, blood. They are eaten in honor of the Egyptian god Horus or whatever god the coven exalts. The crescent is also representative of the female sex organs.

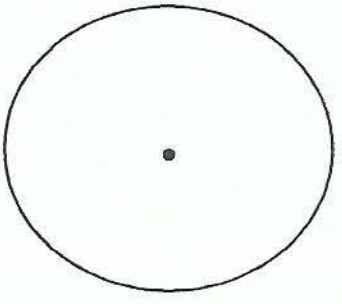
In ancient witchcraft the cakes were round with a cross drawn on them that represented the first letter of the name of the ancient dead and risen pagan messiah "Tammus," who was the incarnation of the Sun-god, and the son of the Moon-goddess (the Queen of Heaven). Even the Israelites, when they turned from the worship of our Creator, made these same cakes that honored the pagan Queen of Heaven and her god-child Tammuz.

Today, the Roman Catholic Church dedicates these same cakes to the Virgin Mary whom they ironically call the Queen of Heaven. These cakes are called by Roman Catholics "Hot Cross Buns." The name of this pagan goddess the Israelites worshipped and dedicated these cakes to is found in Judges 2:13. Her name to the Israelites was Ashtaroth. To the early Romans her name was Venus, the goddess of love.

The Sun-god and Moon-goddess who created the whole Universe, according to these witches. To honor this pagan belief, a ritual called "The Great Rite" is strictly observed among these so-called "good" witches. Since the High Priest in a coven is believed to be the incarnation of Pan, the Sun-god, and the High Priestess is the incarnation of the Queen of Heaven, the Moon-goddess when they perform "The Great Rite" ritual, which is engaging in sacred prostitution.

To try to understand any of this perversion so you can teach others how to avoid it, the reader simply needs to realized that this abominable practice of sacred prostitution found today in modern witchcraft is nothing new. All ancient heathen worship of the Sun-gods had within its philosophies Phallicism. What is Phallicism? It is the veneration and worship of male and female sex organs. The union of male and female organs is symbolized in witchcraft as a point within a circle, and also as two triangles uniting to make a "Hexagram," better known today as the "Star of David." The truth is, King David of Israel never carried this emblem that is now the symbol of Israel. This emblem was adopted from witchcraft by some Jewish priests who had explored deep into the Babylonian religion during their captivity in Babylon. From here sprang witchcraft in another garb called the Cabala.





Often the Hexagram is displayed as a symbol of the 7 planets that serpentine their way through the Zodiac. The Sun in the center is displayed in a circle with a point in its center.

The chief gods of the Zodiac, which were but emanations of the Sun-god, all had a sacred number. To keep it short and to the point and to help us understand why this mysterious number 666 was given to john of the Revelation, warning us not to be identified with it, it is necessary now to examine some ancient pagan numerology.

Ancient Astrology teaches that one of the sacred numbers of the Chief god of the Zodiac (the sun) was the number one. The Sun symbol, we saw earlier was a Heavenly Bull and a serpent.

Originally, the letters of the various alphabets had, and still have to some extent, a numerical significance. The English language has lost track of this, for there are no numbers that identify with each letter of our alphabet. The first letter of the alphabet in many languages still carries with it a reference to the Sun-god (one) whose main symbol was either a serpent or a bull. Take, for instance, the first letter in the Hebrew and Chaldee alphabet. It was a symbol of a bull and sometimes the buffalo.

To honor the Sun, the god (one), the Heavenly Bull-god, the first day of the week (Sunday) and the first of everything was dedicated to the bull-god as sacred. The first day of the month, the first day of the year, the first born son and the first fruits of the harvest and of the flocks, were kept sacred and dedicated to him.

The number 2 in ancient Astrology is considered a female number and a symbol for the Mother goddess who, according to pagan belief, is the second member of the godhead.

The number 3 is a sacred number identified with the pagan godhead of Baal, Ishtar, and Tammuz. Some times the number 3 represented a triple aspect of the Sun-god as the ruler of Heaven. While the sun appeared in the sky it was symbolized as a Heavenly Bull. The Serpent was the symbol of the sun in the spiritual realm of things. However, when the sun sinks into the Western ocean at the end of the day and spends the night in the realm of darkness and the dead, he then becomes the fish god, Lord of the Underworld. The Fish-god was known as Dagon. This name Dagon, is derived by combining two words. Dag means Fish, and On means Sun. Hence, the part man and part fish gods worshipped in the Old World. To the Romans he was Neptune, who was ever displayed in ancient Roman arts as part man, part fish, with a pitchfork in his hand.

Pope praises South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — Calling South Africa an inspiration to the world, Pope John Paul II appealed yesterday for religious and ethnic warfare to "give way to dialogue and agreement. A new dawn has risen," the pope said at an outdoor mass attended by about 100,000 people. "Become what you want to be, the rainbow people of God."

Pope John Paul II

The pontiff urged the Balkans and Rwanda, Burundi, Sudan and Algeria o follow South Africa's example and settle conflicts through negotiations and elections. The crowd was far smaller than the 400,000 people predicted by local clergy. South Africa is only about 7.5 percent Catholic.

My question is which God is he talking about.

It is an interesting observation that the High Priest of Dagon wore a robe and a mitre that resembled a fish. This mitre the pagan priests wore is the origin of the mitre the Popes and Cardinals wear to day. This mitre that resembles a fish head was worn centuries before the birth of Christ by pagan High Priests of Dagon.

In India, their trinity is based on the 3 phases of the Sun-god, When the sun rises in the East, he is Brahama, when he gains his meridian, he is Siva, and when he sets in the West, he becomes Vishnu.

The number 4 is the sacred number in Astrology for the Sun as Ruler of the four quarters of the Universe, or the four divisions of the Zodiac, the four seasons, and the four directions. It is interesting to note the name of Tammuz, where the cross originally came from. It was originally the initial T in Tammuz, which was known as the sacred Tau. The cross was a symbol of the sun worshippers centuries before Jesus was born. The number 4 itself is little more than a cross.

As a matter of record there is no Catholic will pray a prayer or worship God until he makes the four directions across his head and body to resemble it. That which is now called the Christian cross was originally the mystic Tau that the Chaldeans used to sacrifice a firs born child to the Sun-god. It was this very thing that was used to crucify Jesus on. No greater insult could Satan give the Christ than to sacrifice him on his own symbol of heathen worship.

The number 5 in Astrology such as the 5 pointed star (Pentagram), but it is the number 6 that should capture our close attention. The hidden meaning and symbols represented by the number 6 are so involved that an entire book could be written about this number and its origin. Here, again, we explore the worship of the serpent, because the number six has ever been connected with the serpent.

The numbers 6 and 7 are often interchangeable. This confusion is probably where we get our expression today, "At sixes and sevens," a term meaning confusion. The Giant Serpent of the sky whose 7 heads were a symbol of the 7 fate controlling planets which serpentine their way through the Zodiac in astrology. The book of Revelation, symbolized Satan and his astrological religion as a seven headed serpent (Dragon), attacking the woman, which is a symbol of the church.

Now in Revelation 17:1-5 it speaks of the Mystery, Babylon the Great, the Mother of Harlots is riding a Seven Headed Beast. However, this is not a Dragon (Devil), but a beast which is symbolic language represents a "Political Power." See Daniel 7:1-8,17 23 and 24. We will study more about how a beast in Bible prophecy is a symbol of "Political Power" later.

The serpent has been displayed in the pagan arts as an emblem of the Sun-god. It is eye opening to learn that even many of the names used for the Sun-gods actually add up to be 666. The Greek word that describes the Sun-god is Xiuv. This means Wisdom of the Sun, or Solar Wisdom. In the ancient Greek language, this word to describe the added to 666, etc..

As we established earlier, astrology taught that the fate of mankind was ever decided by the position of the stars. Now the chief gods of the Zodiac were the 7 planets who serpentined their way through the 36 rooms of the Zodiac. The 7 planets travel through the narrow band of the Zodiac at varying speeds. The Zodiacal band itself was divided into 12 houses, one for each month of the year, and each house was divided into three rooms, making 36 rooms in all, one for each 10' of the Zodiacal circle. Here we find the origin of our present time keeping. Believe it or not, the dial of a clock is derived from the 12 houses of the Zodiac. Thus the Zodiac was a Heavenly Clock with which today we measure time.

It is not by chance that there are 36 numbered cards in a 52 card deck. One card each represents the 52 weeks with 12 face cards, four Kings, four Queens, and four Jacks, and four suits, that represent the four seasons.

In ancient pagan numerology, the number 9 is the number of the circle, which was a symbol of infinity or immortality. As we saw earlier it was a 360 degree circle.

The Sun-god, the Heavenly Bull, brought both light and darkness as he rose from east to west, he was worshipped also as both good and evil. He was worshipped not only as a good and evil god, but both male and female. The reasoning behind this philosophy is that the Sun-god was believed to be the source of all things. So since there is good and evil, and male and female, the Sun-god had to be good and evil, and double-sexed, because men and women were created in the image of their god.

The mythological time-cycle bird of fire was called the Phoenix not only by many Indian tribes of North America, but also by the Egyptians and the Phoenicians. The Phoenix was worshipped as the bright and morning star. The morning star to the Egyptians was the nocturnal representation of the hidden Sun-god Osiris,

In the earliest texts, the morning star and Orion, the ruler of the sky, are often compared. For some, gods with a similar name seem to be confused with the morning star, like Athtar, who was worshipped as the god of vegetation, as was Tammuz. However, this name Athtar, according to Mythology of all Races, means Lucifer.

Now, it just so happens that one of the old spellings of Phoenix is Phoenix or Fenex in Greek transliterations. Like the name Lucifer, Phoenix means "Shining One." And if we add Fenex in its Greek value we get: 666.

It depended on what area of the world the pagan lived as to what type of bird was called the Phoenix. To the Egyptian, it was the heron or crane. To the Babylonians, Assyrians, and Hindus it was a peacock. To the North American Indian, it was the Eagle. To the Central and South American, he was the quetzal.

In China, Japan and India, the phoenix is the peacock and the symbol of the sun. In Bali, the peacock is a symbol of the entire sky.

It is very interesting to discover the Peacock Sun-bird, a symbol of Lucifer, the god behind all these gods, pictured on a Roman Catholic Church window, encircled by the Zodiac. In the church of St. Maurice at Reims France, we find a woman (probably the Virgin Mary) pictured in a sun-halo, and crowned with seven stars. In one hand she holds a peacock, around which stretches a circular band having on it the 12 signs of the Zodiac. Another shocking observation regarding the Roman Catholic Church is her exaltation of her Pope when in procession, as he is carried on his portable throne. During this procession, two grooms carry large fans of peacock feathers in such a way that the seated Pope seems to have two wings on his shoulders which are constantly in motion and they make him appear as if he is flying.

In ancient Rome and Greece, heaven was considered filled with eyes, the eyes representing the stars, the stars representing the homes of the dead. The god Argus was said to have hundreds of eyes. The eyes of Heaven were represented by the eyes found on the peacock feathers.

The Queen of Heaven to the Romans, had a peacock as her sacred bird. The peacock or Phoenix has long been connected with the Zodiac.

It is interesting to note that the very symbol of the proud ruler of the universe, according to pagan beliefs, is used as a symbol for the NBC Television Network. And CBS Television Network uses the "All-Seeing Eye," which was the symbol of the Sun-god, the Ruler of the eyes (stars) in heaven. Also, ABC Television Network uses the Sun-Disk as a symbol of their organization.

To the Romans the god Bel, who actually was Nimrod's father Cush, was worshipped as Janus, the two faced god, the god of gods. Hislop quits Ovid, another ancient scribe who wrote of a hymn dedicated to Janus.

"From whom all the other gods had their origin is made to say of himself: the ancients called me Chaos."

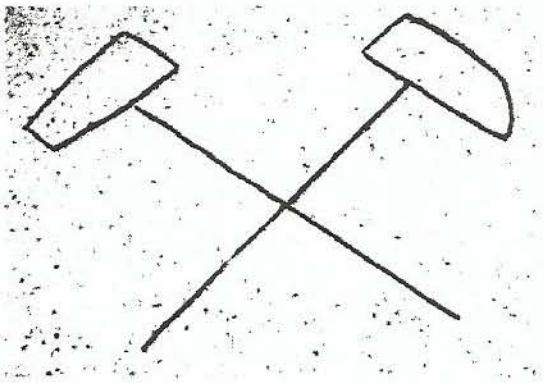
This god Chaos' name is used in our language today to mean confusion. The symbol of this god of confusion was a club, and Hislop goes on to say the following:

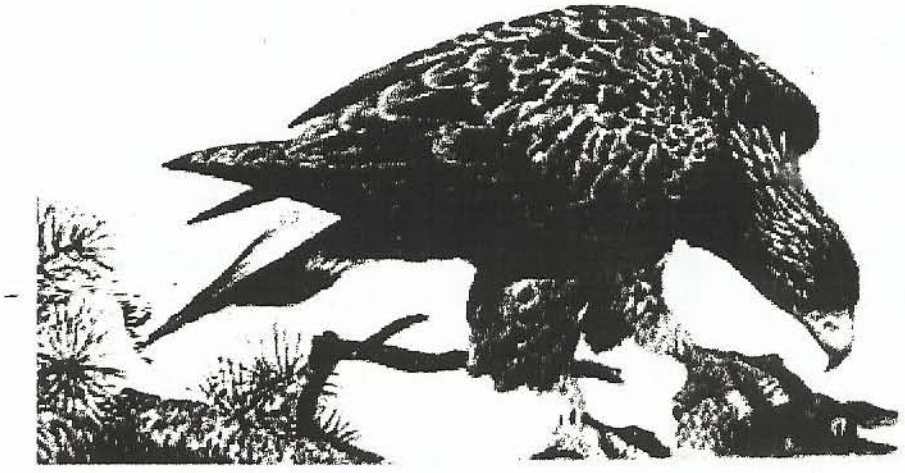
THE CLUBS



That symbol is a club; and the name of a club in Chaldee comes from the very word which signifies to break in pieces, or scatter abroad. He who caused the confusion of tongues was he who broke the previously united earth, in pieces and scattered the fragments abroad.

The symbol of this god (the club) is called the hammer in Scripture. "How is the Hammer of the whole earth cut asunder and broken! It was Bel who caused the inhabitants of the earth to be scattered all over the earth by introducing Astrology, Magic, Necromancy, etc., building an anti-Christ society that would change "the glory of the incorruptible God into an image made like to corruptible man, and to birds, and four footed beasts, and creeping things.
As we saw earlier the ancients often used animals and birds to represent their chief deities in their representation of Sun-god.

However, it was the Eagle which took flight daily across the vault of Heaven and traversed the celestial dominion of the stars and constellations, descending toward the Rising Sun form the storm clouds of Adad. The Eagle was a symbol of the Sun-god as the Spring and Morning Sun, victorious over the powers of Darkness and the Underworld through which he passed nightly.



As several time earlier I have tried to show that it is Satan (Lucifer) who is being worshipped through a camouflage of pagan gods symbolized as humans, animals or birds. It was Lucifer who was the original "Light Bearer".

Very few Masons, like the Roman Catholics, understand the religion they blindly serve. They're told to do things they don't understand and they do them without questioning why. And so is it among the Protestant circles.

Very few Masons know that Albert Pike, was himself also the head of the Palladist, another Secret Society which openly worshipped Lucifer and was bent on destroying Christianity, replacing it with the worship of Lucifer himself. This order was known under the alternative names of Luciferians and Palladists. They were said to adore Lucifer. He was in their view the God of Light, the good principle, while Adonai was the God of Darkness, the Evil principle. In short, he was Satan himself. This worship was founded on a dualistic philosophy and was a sort of topsy-turvy Christianity. The name of Palladists is derived from a palladium which they were said to revere, namely the Baphomet, or grotesque idol, the worship of which was on e of the articles of accusations against the "Knights Templars" in the 14th century. It was alleged that the Baphomet was preserved in secret through nearly five centuries after the suppression of the order and ultimately carried by one Isaac Long in 1801, together with the skull of the last Grand Master, the unhappy Jacques du Molay, form Paris to Charleston in the United States of America. These relics were averred to have there become the sacred objects of a society which was a development of Freemasonry.

The head of the society, we are told, was one Albert Pike, under whose influence it spread all over the civilized world.

After Albert Pike's death, Adriand Lemmi transferred this Luciferian Secret Society from Charleston to Rome. And it was reported that the most foul, cruel and obscene rites, along with the adjuration of Christ and his religion, accompanied by the appearance of Satan himself, were all part of the ceremonies that took place during their meetings.

destroying the Christian religion, and establishing a Luciferian Government on this earth. This gospel of Lucifer is Illuminism, and is the foundation of the various Secret Societies.

If the reader has any doubts about Albert Pike's involvement in the Luciferian Conspiracy, let his own words in his own book, Morals and Dogma, help convince you. Here form page 787 is how Pike slowly instructs unsuspecting Masons about the importance of the Eagle, which is another emblem of Freemasonry, and form ancient times a symbol of Lucifer..

"A great Black Eagle, King of Birds. He alone it is that can fire the Sun, material in its nature, that has no form, and yet by its form develops color. The black is a complete harbinger of the work: it changes color and assumes a natural form, out whereof will emerge a brilliant Sun."

"The true name of Satan, the Kabalists say, is that of Jehovah (God) reversed; for Satan is not a black god, but the negation of God. The Devil is the personification of Atheism or Idolatry. For the initiates, this is not a person, but a force, created for good, but which may serve for evil, it is the instrument of liberty or free will. They represent this force, which presides over the physical generation, under the mythological and horned form of the god Pan; thence came the he-goat of the Sabbath, brother of the ancient serpent, and the light bearer or phosphor, of which the poets have made the false Lucifer of the legend.

Liberty = the meaning is; The state of being exempt from the domination of others or from restricting circumstances; freedom. A special exemption; franchise; privilege. A place or district within which certain immunities or privileges are enjoyed.

You do not have liberty, the controllers have liberty. They are literally getting away with murder in the world to achieve their world control and this country is no different and to throw it in our face they put up a statue of false promises to the entrance of this country, they have not control on them by we have many. Basically we live in a open air prison.

The statue of liberty has the halo of a new day dawning for a new world order and is a light-bearer. And is the image of the mother goddess.

Bible scarlaor have stated that in their oppinion the Statue of Liberty is a representation of the wife of Satan. It is also the light bearer. With all of the symbology on this statue and the hidden meanings I think it could mean many different things to many different groups but what you have to consider is where it came from, which is France and this is the home of the Grand Orient Lodge.

The symbol of the sun or the sun rising which is the symbol for the Dawning of a new world order or "Dawning of a new day" or a new way of life.

Luciferians teach it is Christ who is the impostor and the Evil One, while it's Lucifer who is the Good God.

Then you have the Hermetic Order of the Golden Dawn, this secret Society, which exists today, teaches the use of magical weapons and practiced ceremonial magic mixed with drugs and sex.

Next is the "Ordo Templi Orientis," for its centers around much of the Antichrist movement among our young people toady. The Ordo Templi Orientis claimed that it could communicate in nine Degrees that secrets not only of Freemasonry, but of the Rosicrucians, the Illuminati, the Order of the Holy Grail, the Knights of the Holy Ghost, and the Holy Sepulcher. Blavatsky and her associates claimed they were the key which opens up all Masonic and Hermetic secrets, namely, the teaching of sexual magic (Phallicism), and this doctrine of sexual magic would explain, without exception, all the secrets of Nature, all the symbolism of Freemasonry, and all systems of religion.

The Washington Monument

Now here are some more astonishing facts. Have you ever wondered how the strange structure called the Washington Monument came into being? In the myth of the Egyptian god Osiris, which derived out of the legends of Nimrod, Osiris was said to have been killed by a rival god and cut into 14 pieces, this rival god threw all of the parts of Osiris along the Nile. Isis, his wife, found all the pieces but one, his genital member. Now remember, Osiris was worshipped as the Creator, the Impregnating Force of the Universe, so the mother goddess Isis molded with her hands an image of the dead god's Phallus, and set up one to be venerated as a monument to Osiris. This is the origin of Phallicism. So in the Temple services of the pagans, a coffin with an image of Osiris' Phallus (penis) in it became part of the worship of the Sun-god. This same phallic image has been passed down through history to us today. Its name is the obelisk, which even a small child should have seen may times. Gross darkness are the deception of Satan. The obelisk, the sacred phallic symbol of Osiris, is now standing in St. Peter's Square at the Vatican, with a cross erected on top of its pyramid. It's also standing 555 feet high in Washington, DC. And this is the origin of the Church steeple.

St. Peter's Plaza

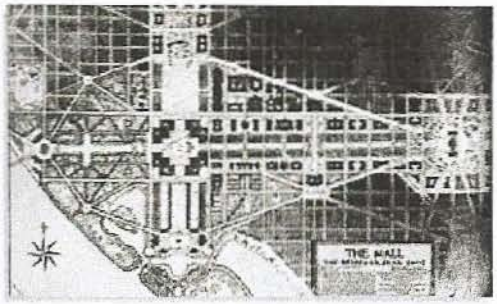
In these pictures of Washington D.C. you can see that oddly enough the pattern that you came find in Paris with the Obelisk in the center of town is "Egyptian " oriented and is repeated at the Roman Catholic Vatican and then again at the capital of the United States. In Washington on the adjacent map you can see that the street layout is in the shape of the Masonic square and compass.



NATIONAL FLAGS

The following pages are of different national flags.

Please look closely and see how many of the Masonic symbols that you can find on them. Most flags have at least one Masonic symbol on them, You should look for:

Crescents, Five pointed Stars, Phrygian Red Cap, Diagonal bands, Trees, Circles, Wreaths. Double and single headed Eagles, Dragons, Serpents, Triangles, Shields, three pronged forks, sun rises; suns, pentagram, Fleur-de-lis, swords, Buffalo's. Look for the British and Communist masons symbol, square's, keys, torches and the configuration like the logo for the Trilateral Commission that is representative of the 666, such as found in the flag of the Isle of Man and Anguilla. These are only a few of the national flags and we haven't even started on the separate State flags of the united States. Also remember that these secret societies colors are red, white, blue and green.

It was not by chance that the Pentagram (5 pointed star) was chosen to represent states in the American Flag. It was not by chance that the Pentagon is shaped after the center of the Pentagram that witches and warlocks get in the center of to cast their spells.

It was not by chance that red, white and blue, three of the four colors of witchcraft, were chosen to become the colors of the flag.

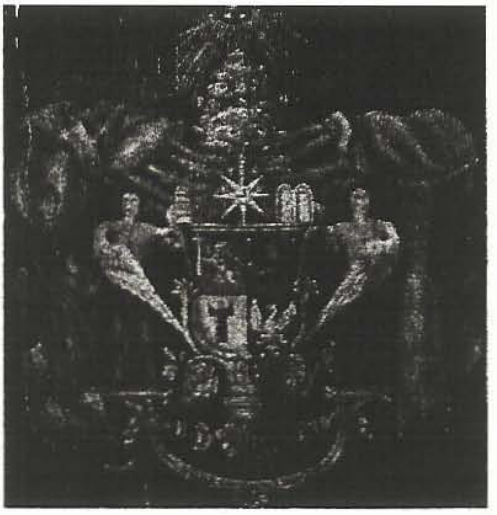
It was not by chance that the Eagle (the ancient symbol of Lucifer) was chosen to become a symbol of the United States.

America, during the Inquisitions, was still a wilderness and became a haven for Bible-believing Christians. This wilderness land that was later to be called the United States hid God's Bible-believing people from the persecuting power of the Dragon, which in Prophecy is a symbol of Satan and Satan's religion. The Roman Catholic Church was a false religious system that caused the Protestants to flee from the Old European countries, to come to America.

Have you ever wondered what the Christmas Tree has to do with the Birth of Christ? Or the ornaments you place on the tree, or the meaning of the word, Yuletide? Or where the tradition of the mistletoe came from and how it became a symbol of Christmas? They have nothing whatsoever to do with the birth of Jesus, but are some of the traditions observed to honor the birth of pagan god-child Tammuz. There is no scriptural evidence that supports the birth of Christ as being December 25th: but history says December 25th was kept thousands of years before the birth of Christ, in honor of the pagan Messiah. Another name for Tammuz, the pagan god-child, was Baal-berth, which means: Lord of the Fir-Tree. The following picture is a Masonic picture with a Christmas tree on the top, under the All-Seeing-Eye.

The Sun-god, the Mother goddess, and her son, according to Babylonia mythology were mystically changed into trees. This is the origin of burning the Yule Long. the Sun-god was symbolized by a big fir tree stripped of all its branches and cut almost to the ground.

Now take the word Yuletide. The word Yule is the Chaldee word for infant or little child, and the 25th of December was called by the pagan's, Yule-day, or Child's Day. The pagan Egyptians, and the Persians both observed the 25th of December as the birthday of their god.



In Germanic Mythology, they too, had a supreme god to whom they gave sacrifice. These war-like people promised their god, whose name was Tiwaz, that if he would give them victory over their enemy, they would give to their god all the spoils of the battle. Like the Babylonians, they believed their gods could transform themselves into trees. If the god answered their prayers, they took their dead victims along with the spoils of war, and dragged them to their sacred grove, and they hung them, or just their heads on their sacred trees. Such offerings have been recovered from the bogs in Germany. This begot the origin of hanging ornament from the Christmas Tree.

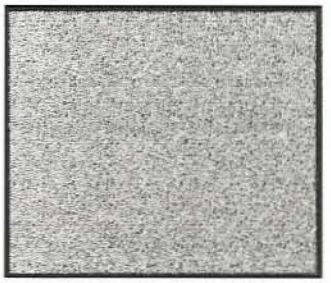
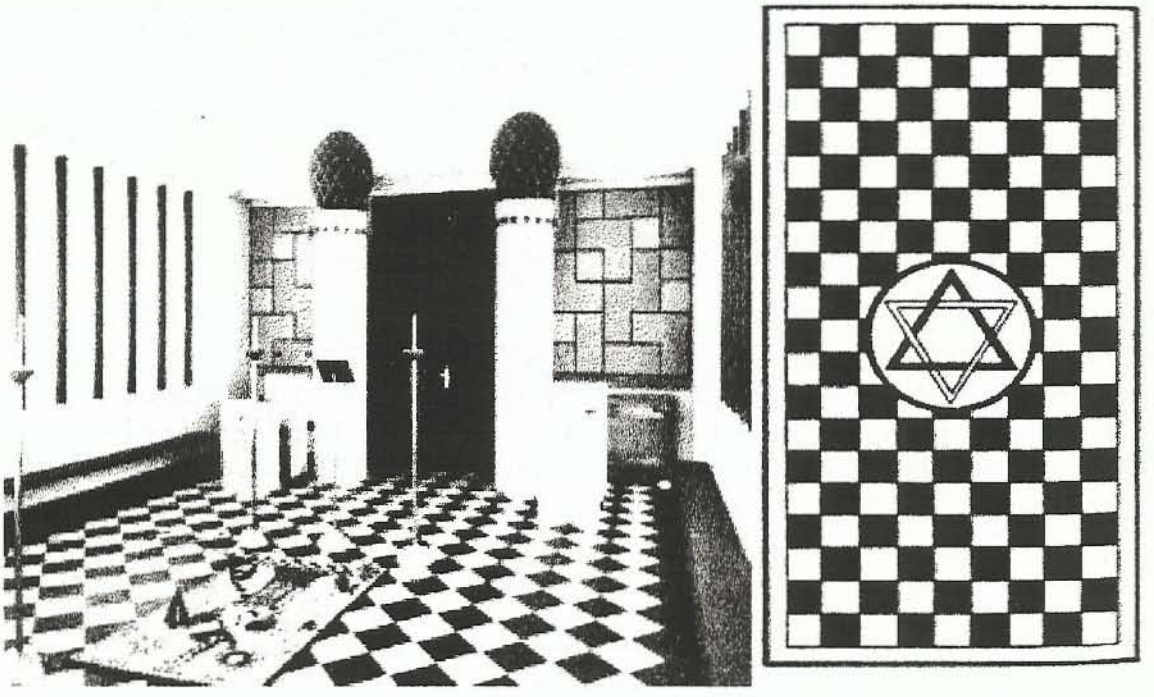
The Third side added, making it an Equilateral Triangle (pointing upward) symbol of the Perfect Man

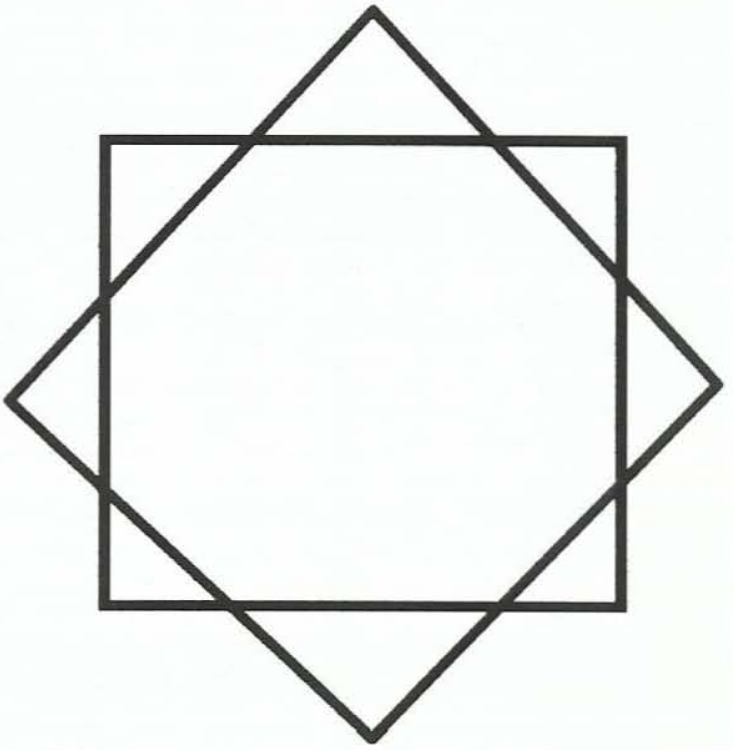
The Compasses



The Square

The square is a well known symbol in freemasonry, and means things that are fair, right and correct. Things are in order. You will see a square design in the floor of most Masonic Temples. When you alternate the color of the squares with a light and a dark you create the symbol for confusion or chaos.

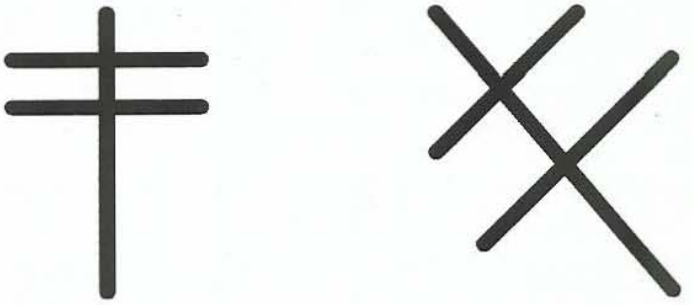




The Double Square or the Eight Pointed Star

The double square or eight pointed star of freemasonry represents disorder, dishonest, chaos, or confusion. The symbol for Chevron Oil Company is a double square chevron, the chevron's that military personnel wear are freemasonry, they mean a state of power or the powers that be in government and military have total control. The eight point star is the star's that the sheriff's wear that are in law enforcement.

The Double Cross of Freemasonry



The double cross of eastern freemasonry means that you have been deceived or cheated. You will see this same double cross on the Exxon Oil symbol, the American Lung Association.

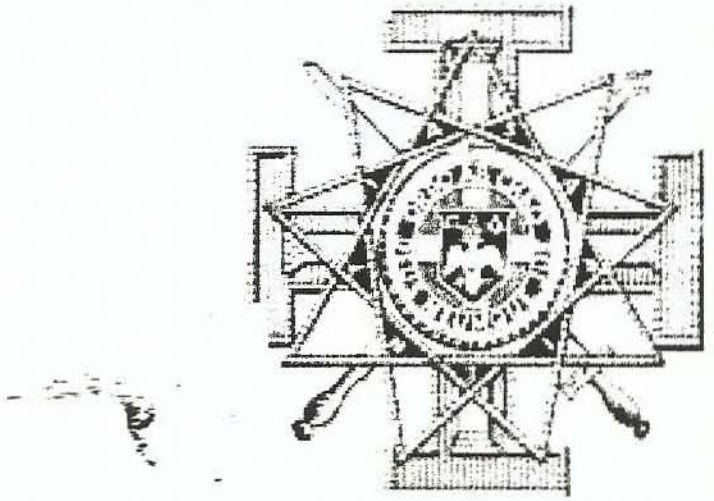
The Seven Pointed Star

The mystic star of Enochian magic is also a type of star that you will see the police and sheriff's wear and it means Egyptian Black and White magic, is it comforting to know that a secret society is behind the law and law enforcement in this country. That is why police drive black and white cars. The Enochian Star is also the symbol of the "Order of the Gol[illegible] Dawn".



Order out of Chaos and from Chaos comes their kind of Order

This is the pen of the 33rd degree Masons, they believe that they have the right to bring order out of chaos and do it with a world government.

Liberty, the Joke

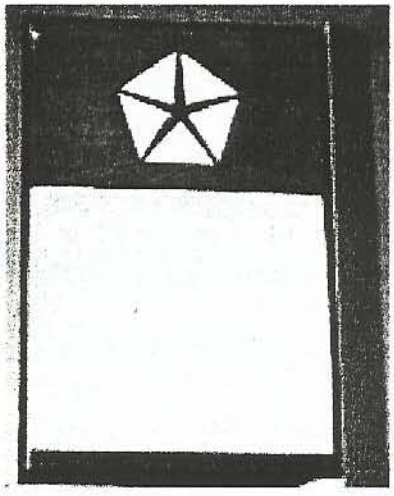
Remember a little earlier in the book where you see the Statue of Liberty, you really have no liberty, that is a promise of "liberty", of which you have not gotten as of yet. The Masonic order believes that by promising liberty, which causes chaos that they can bring about order with their one world government. Lady Liberty in the New York harbor is just another view of the bad guys laughing in your face. That statue is another symbol relating to Lucifer, it is the Torch Bearer, with a new day dawning on her head. Do you not remember where the statue of liberty came from, it was sent to us by probably the French Freemasons Do you see have bad they have for decades and centuries pulled the wool over our eyes through twisted "words", that make things sound like they are good. The sad truth people is that we have been mentally and physically raped, robbed and brain washed by this group of corrupt people. It is time to wake up America. As for New York, what is that, well New York is the new empire of the branch of the York Freemasonry. America is run by the York/Scottish Freemasonry. That is why all the big banking houses and big companies are in New York, that is their empire.

The use of a Branch in Freemasonry

The symbol in Freemasonry that refers to Nimrod is the ivy branch and the ivy wreath. The Ivy wreath is a symbol of a united empire. If you start looking you will see wreaths of leave on everything.

The Pentagon and the Pentagram

The pentagon is what is left after you remove the arms off of the upside down five pointed star of Mendes of Baphomet. This is also the symbol for the United States Defense Department and also for the Chrysler Corp.



Symbols from the Runes and other places

Dagaz - This stands for day, the security of daylight as opposed to the inconvenience, if not actual terror, of night Day is the time of being able to see and thus counteract one's foes, the time when work may go ahead well. It also has been found to mean breakthrough and transformation and surrender to god. It also looks very much like a vesica Pisces. Of Masonic information of this mark I have found no less than eleven variations, all of them completely distinct, each from the others, and yet every one preserving evident traces of the original type.

The Masonic order has put this symbol to use in the banking industry by using it on the Master Card Credit Cards and on the Cirrus Interbank Cards.

Colors of the Freemason's

Their colors are Red, Blue and Green.
Most frequently seen as Red, White and Blue.

The Sword

The sword is considered as real power and you will see this sword on many different emblems of this country and others.

The Double Headed Eagle

The phoenix is a legendary bird which according to legend lived 500 years, burned itself to ashes on a pyre, and rose alive from the ashes to live again. It was one of the most familiar symbols in Egyptian and Atlantean cultures. Moreover, the single-headed phoenix eagle was the national emblem of ancient Rome, before Constantine divided the empire. The Eagle Displayed, that is, with extended wings, as if in the act of flying, has always, from the majestic character of the bird, been deemed an emblem of imperial power. Marius, the consul, first consecrated the eagle, about eight years before the Christian era, to be the sole Roman standard at the head of every legion, and hence it became the standard of the Roman Empire ever afterward. As the single-headed eagle naturally became the representative of the double empire; and on the division of the Roman dominions into the eastern and western empire, which were afterward consolidated by the Carolingian race into what was ever after called the Holy Roman Empire, the double-headed eagle was ever after called the Holy Roman Empire, the double-headed eagle was assumed as the emblem of this double empire; one head looking, as it were, to the West, or Rome, and the other to the East.

To Freemasonry the double-headed eagle represents immortality and resurrection. In this form it becomes the emblem of the 33rd degree Mason.

Below is coins from just some of the countries that are ruled by this single or double headed eagle order, take a look.

AMOCO OIL = This is the torch of "Lucifer", need I say more.

CHEVRON OIL = This symbol is the double square, which represents disorder, dishonest, chaos and confusion..

EXXON OIL = This is the symbol of the Masonic double cross. Which means that you have been tricked, cheated or deceived.

CITGO OIL = This is the symbol for the "Delta" or "Triangle" in freemasonry.

MOBIL OIL = Mobil has their regular sign that you have seen in many places but you may not have seen the the red flying horse if you are real young. I had not seen this sign for Mobil in many years and I found this one in south Florida. I'm sure there is a reason for a red horse but I haven't found it as of yet but the Mobil sign does live up to the usual red, white and blue colors that are used by the Mason's.

ANCIENT MYSTERIES

When the Jews were deceived into worshipping the cosmic gods of nature and were sent into captivity by the Lord to Babylon as a punishment for their idolatry, certain Jewish priests, while in Babylon, studied deep into the ancient Babylonian mysteries of witchcraft. These priests produced what became a philosophy called the Cabala, Cabbala, or Qabbalah whose meaning is "Receiving," or "that which is received."

This Jewish movement didn't catch on among the Jews as a whole until about nine centuries after the resurrection of Christ. It reached its height in Spain when a Cabalist's Bible called the Zohar was published.

It is mind boggling to try to understand any of this nonsense; but hang in there we have to lay the foundation of information before you will understand the impact of the information to unfold later in the book.

The Cabala is part of what the philosophies of the Secret Societies is based on. It is from the Cabala that modern Witchcraft and the Secret Societies say they draw many of their crafts.

The Cabala teaches that man is a microcosm (miniature universe), and has both male and female elements in the Godhead. The female element of the Godhead is found in one of the ten emanations (Sefiroth). The Shekhinah, they say, is the female element because it is the passive aspect to the Deity, the manifestation of the divine power which vitalizes all creation.

Cabalists say man has spiritual intercourse with God through the Shekhinah.

Another belief of the Cabala is also found in their philosophy about the 10 emanations. Cabalists claim that the 10 sefiroth is the Tree of Life from which the Universe emanated or came into existence, and that man can unite himself with, or become, the One by rising through the spheres', spiritually climbing the ladder of the Sefiroth to reach God. In magic, the adept must experience and master all ten Sefiroth in order to achieve supreme perfection and power, for the Tree of the Sefiroth is believed to be a cosmic diagram, the basic pattern which shows how the Universe is arranged and how its phenomena are connected. And since man is a miniature replica of the Universe (microcosm) and of God, man is capable of spiritually expanding himself to become God. To a great extent this is true, but as I have said before what is wrong with the whole educational process is that the truth has been perverted or hidden from the general population. The general population has been lied to over and over again by the people that know the truth and use lies to keep the public ignorant and controlled

In order to fully understand the origin and purposes of the Secret Societies you need to have read my chapters on Egnatious Liola, The Iluminati, and the Catholic Church in my first book Pandora's Box. At this time it would be a good idea to refer back to them.

Secret Societies

It is from a sect of the Illuminati who existed in the 15th century that the Rosicrucians, and international Secret Society, claim their modern fraternal order originated. They also continue to claim that it actually derived out of the Egyptian mysteries before that time. Rosicrucism is a mixture of both Christianity and Witchcraft.

The number 13 in Witchcraft plays a very important part in the practice of Witchcraft. And so it does in this fraternal Order of the Rosicrucians.

The one secret society that is probably the lest known about but is the most controlling of all is the Illuminati of Bavaria. This Secret Order was founded on May 1, 1776, isn't that strange that is the same year that we founded our country. The creator of the Illuminati was one Adam Weishaupt, a professor of Canon Law at Ingolstadt, Germany, and an ex-Jesuit Priest. Weishaupt, and his Order of Illuminati is we explain in Pandora's Box I.

The Rosicrucians, who claim also to be Illuminated or Enlightened, say that Thutmose III of Egypt was the founder of their Secret Order. He erected two obelisks bearing a record of his achievements. One of these obelisks is now located in Central Park in New York.

According to the Rosicrucians, after Thutmose III died, his son Amenhotep took up his father's work in their Brotherhood about the end of September 1448 BC. He was succeeded by his son Thutmose IV, who ruled from 1420 to 1411 BC. The came Amenhotep IV, with whose history all the Rosicrucians are greatly concerned. He was the Great Master in the family of the founders, and the one to whom they owe their philosophies and writings used so universally in all their Lodge work throughout the world. He was born in the Royal Palace at Thebes, according to the Rosicrucians, in 1378 BC.

Of all of these secret orders that have a long history it is not surprising that it is held today that the Illuminati is a front for the Roman Catholic Church to unite the world under her banner again. There have even been reference to the fact that "Catholic" means One World. That would fit with the New World Order skim to unit the world in a One World Religion probably under the Catholic Church.

Like the Rosicrucians, the Freemasons trace their origins to the Hermetic writings. And, ironically enough, the Freemasons admit that it was Nimrod along with Hermes (Cush), who founded their order. The following will be taken from an authorized publication of Freemasonry called An Encyclopedia of Freemasonry and Its Kindred Sciences.

Thanks to the writings of a former 33rd Degree Mason and past Master of all Scottish Rite Bodies, we have now one of the complete studies into the Secrets behind Freemasonry. These former high ranking Freemasons now expose Freemasonry for what it actually is, in hope that deceived Masons will see who is really the hidden teacher of their mysteries, and choose another avenue to travel.

Another figure in Freemasonry that you need to study is one Albert Pike 33 degree mason. In my first book I have a chapter on Albert Pike that you might like to take a look at. Albert Pike states in his book Morals and Dogma, which is a Bible of Freemasonry, that "Masonry is a search after Light. That search leads us directly back, as you see, to the Kabalah.

All a reader needs to do is glance at the pages of Masonic books and you will see this same philosophy taught from the Cabala.

Masonry uses symbols of the Bible to hide the real Masonic meaning behind their Hermetic Rites. They use the name Solomon for their Temples. The truth is , Solomon, the King of Israel, was not a Mason, nor did he ever have any connection with Freemasonry. The real reason Freemasonry uses the name Solomon is to hide the real name of the Sun-god from three different nations.

"This name Solomon is not the Israelites king. It is name in form, but different in its meaning. It is a substitute which is externally like the royal name. This name is a composite. Solomon-on, the names of the sun in Latin, Indian, and Egyptian, and is designed to show the unity of several god ideas in the ancient religions, as well as with those of Freemasonry."

The secret meaning of G.A.O.T.U., which means the Grand Architect of the Universe. More information comes form the statement:
The Lodge room then is brought before us as a symbol of the Universe, governed by the Sun-god, and its cubical form expressed in the language of the ritual is made to represent the united power of light and darkness, and the constant conflict which is supposed to be always going on between them. In other words the lodge room is the real heaven (in miniature), where the god of Nature the G.A.O.T.U., always presides, where his symbol is always displayed, where his worship is always practiced.

Now here we see who this god of nature, the Grand Architect of the Universe really is. It is the Sun-god. And just as the Witches hold their meetings at night, so does the Freemason meet at night. Here from Symbolic of Freemasonry, by Albert G. Mackey 33 degree states;

"Darkness, like death, is the symbol of initiation. It was for this reason that all the ancient initiations were performed at night. The celebration of the mysteries was always nocturnal. The same custom prevails in Freemasonry and the explanation is the same.

The Sun-god, as in many others, was worshipped as we saw earlier as a trinity. The trinity was formed because of the three phases of the sun's course in the sky.

In Baal worship, it is taught that the god of nature, the Ruler of the Zodiac, the Sun, was both male and female. Now the three gods of the Trinity, or three great lights (sun, moon and stars) were symbolized as the geometric symbol which the Greeks called the Delta, or the Triangle.

The Egyptian pyramids to the Sun are solid figures on a triangular square with sloping sides meeting at an apex. The male and female elements of the Sun-god were symbolized, as we saw earlier, by two pyramids or triangles: The male symbolized as a triangle pointing upward, the female pointing downward. As we saw earlier, the pagans combined the two to form what is called the Hexagram. One of the most common uses for this symbol is the Star of David in the Jewish faith. This six pointed star commonly used by the deceived Jews is called the Seal of Solomon among Masons. And the five pointed star called the Pentagram, that witches get in the center of to cast their spells, is also a Masonic symbol. They call the Pentagram the Blazing Star.

Now keeping in mind that Freemasonry is astrological in all areas as this will help us see other deceptions as we go on. The chief gods of the Zodiac were the Seven Stars; The Sun, Moon, Venus, Mars Jupiter, Mercury and Saturn.

The Morning Star, which is the East Star (the Phoenix, or Venus to the Romans), was the representation of the hidden Sun-god Osiris, or his soul according to Egyptian mythology. He was called "Athtar," the East Star, among the Arabs, which actually meant "Lucifer," the Illuminated One. The Masons have adopted the name "The Blazing Star" to describe this symbol (the Pentagram) derived with its two horns(points) attacking Heaven.

The French Masons place the letter Yod, in the center of the Blazing Star. The Blazing Star or glory in the center refers us to that grand luminary, the Sun, which enlightens the earth, and by its genial influence dispenses blessing to mankind. In ancient Masonic folklore the spiritual connection between Freemasonry of the York rite and God was a little spiritual creature called Yoda or Juda.

The Blazing Star has been regarded as an emblem of Omniscience, or the all-seeing eye, which to the Egyptian initiates was the emblem of Osris the creator. With the Yod in the center, it has the cabalistic meaning of the Divine Energy, manifested as light, creating the Universe.

The pyramid with the all-seeing eye as the cap stone, which is a symbol of the eye of Lucifer, can be found on the back of an American Federal Reserve Note for One Dollar.

Very few Americans know that more than 50 of the signatories of the Declaration of Independence were either Masons or Rosicrucians, and were much into the esoteric (secret) sciences such as Astrology, Numerology, Tarot, Cabala, etc. Our own Benjamin Franklin and Thomas Jefferson were both expert astrologers.

Many of the lower Degrees of freemasonry in America and England will urge that the things we have exposed about Freemasonry thus far are false, because they have been led to believe that Freemasonry is a Christian organization. But the higher Degrees of Freemasonry should know that nothing could be further from the truth. Now it is true that in Christian lands the Bible is placed with a Square and a Compass on the altar of their lodges. However, like the name Solomon, the Bible is just a symbol in Freemasonry, not a standard of measuring truth. Albert Pike's Morals and Dogma states: The Holy Bible, Square, and Compasses, are not only styled the Great Lights in Masonry, but they are technically called the Furniture of the Lodge; and, as you have seen, it is held that there is no Lodge without them. This has sometimes been made a pretext for excluding Jews from our Lodges. Because they cannot regard the New Testament as a Holy Book. The Bible is an indispensable part of the furniture of a Christian lodge, only because it is the sacred book of the Christian religion. The Hebrew Pentateuch in a Hebrew lodge, and the Koran in a Mohammedan one, belong on the altar; and one of these, and the square and compass, properly understood, are the lights by which a mason must walk and work."

The truth is, Freemasonry has nothing to do with the Bible. It is just used as an ornament to attract Christian men into the lodge in Christian lands. In a book, Digest of Masonic Law, on pages 207 through 209 we find a statement that says this:
"Masonry has nothing whatsoever to do with the bible, that it is not founded on the bible, for if it were it would not be masonry, it would be something else."

Now here we start to see the real colors of Freemasonry. Again, from the Masonic Hand Book, page 74, we read the following:
When a brother reveals any of our great secrets; whenever, for instance, he tells anything about Boaz, or Tubalcain, or Jachin or that awful Mah-hah-bone*, or even whenever a minister prays in the name of Christ in any of our assemblies, you must always hold yourself in readiness, if called upon, to cut his throat from ear to ear, pull out his tongue by the roots and bury his body at the bottom of some lake or pond.*

Are you beginning to see for yourself that this doctrine of Freemasonry is antichrist, and it speaks as a dragon. However, we want to make clear to the reader that most Masons do not know these things that have been shown to you, until they reach the highest degrees of Freemasonry.

When the initiate finally reaches the highest level of pagandom and of Masonry, he discovers from the learned doctors that these gods that he was taught to worship do not exist. Initiates are taught to worship these gods at first because within the worship of these gods are knowledge of secret sciences of the Universe, and the worship of these gods will teach to the student of Freemasonry the discipline of a close knit civilized society which is beneficial to mankind.

Masons are purposely deceived at first, then as they progress through the higher Degrees of Masonry (which is nothing less than learning more about the satanic power of black witchcraft), they are gradually conditioned to accept the Luciferian doctrine that it is Lucifer who is really the god behind all gods. To see this is true, we will go back and quite again a statement by Albert Pike. He states:

"Our northern ancestors worshipped this Triune Deity; Odin, the Almighty Father; Frea, his wife, emblem of the universal matter; and Thor his son, the Mediator. But above these was the supreme god, the author of everything that existeth, the eternal, the ancient, the living and awful being, the searcher into concealed things, the being that never changeth."

Above all the gods, Pike says there is another. Now since we have already seen statements found in authorized books on Freemasonry that this other god is not Jesus, it should not be hard for you to believe the shocking truth we are now about to see. Pike knows that these cosmic gods of astrology do not exist, and he plainly states how ignorant they are that worship them. He states:
In all the histories of the gods and heroes lay couched and hidden astronomical details and the history of visible nature; and those in turn were also symbols of higher and profounder truths. None but the rude uncultivated intellects could long consider the sun and stars and the powers of nature as divine, or as fit objects of human worship: An they will consider them so while the world lasts: and ever remain ignorant of the great spiritual truths of which are the hieroglyphics.

Now, the Blue Lodge Masonry is a deliberate hoax especially designed to deceive Masonry's ignorant masses into believing that they know something about the secrets of Masonry, when in reality they know nothing whatsoever.

Very few Americans know what part Secret Societies have played and are playing in Lucifer's attempt to establish his total rule on this planet. American Freemasonry has become a mass movement. In many small towns of the South and middle West, almost every white male Protestant gentleman belongs to the Masonic Lodge.

Satan has been hiding behind these Secret Societies to further his plans in his conspiracy to condition the inhabitants of this world to accept his rule. But this is only one of his fronts. We will lay wide open, as we did Freemasonry, and even more diabolical scheme.

It should not be too hard now for you to understand why we have today these signs of this craft mingled within our own United States governmental symbols. Now that the reader is aware of the paganism in these Secret Societies and how their own members are deceived into believing that they are a Christian organizations, it should not be hard to realize how the inventor of the occult, the god of these Secret Societies, used deceived Masons and Rosicrucians to help establish this country. Benjamin Franklin, himself and expert in occultism, joined one of the first American Lodges of Masonry, and published and edition of Anderson's Constitution in 1734. George Washington joined the Fredricksburg Lodge of Masonry in Virginia in 1752. Patrick Henry, Paul Revere, and John Paul Jones wore the apron of Masonry, and so did Benedict Aronold. A plaque on the wall that surrounds the Alamo in San Antonio, Texas lists the names of those who died in the Texas Revolution in February and March of 1836. The plaque was dedicated by the Freemasonry Order in honor of Masons who gave their lives there. Among the names are Col. William Travis, James Bowie and David Crockett.

Since there have been, from the start, Masonic Presidents, Governors, Senators, and Congressmen making our laws and governing the affairs of our Nation, it should not be too hard for the reader t understand how a pagan goddess that witchcraft exalts, that the Roman Catholic Church worships as the Virgin Mary, is standing on top of the capitol of the United States of American.

It was not by chance that the Capitol Building itself was designed after the rotunda, or dome, of St. Peter's Basilica in Vatican City. James Hoban, believe it or not, was a Catholic Freemason who designed the Capitol of the United States and was the chief founder of the Federal Masonic Number 1, in the District of Columbia.

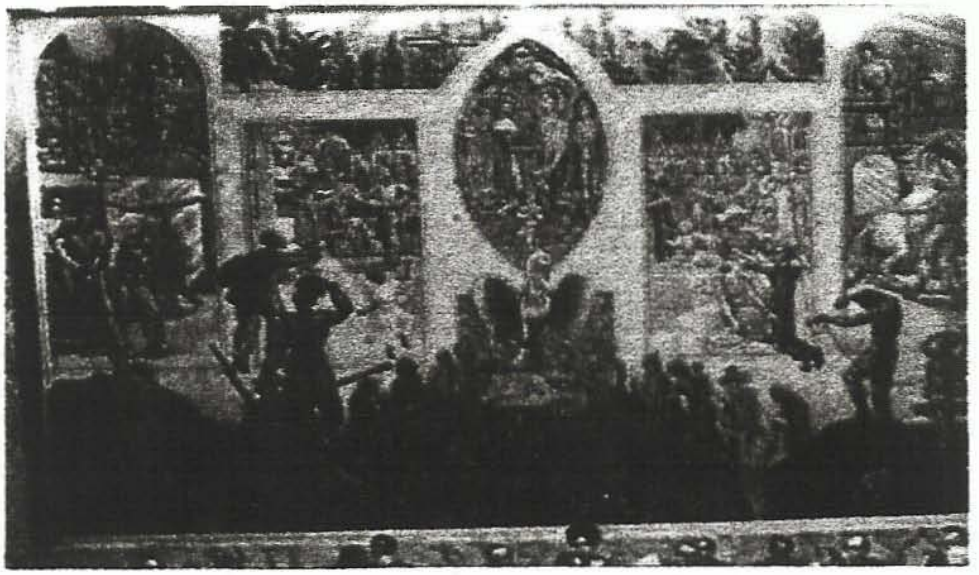
When the Illuminati was founded in Europe there was a branch that was also formed to come to America and get itself established her and it is known as the Columbian faction of the Illuminati. That is why you have the District of Columbia, Columbia University, Columbia Broadcasting Company, Columbia Recording studio, Columbia Pictures and anything Columbia is their branch establishment.

America, during the brutal Inquisitions, was still a wilderness and became a haven for Bible-believing Christians. This wilderness land that was later to be called the United States hid God's Bible-believing people from the persecuting power of the Dragon, which in Prophecy is a symbol of Satan and Satan's religion. The Roman Catholic Church was a false religious system that caused the Protestants to flee from the Old European countries, to come to America. Revelation 12:14.

The three great powers that Lucifer will use to cause the whole world to unite in our day, under one banner. These three great powers we will learn about from the prophecies are the Roman Catholic Church, The Illuminati, and American Protestantism. It will be these three powers that will bring Lucifer's great conspiracy to its final stage.

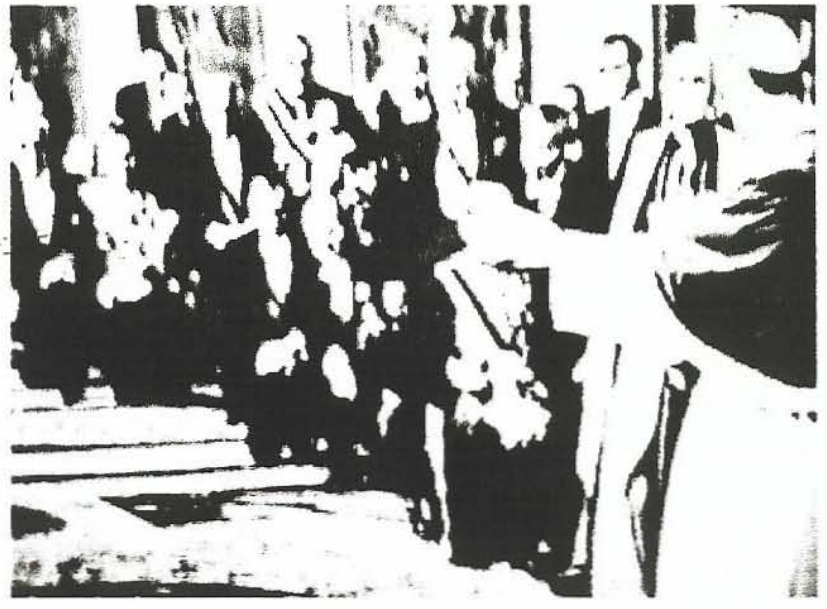
All of the legends of what has caused the problems in our world go back to the Sun-gods and can be traced back to the Babylonian religions because that is where it began.

It was the Papacy, not Christ, or his Apostles that changed the original day of worship, the Seventh Day, into the holy day of the Sun-god called toady Sunday, the first day of the week.



The above picture is in the United Nations main assembly hall notice the picture story that it tells. In the center it has a Phoenix bird, also notice the people coming up out of the underworld. Notice the arches on each side and much more.

Below notice that all of these may different heads of State and of different religions beliefs are bowing to the Pope. Why would they do that unless he was the high official of something that the general public knows nothing about.



CENTRAL BANKING AND THE MONEY SYSTEM

To plainly state it, all the foot prints from Adam Weishaupt's time to our time will lead us to the doors of a ring of international bankers, who control the worlds wealth, and have the same beliefs as Albert Pike. Under them, is a network of industrialist, scientists, military and political leaders, educationalists, economists and entertainers.

It is a well known fact that International Bankers have financed nations to fight against each other. Where do you think the countries get their money to buy tanks, guns, uniforms, etc., to arm their nations for war? They borrow from international bankers. International Bankers have financed both sides of countries at war with each other. They care not who wins because, while the nations are borrowing huge amounts of money to kill each other, international bankers make huge amounts of money from the interest charges they make the nations pay. They also have the power to control the out come of the war by simply cutting off the flow of money they lend. So under the threat of war, international bankers have used their power to gain or increase control over governments. By keeping a nation in debt to them they are in a position to demand a voice in the government affairs of that nation.

Gary Allan, in his book None Dare Call It Conspiracy, points out that in Karl Marx Communist Manifesto, one of the planks written for world conquest was to get control of the Monetary Systems. He says:

"Lenin later said that the establishment of central bank was ninety percent of communizing a country. Such conspirators knew that you cannot take control of a nation without military force unless that nation has a central bank through which you can control its economy."

It was on May 1st, 1776 (the communist May Day) that Adam Weishaupt backed and led by the House of Rothschild, formed the International Revolutionary force called the Illuminati which later became known as Communism. Now, the revolutionary slogan for the Illuminati in Latin, was "Novus Ordo Seclorium," which means " A New Order of the World," which comes from the philosophies of Astrology.

In studying the insignia on the back of a dollar bill with the All-Seeing-Eye, was a witchcraft sign found among the Masons, which the Illuminati was a part of shortly after the Americans signed the Declaration of Independence, on July 4th, 1776. Americans are made to believe that the Roman numerals MDCCXXVI on the pyramid, which add to 1776, is to celebrate Independence Day of July 4th, 1776. But nothing could be further from the truth about this matter. This occult sign with its slogan "Novus Ordo Seclorum" is to commemorate the founding of the Illuminati on May 1st, 1776, not the fourth of July. It is not by chance that the Eagle which was a symbol for Lucifer to the ancients, and was known as the Phoenix, is now used as a symbol of the office of the President of the United States, which according to Bible Prophecy, will "Speak as a Dragon."

Other symbols that are important to these people is the number 13. The number 13 to witches is a most powerful magical number in practicing warlockery. Witch covens today have usually 13 members in number.

Take a very close look on the back of your One Dollar Federal Reserve Note. Not only is the Phoenix (Eagle) displayed here, but look closely at the stars over the eagle's head. Notice there are 13 stars. Look how they are arranged. It is not by chance that these 13 stars from the Hexagram which by the way, is a sign of witchcraft. Americans are made to believe that these 13 stars represent the 13 original colonies. However, if you will again look closer into this great seal of the United States, you will discover that those who designed this seal did not display this magical number 13 by accident. Note the number of times 13 is used.

1. The Hexagram formed by 13 Pentagrams (stars)
2. The Eagle Breast Shield has 13 Stripes
3. There are 13 Berries on the olive branch in the eagle's right talon.
4. There are 13 arrows in the eagle's left talon.
5. There are 13 leaves on the olive branch.

The reason again for the witchcraft signs found on the back of the One Dollar bill is because the six men who had a part I its design were Benjamin Franklin, John Adams, Thomas Jefferson, Francis Holpkinson (also the designer of the flag), Charles Thomson, and William Barton.

More than 50 of the signatories of the Declaration of Independence were earlier Masons or Rosicrucians and were identified with the esoteric sciences (Occult). So you can see, it is not hard to understand why the nations seal and the Federal Reserve displays witchcraft signs on their notes, because, believe it or not, the Federal Reserve itself, is comprised of 12 member banks and one Federal Reserve Board - 13 in all. The reader will be shocked to know that the Federal Reserve is not a U. S. run institution. as I explain in Pandora's Box I.

In the mid-1800's, another German Illuminati was sent on a mission from the House of Rothschild to accomplish a goal of this New World Order. His name was Jacob Henry Schiff (1847-1920). He came to New York first for the sole purpose of getting control of the monetary system. He ran into a slight brick wall with the banking house owned by the Payseurs so he had to figure out another plan, to work from the inside out. He eventually became the head (manager) of the banking firm of Kuhn, Loeb and Company. He became the director in many important corporations, including the New York City National Bank, the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the Union Pacific Railroad. Back to the railroad, again.

Using charity as a front to hide his Illuminati one world government activities, Jacob Schiff became one of the most important successors of leading the U.S. towards anarchy. As stated by Lenin earlier, one of the first goals of the Communists is to get control of all monetary systems of the world, and this was to be Schiff's first achievement.

A Republican, Senator Nelson Aladrich (is Rockefeller's uncle) proposed a National Reserve Association in 1911 consisting of a Central Bank, fifteen branches, and atop board controlled by the nation's leading bankers (which was then dominated by J. P. Morgan) of whom we will study more of in a moment. But Aldrich's proposal never passed. However, the Illuminati conspirators landed one of their first men to become a President of the United States. His name was Woodrow Wilson. We will also look into the life of Wilson and what part he played in this conspiracy in a moment. However, before we examine how actually our Presidents became candidates for the Office, we should understand another achievement that Jacob Schiff accomplished in the United States. This was connecting the bankers of America, J.P. Morgan, Paul Warburg, and the Rockefellers into this Luciferian Conspiracy, and the American big bankers formed a confederacy with Jacob Schiff, who was actually working as agent for the House of Rothschild:

"Paul Warburg married Nina Loeb, daughter of Solomon Loeb of Kuhn Loeb, and Company, America's most powerful international banking firm. Brother Felix married Frieda Schiff, daughter of Jacob Schiff, the ruling power behind Kuhn, Loeb." Stephen Birmingham writes I his authoritative Our Crowd: "In the eighteenth century the Schiffs and Rothschilds shared a double house" in Frankfurt. Schiff reportedly bought his partnership in Kuhn and Loeb with Rothschild money. Both Paul and Felix Warburg became partners in Kuhn, Loeb and Company.

Senator Nelson Aldrich, whose daughter married John D. Rockefeller Jr., together with Paul Warburg and other internationalist bankers set-up a secret meeting at Jekyll Island Georgia, to make plans to get control of American's Banking Systems by establishing a central bank. Some of the invited guests were Henry P. Davidson of J. P. Morgan and Company; Frank a Vanderlip, President of the Rockefeller controlled National City Bank; Assistant Secretary of the U. S. Treasury; A. Piatt Andrew and Benjamin Strong of Morgan Bankers Trust Company.

After a few more years of research since if finished Pandora's Box I and published it, I knew even something else was missing our of the Louis Cass Payseur story of power, control and ownership of just about everything that touches our lives today. As we uncovered in that book that one family that's blood line goes back to the royal family of France, (Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette and their surviving son), which with the help of the royal family of England had see up a new kind of empire in America. Beside the fact that everything is hidden in ownership by railroads and is all leased out to operating companies, I wanted to find the other thread that is binding this powerful group of people together. I feel that the other missing link is the secret society or Freemason a religious order is the other missing thread. Which all goes back to the Catholic Church.

It was stressed during this secret meeting at Jekyll Island that in order to get Congress to accept this Central bank scheme, the name "Central Bank" must be avoided at all cost. Out of the Jekyll Island meeting came the Aldrich Bill. But, the centralization of the American Banks never passed through Congress. However, these conspirators just fell back and regrouped again and renamed the central bank conspiracy, "The Federal Reserve Act," to make it sound more like a U.S. Government run agency. To see to it that it would pass through congress this time they landed their own president in office. His name was Woodrow Wilson. Jacob Schiff, Bernard Baruch, Henry Morgenthau, Thomas Fortune Ryan, and New York Times Publisher Adolph Ochs, all contributed heavily to finance the Wilson Campaign.

When Wilson tried to get this central bank called the "Federal Reserve System" to pass through congress, he chose Rep. Carter Glas to propose this Federal Reserve Act instead of Aldrich. In December while congress desired to adjourn for Christmas, the Federal Reserve Act was passed by a vote of 298 to 60 in the House and the Senate by a majority.

As it was during the French Revolution, so is it today. The Illuminists or Communists have penetrated into the high levels of American Politics, and the high levels of its governmental institutions. Be not deceived! They have their top men posing as Congressmen, Senators, even Presidents, FBI and CIA agents, as military officers, and even as clergymen.

The power of the Illuminati is money. They use their money to gain control in the Religious, Political, Economical, Educational, Medical, Military, and Social areas that deal with society as a whole. During the "Russian Revolution," it was under the name of "Bolshevism" that the Illuminati penetrated in these same areas and caused the overthrow of Czarism in Russia.

It was confirmed by the New York Journal American of February 3, 1949, that Jacob Schiff gave 20 million in gold to help the final triumph of Bolshevism in Russia.

Now we need to take a deep look into the American politics and learn how this same Luciferian threat is planning and working behind the scene in the United States, as they succeeded in doing to the Russian people. Jacob Schiff, again acting from orders of the House of Rothschild, planned an organization akin to that of the Jacobin Clubs and the Bolsheviks in Russia. These aristocratic terrorists would penetrate into American politics as their brethren did before them is France and Russia. Woodrow Wilson was the sole property of Jacob Schiff and J.P. Morgan and other internationalist bankers. But the man who was really running things in the White House was the mysterious "Col." Edward Mandel House during Wilson's term in office.

Edward House, who was a British educated son of a representative of England's financial interest in the American South, wrote a revolutionary book which he admitted to later, that revealed plans to overthrow the government of the United States. The book was called Philip Dru: Administrator, and it was symbolically written to also show the detailed plans for the creation of a One World Totalitarian Government.

It was House and the international bankers who promoted Wilson as the Presidential candidate. Woodrow Wilson, who was the 28th President of the U. S., served two terms as President from March 4th, 1913 to March 4th, 1921. But it was House who converted Wilson to accept the principles of the centralization of the U. S. monetary system. It was House that helped promote the Presidential candidacy of Franklin D. Roosevelt. It was Franklin D. Roosevelt who gave the Communists East Germany and eastern Europe.

It was Edward M. House, under the watchful eye of Jacob Schiff, who was under the watchful eye of the head of this international conspiracy (the House of Rothschild of London and Paris), that established the 1921 what their earlier comrades established, to overthrow the governments of France and Russia. Called the Jacobin Clubs in France in the 18th century, this aristocratic revolutionary movement today in America is called the council on Foreign on Relations, and its off-shoot is the Trilateral Commission. The Council on Foreign Relations, is the political side of the Illuminati toady. They have produced Congressmen, Senators and even Presidents, that they have used to pass laws that have little by little led America into becoming a Socialist country.

The Trilateral Commission is an international organization founded by David Rockefeller, who also had a part in founding the Council On Foreign Relations, and who is the chairman of the board. The Trilateral Commission is the Illuminati's attempt to unite Western Europe's Common Market, Japan, Canada, and the United States, into an economic and political side of the Illuminati (Council On Foreign Relations), they are trying now through the economic approach.

The first attempt in the 20th century to unite the whole world into a One World Luciferian slave unit was tried in history by these super-rich conspirators at the close of World War I. President Woodrow Wilson on January 8th, 1918 laid out a 14 point plan to congress for lasting peace. Within this package of world peace was neatly hidden a plan for these conspirators to get all nations of the world to give up their sovereignty. It was labeled as "The League of Nations."

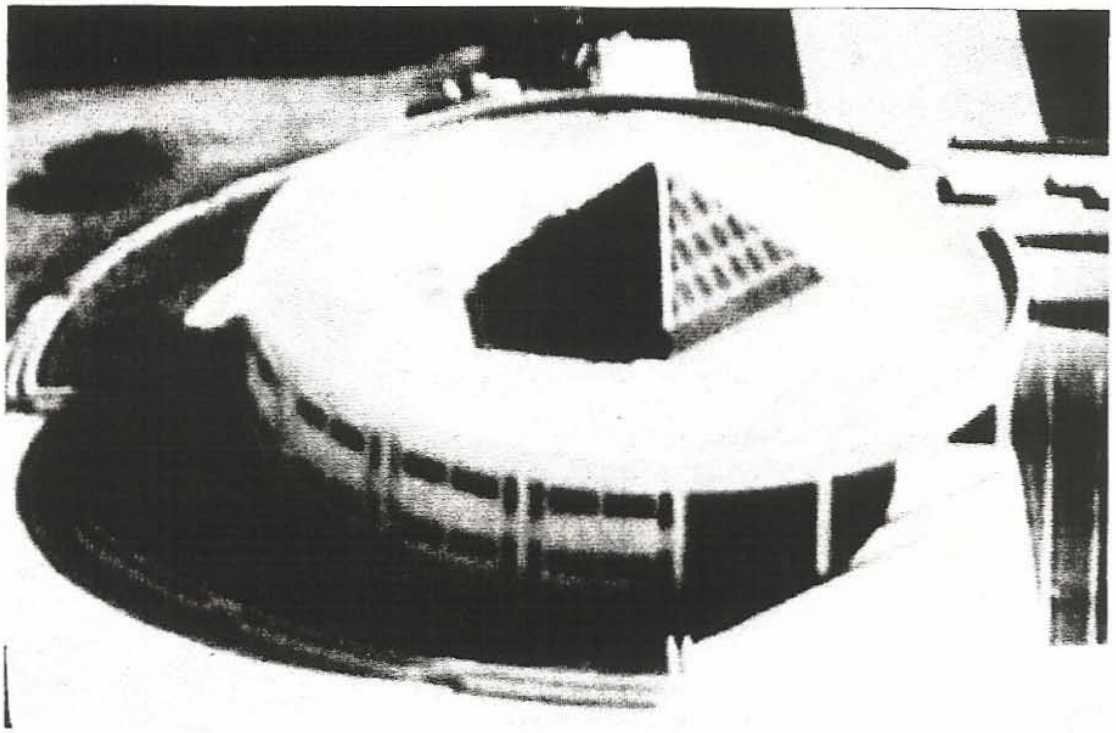
These modern money chargers used World War I to make tons of money and as a tool to frighten the war torn people of the world at that time into believing if all the governments of the world would unite into a One world Government, this would stop all wars between nations, and would achieve world peace and security.

The League of Nations headquarters was in Geneva, Switzerland, and it was during World War I that our own President Woodrow Wilson in 1918 began to draw the United States citizens, along with the rest of the world, into accepting this sham. Eventually, with the help of Edward Mandel House, 63 nations joined the League, although the total membership at one time never exceeded 58. However, President Wilson was dumbfounded when he was unable to obtain the two-thirds vote in the United State Senate required for ratification of a treaty, and the United States never joined the League of Nations.

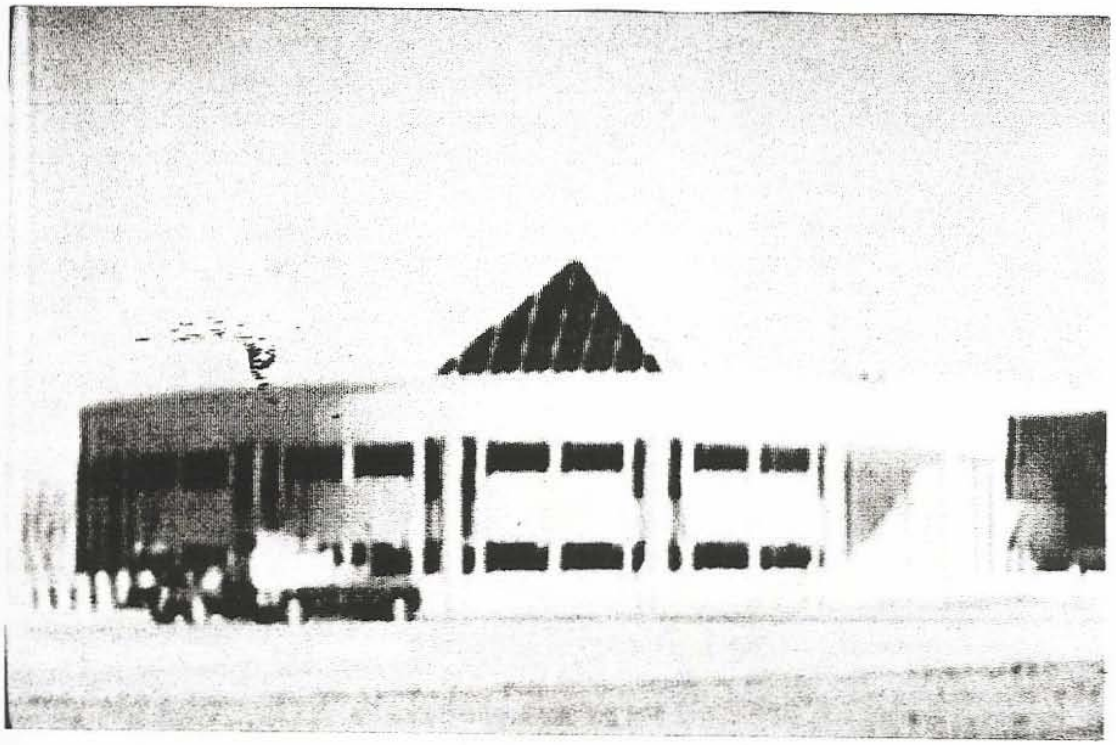
This caught these conspirators completely off guard because surely, they thought ,the United States would fall for this, for it was the President of the United States who was promoting it.

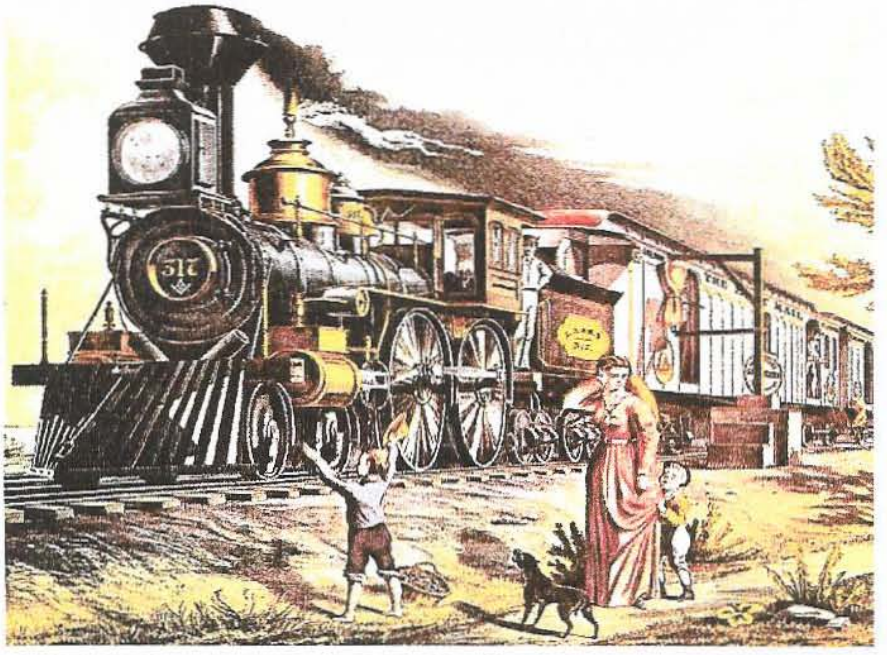
When the conspirators saw that their One World Government couldn't be achieved using the name The League of Nations, House, under the direction of Jacob Schiff, formed and aristocratic secret organization called the Council On Foreign Relations. This private Secret Society is to produce enough Congressmen, Senators, and Statesmen, so the next attempt to incorporate the United States into a One World Government will not fail, because of the voting power they hope to have. But reader, remember, this is not a United States Government run establishment. From a publication of the Council On Foreign Relations, annual report 1979-1980, which is controlled by David Rockefeller we read the following:

"The twenty - one Americans, who, together with British counterparts, founded in Paris in 1919 "The Institute of International Affairs, were a diverse group that included Edward House, Herbert Hoover, Tasker Bliss, Christian Herter, and such scholars as Charles Seymour, later president of Yale, Professors Archibald Cary Coolidge of Harvard and James Shotwell of Columbia. In 1921 their American branch of the Institute merged with a larger, existing group of New York business and professional men to form the Council on Foreign Relations.



If you think that the Mason movement is not involved with your government and money take a look at the new mint that has been built in Texas. The entire thing is one big Masonic symbol.

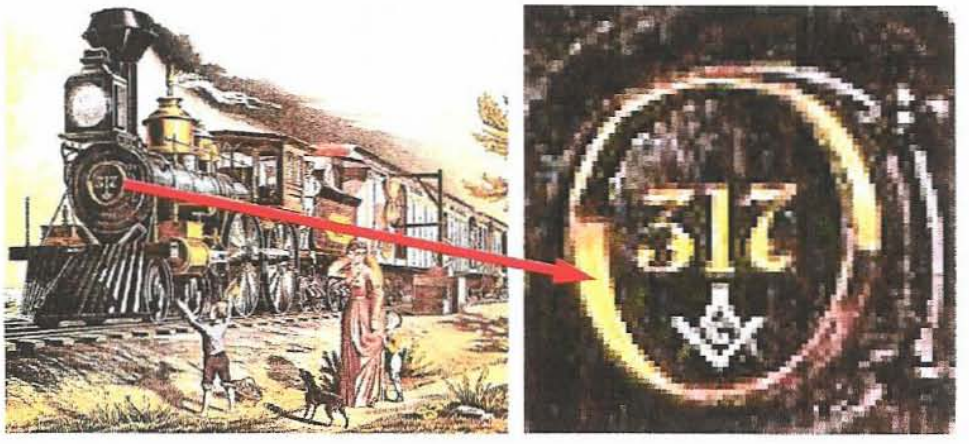




MASONIC ORDERS AND RAILROADS

In my first book "Pandora's Box I reviewed the fact that just about everything in this country is owned and controlled (including most of the land of this country) by the Railroads. All the Railroads and their sibling companies which is most of the Fortune 500 and many more are all inter connected, I knew that there had to be a tie that bound them for such a large organization to stay focused on one goal for so long. As you discovered in the first book that all the Railroads and companies are in a trust which goes back and is controlled by the crown of England. Which is really interesting when you look at the big names in the British Israel Document which are the same people that were the managers and trustees of the Railroad Companies.

But, what is the tie that binds these elitist people together in this joint venture for World Dictatorship. It is the Secret Societies of the world which go back to a very high level of Freemasonry



Long ago everyone knew that if you were a mason that you got special favors when dealing with the railroads. I thought it to be interesting to find this picture with the Masonic symbol on the front of the engines.

Phil Schnieder had also said that a company in Oregon is building thousands of box cars for trains that has shackles built into the floors and walls. They all have to be in on this big plan to grab, imprison and enslave most of the World.

Notice the picture of the asphalt turned off of a highway toward the railroad tracks which just stops there at the tracks.

Could this be for loading something onto the train off of the highway.. There are a lot of things going on in this country that doesn't look right, Take for instance the odd markers on the interstate highway signs and on the backs of road signs

Did AT&T Have a Baby Devil?

HUMAN SLAVERY IN THE TECHNETRONICS AGE

The men who comprise the Inner Circle of the Illuminati have a global plan. In implementing this plan, they appear to have the full cooperation of the planet's largest and most powerful high tech corporations or are they all working together for our destruction. The world's premier telecommunications combine, of course, is that giant of giants, AT&T. Recently, it was announced that AT&T is splitting into three separate companies. One of the three-the company formerly known as Bell Laboratories-has been freshly renamed Lucent Technologies.

Does the name Lucent have any link to the name Lucifer? In the Bible, Lucifer is bequeathed the title, the "son of the morning." He is said to often come disguised as an "angel of light." He was anciently worshipped by pagans as "the Sun God, the Illumined One, the God of Light."

Modern-day New Age groups continue this ancient glorification of Lucifer. One prominent New Age organization is the Lucis Trust. Its late founder, Alice Bailey, hailed the horned one as "bringer of light," the "shining one." He is, she trumpeted, the "Illuminator" of mankind.
Lucent Means "Glowing With Light"

Now read carefully the accompanying (next page) article, published in U.SA. Today, February 6, 1996, entitled, "AT&T Names the Baby: Lucent." Note especially AT&T's possibly revealing statement that the name for its spin-off corporation, Lucent, means "glowing with light."

The logo for the new corporation is a rough-edged, red colored circle. This book exposing the Illuminati, which sheds light on the true and concealed meaning of the fiery, serpentine circle. "In ancient Babylon, the King ... a type of Antichrist... was acclaimed to be the Sun-god ... the Illuminator of the material world ... the enlightener of the souls of men."

To occultists, the circle represents their satanic deity, the great and fearsome Solar Serpent. The fiery, red sun, or circle, is his image. Scriptures reveal him as the "great red dragon" and his global system as the scarlet (red-colored) beast (Revelation 12:3 and 17:3-5). How interesting that the logo for Lucent Technologies is a red circle.
Just as intriguing, in the U.SA. Today article, we read: "AT&T hopes the name and logo-a simple red circle-will illuminate awareness."

A Coincidence?

Perhaps AT&T's unfortunate choice of name (Lucent = Lucifer?) for its new, baby bell spinoff, is simply a coincidence. Without definitive proof we cannot, with certainty, attribute evil intent. It could also be that the eyebrow-raising occult-infused language and terminology used by AT&T and quoted in the U.S.A. Today like "illuminate awareness" and "glowing also incidental. But combined with AT&T's choice for a new logo of the fiery-red circle so prevalent and ominent in pagan and other dark cultures, these things do,, arouse inquiry and suspicion.

Is there a connection between the curious circle logo adopted for Lucent Technologies and the occultic goals of the Illuminati.

Brave New Technetronic World

Today, we have the mark of the beast identification system being constructed practically before our eyes. Meanwhile, under the watchful supervision of the Illuminati, all the world's military intelligence, spy, and police agencies are laboring furiously to invent ever more effective electronic, high tech shackles. The intent of the controllers is to force us, as slaves, into a Brave New Technetronic World. Their projected target date is the year 2000.

Suddenly, the planet's premier telecommunications company creates a research and development spin-off named Lucent Technologies. Will the innovative brains at the venerable company known historically as Bell Laboratories, but now dubbed Lucent, be active in carrying out Big Brother's unholy mission of technetronic control?

Human Slavery in the Technetronics Age

Will Lucent's world-class scientists and engineers be at the fore front in the development of advanced tools of human control which have been categorized as "black science?" Will Lucent Technologies assist in inventing the wiretap equipment, microchips, spy and surveillance systems, artificial intelligence, virtual reality, robotic controls, and other devices which shall usher in the final and ultimate Age of Technetronics? Will Luncent play a key role in institutiong new, high tech equipment and methods which will make possible the grim, financial control system prophesied in the Bible?.

Lucent Technologies

The company without a name finally got one.

AT&T will call the equipment company being created in the three-way split of the telecommunications giant Lucent Technologies.

Lucent? The name means glowing with light, or clear — even though it has little to do with what the company sells — telephone equipment.

AT&T named the company Monday in a Securities and Exchange Commission filing. It plans to offer Lucent shares in an initial public offering this spring.

AT&T hopes the name and logo — a simple, red circle — will illuminate awareness.

"There are a lot of new names in particular markets that are hitting right now; they'll have to buy their way in," says telecommunications analyst Jeffrey Kagan.

Industry experts say more than $100 million in advertising and marketing dollars will be spent to support the brand awareness push. Ads from agency McCann-Erickson will begin airing after Lucent's IPO.

Lucent was one of 700 names suggested by company employees and identity consultant Landor Associates. Among other contenders: American Bell Labs and AGB — short for telephone creator Alexander Graham Bell.

There's no consensus among brand experts, however. "My only doubt is it's a soft name; you want to look for it on supermarket shelves among the soaps," says Alan Brew, corporate identity specialist at Addison, Seefeld and Brew.

Says New England Consulting Group's Gary Stibel: "Initially, most people will think it sounds cute and not very good, but from a marketing standpoint it has potential."

that no man might buy or sell, save he that had the mark, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name. (Revelation 13:17)

To Devour the Whole Earth

What once was inconceivable has now entered the realm of possibility even the circle of reality. Lucent, as well as thousands of other high tech research corporations and centers, is briskly pushing us-every last one of us-into that brutal and frightening era in which the final, crushing blows will be delivered to man by his controllers.

The Bible prophet, Daniel, was shown a vision of this very age-the Age of Technetronics and human slavery. Daniel's vision foresaw four beast kingdoms that would rule the earth in historical succession. Now we are seeing and experiencing the momentous emergence of the last and final kingdom, or global authority, on planet earth-that of the Fourth Beast Kingdom. Yes, the prophesied, last days Beast is slouching toward Jerusalem. He is, moreover, setting up his heinous and intrusive technological systems around the globe, filling up every nook and cranny with his high tech eyes and ears, and his bloody hands. Very soon, the citizens of the U.S.A. and, indeed, the whole earth will begin to shake and quiver before the unstoppable onslaught of his unbridled, technological.

Thus he said, The fourth beast shall be the fourth kingdom upon earth, which shall be diverse from all kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall tread It down, and break it in pieces. (Daniel 7:23)

"Watch ye, therefore..."

Are you ready for the rapid-coming arrival of the Fourth Beast and his dark, technological marvels? Is your life in order? Be alert, be sober, be vigilant, the prophetic scriptures warn: "Watch ye therefore: for ye know not when the master of the house cometh ... Lest coming suddenly he find you sleeping." (Mark 13:35-36)

The hardened occultists who guide the activities of the Illuminati honor their lord, Lucifer, as the fiery-red, phoenix Serpent who, symbolically, is represented as the circle. Shown here is the supreme logo of Helena Blavatsky's Theosophy, a 19th century Luciferian organization which, in turn, spawned the modern conspiratorial group known today as Lucis Trust (Lucifer + Isis = Lucis). Look carefully at this Luciferian logo. Observe its crowned Serpent's circle. Inside this circle is a secondary, almost hidden, inner circle, with an enclosed, swastika emblem. This inner circle and its swastika represent the exclusive, ten man Inner Circle of the Illuminati. These are the Wise Men. Lucifer's depraved masterminds-super rich elitists driven mad by their greedy, insatiable appetites for money, control, and power. These men are prophetically described as the "ten horns" (see Revelation 13 and 17) who oversee today's massive global conspiracy. Their goal: cataclysmiclly cleanse the earth and "illuminate the awareness" of the remaining, thinned-out population by the year A.D. 2000, the bright dawning of their New Millennium.

AT&T employees with banner reflecting new name and logo for Bell Labs. Corporate spokesmen dubbed the new logo symbol the "innovation ring." The red circle was said to "illustrate movement and energy" and to represent "glowing with light."

At left, in this U.S.A. Today (February 6, 1996) article, AT&T says Bell Laboratories' new name and logo "will illuminate awareness."

INSIDE THE SHADOW CIA

What? A big private company one with a board of former CIA, FBI and Pentagon officials; one in charge of protecting Nuclear-Weapons: facilities, nuclear reactors, the Alaskan oil pipeline and more than a dozen American embassies abroad, one with long-standing ties to a radical ring-wing organization; one with 30,00)0 men and women under arms secretly helped IRAQ in its effort to obtain sophisticated weapon's And fueled unrest in Venezuela? This is all the plot of a new best-selling thriller, right'! Or the ravings of some overheated conspiracy but right? Right?

In the WINTER OF 1991, David Ramirez, a 24 year-old member of the Special Investigations Division of the Wackenhut Corporation, was sent by his superiors on an unusual mission. Ramirez: a former Marine Corps sergeant based in Miami, was told to fly immediately to San Antonio along with three other members of STD-a unit, known as founder and chairman George Wackenhut's "private FBI," that provided executive protection and conducted undercover investigations and sting operations. Once they arrived, they rented two gray Ford Tauruses and drove four hours to a desolate town on the Mexican border called Eagle Pass. There, just after dark, they met two truck drivers who had been flown in from Houston. Inside a nearby warehouse was an 18 -wheel tractor-trailer, which the two truck drivers and the four Wackenhut agents in their rented cars were supposed to transport to Chicago. "My instructions were very' clear," Rarnirez recalls. "Do not look into the trailer, secure it, and make sure it safely gets to Chicago." It went without saying that no one else was supposed to look in the trailer, either, which is why the Wackenhut men were armed with fully loaded Remjngton 870 pump-action shotguns.

The convoy drove for 30 hours straight, stopping only for gas and food. Even then, one of the Wackenhut agents had to stay with the truck, standing by one of the cars, its trunk open, shotgun within easy reach. "Whenever we stopped, I bought a shot glass with the name of the town on it," Ramirez recalls. "I have glasses from Oklahoma City, Kansas City, St. Louis."

A little before 5:00 on the morning of the third day, they delivered the trailer to a practically empty warehouse outside Chicago. A burly man who had been waiting for them on the loading dock told them to take off the locks and go home, and that was that. They were on a plane back to Miami that afternoon. Later Ramirez's superiors told him-as they told other SID agents about similar midnight runs-that the trucks contained $40 million worth of food stamps. After considering the secrecy, the way the team was assembled and the orders not to stop or open the truck, Ramirez decided he didn't believe that explanation .

Neither do we. One reason is simple: A Department of Agriculture official simply denies that food stamps are shipped that way. "Someone is blowing smoke," he says. Another reason is that after a six-month investigation, in the course of which we spoke to more than 300 people, we believe we know what the truck did contain-equipment necessary for the manufacture of chemical weapons-and where it was headed: to Saddam Hussein's Iraq. And the Wackenhut Corporation-a publicly traded company with strong ties to the CIA and federal contracts worth $200 million a year-was making sure Saddam would be getting his equipment intact. The question is why. In 1954, George Wackenhut, then a 34-year old Former FBI agent, joined up with three other former FBI agents to open a company in Miami called Special Agent Investigators Inc. The partnership was neither successful nor harmonious-George once knocked partner Ed Dubois unconscious to end a disagreement over the direction the company would take-and in 1958, George bought out his partners.

However capable Wackenhut's detectives may have been at their work, George Wackenhut had two personal attributes that were instrumental in the company's growth. First, he got along exceptionally well with important politicians. He was a close ally of Florida governor Claude Kirk, who hired him to combat organized crime in the state; and was also friends with Senator George Smathers, an intimate of John F. Kennedy's. It was Smathers who provided Wackenhut with his big break when the senator's law firm helped the company find a loophole is the Pinkerton law, the 1893 federal statute that had made it a crime for an employee of a private detective agency to do work for the government. Smathers's firm set up a wholly owned subsidiary of Wackenhut that provided only guards, not detectives. Shortly thereafter, Wackenhut received multi-million-dallar contracts from the government to guard Cape Canaveral and the Nevada nuclear-bomb test site, the first of many extremely lucrative federal contracts that have sustained the company to this day.

The second thing that helped make George Wackenhut successful was that he was, and is, a hard-line right-winger. He was able to profit from his beliefs by building up dossiers on Americans suspected of being Communists or merely left-leaning "subversives and sympathizers," as he put it-and selling the information to interested parties. according to Frank Donner, the author of "Age or Surveillance", the Wackenhut Corporation maintained and updated its files even after the McCarthyite hysteria had ebbed, adding the names of antiwar protesters and civil-rights demonstrators to its list of "derogatory types." By 1965, Wackenhut was boasting to potential investors that the company maintained files on 2.5 million suspected dissidents-one in 46 American adults then living. in 1966, after acquiring the private files of Karl Barslaag; a former staff member of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, Wackenhut could confidently maintain that with more than 4 million names, it had the largest privately held file on suspected dissidents in America, In 1975, after Congress investigated companies that had private files, Wackenhut gave its files to the now-defunct anti-Communist Church league of America of Wheaton, Illinois. That organization had worked closely with the red squads of big-city police departments, particularly in New York and L.A., spying on suspected sympathizers; George Wackenhut was personal friends with the League's leaders, and was a major contributor to the group. To be sure, after giving the League its files, Wackenhut reserved the right to use them for its clients and friends.

Wackenhut had gone public in 1965; George Wackenhut retained 54 percent of the company. Between his salary and dividends, his annual compensation approaches $2 million a year, sufficient for him to live in a $21 million castle in Coral Gables, Florida, complete with a moat and 18 full-time servants. Today the company is the third-largest investigative security firm in the country, with offices throughout the United States and in 31 foreign countries.

It is not possible to overstate the special relationship Wackenhut enjoys within the federal government. It is close. When it comes to security matters, Wackenhut in many respects "is" the government. In 1991, a third of the company's $600-million in revenues came from the federal government, and another large chunk from companies that themselves work for the government, such. as Westinghouse.

Wackenhut is the largest single company supplying security to U.S. embassies overseas, several of the 13 embassies it guards have been in important hotbeds of espionage, such as Chile, Greece and El Salvador. It also guards nearly all the most strategic government facilities in the U.S., including, the Alaskan oil pipeline, the Hanford nuclear-waste facility, the Savannah River plutonium plant and the Strategic Petroleum Reserve.

Wackenhut maintains an especially close relationship with the federal government in other ways as well. While early boards of directors included such prominent personalities of the political right as Captain Eddle Rickenbacker, General Mark Clark and Ralph E. Davis, a John Birch Society leader, current and recent members of the board have included much of the country's recent national-security directorate: former FBI director Clarence Kelley; former Defense secretary and former CIA deputy director Frank Carlucci: former Defense Intelligence Agent director General Joseph Carroll; former U.S. Secret Service director James J. Rowley; former Marine commandant P. X. Kelley and acting chairman of President Bush's foreign-intelligence advisory board and former CIA deputy director admiral Bobby Ray Inman. Before his appointment as Reagan's CIA director, the late William Casey was Wackenhut's outside legal counsel. The company has 30,000 armed employees on its payroll.

We wanted to know more about this special. relationship; but the government was not forthcoming. Repeated requests to the Department of Energy for an explanation of how one company got the security contracts for nearly all of America's most strategic installations have gone unanswered.

Similarly, efforts to get the State Department to explain whether embassy contracts were awarded arbitrarily or through competitive bidding were fruitless, essentially, the State Department said, "Some of both. " Wackenhut's competitors-who, understandably, asked not to be quoted try name have their own version. "All those contracts;" said one security-firm executive, "are just another way to pay Wackenhut for their clandestine help. And what is the nature of that help? "It is known throughout the industry," said retired FBI special agent William Hinshaw, "that if you want a dirty job done, call Wackenhut. " We met George Wackenhut in his swanky, macho offices in Coral Gables. The rooms are paneled in a dark, rich rosewood, accented with gray-blue stone. The main office is dominated by Wackenhut's 12-foot-long desk and a pair of chairs shaped like elephants-Republican chairs," he calls them-complete with real tusks. which, the old man says with some amusement, tend to stick his visitors. The highlight of the usual collection of pictures and awards is the Republican presidential exhibit: an autographed photo of Wackenhut shaking hands with George Bush (whom Wackenhut, according to a former associate, used to call "that pinko") as well as framed photos of Presidents Reagan, Nixon and Bush, each accompanied by a handwritten note. The chairman looks every inch the comfortable Florida septuagenarian. The day we spoke, his clothing ranged across the color spectrum from baby blue to light baby blue, and he wore a lot of jewelry-a huge gold watch on a thick-gold band, two massive gold rings. But Wackenhut was, at 72, quick and tough in his responses. Near the end of our two-and-a-half hour interview, when asked if his company was an arm of the CIA, he snapped, "No!"

Of course, this may just be a matter of semantics. We have spoken to numerous experts, including current and former CIA agents and analysts, current and former agents of the Drug Enforcement administration and current and former Wackenhut executives and employees, all of whom have said that in the mid-70's, after the Senate Intelligence Committee's relations of the CIA's covert, and sometimes illegal overseas operations, the agency and Wackenhut grew very, very close. Those revelations had forced the CIA to do a. house cleaning, and it became CIA policy that certain kinds of activities would no longer officially be performed. But that didn't always mean that the need or the desire to undertake such operations disappeared. And that's where Wackenhut came in.

Our sources confirm that Wackenhut has had a long standing relationship with the CIA, and that it has deepened over the last decade or so, Bruce Berckmans, who was assigned to the CIA station in Mexico City, left the agency in January 1975 (putatively) to become a Wackenhut international operations vice president. Berckmans, who left Wackenhut in 1981, told SPY that he has seen a formal proposal George Wackenhut submitted to the CIA to allow the agency to use Wackenhut offices throughout the world as fronts for CIA activities. Richard Babayan, who says he was a CIA contract employee and is currently in jail awaiting, trial on fraud and racketeering charges, has been cooperating with federal and congressional investigators looking into illegal shipments of nuclear-and-chemical-weapons- making supplies to Iraq. "Wackenhut has been used by the CIA, and other intelligence agencies for years, "he told SPY. "When they (the CIA) need cover, Wackenhut is there to provide it for them. "Canadian prime minister Pierre Trudeau was said to have rebuffed Wackenhut's effort in the 1980's to purchase a weapons propellant manufacturer in Quebec with the remark "We just got rid of the CIA we don't want them back." Philip Agee, the left-wing former CIA agent who wrote an expose' of the agency in 1975, told us, "I don't have the slightest doubt that the CIA and Wackenhut overlap."

There is also testimony from people who are not convicts, renegades or Canadians. William Corbett, a terrorism expert who spent 18 years as a CIA analyst and is now an ABC News consultant based in Europe, confirmed the relationship between Wackenhut and the agency. "For years Wackenhut has been involved with the CIA and other intelligence organizations, including the DEA," he told SPY. "Wackenhut would allow the CIA to occupy positions within the company [in order to carry out] clandestine operations. "He also said that Wackenhut would supply intelligence agencies with information, and that it was compensated for this "in a quid pro quo arrangement," Corbett says-with government contracts worth billions of dollars over the years.

We have uncovered considerable evidence that Wackenhut carried the CIA's water in fighting Communist encroachment in Central America in the 1980's (that is to say, during the Reagan administration when the CIA director was former Wackenhut lawyer William Casey, the late. super-patriot who had a proclivity for extra legal and illegal anti-Communist covert operations such as Iran-contra). In 1981, Berckmans, the CIA agent turned Wackenhut vice president, joined with other senior Wackenhut executives to form the company's Special Projects Division. It was this division that linked up with exCIA man John Philip Nichols, who had taken over the Cabazon Indian reservation in California, as we described in a previous article Badlands," April 1992], in pursuit of a scheme to manufacture explosives, poison gas and biological weapons-and then, by virtue of the tribe's status as a sovereign nation, to export the weapons to the contras. This maneuver was designed to evade congressional prohibitions against the U.S. government's helping the contras. Indeed, in an interview with SPY, Eden Pastora, the contras' famous Commander Zero, who had been spotted at a test of some night-vision goggles at a firing range near the Cabazon reservation in the company of Nichols and a Wackenhut executive, offhandedly identified that executive, A. Robert Frye, as "the man from the CIA, " (In a subsequent conversation he denied knowing Frye at all; of course, in that same talk he quite unbelievably denied having ever been a contra.)

In addition to attempted weapons supply, Wackenhut seems to have been involved in Central America in other ways. Ernesto Bermudez who was Wackenhut's director of intentional operations from 1987 to '89, admitted to SPY that during: 1985 and '86, he ran Wackenhut's operations in El Salvador, where he was in charge of 1,500 men. When asked what 1,500 men were doing for Wackenhut in El Salvador, Bermudez replied coyly, "Things." Pressed, he elaborated: "Things you wouldn't want your mother to know about." It's worth noting that Wackenhut's annual revenues from government contracts-the alleged reward for cooperation in the government's clandestine activities increased by 150 million, a 45 percent jump, while Ronald Reagan was in office. "You've done an awful lot of research, George Wackenhut said to me as I was leaving. "How would you like to run all our New York operations "

If that was the extent of Wackenhut's possible involvement in a government agency's attempt to circumvent the law, then we might dismiss it as an interesting footnote to the overheated, cowboy anti-Communist 1980s. However, the U.S. Attorney for the Southern District of Florida has been conducting an investigation into the illegal export of dual-use technology that is, seemingly innocuous technology that can also be used to make nuclear weapons to Iraq and Libya, And SPY has learned that Wackenhut's name has come up in the federal investigation, but not at present as a target.

Between 1987 and '89, three companies in the United States received investments from an Iraqi architect named Ihsan Barbouti. The colorful Barbouti owned an engineering company is Frankfort that had a $552 million contract to build airfields in Iraq. He also admitted having designed Muammar Qaddafi's infamous German-built chemical weapons plant in Rabta, Libya. According to an attorney for one of the companies in which Barbouti invested, the architect owned $100 million worth of real estate and oil-drilling equipment in Texas and Oklahoma. He may also be dead, there being reports that he died of heart failure in a Hospital in London on July 1, 1990, his 63rd birthday. Barbouti, however, had faked his death once before, in 1969, after the Ba'ath take over in Iraq which brought Saddam Hussein to power as the second-in-command. That time, Barbouti escaped Iraq; resurfacing several years later in Lebanon and Libya. There are no reports that he is living in Jordan or, according to other reports, in a CIA safe house in Florida. Those reports can be considered no better than rumor; what follows, though, is fact.

As reported on ABC's "Nightline" last year, the three companies in which Barbouti invested were TK-7 of Oklahoma City, which makes a fuel additive;

Pipeline Recovery Systems of Dallas, which makes an anti-corrosive chemical that preserves pipes; and Product Ingredient Technology of Boca Raton, which makes food flavorings. None of these companies was looking to do business with Iraq; Barbouti sought them out. Why was he interested! Because TK-7 had formulas that could extend the range of jet aircraft and liquid-fueled missiles such as the SCUD; because Pipeline Recovery knows how to coat pipes to make them usable in nuclear reactors and chemical-weapons plants; and because one of the by-products in making cherry flavoring is ferric ferracyanide, a chemical that's used to manufacture hydrogen cyanide, which can penetrate gas masks and protective clothing. Hydrogen cyanide was used by Saddam Hussein against the Kurds in the Iran-Iraq war.

Barbouti was more than a passive investor, and soon he began pressuring the companies to ship not only their products but also their manufacturing technology to corporations he owned in Europe, on which, he told the businessmen, it would be sent to Libya and Iraq. In doing so, Barbouti was attempting to violate the law. First, the U.S. forbade sending anything to Libya, which was embargoed as a terrorist nation. Second, the U.S. specified that material of this sort must be sent to its final destination, not to an intermediate locale, where the U.S. would risk losing control of its distribution. According to former CIA contract employee Richard Babayan, in late 1989 Barbouti met in London with Ibrahim Sabawai, Saddam Hussein's half brother and European head of Iraqi intelligence, who grew excited about the work Pipeline Recovery was doing and called for the company's technology to be rushed to Iraq, so that it could be in place by early 1990. And the owner of TK-7 swears that Barbouti told him he was developing an atom device for Qaddafi that would be used against the U.S. in retaliation for the 1986 U.S. air strike against Libya. Barbouri also wanted the ferrocyanide from product ingredient.

Assisting Barbouti with these investments was New Orleans exporter Dan Seaton, business associate of Richard Secord, the right-wing U.S. Army General turned war profiteer who was so deeply enmeshed in the Iran-Contra affair. It was Secord who connected Barbouti with Wackenhut. Barbouti met with Secord in Florida on several occasions, and phone records show that several calls were placed from Barbouti's office to Secord's private number in McLean, Virginia; Secord has acknowledged knowing Barbouti. He is currently a partner of Washington businessman James Tully (who is the man who leaked Bill Clinton's draft-dodge letter to ABC) and Jack Brennan, a former Marine Corps Colonel and long time aide to Richard Nixon both in the White House and in exile. Brennan has gone back to the White House, where he works as a director of administrative operations in President Bush's office. He refused to return repeated calls from SPY. Interestingly, Brennan and 'Tully had previously been involved in a $ 181 million business deal to supply uniforms to the Iraqi army. Oddly, they arranged to have the uniforms manufactured in Nicolae Ceauceseu's Ramania, The partners in that deal were former U.S. attorney general and Watergate felon John Mitchell and Sarkis Soghanalian, a Turkish born Lebanese citizen. SoShanalian, who has been credited with being Saddam Hussein's leading arms procurer and with introducing the demonic weapons inventor Gerald Bull to the Iraqis, is currently serving a six-year sentence in federal prison in Miami for the illegal sale of 103 military helicopters to Iraq. According to former Wackenhut agent David Ramirez, the company considered Saghanalian "a very valuable client."

Unfortunately for Barbouti, none of the companies in which he made investments was willing to ship its products or technology to his European divisions. That, however, doesn't necessarily mean that he didn't get some of what he wanted. In 1990, 2,000 gallons of ferrocyanide were found to be missing from the cherry-flavor Factory in Boca Raton. Where it went is a mystery; Peter Kawaja, who was the head of security for all of Barbouti's U.S. investments, told SPY, "We were never burglarized, but that stuff didn't walk out by itself."

What does all this have to do with Wackenhut? Lots: According to Louis Champon, the owner of Product Ingredient Technology, it was Wackenhut that guarded his Boca Raton plant, a fact confirmed by Murray Levine, a Wackenhut vice president. Champon also says, and Wackenhut also confirms, that the security for the plant consisted of one unarmed guard. While a Wackenhut spokes person maintains that this was the only job they were doing for Barbouti, he also says that they were never paid, that Barbouti stiffed them.

This does not seem true. SPY has obtained four checks from Barbouti to Wackenhut. A11 were written within ten days in 1990: one on March 27 for $168.84; one on March 28 for $24,828.07; another on April 5 for $756; the last on April 6 for $40,116.25. We asked Richard Kneip, Wackenhut's senior vice president for corporate planning, to explain why a single guard was worth $66,000. a year; Kneip was at a loss to do so. He was similarly at a loss to explain a fifth check, from another Barbouti company to Wackenhut's travel-service division in 1987, almost two years before Wackenhut has acknowledged providing security for the Boca Raton plant .

Two former CIA operatives, separately interviewed, have tile explanation. Charles Hayes, who describes himself as "a CA asset " says Wackenhut was helping Barbouti ship chemicals to Iraq, "Supplying Iraq was originally a good idea," he maintains, "but then it got out of hand. Wackenhut was just in it for the money." Richard Babayan the former CIA contract employee, confirmed Hayes's account. He says that Wackenhut's relationship with Barbauti existed before the Boca Raton, plant opened: "Barbouti was placed in the hands of Secord by the CIA, and Secord called in Wackenhut to handle security and travel and protection for Barbouti and his export plans." Wackenhut, Babayan says plans were working for the CIA in helping Barbouti ship the chemical-and-nuclear-weapons-making: equipment first to Texas, then to Chicago, and the to Baltimore to be shipped overseas. All of which makes the story of the midnight convey ride of David Ramirez,, recounted at the beginning of this article rather less mysterious. SPY has learned that this shipment is now the subject of a Joint USDA- Customs investigation.

When we asked George Wackenhut what. was being shipped from Eagle Pass to Chicago, the sharp, straight forward chairman at first claimed they were protecting an unnamed executive. He then directed an aide to get back to me. Two days ladder, Richard Kneip did, repeating the tale that had been passed on to David Ramirez-that the trucks contained food stamps. We told him that we had spoken to a Department of Agriculture official, who informed us that food stamps are shipped from Chicago to outlying areas, never the other way around, and that food stamps, unlike money, are used once and then destroyed. All Kneip would say then was, "We do not reveal the names of our clients."

Wackenhut's connection to the CIA and to other government agencies raises several troubling questions: First, is the CIA using Wackenhut to conduct operations that it has been forbidden to undertake? Second, is the White House or some other party in the executive branch working through Wackenhut to conduct operations that it doesn't want Congress to know about? Third, has Wackenhut's cozy relationship with the government given it a feeling of security-or-worse, an outright knowledge of sensitive or embarrassing information-that allows the company to believe that it can conduct itself as though it were above the law? A congressional investigation into Wackenhut's activities in the Alyeska affair last November began to shed some tight on Wackenhut's way of doing business; clearly it's time for Congress to investigate just how far Wackenhut's other tentacles extend.

[57] ABSTRACT

A machine and method for drilling bore holes and tunnels by melting in which a housing is provided for supporting a heat source and a heated end portion and in which the necessary melting heat is delivered to the walls of the end portion at a rate sufficient to melt rock and during operation of which the molten material may be disposed adjacent the boring zone in cracks in the rock and as a vitreous wall lining of the tunnel so formed. The heat source can be electrical or nuclear but for deep drilling is preferably a nuclear reactor.

[57] ABSTRACT

A tunneling machine for producing large tunnels in soft rock or wet, clayey, unconsolidated or bouldery earth by simultaneously detaching the tunnel core by thermal melting a boundary kerf into the tunnel face and forming a supporting excavation wall liner by deflecting the molten materials against the excavation walls to provide, when solidified, a continuous wall supporting liner, and detaching the tunnel face circumscribed by the kerf with powered mechanical earth detachment means and in which the heat required for melting the kerf and liner material is provided by a compact nuclear reactor.

The invention described herein was made in the course of, or under a contract with the U. S. ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION.

HIGH VELOCITY HIGH ALTITUDE V.T.O.L. AIRCRAFT

This invention relates to aircraft, and relates more particularly to aircraft capable of vertical ascent and descent during take-off and landing and of high altitude flight at supersonic velocities. It is a general object of the invention to provide vertical rising and descending aircraft characterized by their unique aerodynamically efficient design and by propelling, refrigerating and control systems for producing safe, efficient, supersonic, long range flight. The aircraft of the invention is designed not only for vertical ascent and descent to facilitate landing and taking off at small fields or landing areas but also for long range flight at a Mach number of, say, 4, and at altitudes in the region of 100,000 ft.

Another object of the invention is to provide aircraft of circular plan-form and of bi-convex vertical cross section which may be devoid of the conventional fuselage, wings, and empennage. The circular plan-form airplane of the invention has spheric convex upper and lower skin surfaces constituting the major surface areas of the airplane. This simple structure or design has many inherent advantages and features. It:

(1) Is an inherently rigid, strong structure having greater resistance to bending and torsional moments than other airborne configurations;
(2) Provides for a more uniform weight distribution over the lifting surface than other aircraft configurations;
(3) Allows a more uniform distribution of landing forces into the airplane structure and due to its circular plan-form permits the employment of any selected or required number of landing struts;
(4) Is not subject to flutter or to damage by gusts;
(5) Is structurally efficient in containing internal cabin pressures, fuel and other internal loads by reason of the spherical convex upper and lower skin surfaces joined one to the other at the circular periphery of the craft;
(6) Operates to effectively or uniformly distribute the thermal stresses and deformations resulting from high Mach number flight;
(7) Permits the positioning or concentrating of the useful loads in concentric relation to the center of gravity and geometric center of the structure and the disposition of the fuel loads in balanced or concentric relation to the center of gravity and geometric center;
(8) Is stable during vertical ascent and descent due to its circular plan-form;
(9) Provides a maximum volumetric capacity for the pay loads and fuel;
(10) Is simple and inexpensive to construct owing to its simple regular configuration and because many of its parts may be of like or identical size and shape;
(11) Occupies a minimum of field or floor space when not in flight due to its inherent compactness;
(12) Is inherently aerodynamically efficient, having a good L/D ratio and present a substantially continuous unbroken peripheral edge (leading and trailing edges) and a smooth profile offering a minimum of skin friction drag; and
(13) May land and take off from any medium, being stable even on rough water.

These and other considerations and advantages all result from the simple compact circular plan-form airframe of bi-convex cross section.

Another object of the invention is to provide an aircraft of this character having a diametrically extending thin plate airfoil region or portion containing in part the primary propulsive mechanism or means, this thin plate airfoil constituting only a relatively small portion of the total airfoil and yet assisting in producing aerodynamic lift with a minimum of drag.

Another and important object of the invention is to provide a novel, effective and dependable refrigerating system for an aircraft of the kind mentioned, which utilizes the propulsive fuel as a refrigerant. As is well known, operation of an aircraft at supersonic velocities is accompanied by aerodynamically induced skin temperatures that are so high or excessive as to endanger the structural integrity of the aircraft and to make it untenable for the personnel and passengers. For example, the heat input to the skin of the airplane of this invention having a diameter of 50 ft. flying at a Mach number of 4 and an altitude of 100,000 ft. will be in the neighborhood of 28 million B.t.u.'s per hour, resulting in a skin temperature approaching 1140° F., disregarding solar radiation which is of no material consequence in the case of this aircraft. Present day aircraft cooling systems are wholly inadequate to cope with temperatures of this magnitude and such temperatures would endanger the internal structure and make human occupation of the aircraft impossible. With the fuel storage cooling system of the invention the skin temperatures at such speeds and altitudes are reduced to a level where a skin formed of stainless steel, or comparable material, maintains adequate strength characteristics and the invention utilizes the fuel as a refrigerant to maintain the temperature of the cabin or passenger and cargo compartments at levels where passenger comfort is assured. To further reduce the temperature of the skin the surface of the latter is treated chemically or coated to impart a high emissivity of radiant heat. The reduction in skin temperature substantially reduces the skin frictional drag because the viscosity of the boundary layer air is proportionately reduced. Furthermore, the fuel-refrigerant is employed to cool the regions or portions of the propulsive mechanisms, etc. embodying bearings, shafts, rotors, gearing, and the like, which might be adversely affected by high temperatures.

Another object of the invention is to provide an aircraft of the character above referred to which employs a low boiling point fuel, such as butane or propane as the fuel and refrigerant. Such fuels have approximately 15% more energy value than conventional aircraft fuels but are much less dense, thereby requiring considerably greater tank space or volume. The circular plan-form bi-convex airplane of the invention supplies this necessary fuel storage volume and contains the low boiling point fuel in such a manner that it effectively cools the skin and assists in protecting the passenger and cargo compartments against excessively high temperatures. The low boiling point fuel through vaporization of even only one third of the total fuel carried absorbes in the neighborhood of 1 million B.t.u. per hour, thereby bringing the skin temperatures into equilibrium at a substantially lower value. Thus the configuration of the airframe or body and the type of propulsive fuel and its mode of storage mutually contribute to the cooling of the skin and provide storage regions of ample volume for the low density fuel. It is of primary importance that the invention effectively utilizes the low boiling fuel as a refrigerant for cooling the air supplied to the passenger and cargo compartments and for cooling the rotors, bearings, and other critical mechanisms.

Another object of the invention is to provide a fuel system and cooling system for this type of aircraft wherein the fuel or a portion thereof is vaporized in an annular vaporizer around the high temperature tail pipe or ram jet combustion zone to protect the structure thereof and a capability for enforcement, information dissemination, and emergency services. The standfast or staypot policy is not within the authoritative capability of U.S. forces. A HN may have one that we would support, but we do not have the authority or the right to enforce it.

Civilian Collection Point

The purpose of the CCP is to establish control and direction over the movement of the civilian populace. It is the primary control measure used to gain initial control over DCs. A CCP is temporary for small numbers of DCs until they can return to their homes or, if the tactical situation requires, move to a safer area.

The CCP is established as far forward as possible during the flow of battle. Since it is temporary, screening will be quick. It may include screening for intelligence information and emergency assistance. Screening to segregate EPWs or allied soldiers from DCs must take place. Local civilians or civilian agencies (police, firemen) under the supervision of tactical or support troops or CA personnel could operate the CCP. MP become involved in DC operations when maneuver force mobility is threatened by refugee congestion along MSRs. They will be the first U.S. elements to address DC problems and will initiate actions aimed at restoring force mobility (Figure 10-3).

WASHINGTON : 1993

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

THE WHITE HOUSE, November 19, 1993.

To the Senate of the United States:

I transmit herewith, for the advice and consent of the Senate to ratification, the Convention on Biological Diversity, with Annexes, done at Rio de Janeiro, June 5, 1992, and signed by the United States in New York on June 4, 1993. The report of the Department of State is also enclosed for the information of the State.

The final text of the Convention was adopted in Nairobi by the Intergovernmental Negotiating Committee for a Convention on Biological Diversity (INC) on May 22, 1992. The INC was preceded by three technical meetings of an Ad Hoc Working Group of Experts on Biological Diversity and two meetings of an Ad Hoc Working Group of Legal and Technical Experts. Five sessions of the INC were held, from June 1991 to May 1992. The Convention was opened for signature at the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development in Rio de Janeiro on June 5, 1992.

The Convention is a comprehensive agreement, addressing the many facets of biological diversity. It will play a major role in stemming the loss of the earth's species, their habitats, and ecosystems through the Convention's obligations to conserve biodiversity and sustainably use its components as well as its provisions that facilitate access to genetic resources and access to and transfer of technology so crucial to long-term sustainable development of the earth's biological resources. The Convention will also create a much needed forum for focusing international activities and setting global priorities on biological diversity.

The objectives of the Convention as set forth therein are the conservation of biological diversity, the sustainable use of its components, and the fair and equitable sharing of benefits arising out of the utilization of genetic resources. These objectives are implemented through specific provisions that address, inter alia, identification and monitoring, in situ and ex situ conservation, sustainable use, research and training, public education and awareness, impact assessment, access to genetic resources, access to and transfer of technology, technical and scientific cooperation, handling of biotechnology and distribution of its benefits, and financing.

Economic incentives will help all Parties achieve the environmental benefits of conservation and sustainable use of biological diversity. The Administration thus supports the concept that benefits stemming from the use of genetic resources should flow back to those nations that act to conserve biological diversity and provide access to their genetic resources. We will strive to realize this objective of the Convention. As recognized in the Convention, the adequate and effective protection of intellectual property rights is another important economic incentive that encourages the development of innovative technologies, improving all Parties' ability to conserve and sustainably use biological resources. The Administration will therefore strongly resist any actions taken by Parties to the Convention that lead to inadequate levels of protection of intellectual property rights, and will continue to pursue a vigorous policy with respect to the adequate and effective protection of intellectual property rights in negotiations on bilateral and multilateral trade agreements. In this regard, the report of the Department of State provides a detailed statement of the Administration's position on those provisions of the Convention that relate to intellectual property rights.

Biological diversity conservation in the United States is addressed through a tightly woven partnership of Federal, State, and private sector programs in management of our lands and waters and their resident and migratory species. There are hundreds of State and Federal laws and programs and an extensive system of Federal and State wildlife refuges, marine sanctuaries, wildlife management areas, recreation areas, parks, and forests. These existing programs and authorities are considered sufficient to enable any activities necessary to effectively implement our responsibilities under the Convention. The Administration does not intend to disrupt the existing balance of Federal and State authorities through this Convention. Indeed, the Administration is committed to expanding and strengthening these relationships. We look forward to continued cooperation in conserving biological diversity and in promoting the sustainable use of its components.

The Convention will enter into force on December 29, 1993. Prompt ratification will demonstrate the United States commitment to the conservation and sustainable use of biological diversity and will encourage other countries to do likewise. Furthermore, in light of the rapid entry into force of the Convention, early ratification will best allow the United States to fully represent its national interest at the first Conference of the Parties.

I recommend that the Senate give early and favorable consideration to this Convention and give its advice and consent to ratification, subject to the understandings described in the accompanying report of the Secretary of State.

RE: Ecosystem Management and the Convention on Biodiversity.
Note: Document Length 18 Pages, Remainder Appendices and Tables.

Attached is one of the most important documents ever compiled. While organizations, industries, private property owners and this nation's citizens have been fighting battles in the arenas of range reform, mining reform, clean water, wetlands, endangered species, private property rights, etc., federal agencies have been quietly implementing an all-encompassing agenda that is meant to transform the economic, social, moral and philosophical ideology of America.

On May 5th and June 1st, ASI circulated the Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) National Performance Review and Department of the Interior internal working documents on ecosystem management. Within these documents it became evident that the federal government intends to take control of all of this nation's legislative, judicial and administrative powers, along with the nation's natural resources - private, state and federal. These two documents, however, did not make it clear that the federal government has, in fact, been implementing the United Nation's Agenda 21 and the Convention on Biological Diversity (Biodiversity Treaty). The attached document outlines the purpose of the Biodiversity treaty, its relationship to ecosystem management, and how the ratification of this treaty will assign the sovereignty of the U.S. to the United Nations.

The Biodiversity Treaty moved out of the Senate Committee on Foreign Affairs and is now before the full Senate. The only thing that has prevented action on the treaty is a holding order by one Senator. This Senator, however, can not continue this hold, and the treaty must come before the Senate in the days to come. After review of the testimony given before the Senate Committee, it is clear that the ramifications of the treaty's ratification are not understood. This document is critical in providing that information.

As the Biodiversity Treaty is deliberated by the U.S. Senate, several important factors must be considered. First is the fact that the Convention on Biodiversity is a document based on philosophy, not science. The preamble of the treaty states that there is a "general lack of information and knowledge regarding biological diversity" and notes that there is only "threat of significant reduction or loss of biological diversity [and that] lack of full scientific certainty should not be used as a reason for postponing measures to avoid or minimize such a threat."

The United Nations Plan to Make

"NATURE WORSHIP"

a State Religion

"Treaties made, or which shall be made, under the Authority of the United States shall be the Supreme Law of the land; and the Judges in every state shall be bound, thereby, and Thing in the Constitution or Laws of any State to the Contrary notwithstanding."

Article VI, Constitution of the United States of America

Most Americans are of the erroneous impression that the U.S. Constitution guarantees them certain rights, such as freedom of speech, freedom of religion, right to protection of property, and, if indicted by grand jury, right to a fair and impartial trial by a jury of your peers. The awful truth, however-unknown to the masses-is that our founding fathers buried within the body of the Constitution a most disingenuous and diabolical escape clause, a ticking time bomb. These men, the majority of whom were Masons or Illuminists, inserted one, brief, seemingly insignificant provision. This little known provision could, in light of current events, soon prove to be the utter undoing and voiding of every inalienable right, every freedom, and every vestige of liberty we once were privileged to enjoy as Americans.

What Washington, Franklin, Jefferson, Hancock, and other founders did was to specify in Article VI of the Constitution that any and all treaties entered into by the U.S.A. and foreign countries have precedence and authority over every article, jot, tittle, and iota of the Constitution. In other words, our Masonic forefathers masterfully tricked the citizenry into believing a lie-that the government would forever guarantee the rights of free citizens. In fact, these men made sure that dictatorial, ungodly, and savage breaches and violations could craftily be written later into law simply by the ruse of treaties.

Treaties, then, are the Supreme Law of the Land. A treaty, says Article VI of the Constitution, is of greater authority than the basic Constitution itself and all of its provisions. Moreover, every judge in the United States from Supreme Court justices to local, municipal traffic court magistrates, is legally bound to enforce treaties and favor them over all other laws. As the wording in Article VI puts it, the provisions of a treaty, however satanic, disgusting, and mean-spirited they may be, shall ever be enforced, "any Thing in the Constitution or Laws of any State to the Contrary notwithstanding."

This probably sounds preposterous to you and it is. But it's also fact. A treaty made with, say, corrupt politicians down in Mexico, with Jesuit "Father" Aristide over in Haiti, with commie boss Boris Yeltsin in Russia, or with some Islamic Arab skeik from Kuwait, immediately becomes the Supreme Law of the United States of America. Every provision therein must be complied with by residents of every town, city, and village throughout the U.S.A.

How does that make you feel, fellow Americans? Do You feel secure?

Treaties become the Supreme Law when approved by the U.S. Senate and the President. That's it. No majority vote by the citizenry needed or requested. Just two-thirds of the corrupt politicians who sit in the U.S. Senate plus the rubber-stamp approval of the one man who resides at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue-that's all it takes for Big Brother government to dramatically transform our lives in almost unlimited ways.

In short, our most cherished constitutional rights may quickly and without public debate be legally abolished by a scheming, wicked, Bill Clinton and a passel of graft taking politicians in Washington, D.C. Together, these traitors are free to draw up a diabolical treaty with any third world, puppet government, or prime minister on the face of the Earth.

If you don't believe this is possible, I heartily recommend you go to a law library and read up on the following Supreme Court cases. Yes, read for yourself and then weep:

U.S. v. Thompson, 258 F. 257, E.D. Ark. (1919); U.S. v. Samples, 258 F. 479, W. D. Mo. (1919)
Missouri v. Holland, 252 U.S. 416, 434, 40 S. Ct. 382, 384 (1920). Also see U.S. v. Selkirk (1919); and U.S. v. Rockefeller (1919); and U.S. v. Lumpkin (1921).
Also Cerrito Gun Club v. Hall, 96 F. 2d 620 (9th Cir., 1938)
Bailey v. Holland, 126 F. 2d 317 (4th Cir. 1942) U.S. v. Jin Fuey Moy, 241 U.S. 394, 36 S. Ct. 658 (1916)
Stutz v. Bureau of Narcotics, 56 F. Supp. 810, 813 (N.D. Cal., 1944) Balfour, Guthrie & Co. v. United States, 90F. Supp. 831 (N.D. Cal., 1950)

Lowell H. Becraft, Jr., a highly regarded attorney from Alabama, has carefully researched court precedents relating to the chilling, abusive power of the federal government based on treaties. He warns:

It's easy to imagine what may be on the minds of a multitude of federal agencies; the pursuit of more power which is otherwise prohibited by the Constitution. Based on the Supreme Court's blessing of treaty based power, the federales could theoretically feign a "treaty" with tiny Guam to secure huge municipal power over virtually any subject formerly reserved "to the States respectively or the people" by the 10th Amendment.

Who can doubt that, at this very moment, Attorney-General Janet Reno and her mentors, Bill and Hillary Clinton, are working on a slew of sickening schemes which can be put into action by simple treaty. All that's needed, they must reason, is to grease the palms of a cooperative Mexican, Haitian, Pakistan, or other decadent foreign politician, many of whom are already secretly in the employ of the CIA.

Universal health care Hillary's failed, socialist medical scheme may soon be resurrected and put into effect by treaty. Ownership of firearms by the citizenry could be banned and outlawed by treaty. Ammunition could be confiscated; patriot newsletters closed down; resisting Christian churches raided; homosexual rights extended, and government funded abortions required all enacted into Supreme Law by simple treaty. The desires and wishes of the suffering electorate notwithstading.

Indeed, the Clinton administration has already sent to the U.S. Senate for ratification the most astonishing, most heinous treaty ever devised by the sinful hearts of evil men. It's called the Convention on Biological Diversity, and if this document is voted into law, you can kiss 220 years of American freedom and justice good-bye forever.

When you read the Biological Diversity Treaty, you will scarcely believe your eyes. This is unquestionably the Treaty From Hell. How a president of the United States could have the audacity to actually propose the adoption of this treaty beggars the imagination. Bill Clinton and his co-president, Hillary Rodham Clinton, have to be demon possessed, period!

The treaty itself is vaguely and fuzzily worded. In effect, it gives the Clinton administration's environmental crazies a blank check to rewrite and override the Constitution. It enables the United States and every other nation on earth to change and revise all existing laws to conform to ten United Nations objectives.

When you examine this filthy, stealth document for yourself and the ten UN objectives which accompany it, You will be outraged. The world's slimiest occultists first put this piece of trash together at Rio de Janeiro's Earth Summit in 1992. Maurice Stong, the Illuminati, is the chief, conspiratorial plotter behind it. Strong, the chairman of the United Nations Environmental Program, is tied in with the notorious elitists who run the Trilateral Commission, the CFR, the World Economic Forum, and the Bilderbergers.

Here is just a sampling of the malignant UN objectives that are to be accomplished under this treaty:

First, it proposes "to make nature worship a sate religion."

Second, "people will be classified as the enemy," menaces to society. Populations must be reduced to save the planet!

Third, entire land areas of the United States will be "make void of human presence" to create huge, unpopulated, environmental "biosphere's." The people who now live in these vast regions will be driven off their land. Their homes, farms, and ranches will be confiscated. This is necessary, say treaty sponsors, to protect fungi, plants, bugs, birds, and other endangered species.

Fourth, all passenger motor vehicles will be prohibited because, supposedly, they "pollute" the environment. All home air conditioning systems must be inactivated because they use too much energy and theoretically release ozone destroying pollutants into the atmosphere.

Fifth, a global environmental tax will be levied on richer nations, such as the U.S.A. and Canada, so that citizens of these countries can pay for damage they've supposedly of these countries can pay for damage they've supposedly of these countries can pay for damage they've supposedly done to Mother Earth over the decades and centuries past.

Sixth, a world government authority will be set up to enforce the treaty.

Seventh, citizens anywhere in the world who fight the system will be arrested and punished by international court.

This is only a brief overview of the tremendous horrors to ensue once this monstrous treaty is enacted. Thousands of bureaucratic regulations based on the Treaty From Hell will forever supersede and take the place of our U.S. Constitution. Moreover, the treaty will render obsolete most state and local laws and ordinances. The Bill of Rights will be history trashed and forgotten. The radiant fullness of the New World Order will finally be ushered in. Christians and patriots who dissent will be crushed and discarded. The ages old dream of Lucifer and his Secret Brotherhood will be realized. All because of the passage of this one, monumental, but deceitfully innocent. treaty the Convention on Biological Diversity.

Surely these horrors will not come to pass. Why, they could never succeed in getting such and evil treaty passed by the U. S. Senate.

To these uninformed citizens, I say, WAKE UP! Just this year, the Republicans and Democrats, working together in Congress, slam-dunked on us the GATT bill, complete with its provision for a dictatorial World Trade Organization. Senator Bob Dole and the boys also gave us the Brady Gun Control Act, and they backed President Clinton 100% in doling out some $4o billion to the international bankers during the recent Mexican peso financial crisis. When the American people complained, our controlled leaders hollered, "Shut up, and take it!"

Keep in mind, too, that the controlled, liberal media is populated by a host of environmental wackos. They're thrilled to promote the politically correct agenda of the biodiversity conspiracy. CBS CNN, and the rest of the media will never tell Americans the awful facts about this treaty. They don't want the public to know what is about to happen. Instead, the masses are to be propagandized and made to believe that this treaty is just another, wholesome tool to help America clean up its suffering, at risk environment. It's something good, we'll all be told, like recycling and saving the bald eagle from extinction. A mass media blackout of the true facts regarding the Biological Diversity Treaty is already in operation.

Second, the Senate will not be ratifying a finished document, but merely a statement of principles. The actual protocols (international laws) of the treaty will be decided at the United Nation's "Conference of the Parties," the first one of which will take place in November, 1994. By ratifying the treaty the Senate will be handing a blank check to the leadership of the international environmental movement who are drafting these protocols. Once the treaty is ratified, the United States, its Congress and the American people will be legally bound to implement any protocols drafted and adopted by these non-elected agencies.

Third, the Senate needs to consider that this new doctrine of "sustainable use" demands that human existence shall have no more juridical rights than any lesser species. The speeches of the UN's Secretary General and Executive Director found in the attachments make it clear that governments' first obligation will be to the environment and its species, not to the people. This principle violates the U.S. Constitution.

Fourth, this treaty calls for the U.S. to turn its national sovereignty over to a UN body which Maurice Strong and Elizabeth Dowdeswell (see attachments) refer to as the "New World Order." Under this World Order, the United States will be no more than a colonial form of government to whom environmental, economic, social and moral standards will be dictated. This is directly contradictory to the very principles upon which this nation was first founded.

Fifth, this treaty offers developing countries an "equitable" distribution of wealth. This "equitable" distribution requires that the productive apparatus of developed nations be torn down in order to offer developing nations opportunities to sell their products in those formerly productive countries. Until this "equitability" of nations occurs, the taxpayers of the United States will have to subsidize developing nations at funding levels that will not be determined until after the treaty has been signed. The entire U.S. economy will be placed in jeopardy should this treaty be signed.

Sixth, the U.S. Senate must investigate the fact that the federal government has been implementing the biodiversity treaty since June of 1993, without approval or ratification of the Senate! Furthermore, EPA ecosystem documents reveal that federal agencies deliberately intended to bypass Congress in their implementation of United Nations international treaty provisions. EPA and Department of the Interior documents also make it evident that the federal agencies fully intend to determine and dictate the needs of Congress and the people rather than responding to needs determined by the people through their Congress. These actions are in direct violation of the U.S. Constitution.

In summary, the Convention on Biodiversity is a violation of the U.S. Constitution and the civil rights of the people of this nation. It is our belief, that the U.S. Senate must not ratify this treaty based on these facts. The Senate must also initiate an immediate investigation into the federal government's unconstitutional implementation of this treaty without ratification and that Congress must begin taking back of the authority which these agencies have usurped from this nation's Congress and the people and state governments which Congress represents.

Recently the American Sheep Industry Association circulated a series of internal working documents from the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and the Department of the Interior. These documents demonstrate that over the past year-and-a-half there has been a massive restructuring of federal government by which the philosophy of government has been reoriented from one of serving the people to one of equally serving all species. This philosophy, called "ecosystem management" represents a very profound transformation of our constitutional form of government and has very serious implications to the future of this nation.

To understand what has happened, however, one has to look at the origins of this philosophy. Ecosystem management is a combination of a new scientific discipline, or belief, called biological diversity (biodiversity) and a new political, economic and social theory called "sustainable development," or "sustainable use." Under these new beliefs, the world's biological diversity is its most important asset and it has to be maintained through sustainable use.

Environmental extremists argue that biodiversity is under assault by the activities of man, and as a result, they allege, the world is now facing the greatest extinction of species ever witnessed in the history of the world, even going back to the time of the dinosaurs. They argue that in order to save biodiversity, an international legal regime has to be created to implement protectionary laws down to the local level, and that nations have to scrap their present political/economic policies and replace them with sustainable use policies.

This is the first of a series of reports that will examine the issue of biodiversity and its relationship to ecosystem management and the new philosophy of government being implemented under the National Performance Review. In this report we will endeavor to present documentary evidence of the international regime that is being created to promote a set of international laws that will protect biodiversity.

As this report is being issued, the U.S. Senate is days away from ratifying the Convention on Biological Diversity. Also known as the "Biodiversity Treaty," it will mandate the United States and other nations to adopt a new philosophy of government with a vast system of laws and regulations based on the doctrine of "sustainable use." If the Senate ratifies this treaty, the national sovereignty of the United States will be handed over to a the a supranational authority that is being set up by the United Nations to administer this treaty. This ratification is unconstitutional and must be stopped!

The Biodiversity Treaty

The Convention on Biodiversity, a full copy of which is contained in Appendix 1(a), commits nations to protect biological diversity—ecosystems and genetic resources as well as species. The treaty mandates the adoption of "sustainable use" policies as the basis to maintain world's plants, animals and all other organisms at sustainable levels.

Under the treaty, countries pledge to develop national plans for the conservation and sustainable use of biodiversity. This is to be accomplished through inventories of resources and the integration of "sustainable use" plans into development strategies. They are also required to enact laws to protect threatened species and habitats and expand natural protected areas.

The treaty requires that developed countries assist poorer nations in carrying out their conservation programs through the use of "appropriate technologies." Appropriate technologies often means primitive technologies that allegedly do not harm the environment, thus, the treaty may prohibit the transfer of advanced technologies to underdeveloped countries. In terms of transportation, for example, motorized technologies (cars, trucks, etc.) are frowned upon and non-motorized technologies are the ones to be promoted (bicycles, horses, donkeys, etc.). Modern farm equipment is discouraged, along with modern energy production facilities including fossil fuel plants, hydroelectric plants, and nuclear power.

The Biodiversity Treaty states that developed countries shall "provide new and additional financial resources" to developing countries so they can carry out their treaty obligations. The treaty does not define what constitutes a developed or a developing country, nor does it set an amount of financial aid. The amounts of financial aid will be determined during the Conference of the Parties, the first one of which will take place in November, 1994, three months after the deadline for ratification is closed.

The treaty promotes agreements for the access to genetic resources and the transfer of biotechnologies. It promotes the preservation of indigenous cultures such as Native American and aborigine and their traditional knowledge in the conservation and use of biological diversity. The preservation of biodiversity, according to the Convention, must be done with the active involvement of indigenous peoples who possess such knowledge, so that they can benefit from its use.

Constitutional Issues

An examination of the Biodiversity Treaty demonstrates that it violates several principles of the U.S. Constitution and the Declaration of Independence. In short:

1) The Senate will not ratify a finished document, but merely a statement of principles. The actual protocols (international laws) of the treaty will be decided at a United Nations "Conference of the Parties," the first one of which will take place in November, 1994. By ratifying the treaty, the Senate will be handing a blank check to the extremist far left faction of the international environmental movement. Once the treaty is ratified, the United States, its Congress and the American people will be legally bound to implement any protocols drafted and adopted by these non-elected agencies.

A supranational body has already been created to enforce the mandates of the convention. The three environmental organizations that are in control of the drafting of the protocols are the Representations of a reserve and corridor system to protect biodiversity in different regions of the United States. Based on the guidelines of the Wildlands Project. Article 8a-e of the Convention on biological Diversity Treaty provides the legal framework for this plan. Section 10.4.2.2.3 of the United Nations Global Biodiversity Assessment (GBA) that will be used to define the enabling and enforcement protocol for the treaty specifically calls for the Wildlands Project to provide the plan's conceptual framework. According to the June 25, 1993 issue of Science magazine, the plan calls for 23.4% of the land to be put into wilderness and 26.2% into corridors and human buffer zones. Such a system of reserves and corridors, notes Science, would create "an archipelago of human-inhabited islands surrounded by natural areas." According to the GBA, reserves would include wilderness areas and national parks while inner buffer zones would permit no agriculture, no more than 0.5 miles of road per square mile of land, primitive camping, and only light selection harvesting of forests. (See "The Wildlands Project", Wild Earth, December, 1992. Also see Science, "The High Cost of Biodiversity," 25 June, Vol 260, 1993, pp 1868-1871.

A representation of a reserve and corridor system in to protect biodiversity in the Northeast. Based on the guidelines of the Wildlands Project proposed by leadership within the Society of Conservation Biology, the plan is being advocated by some members of the Northern Forest Alliance–a group of 28 national and local environmental organizations. Such reserves and corridors are proposed for the entire United States. A reserve and corridor system was promoted in the 1993 Autumn Equinox and 1994 Spring Equinox editions of The Northern Forest Forum, and separately by National Audubon in their 1993 fund raising campaign, the spring, 1992 issue of Wilderness, and A New Maine Woods Preserve proposed by the Wilderness Society in 1989. "At least half of the land area of the 48 conterminous states should be encompassed in core reserves and inner connector zones ((essentially extensions of core reserves) within the next few decades" states project leader Reed Noss in "The Wildlands Project", Wild Earth, 1992. According to the June 25, 1993 issue of Science magazine, such a system of reserves and corridors would create "an archipelago of human-inhabited islands surrounded by natural areas." Chapter 10.4.2.2.3 of the UN Global Biodiversity Assessment and Article 8a-of the Convention on Biological Diversity outlines this methodology to conserve and restore biodiversity.

Objective: To inventory natural and human resources.

United Nations	Federal Agencies
"Identify components of biological diversity important for its conservation and sustainable use" (Biological Diversity Treaty: Article 7a) "Monitor, through sampling and other techniques, the components of biological diversity" (Biological Diversity Treaty: Article 7b) "To help provide a solid basis for future decision-making and follow-up to the convention, [UNEP] has decided to carry out a Global Biodiversity Assessment (GBA), the funding provided by the 'Global Environmental Facility'. The solid baseline of information generated by the GBA will provide the objectivity necessary for progress in conserving biodiversity. The coverage of the GBA will be comprehensive, both in terms of organisms and ecosystems. Considerable emphasis will be given to the relationship between biodiversity conservation and resource management, including sectors such as agriculture, forestry, fisheries, grazing, tourism, climate and the social dimension of biodiversity." Kenton Miller, Director of the Biological Resources Program, World Resources Institute, and the coordinator, Section 10 of the GBA, 1993 "In order to evaluate global conservation priority, the CCB (Center for Conservation Biology) has developed a tool, the Global Conservation Analysis Package (GCAP), that facilitates analysis of anthropogenic [man-caused] threats to biological diversity on the basis of the following assumptions: the overall biological diversity of a region, species distribution and habitat use, rates of forest loss, and human populations pressures. The first application of this adaptable analytical tool has been the identification of areas of critical concern (ACC) for the conservation of biological diversity at the continental and global levels. An ACC is defined as a country in which high species diversity coincides with a dense and increasing human population, and/or high rates of alteration of forest habitats." (Center for Conservation Biology Newsletter Update, July 7, 1993).	"On March 18, a performance agreement between the President and the Secretary of Interior was released. Major objectives for the department include establishing the National Biological Survey (NBS)...specific performance measures for FY 94 for NBS are to develop implementation plan by the end of FY 94 to integrate the department's biological database systems with other relevant Federal and State databases, publish a generally accepted definition of natural resource status and trend, and provide information on populations and ecosystems to government agencies, states, and other entities [United Nations and NGOs—ed]" (U.S. Forest Service Ecosystem Management News, Volume 1, No. 12, April 1994). "A number of federal agencies and non-government organizations are working together through the interagency ecosystem management coordination group to coordinate and conduct a broad ecological assessment of major ecoregions of the U.S. The interagency ecosystem management coordination group is requesting that the National Biological Survey (NBS) provide partial funding and eventual oversight of the assessments." (Department of the Interior Internal Working documents on Ecosystem Management, March 30, 1994) "Ecosystem status and trends on a landscape basis should be used...to direct compliance inspections and enforcement activities at those facilities adversely impacting vulnerable and/or endangered ecosystems." (Environmental Protection Agency, National Performance Review, Ecosystem Protection, August 6, 1993).

Objective: To establish a legal regime that will utilize international treaties to control all policies, from the international level to the national and local levels.
United Nations	Federal Agencies
"the New World Order...must unite us all in a global partnership which...[must] recognize the transcending sovereignty of nature, of our only one Earth."(Maurice Strong, Closing Speech, Earth Summit, Rio de Janeiro, June 15, 1992) Sustainability "will require the development of an effective and enforceable international legal regime which will extend into the international arena the rule of law, which is the basis for the effective and equitable functioning of national societies." (Maurice Strong, Lecture given to Swedish Royal Academy in Stockholm, April 27, 1994) "Regional economic integration organization' means an organization constituted by sovereign states of a given region, to which its member States have transferred competence in respect of matters governed by this Convention." (Biological Diversity Treaty, Article 2 Definitions) "we stand ready to continue to assist the further evolution of this Convention, as it comes into force....This enterprise will require from us all in the United Nations system a global partnership to better respond to the current and future needs of member States. It will require a new relationship among the various entities, programmes, organs, organizations of the United Nations including specialized agencies and the Bretton Woods institutions....This Convention demands from us a strong, coherent and visible response....Through a collaborative network of UN agencies, scientific institutions, regional centres and the NGOs, through working groups, studies, assessments and training, you will be able to see UNEP's unequivocal focus on biodiversity." (Elisabeth Dowdeswell, Opening Remarks at the second session of the Intergovernmental Committee on the Convention on Biological Diversity, Nairobi, Kenya, June 20, 1994)	"The Executive Branch should direct federal agencies to evaluate national policies on environmental protection and resource management" to "fulfill existing international obligations (e.g. Convention on Biological Diversity, Agenda 21)," and to "amend national policies to more effectively achieve international objectives...Present recommendations to Congress for legislative changes necessary to ensure national laws are consistent with national policy for protecting ecosystems," and "Convene summits for negotiating change in regional economics as an essential means for managing sustainable ecosystems." (EPA Internal Working Document, dated August 5, 1993)

Objective: To make man equal to all other species.
United Nations	Federal Agencies
"The vision of One Earth, One Family presupposes...a new contract between people and nature on the one hand and on the other, among different peoples and nations; a contract characterized by solidarity, interdependence, and equity - the distinctive characteristics of a big family united for a common purpose. The Convention on Biological Diversity... provides a unique opportunity and framework for achieving both." (Elisabeth Dowdeswell, Opening Remarks at the second session of the Intergovernmental Committee on the Convention on Biological Diversity, Nairobi, Kenya, June 20, 1994)	"All ecosystem management activities should consider human beings as a biological resource..." (Bureau of Land Management, Internal Working Document on Ecosystem Management, April 30, 1994)

Objective: To make the use of natural resources a cost
United Nations	Federal Agencies
Sustainability "can only be achieved through major changes in the system of incentives and penalties by which governments motivate the economic conduct of corporations and citizens.... This needs to be accompanied by the adoption of accounting methods, both in national accounts and business accounting, in which environmental costs are fully integrated into the costs of products and transactions." (Maurice Strong, Lecture given to Swedish Royal Academy in Stockholm, April 27, 1994)) Integrate consideration of the conservation and sustainable use of biological resources into national decision-making. (Biological Diversity Treaty: Article 10a)	Develop a federal policy that "accounts for ecological values equally with economic values.... Revise GDP indices and other economic measures to include the loss of natural resources through exploitation." (EPA Internal Working Document, dated August 5, 1993) "On May 10, the Commerce Department released its first set of natural resource accounts called, 'the Green GDP.' The report will attempt to gage the use of natural resources with expansion or depletion of natural resources being viewed as credits or debits." (Land Letter, June 20, 1994)

Objective: To classify people as the enemy .
United Nations	Federal Agencies
"The astounding success of the human species, its proliferation in numbers and in the scale and intensity of its activities, is threatening the future of the Earth's life systems" (Maurice Strong, Lecture given to Swedish Royal Academy in Stockholm, April 27, 1994)	"Biodiversity is being lost faster today than at any time since the dinosaurs became extinct some 65 million years ago. Unlike previous extinctions, which were primarily a result of natural events, this destruction of our planet's life forms is largely a result of human action, in particular the degradation of biologically rich ecosystems..." (Timothy Wirth, Undersecretary of State for Global Affairs, Senate Hearings on U.S. ratification of Biodiversity Treaty, April 12, 1994). "The globe's population is growing at a rate that is exceeded only by our capacity to consume resources and produce waste. This is completely unsustainable course." (Timothy Wirth, Undersecretary of State for Global Affairs, Speech to National Press Club, July 13, 1994).

Objective: To create areas devoid of human presence
United Nations	Federal Agencies
"Establish a system of protected areas or areas where special measures need to be taken to conserve biological diversity;" (Biological Diversity Treaty: Article 8a) "Promote environmentally sound and sustainable development in areas adjacent to protected areas with a view to furthering protection of these areas." (Biological Diversity Treaty: Article 8e)	i.e. Wildlands Project; National Wildlife Refuges, Wildernesses, National Parks, Corridors, and Buffer Zones.

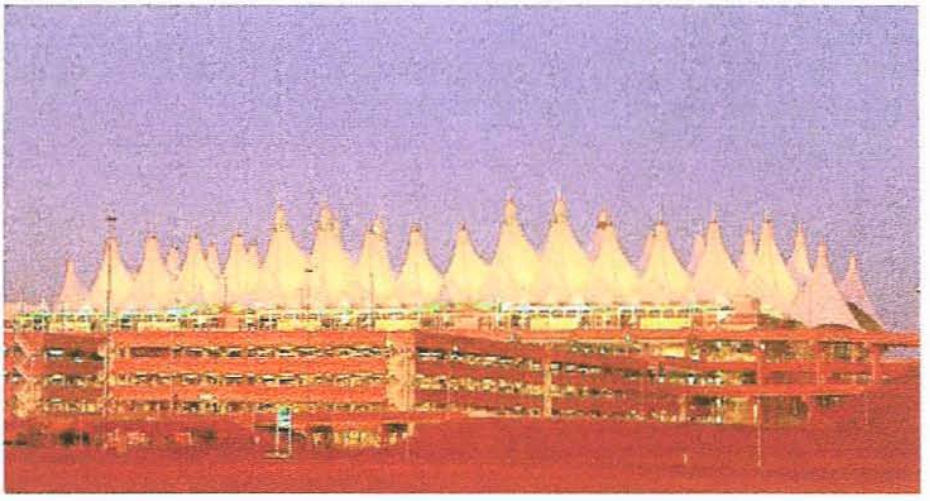
THE PLANNING OF THE NEW DENVER AIRPORT



In the late 1970s, Denver began eyeing the Rocky Mountain arsenal and later the vast acreage to its east to expand or replace congested Stapleton International Airport.

After he took office in 1983 then mayor Federico Pena chose the option of a new runway on the arsenal, on the north end of Stapleton.

But by early 1985, worried by toxic waste on the arsenal and Adams County's intransigent opposition, Pena opted for a new airport immediately east of the arsenal. Several times between 1985 and 1987, the site has moved farther east.

Denver began its chain of mistakes by buying about 884 acres of land for the arsenal runway, before making the final decision to build it.

The city spent $47 million on the Eastwood Estates mobile home park and undeveloped acreage known as Section II because they were in the flight path of the arsenal-runway. The city then decided to build a new airport instead, rendering the land unnecessary.

Denver ultimately routed Pena Boulevard, the main airport access road, through Eastwood. Section II was left out of the DIA project altogether.

The purchases ousted 420 families and cost Denver $47.1, million, $22 million for the homes $5.6 million for the undeveloped portion of Eastwood Estates and $19.5 million for Section II.

The prices Denver paid stunned the real estate community.

Although farmland in the area was selling for $3,500 an acre, Denver paid $30,000 an acre for an undeveloped 132-acre section of Eastwood Estates that was platted for commercial and residential use.

Three months later. the city paid the Alpert family $30,279 an acre for Section II. after the family claimed it had zoning and water rights that would support 4,000 homes.

Because the Alperts had signed an option to buy Section it II five years earlier and had locked in a $4.4 million purchase price, they did not even have to buy the land until the city- decided to pay $19.5 million for it.

Denver gave the Alperts a $15 million profit on land they only held for five weeks.

'The Eastwood Estates and Section II purchases showed landowners and speculators Denver would pay top dollar for airport area land if owners claimed their rural holding were soon-to-be-suburbia.

Investors began flooding landowners with offers of up to S16,000 an acre.

It put stars in the eyes of property owners, recalls one of them, farmer Bob Moffitt.

Seven investigations of land dealing around the new airport found smoke but no fires.

At one point, investigators for the U.S. Department of Transportation thought they had found compelling evidence" of criminal wrong doing but said Colorado prosecutors refused to take the case for "political reasons."

No charges were filed in any of the inquiries into allegations of conflicts of interest, leaks of insider information and other wrongdoing surrounding land speculation and decisions about the site for Denver International Airport.

In a May 1989 memo obtained by the news, the federal transportation investigators said they had found evidence of conflict of interest in airport land deals.

Despite compelling evidence and allegations indicating criminal violations and conflict of interest by affected landowners, businessmen and public officials, no prosecutors would accept the case, according to the heavily censored reports which were obtained under the Freedom of Information Act.

The report referred to allegations investigators received in July of 1988 that "elected officials of Adams County, together with state officials, Denver city officials and various developers may have been in collusion together.

DIA BOND ISSUE

If DIA fails to produce sufficient revenue to pay off the bonds, what would happen to the airport then.

It is rumored that the Queen of England is the major bond holder, wouldn't that just be interesting if the airport defaulted and went into receivership the Queen would have a new palace.

The mayor, then and now. Pena and Webb (right), conferring.

In this map of Denver you can see the layout of the city in relationship to the airport and how it is away form the city and that it joints the property of the Rocky Mountain Arsenal. Also notice the location of Lowry AFB.

LAND DEALING

It was 53 square miles of windswept prairies the emptiness broken only by an occasional farmhouse. Then Denver decided to build and airport on it.

The abrupt transformation of the vast farmland northeast of the city into the future site of one of the nation's busiest airports sent investors into a buying frenzy. The cost of land for Denver International Airport soared by tens of millions of dollars.

Investigations show that:

- Denver spent $47 million on land for a runway it never built.
- One family made a $15 million profit from land it held for just five weeks before selling to Denver.
- Denver's huge loss in its first land acquisition case prompted other landowners to go to court, driving up prices and legal fees.
- Courts set the prices Denver had to pay for air-port and using values grossly inflated during savings and loan scandal.
- The three years: that Denver needed to negotiate the airport's site fueled the escalation in prices.

In paying S227 million for airport land, Denver has spent an average of $6,700 per acre.

Now that the airport is open, the price of land near DIA has retreated. Vacant farmland in the area sold for an average of $2, 500 and acre in 199J.

"I think $500 would have been about right," says former Denver aviation director George Doughty. "It's dust. It absolutely has no value unless you build something on it. Nobody would have built something on it for the next 50 years if it weren't for the airport."

Regardless of public perception, it's tough to claim that DIA's land prices were illegal when 85% were set in condemnation court.

Condemnation law is designed to protect landowners when government seeks to acquire their property. But governments sometimes take land the owners expected to develop over the long term. The law requires governments to pay for the "highest and best use" the land might reach even if it's farmland at the time of sale.

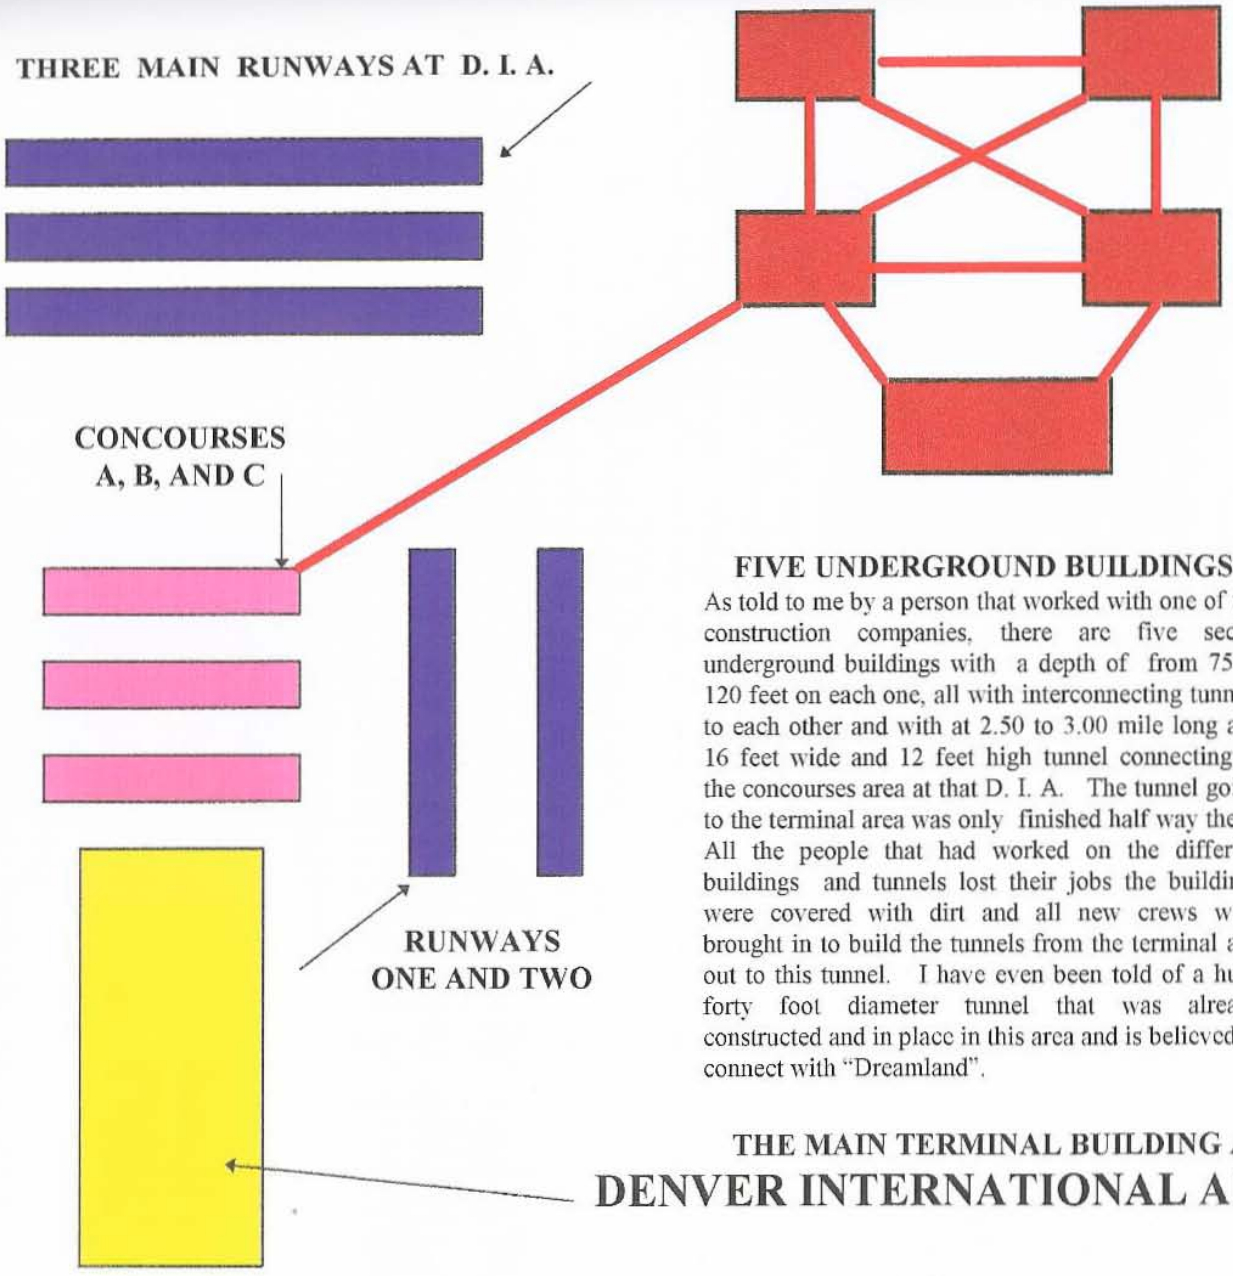
As: a result. Denver paid for all of DIA's land as if a huge new city were about to mushroom on the plains.

Only some of the 34.000 acres the city bought for the airport could have found a market in the foreseeable future, without the airport.

The rolling plains northeast of Denver had been home for generations to huge ranches and smaller farms. Crisscrossed by dry creek beds and dotted with few trees, much of the land had belonged to three families for 50 years.

The Van Schaacks and Fulenwiders,. two of the biggest names in Denver real estate, jointly owned 28,000 acres. The had bought much of it cheaply in the Dust Bowl of 1930s.

Neta Monaghan, who with her husband ran a construction company that built some of Colorado's: most spectacular mountain highways and then raised champion racehorses until she died at 93 in 1992, was the matriarch of the 9,700 acre Monaghan Farms.



TWO SECRET RUNWAYS

Two secret runways longer than any of D.I.A. runways. A source who worked for Bechtel Corp. who helped build these told of the $50,000,000 high tech. runways that were built in the wrong place in 1990 and then covered up with about 4 inches of dirt. (They will possibly uncover them someday soon to be used. Former directors of Bechtel Corp. were George Shultz, Henry Kissinger and Casper Wineberg.

FIVE UNDERGROUND BUILDINGS

As told to me by a person that worked with one of the construction companies, there are five secret underground buildings with a depth of from 75 to 120 feet on each one, all with interconnecting tunnels to each other and with at 2.50 to 3.00 mile long and 16 feet wide and 12 feet high tunnel connecting to the concourses area at that D. I. A. The tunnel going to the terminal area was only finished half way there. All the people that had worked on the different buildings and tunnels lost their jobs the buildings were covered with dirt and all new crews were brought in to build the tunnels from the terminal and out to this tunnel. I have even been told of a huge forty foot diameter tunnel that was already constructed and in place in this area and is believed to connect with "Dreamland".

DENVER INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT

DENVER INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT

The dedication capstone at the Denver International Airport is the first thing about the new airport that got my attention. For a week I had been hearing about this capstone so when the Global Sciences Conference was over and I took some friends to the airport this is what we all wanted to sm. What we did not anything about was all of the other Masonic and Nazi symbols that are scattered all over the main terminal area.

Some of the points that you might find Interesting about the capstone is that it Is called Denver International Airport, first of all the airport can not qualify as an international airport because It Is to high in elevation and the planes would loose to much in fuel consumption to make an international flight.

Next, just what and who is the "New World Airport Commission. I have never heard of such a commission have you?

Last and by no means not the least is the fact that this stone is by the mason's. I have heard about the Denver airport for years but never did I hear that the "Masonic Order", had anything to do with building this airport. How about you?

Pictured here are the two Gargoyles statues that are guarding the two baggage department areas at the Denver airport and strange as it may seem one of them looks very much like the French representation of Baphomet, the Devil. It is said that the cost of these statues were $170,000.00 a piece is what the airport paid for their creation.

A medieval French representation of Baphomet, the "Devil" or foreign god the Templars were accused of worshipping. His name derived from medieval Christian forms of the name Mohammed, which became Mafomat in Spanish, Bafomet in Provincial.

ANIMALS = Instinctual life fertility and teeming life; the instinctual and emotional urges which must be transcended before man can enter the spiritual realms passive participation; animal nature in man; We can find no animal without some likeness to man. Theriomorphis is explained as Under the semblance of animals the Egyptians worship the universal power which the gods have revealed in the various forms of Living nature. Friendship with animals and ability to communicate with them symbolizes the restoration of, and re-entry into, the paradise state: the Golden Age. Animals accompanying or helping man on quests depict the different aspects of his own nature, or the instinctive and intuitive forces of nature as distinct form the intellect, will and reason.

ALCHEMY AND ITS SYMBOLS Alchemy is by no means merely the fraudulent art of turning base metals to gold, "But rather a non-ecclesiastical philosophy seeking the refinement of the soul, obliged by its unorthodox doctrines to take its symbology form the realm of the laboratory. Alchemy was primarily striving to extend the spiritual realm of light by; systematically pushing back the world of matter, felt to be heavy and dark; in this respect, alchemy-resembles some of the diverse sects of early Christian gnosticism. The bewildering proliferation of symbolic and allegorical images in later medieval manuscripts and in Renaissance and baroque books of engravings, seeks not to inform outsiders but to provide initiates in alchemy with guidance in their mediations. From primal matter, -via several purifying steps, the philosopher's stone is to be formed, which will enable its possessor among other things, to turn base metals into GOLD AND SILVER, the metals of the SUN AND THE MOON and to produce a universal medicine for all disease. Many symbols link this ideology with the images of the Rosicrucians and of Freemasonry. The most important motifs from the world of alchemy include the androgyny, the caduceus, coral, the dove the dragon, the eagle, gold, the hexagram, lead, the lion, the moon, the peacock, the pelican, the pentacle, the phoenix, the quintessence, Saturn, silver, sulfur and mercury, sun, toads and the unicorn, AX = Since the Neolithic Age an important and thus richly symbolic instrument for battle and work. As a weapon wielded by gods of the sky or of Thunder against their enemies, the ax in early depiction's, such as rock drawings, is often difficult to distinguish from a club or mace (hammer). The observation that blows of the ax often produce sparks led to the association of storm gods with Lightning and the destruction of demonic creatures, and thus sometimes a nonfunctional ax is often a symbol of the rank of chief and of executive power in general, as the Fasces or the ax of Fascism is: Since large sacrificial animals and humans in civilizations were killed with an ax, it often came to symbolize Blood Sacrifice , and often judicial authority, as in the fasces of ancient Rome.

PANTHER, JAGUAR OR LEOPARD = The panther is described as "the friendliest of animals. .

In European HERALDRY the panther came to be portrayed as a curious combination of lion, dragon, and bull (the source of its horns), whose breath, described in the Physiologus as sweet, is represented by flames shooting from its mouth. From the 14th century onward it has Eagle's claws on it front feet, and in the 16th century it has flames emerging from all of the orifices of its body. In this form it is the heraldic emblem of the Austrian province of Styria.

In the New world the corresponding animal is the jaguar, which for example in ancient Mexico was the symbol of the Aztec warrior order (Ocelot) and also of the 14th of the 20 day-signs of the Aztec calendar. The Maya called the jaguar balm, which was also the epithet of a divinatory priest; on earthenware vessels the jaguar often appears with water-Lily tendrils or pierced by a javelin thrown by the god of the planet Venus. In the myths of the native peoples of Latin, America the jaguar is often the tutelary spirit of shamans.

The cat eyes also symbolizes its being variable, the varying power of the sun and the waxing and waning of the moon and the splendor of the night; it also denotes stealth, desire; it also denotes stealth, desire; liberty, funerary transformation, unfavorable change, misfortune, illness, Satan, and darkness. As black it is lunar, evil and death.

SHAMAN = is a magician, a tribal medicine man or wizard.

LOTUS = An almost universal symbol as the eastern lotus or the western lily or rose. It is solar and lunar, birth and death, appearing with Egyptian and Hindu Sun gods and with Semitic moon gods and with the Great Mother as lunar goddess. It is the flower that was in the Beginning, the glorious lily of the Great Waters'; that wherein existence comes to be and passes away; it is the cosmos rising from the waters of pre-cosmic chaos as the sun rose from the lotus at the beginning of the world. It is the Flower of Light, the result of the interaction of the great creative forces of the fire of the sun and the lunar power of the water.

HERON OR CRANE = In Chinese are the heron is often portrayed alongside the Lotus blossom. Because of the homonym of the respective syllables with the words for "path" and "ascent," the combination becomes a rebus to express the wish; May your path always take you higher and higher the ability to enter into higher states of consciousness. King of the underworld, a herald of death or war, parsimony, meanness, evil women. ,An intermediary between heaven and earth, immortality. The Crane also means longevity, wisdom, social elevation.

BUTTERFLY = The soul; immortality. The promise of future generations, standing in some contexts for beauty and metamorphosis. In the becoming a metaphor for the transformations undergone by our own souls; this is one source of our hope that we may one day leave behind our terrestrial prison and ascend into the eternal light of the heavens. In some cultures the butterfly was associated with the Sun.

BIRDS = Transcendence; the soul; a spirit; divine manifestation. spirits of the air; spirits of the dead; ascent to the dead; ascent to heaven; ability to communicate with gods or to enter into a higher state of consciousness, though; imagination. Large birds are often identified with solar, thunder and wind gods, and their tongues are lightning. Birds are a feature of tree symbolism; the divine power descends into the tree or on to its symbol, a pillar.

Two birds in a tree, sometimes one dark and one light, are dualism darkness and light, night and day, the unmanifest and the manifest, the two hemispheres. Birds often appear in the branches of the Tree of Life with the serpent at its foot; this combination is a union of air and fire, but the bird and serpent in conflict are solar and chthonic powers at war. Fabulous birds also depict the celestial realms and powers opposing the chthonic serpent. Birds frequently accompany the Hero on his quest or in slaying the dragon, giving him secret advice, and he understands the language of birds. This ability symbolizes heavenly communication or the help of celestial power, such as angels. X bird on a branch or pillar is the union of spirit and matter? or a symbol of a sun god.

Celtic: Ambivalent as both divinity and the happy other world. or as magic power and malevolence, as: with the raven and wren. The Tuatha can appear as birds of brilliant plumage and be linked together with golden chains when presaging an important event. Garuda is the bird of life, the sky, the sun, victory; it is creator and destroyer of all, a vehicle of Vishnu and sometimes equated with the phoenix.

A white canopy is the pure mind embracing the Dharma (a wise man whose numerous offspring personify the virtues and certain religious practices) and protecting human beings, sovereign power; spiritual and temporal power, a square canopy for priests and a circular for kings.

LADDER = A symbol in the Judeo-Christian world of the link between Heaven and Earth, and of the possibility of ascending into heaven, rind of the possibility of ascending into heaven. In Jacob's famous dream vision, heavenly angels go up and down a ladder, an expression of on going communication between God and humanity. Ladders have appeared in naive descriptions of other ascents into heaven: In the symbolism of Freemasonry, the "mystic ladder" with two times seven rungs is, in the Scottish Rite, the symbol of the 30th degree; the rungs are, in one grouping, justice, mercy, humility, loyalty, work, duty, and generosity, and in the other, the "Liberal arts" of medieval scholasticism: grammar, rhetoric, logic, arithmetic, geometry, music and astronomy. The ancient Egyptian expression asken pet (the ladder of the sun god) refers, however, to a staircase rather than a ladder in our sense.

COFFIN = Death, killed or exterminated.
COLORS = Color symbolizes the differentiated, the manifest; diversity; the affirmation of Colors which give back Light, orange, yellow, red, are active, warm, advancing; those which absorb light, blue, violet are passive, cold, retreating, while green synthesizes the two divisions. Black and white represent negative and positive and all opposites. Light and dark colors used in contrast symbolize the materialization of light. God: as light, is the source of color.

BLACK: primordial darkness; the nonmanifest; the Void; evil the darkness of death; shame: despair; destruction corruption, grief sadness, humiliation; renunciation gravity; constancy.

Black also signifies Time, hard, pitiless and irrational and is associated with the dark aspect of the Great Mother, especially as Kali who is Kala, Time and with Black Virgins. Black or blue/black is the color of chaos. In ;he Occident black is connected with mourning and with the sinister aspect of witchcraft, black magic and black arts.

CORN = is attributes of all corn deities, especially in the Greek Mysteries, and symbolize the fertility of the earth awakening life: life spring from death germination and growth through solar power, abundance. The golden ears of corn are the offspring of the marriage of the luminous sun with the virgin earth. Corn measures depict fruitfulness, abundance. As funerary, corn signifies abundance in the next world. The ear of corn with all its seeds represents the people and all things in the universe. Fertility, abundance, life spring from death, creation.

CROCODILE = The devourer; the necessity of passing through death to life. with open mouth it depicts going against the current, hence liberation form the limitations of the world. The crocodile is sometimes a guardian of the door. As living on land and in water it denotes the dual nature of man. The crocodile is also equated with the fertility of the waters. Being swallowed b~ a crocodile is the descent into hell. It is an emblem of Satan in his typhonic aspect as brutality devil. Symbol of vicious passions, deceit; treachery, dissimulation and hypocrisy; having swallowed the moon he weeps.

CHILDREN = The embodiment of potentialities, possibilities of the future; simplicity and innocence. The child symbolizes a higher transformation of the individuality, they self transmuted and reborn into perfection. In Alchemy a crowned child symbolizes the Philosophers' Stone which is the supreme quest, the double being of the Hermetic Androgyny; the reconciliation of all opposites; the attainment of unity; regaining the Center; perfection; absolute reality; the petra gentrix; the mover at will spiritual, mental and moral wholeness in man; the liberated and unified self.

CROWN = A flame resting on the head, or surrounding the head represents divine power, potency of soul or genius, the head being regarded as the seat of the life soul. An adornment for the head, which seems to elevate its wearer above the level of others. Their structure picks up the symbolic associations of the infinite circle. The points of the crown are like sunbeams, as crowned rulers generally are to be understood as representatives of a solar cosmology. In Freemasonry, the "Four Crowned Men" the patrons of the research lodge which is named for them, were martyrs to their faith. In medieval sculpture the virtues Faith and Hope, Wisdom and the church-were portrayed wearing crowns, where as Synagogue, the personification of Judaism, is often made to wear a crown tilted sideways. A triple crown (the tiara) marks the pope, and a five-tiered crown, images of God the Father. In East Asian symbolism a crown resembling a flower symbolizes the attainment of a high stage of development, the elevation of the spiritual element over the corporeal.

DANCE OR DANCING = Cosmic creative energy; the transformation of space into time; the rhythm of the universe; imitation of the divine play of creation the reinforcement of strength, emotion and activity.

DEATH = The unseen aspect of life, omniscience. since the dead are all-seeing. Death to the earthly life precedes spiritual rebirth; in initiation the darkness of death is experienced before the birth of the new man, resurrection and reintegration. Death is also the change from one mode of being to another, the reunion of the body with the earth and the soul with the spirit. The King of Death is often depicted as a skeleton with sword, scythe, sickle and hourglass other death symbols are the veil, serpent, lion. scorpion, ashes, the drummer. Death is symbolized as a dancer, sometimes a beautiful girl.

DEER OR BUCK = Symbolic animal prominent in Old World cultures. The stag seems to have been frequently paired with the Bull, in this case the Buffalo could be the counter part as the Bull, to form a mythic and cosmological Duality, not unlike the wild horse and the wild bull in Ice Age cave art in the hypothesis of French archaeologist. The stag's tree like antlers with their periodic regeneration made him a symbol rejuvenation, rebirth, and the passage of time. Other meanings are wealth, strength and longevity. frequently depicted with the Tree of Life.

In Celtic myth the deer are "cattle of the fairies" and messengers between the world of the gods and that of mortals.

The imagery of Alchemy sees the deer as a symbol in the context of the classical myth of the hunter Actaeon, who was transformed into a stag by the goddess Diana: for the alchemist the deer is a reminder of the possible transmutation of metals in connection with the lunar moon (Mason) famine world of silver.

DOVE = The life spirit the soul, the passing from one state or world to another; the spirit of light; chastity, longevity; faithfulness; orderliness, filial piety; Holy Spirit, inspired thought, peace and the dove is the emblem of the f(nights of the Grail or the Knights Templar (Masonic).

DRUMS = Sound; the primordial sound; speech; divine truth revelation; tradition; the rhythm of the universe. Attribute of all thunder gods. The drum was used in ecstatic dancing. African: The heart; magic power. Also the voice of the Law; the drum of the immortal in the darkness of the world. The beating of the drum wakens the ignorant and the slothful. The voice of heaven or immortal, Sexual orgy, ecstatic dancing, destroyers and magic power summoning spirits also symbiotically made from the Cosmic Tree.

ELEPHANT = Strength; fidelity; long memory; patience; wisdom, conjugal felicity. The elephant is a religious animal worshipping the sun and stars and purifying itself at the new moon, means invincible might; longevity; intelligence.

HEXAGRAM = the six pointed Star. composed of two overlapping triangles, a symbol found in a wide array of cultures around the world. In Freemasonry, the hexagram is refereed to as a symbol of totality, although the flaming star (the Pentacle or pentagram) is more common in this sense.

HAMMER = 'The hammer and anvil together are the formative forces of nature. The hammer and tongs and the double hammer, or Tau cross, are depicted with all thunder gods, but especially with Vulcan and Thor. It also means Divine shaping of the universe.

GLOVE = A glove can mean the concealed The iron gloves are an attribute of Thor and smith gods.

GIANT = The brute forces of nature; primordial power and forces; the elements; darkness.

FOREST = The realm of the psyche and the feminine principle. A place of unknown perils and darkness. It can also represent lack of spiritual insight and light mankind lost in the darkness without divine direction.

EAGLE = Solar; the symbol of all shy gods; the meridian sun the spiritual principle; victor; contemplation; apotheosis; (transforming a man into a god) royalty; authority; strength; height the element of air. The double headed eagles are attributes of twin gods and can represent omniscience or double power. In Freemasonry the double headed eagle means controlling power over the east and the west. Single headed eagle means the masons are controlling that domain.

The eagle or hawk is equated with the deity. Celestial power; the luminous sky; the rising sun. The eagle and raven are connected with war gods. The eagle is one of the four beasts of the Apocalypse. An attribute of Zeus and as his lightning bearer sometimes has a thunderbolt in its talons. An eagle is the Aryan storm cloud bird.

EVERGREEN TREE = is the Winter Solstice; the New Year and a fresh beginning. It is the tree of rebirth and immortality, the Tree of Paradise of lights and gifts, shinning by night. Each light is soul and the lights also represent the sun, moon and stars shining in the branches of the Cosmic Tree.

FIRE AND FLAME = The transformation; purification; the life-giving and generative power of the sun; renewal of life; impregnation; power; strength; energy'; the unseen energy in existence; sexual power; defense; destruction; fusion; change or passage from one state to another the medium for conveying messages or offerings heavenward. Fire manifested as flame symbolizes spiritual power and forces, transcendence and illumination, and is a manifestation of divinity or of the soul, it is also inspiration and enlightenment. A Flame resting on the head, or surrounding the head represents divine power, potency of soul or genius, the head being regarded as the seat of the life soul.

FLOWERS = The feminine, passive principle; the form of the receptacle, the cup of the flower thus taking on the CUP symbolism. In the bud the flower is potentiality; in opening and expanding from the center outwards it depicts development in manifestation; this is particularly stressed in the symbolism of the lotus in the Last and the rose and lily in the West. Five-petalled flowers the rose, lily, etc. symbolize the Gardens of the Blessed, also the microcosm of man fixed in the five extremities of the five senses. The six-petalled flower, especially the lotus, is the macrocosm. Divinities also emerge from flowers, in particular from the lotus as representing the light of the sun and the primeval waters the matrix.

Flowers also portray the fragile quality of childhood or the evanescence of life. A child rising from a flower depicts either the birth of a god or the birth of a new days dawning. A blue flower is the unattainable; the red flower depicts dawn, the rising sun, passion: it is an attribute of the Mother Goddess; white flowers typify purity and innocence, white and red together denote death. In Alchemy: The white flower is silver, the red flower gold and the blue flower is the flower of the wise which grows for the Cosmic Egg.

FISH = Phallic, fecundity; procreation; life renewed and sustained, the power of the waters as origin and preservation of life; the watery element; associated with all aspects of the Mother Goddess as genetics and with all lunar deities. Fish swimming downwards portrays the movement of involution of spirit in matter and swimming upwards the evolution of spirit matter returning to the First Principle. Two fishes are temporal and spiritual power. Also in Egyptian it means phallus of Osiris. Two fishes are the creative principle; prosperity; fertility.

KNIFE AND SWORD = Sacrifice; vengeance death. power; authority; royalty; leadership courage; strength; vigilance; physical extermination; is phallic with the sheath as the receptive feminine. The sword separates and divides the body and soul.

PLOW = This peaceful (Isaiah 2:43 (Maybe not by chose) They shall beat their swords into plowshares) symbol for the agricultural life replaced the older dibble. In ancient agricultural societies the plowing of "mother earth?' was likened to a phallic sexual act.

SHELLS = The feminine, watery principle the universal matrix; birth; regeneration, life, love, marriage fertility (a vulva analogy). Mollusk shells are symbols of the moon.

SERPENT OR DRAGON = A highly complex and universal symbol. The serpent and dragon are interchangeable and in the East no distinction is made between them. The symbolism of the serpent is polyvalent; it can be male, female, or the self-created. As a killer it is death and destruction; as renewing its skin periodically it is life and resurrection; as coiled it is equated with the cycles of manifestation. It is solar and lunar, life and death, light and darkness, good and evil, wisdom and blind passion, healing and poison, preserver and destroyer, and both spiritual and physical rebirth. It is Phallic, the procreative male force, the husband of all women, and the presence of a serpent is almost universally associated with pregnancy. It accompanies all female deities and the Great Mother, and is often depicted twining round them or held in their hands. Here it also takes on the famine characteristics of the secret, enigmatic and intentional; it is the unpredictable in that it appears and disappears suddenly.

The serpent was also believed to be androgynous and is the emblem of all self creative divinities and represents the generative power of the earth. It is solar, chthonic, sexual, funerary and the manifestation of force at any level, a source of all potentialities both material and spiritual, and closely associated with the concepts of both life and death. Living underground, it is in touch with the underworld and has access to the powers, omniscience and magic possessed by the dead.

Serpents, or dragons, are the guardians of the threshold, temples, treasures, esoteric knowledge and all lunar deities. They are producers o storms, controllers of the powers of the waters.

The Celestial Serpent, with the Dragon, symbolizes the Rainbow and both can form a bridge from this world to the next. A child playing with a snake depicts Paradise Regained, freedom from conflict and the end of the temporal world, having the same symbolism as the lion and lamb lying together.

When the Eagle or stag appears with the serpent they are solar and manifest light with the serpent as darkness, the unmanifest and chthonic; together they are cosmic unity, totality; in conflict they portray duality, the pairs of opposites and the celestial and chthonic powers at war. The eagle is often depicted with the serpent in its talons, or the stag as trampling it underfoot, typifying the victory of good over evil, light over darkness, heavenly over earthly and spiritual over temporal power. Lozenges as ornaments on a serpent represent the phallic serpent and the female vulva as the solar-lunar, male-female unity, dualism and reintegration; the reconciliation of opposites; the androgyny. The ram-headed serpent is an attribute of all horned gods as generative power and fertility. Undulating serpents or dragons signify cosmic rhythm, or the power of the waters. Winged serpents or dragons are solar and typify the union of spirit and matter, the union of eagle and serpent and of all opposites; they also represent quickened understanding.

Two serpents together symbolize the opposites of dualism which are ultimately united. Entwining a tree or staff they are the spiral cycles of nature; the solstices; the two fundamental forces of winding and unwinding, the alchemist, On the Medical Caduceus they represent the homeopathic powers of healing and poison, illness and health, nature can overcome nature. Wound round each other they are Time and Fate, the two great binding powers. Two serpents or dragons biting each other's tails suggest that, although in seeming opposition, forces and things in the realm of duality actually spring from the same source and principle. The serpent as a rainbow which quenches its thirst in the sea occurs in French. The three principal colors of the rainbow are Blue, Red, and Green, (these are also the colors of the Masons), were viewed as symbols, respectively, of flood, fire, and the earth restored after destruction. The rainbow is also seen as union but in some contexts as standing for fornication and represented as a seven-headed snake. and the rainbow is associated with the Sun. The celestial serpent is also the rainbow and either encircles the earth, or is guardian of treasures or is a thunder and lightning spirit. The plumed serpent, a combination of the Quetzal bird and the snake, is the sun; the spirit; the power of ascension; rain; wind; thunder and lightning. the primordial motion of wind and water; the breath of life; knowledge; the eastern region; it accompanies all rain and wind gods; it is phallic; eternal creation; unending time; and intermediary between God and man. It is the White God from whose Black bowels the rain falls and is also an attribute of Quetzalcoatl and the Sky God of the Zodiac when it is solar, but it becomes lunar when the serpent represents the Earth Mother, the Snake Woman.

SATURN = Saturn, is a symbol used by the Nazi's in their sun worship religion only it is refereed to as the Black Sun and this what we now find is the real sun refereed to in Sun Worshipper not the sun as we know it.

SCAPEGOAT = Delegated guilt escape from the consequences of sins purging for sins abolishing the past and its consequences by bearing the sins of others or of and entire community, thus freeing them. In the King-sacrifice a scapegoat later took the place of the king in the fertility sacrifice. In Christianity the scapegoat is a symbol of Christ as suffering for the sins of the world. Christ was a human sacrifice as was done in those days upon the Masonic cross.

TREE = The whole of manifestation, the synthesis of heaven, earth and water; dynamic life as opposed to the static life of the stone. The Tree in the midst joining the three worlds and making communication between them possible, also giving access to solar power; and omphalos; a world center. The tree also symbolizes the feminine principle, the nourishing, sheltering protecting, supporting aspect of the Great Mother, the matrix and the power of the inexhaustible and fertilizing waters she controls; trees are often depicted in the style of a female figure. Rooted in the depth of the earth, at the world center, and in contact with the waters, the tree grows into the world of Time. An evergreen tree represent everlasting life, undying spirit, immortality. A deciduous tree is the world in constant renewal and regeneration, dying to live, resurrection, reproduction, the life principle. Symbols of the tree are the pillar, post, notched pole, a branch, all of which are often accompanied by a serpent, bird, stars fruit and various lunar animals.

WOLF = The howling wolf, is the God of Dance. A wolf swallows the sun, the sky Father, at night. Evil; the Devil the spoiler of the flock; the stiff-necked people; cruelty; craftiness, heresy. A bringer of victory. A mount of witches and warlocks.

WHALE = The power of the cosmic waters, hence regeneration, both cosmic and individual. The whale is the emerging from the cavern of initiation into new life, resurrection. The whale depicts the Devil, its jaws are the gates of hell and its belly is hell.

WATER = The waters are the source of all potentialities in existence; the source and grave of all things in the universe. Water is the liquid counterpart of light.

Water and fire are the two conflicting elements which will ultimately penetrate each other and unite; they represent all contraries in the elemental world. In a state of conflict they are the heat and moisture necessary for life, but burning water is the union of opposites. Fire and water are also associated with the two great principles. Deep waters, seas, lakes, welts are associated with the realm of the dead, or are the abode of supernatural beings and are closely connected with the Great Mother.

Troubled waters depict the vicissitudes, illusion and vanity of life, the phantom flux of sensations and ideas. Troubled waters depict the vicissitudes, illusion and vanity of life, the phantom flux of sensations and ideas.

Water is the symbol of the life destroying, separating and uniting powers of the waters are often composite creatures, monsters or dragons, serpents, the falcon, lion, crocodile and whale. Water is of great significance in magic rites. The waters are primeval chaos. The waters have magical properties and are the dwelling place of supernatural beings; they also give access to the other worlds. Neptune (Lucifer) controls the power of the waters.

MURAL STUDY

The four large murals at the entrance into the Great Hall, are very unique, and profound. Because of all of the conspiracy knowledge and the secret society symbols and odd things in the Great Hall and other areas of the airport it is easy to look at these murals and really get you wheels turning.

I was so concerned about the messages that I was reading in the pictures that I contacted the artist. The artist had a wonderfully laid out "canned" reply to every question that you ask him and he seems like a really nice person. But you can't always judge a book by its' cover. He stated that the art commission from the airport had a planning group with guidelines and a criteria for them to follow. And that each artist that entered the contest to be the artist to do the painting had to write a detailed description of the content of the paintings that they proposed to create for the airport murals. Well that sounds fair doesn't it.

By the time I traveled from the eastern part of the united States back to Denver to see the last two murals that he was finishing to put into the airport, the story had changed. The guidelines were no more, and never were. By this time all rules had disappeared and the winning artist had total control over the paintings.

While in Denver to see the airport again, I got to talk to some other artist that had also entered the so called art contest and they said, that there was no contest that the artist was picked long ago and it was all a show for the public. Stories have really changed.

At this time after almost seven months of researching the things that I have found at the Denver airport, along with other researcher that were aiding me, it is my opinion that there had to be a large think tank that help create the layout and that there really were guide lines that were probably controlling the content of the paintings. It is either that or this artist has the same religion, which is Masonic, and the same mine set or he was subliminally controlled. You would have to do tons not pounds of research to put this many things together in a congruent theme and art flow. I have done paintings before and I know that these things didn't just happen, not with the impact that the meanings have.

Before I go any further I would like to say that it is my opinion that these paintings are not of what has happened in the past, they just can't be. What I really think they are is the "New World Order" peoples plans laid out in painting that they plan to carry out in the future. That is one of the things that I have found in my research about the Masons and the Nazi's is that they like to throw it in your face what they plan to do to you and then laugh at you because they have you to hypnotized or to blinded to see what it is that they plan to do to us. But this stuff is really in your face if you will only take the time to look at it, which I hope you will. And I am going to do the best I can to be your guide.

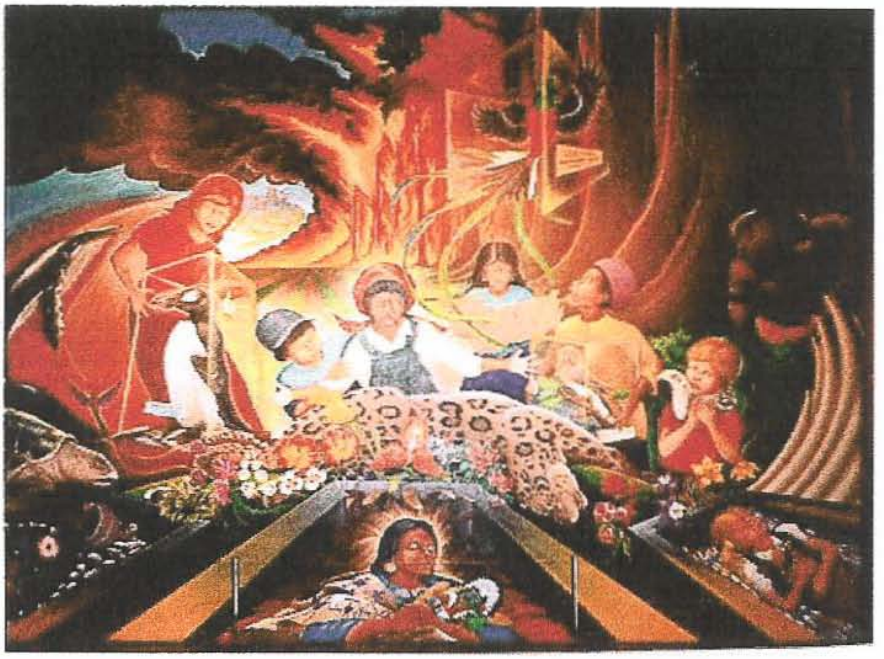
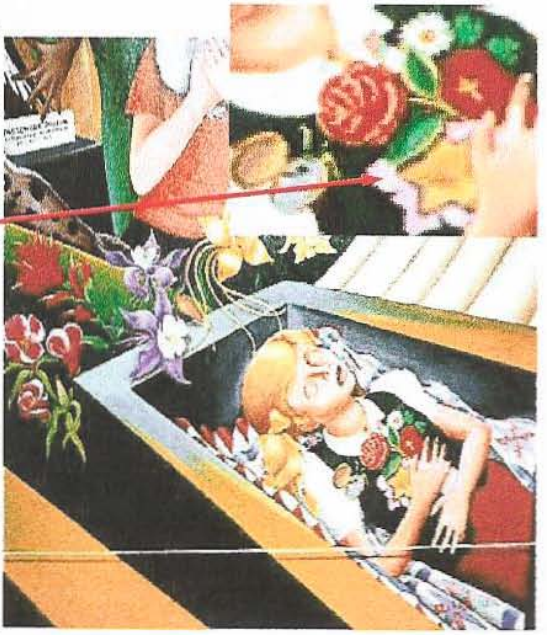
While we go through these paintings please try to remember everything that I have laid out in the front of the book with the Masonic knowledge or you will be lost.

To help you even further beside the definition in the Masonic material, don't forget to go over the word definition in this section. You will find them most enlightening.



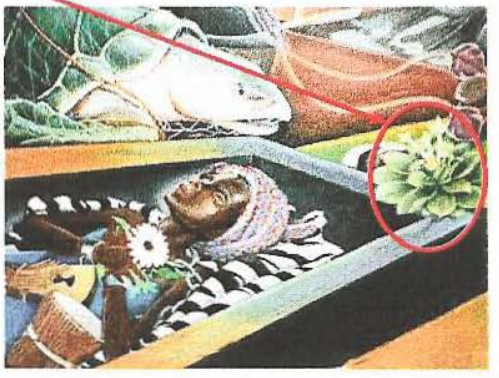


Painting # 1. = This one as you can see has three dead people with each one in their respective coffins. Let us start at the right and go to the left. The first dead person is a child. This child represents European/American, Jewish (what kind of Jew?) Christian child. She is wearing a "Star of David" that is like the ones' that the Nazi made the Orthodox Jews wear during W.W.II.

Since this painting is about the future can we assume that after what we have found out about "Lucifer's signs and symbols", that this child was done in by the "Mark of Lucifer" which is the six pointed star often called the star of David. Next we see that she is holding a Christian Bible and has a locket on with what looks like here families pictures in it and there is also a rose, could the rose represent the "Luciferian Order of the Rose", and a daisy on her chest.

In the next coffin is a native American Indian. This female Indian is holding golden corn in her hand. She also has a ceremonial Kachin doll in her arm. This little doll is holding a bell which is said to be a bell to be used to wake up the community. Then there are printed or woven ribbons draped across her and her right shoulder . The printing on them look like little aliens to me. And after reading the Mojave stories I would be almost certain that they are.

And the flower just outside of her coffin over the center of her head is a flower that bears a very close resemblance to female genitalia.
Up to the Indians right outside of the coffin is a flower that is called the Holy Ghost Orchid, and it looks like a globe with a Dove in it. Also you will see the Grand Master Flower.



To the far left is the Negro woman in her coffin and you can see chains around her neck and wrist as if she was a slave. What is so interesting about this part of the picture is the flower on the inside corner of her coffin is a little plant called "A Grand Master", what are the odds of a plant by that name just by chance being in this picture. A flower with a Masonic name.

On the far left is a Tortoise, remember a tortoise is another symbol for "Lucifer", and the whale or large fish which has satanic meaning.

In the back ground is a large city endanger of destruction from natural forces. The forest is on fire.

Next you see the Serpent Bird or Quetzal Bird and below it is a Panther and behind him are children crying and one child is holding a Inca table that means "Destruction to Civilization".

On the far right you can see a Buffalo Head and Seven Elephant tusk.

I had a person that is very knowledgeable on flowers and wild flowers to tell me that all of the flowers in these pictures were either poison or they would produce hallucination.

We know that the New World Order people do not like any race except their own, that they hate the black person, the red person and the gentile person and they have no respect for the female. We know that they are working hard to put into motion their plan to depopulate the earth. We know that the greed for money and power has given them a clear consent to enslave races and in some cases destroy whole races and civilizations in the past and plan to in the future. To say nothing of the different species of animals that have been erased or endangered. We know that they have no respect for our earth and the environment and are systematically destroying our rain forest and the inhabitants in the name of progress. But at the same time they have passed legislation that has put the environment and animals ahead of the unwanted humans of this earth, so that they can justify the taking of peoples land and homes away in the name of conservation of the environment. We know that they plan to do away with by what eer means and / or totally enslave the lesser classes of people that they deem below them. They plan to destroy the unity of family. We know that they now have the ability to control the weather which could cause massive earth destruction, not only to the human race but to every living thing on the surface of the earth while they ride the storm out in their well planned and well built underground cities and transit systems.

Painting # 2 = This picture is so large that my camera would not make a picture of the whole thing so here you have it in sections touched up with my new art program. In this mural we see all the many different races and nationalities of children coming together in song and dance. If you will notice they are all dancing on the Rainbow.

This picture is suppose to represent after the destruction. We can also see how the earth is now flourishing with the children (no adults around, ever) replanting nature and all the animals that were at one time endangered are now multiplying. We also see many different terrain regions of the earth that are now vibrant. This is a picture of the new Eden. Everyone is rejoicing! Don't you bet on it!

In the picture of the children we see a representation of many nations. The picture is balanced around a center focus where the children are planting what is called the "Salvation Flower", or "Holy Ghost Orchid which really has a center that looks like a Dove. The salvation flower really looks like an extrapolated Poppy flower. The child that is planting this flower is a Indian child with a golden crown or sun rays on his head and everything around his hands is illuminated. We see the side of the picture that has the lovely Spanish dancing girl, dancing with a Crane, (dancing with Lucifer), this is balancing with the other side which has two whales, three wolves and a Scottish/York dressed dancing boy. I guess he would be dancing if they get to achieved their plans and finally set up rule of their new empire in New York, the Scottish/ York Freemasons. The kilt bag has five black tassels on it which is (Scottish Rite) which means Earth, Fire, Water, Wind and Spirit. Also notice that there are thirty two children in brightly colored costumes clearly visible. Then there is off in the distance of the picture in a silhouette reaching for the whale is another figure. It is dark mysterious but it is the thirty-third figure. In the Masons when someone goes beyond the thirty third degree it is into the most secret miseries that is said to be the Illuminati, high level satanic worshippers, world controllers, such as the people in the United Nations, Council on Foreign Relations, Trilateral Commission, Builderbergs, and the Society of the Green Men. The researchers have shown that a large majority of the people in our government are members of some sort of secret society. Most are either members of the Council on Foreign Relations or The Trilateral Commission, all bad news. Also in this picture you will see a pair of Eagles and the Serpent Bird and his mate in the tree. There is also a Bohemian owl in a tree. To the left of the center of the picture is two ferrets, and butterflies. We see on the far left a boy with a board which has a serpent on it. Next to the Scottish boy is a girl in purple with a flaming torch and a dragon painted on her dress and the list goes on and on. Also notice the boy with the surf board that has a snake on it. This snake is the symbol of another secret society in the area of the orient.

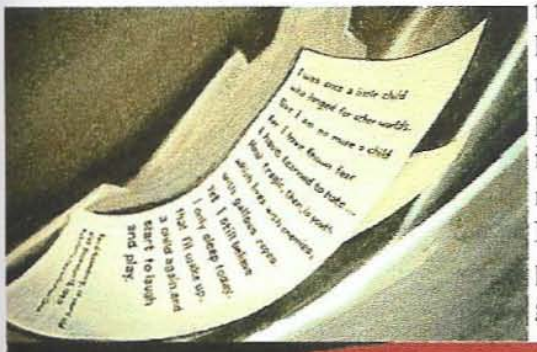
Painting # 3 = The first thing that catches you eye is the green man of war. This solider has a sword in one hand and a gun in the other and you never see his face to know who he is, he wears a mask of secrecy. It is kind of like what is going on out here you don't know who you are fighting, you just know that there is a war going on. You can see the city is destroyed, and the Dove seems to be leading the way for the sword. You can see children asleep on bricks.

They appear to be alone and cold. Next you see a road full of weeping people, the closest one to you is a mother carrying her dead baby and weeping and they all look like they are near death with that gray color of skin. In the lower right hand corner is a heart wrenching poem that a child wrote at Auschwitz Concentration Camp. You know our children my be writing poems like this someday in the near future if we don't wake up and take our country back. You know they have the concentration camps just about ready to put you the American citizen into. History has a way of repeating itself, sad but true.



Painting # 4 = In this huge picture you will see all the children of the nations gathering up their countries swords (which means real power), and turning them into this Nazi, excuse me, German child, I want you to look really close at this child's right hand. Here you see what we have been fearing for a long time, that iron fist is out of the velvet glove, the hand which is also totally out of proportion to the child's body. This is the hand of that giant ugly thing on the ground and with the hammer he is beating the swords into plows, (a plow in relation to earth is considered another Phallic symbol), with the Doves, United Nations, looking on.

Now look on the ground, war is dead, but look at the trophies on

Now look on the ground, war is dead, but look at the trophies on his hat. There you see a Eagle with his claws in a nude female with seven visible skulls and on his shoulder is a decoration with seven, five pointed stars. In the lower right hand corner of the picture you see the soldiers stand that the soldier has fallen off of and on the bottom it says, war, violence and hate. And the entire picture is warped up in a rainbow ribbon.

I was once a little child who longed for other worlds.
But I am no more a child
for I have known fear
I have learned to hate...
How tragic, then, is youth which lives with enemies,
with gallows ropes.
Yet I still believe
I only sleep today,
that I'll wake up,
a child again, and start to laugh and play.

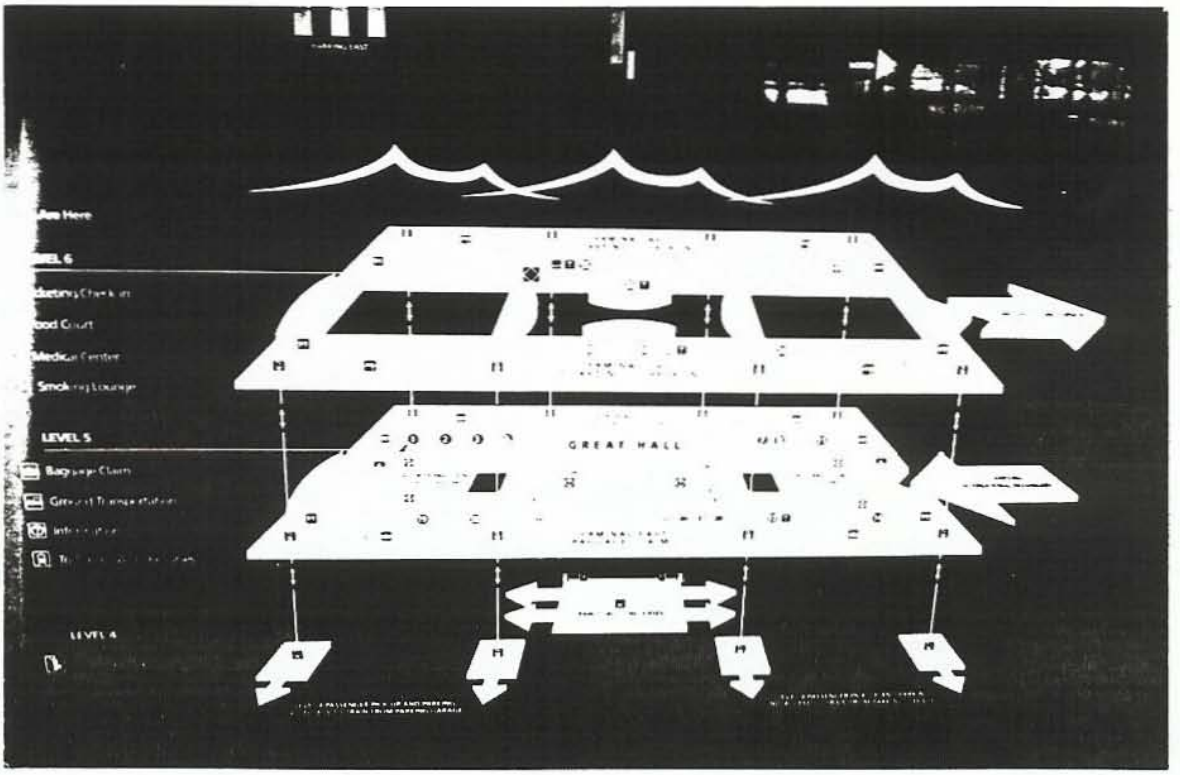
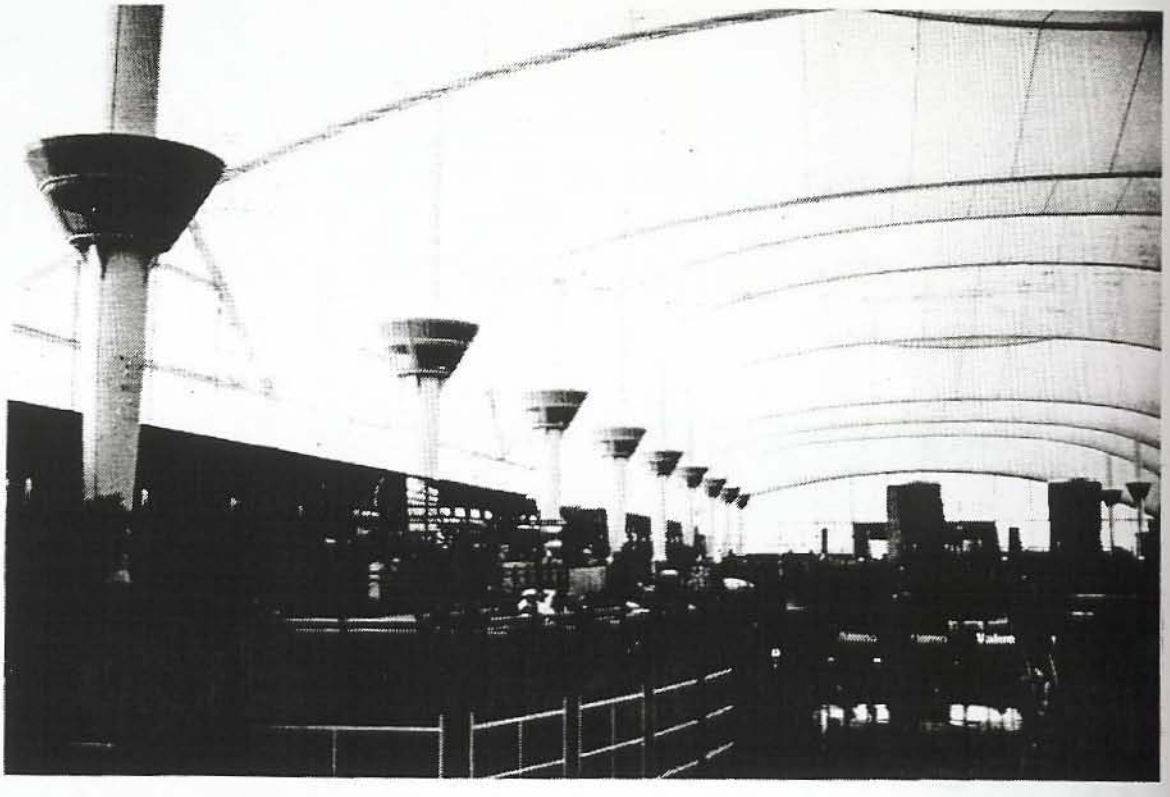
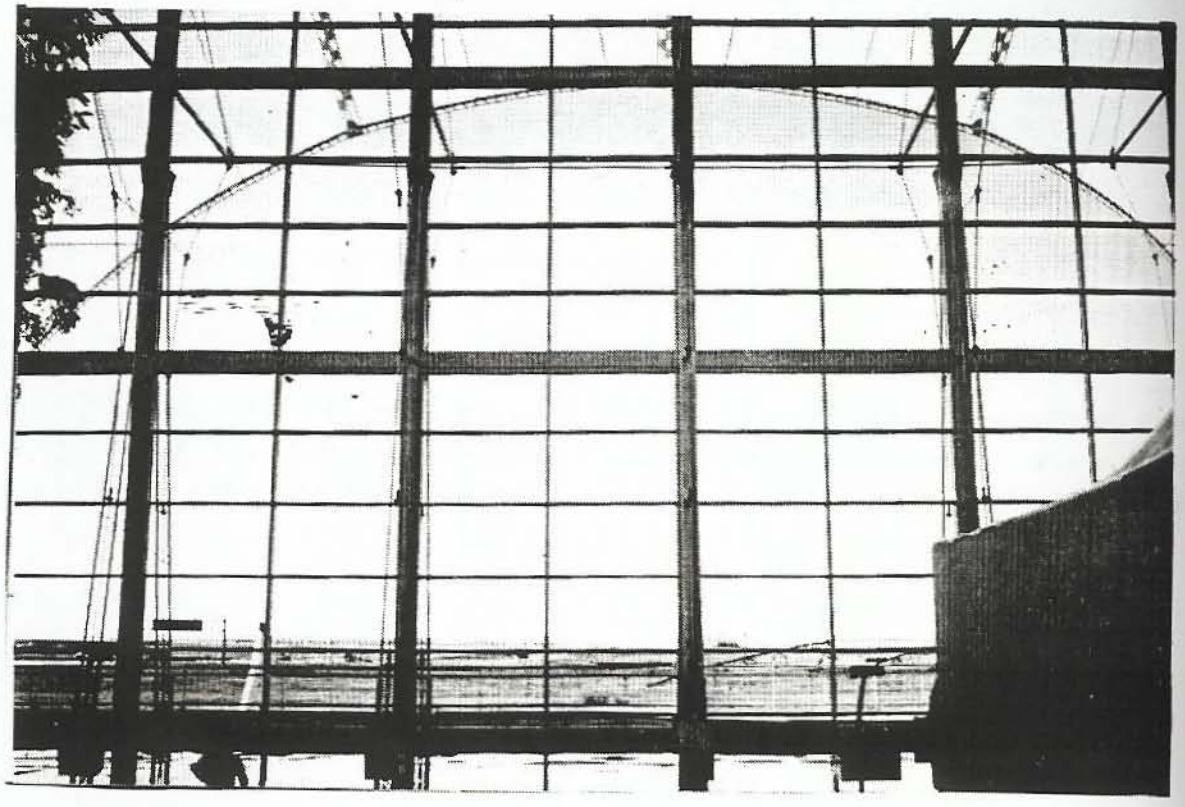
TOURING THE "GREAT HALL " OF THE DENVER INTERANTIONAL AIRPORT

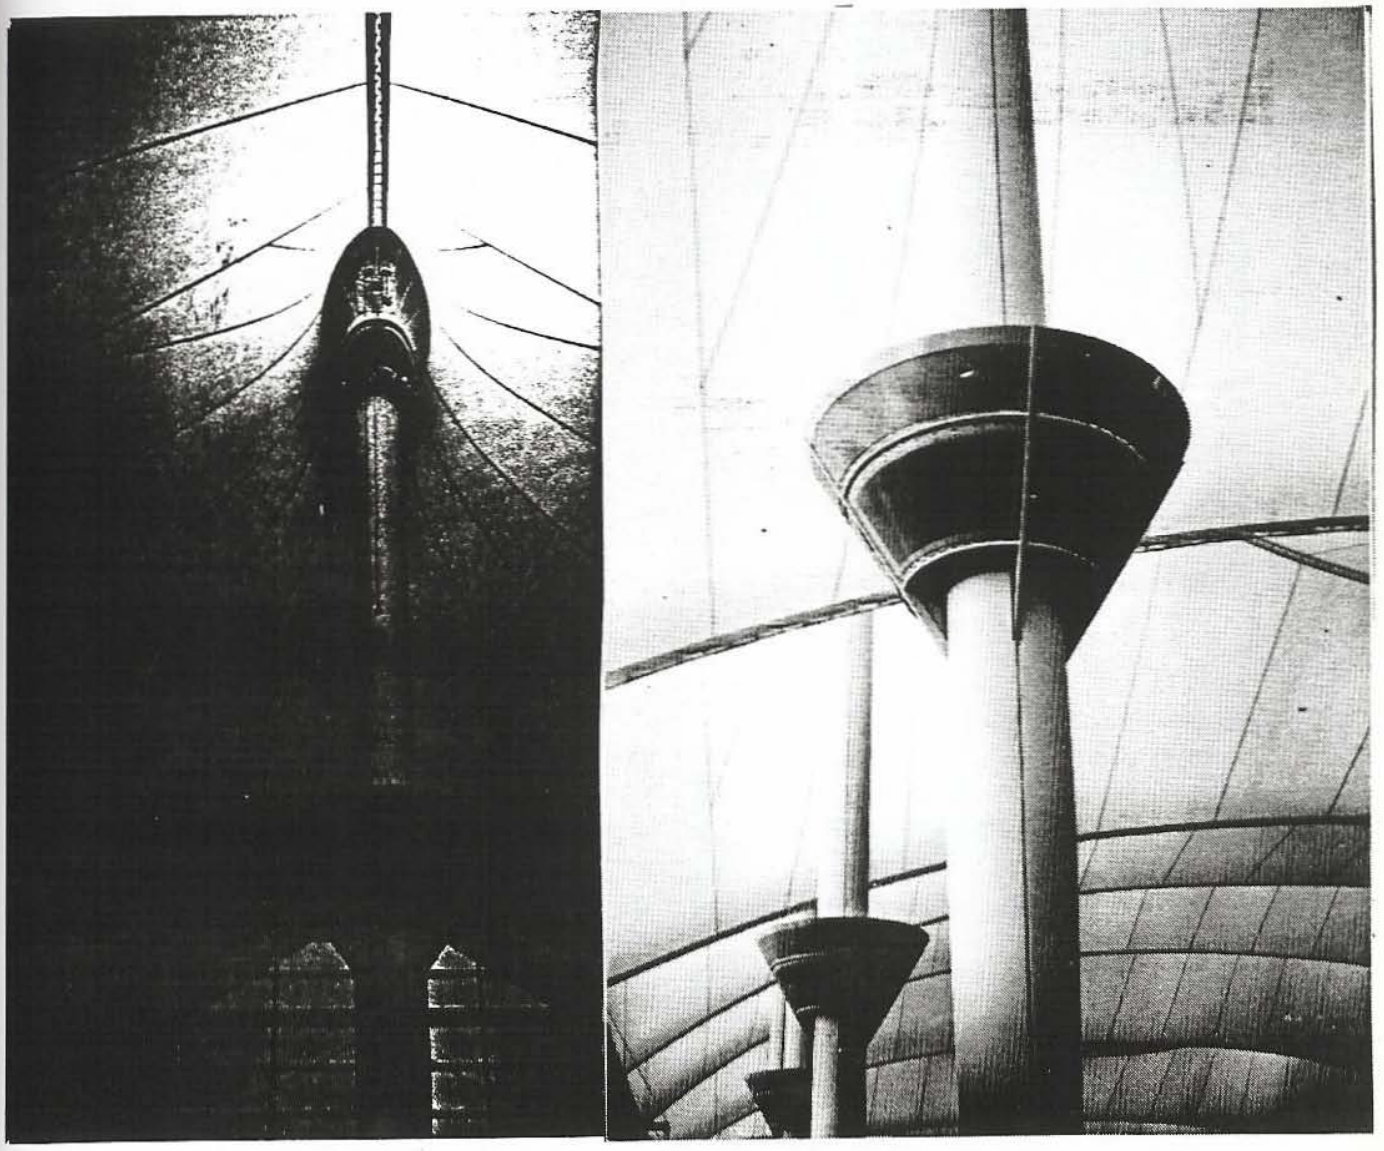


This is the locator board in the entrance hall into what is called "The Great Hall", which would lead one to think that you were entering into a Masonic Temple if you have done very much research about the mason's and have knowledge about their inside secrets.

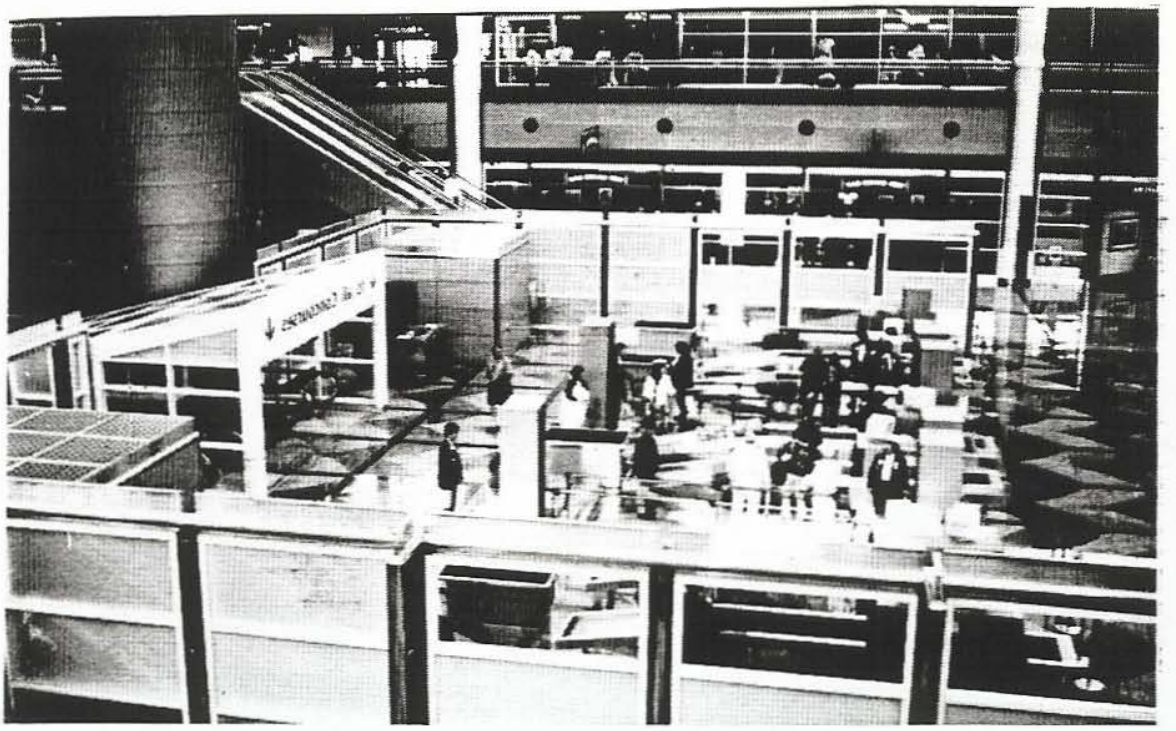


This is two views inside the main terminal building area under the giant tent. The top photo shows part of one of the rows of 34 towers that hold up the giant tent. The bottom view is of the south end of the area with a huge window area in the same area you will see in the lower right corner the capstone.

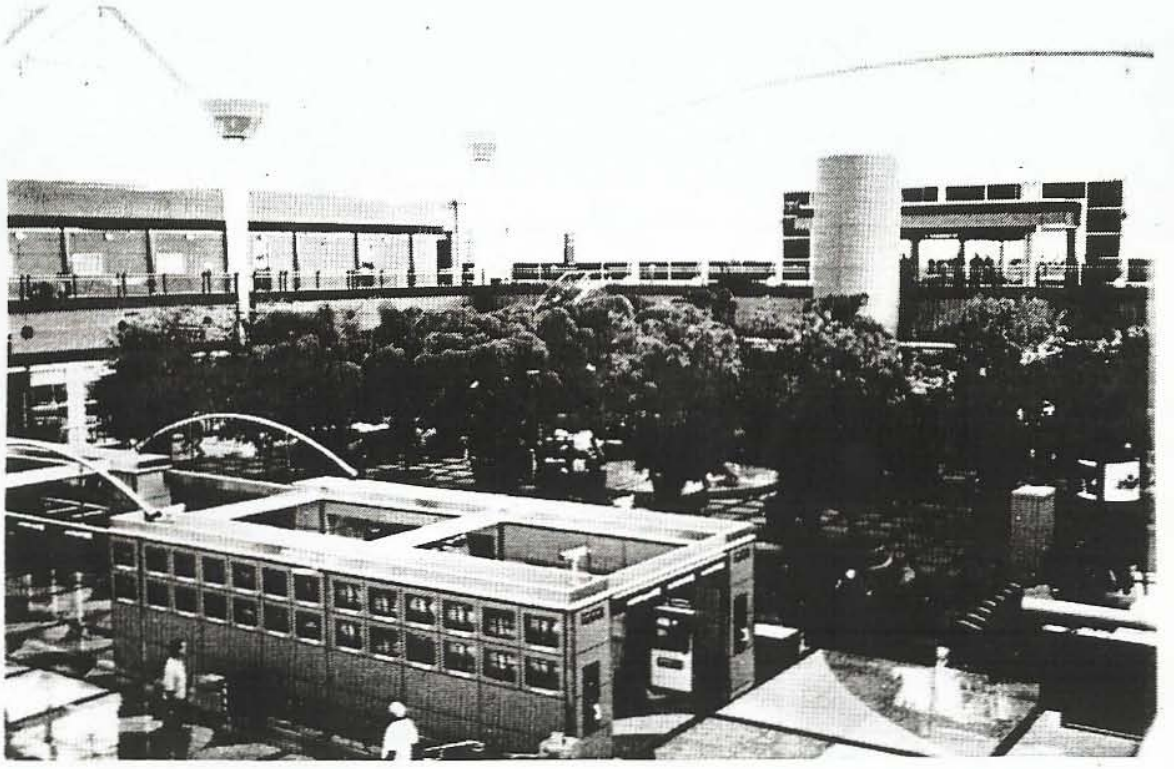


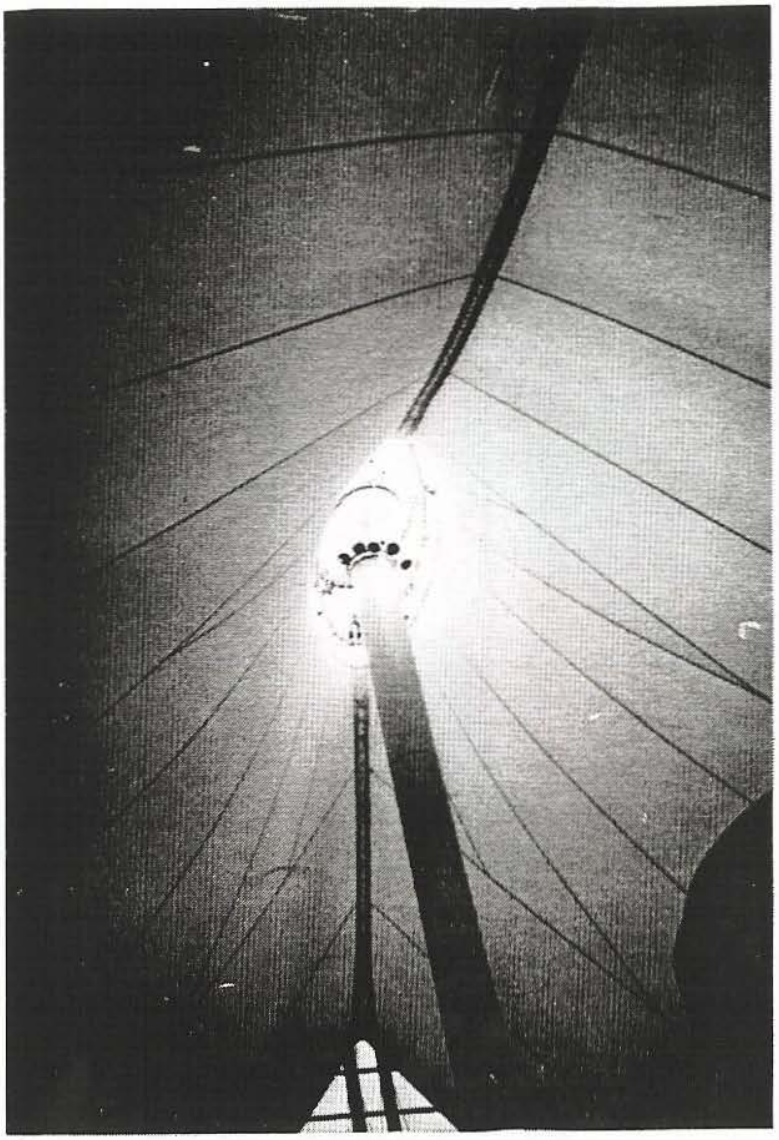


This is one of the 34 towers that support the giant tent a the airport. These are so large that there are many people that think that the large section in the middle which reasonable a crows nest on a large sailing ship, that it might be possible for a medium size person to stand in these as if designed for a guard stand.



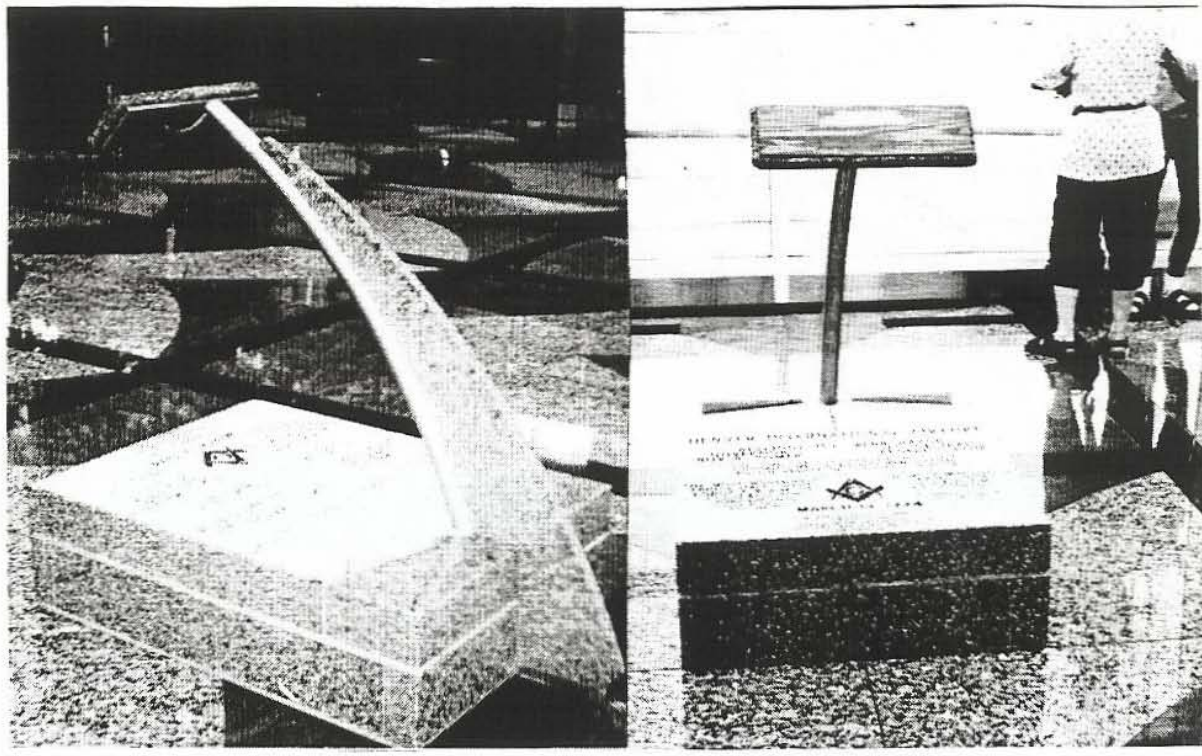
This is a view of the Great Hall in the top picture which shows the "Wackenhut", security check station that you go through before entering the tram area. The bottom picture is of the booths that have the monitoring system for, arrivals and departures along with phones, bank (ATM) machines. Please notice that in these areas everything is moveable nothing is permanent except the elevators and escalators, walls and floor.



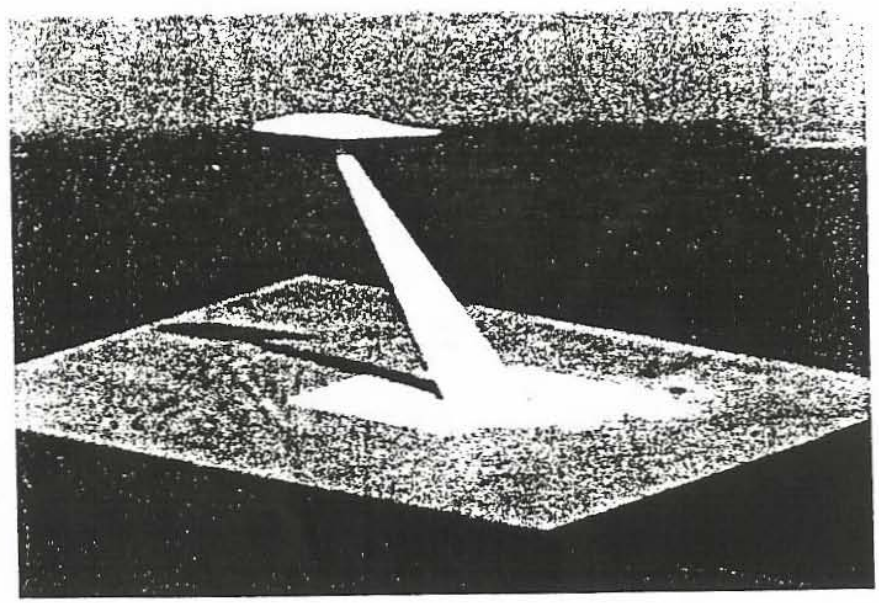


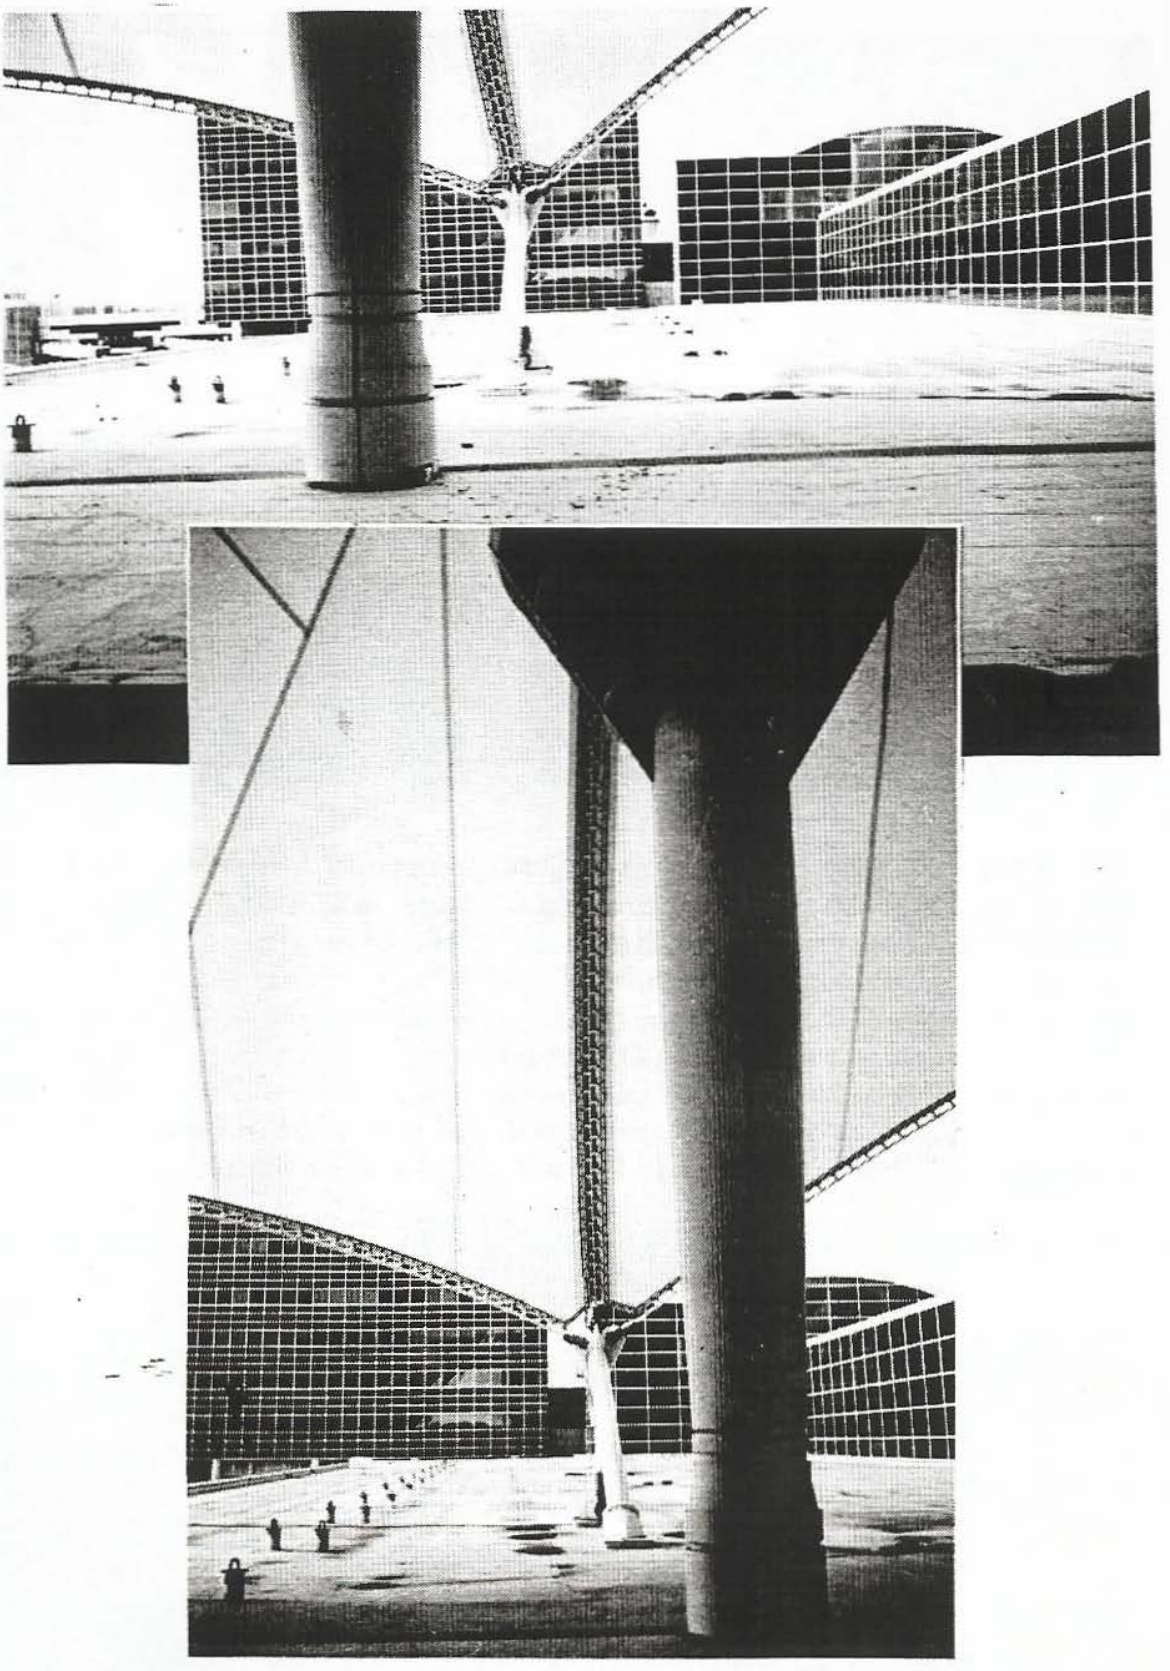
This tower is one of the ones which is also equipped with the sky light system in it which, if it was possible for a person to be up there in that crows nest would have a 360 degree vista. Like the other towers is fully equipped with a lighting system and what looks like some kind of camera system. One thing that I find interesting about the lighting system in these towers is that they have the capability to change color to any of the primary colors of the rainbow.

This is a picture of just some of the unusual Masonic and Nazi floor designs. Some people say that this could be a guide system for interdimensional craft with some of the marking being portal diagrams to enter our dimension.

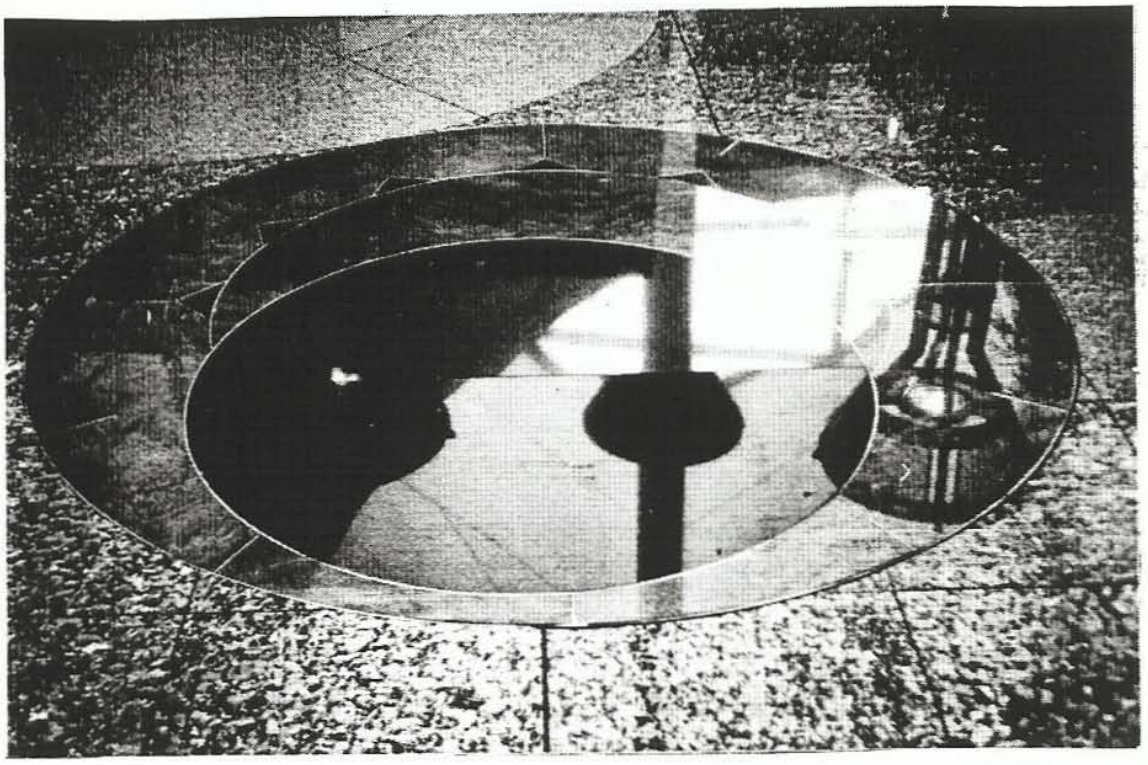


This is two more views of the airport dedication capstone. One thing that I found very strange about this piece of work is that it appears to be unfinished. With all the money that has been spent on the airport and all of the time why would they put this unusual geometric design in it with, what appears to be a plaque stand, with just a piece of plain plywood affixed to the stand. To my knowledge it is still the same way. The engineer that was with me the first time I went to the airport told me that this stand is probably waiting on a key pad to help direct saucers into the terminal area. It is also strange that it looks very much like this structure that is found at Lockheed's Hellendale, California facility and its use is till not known.

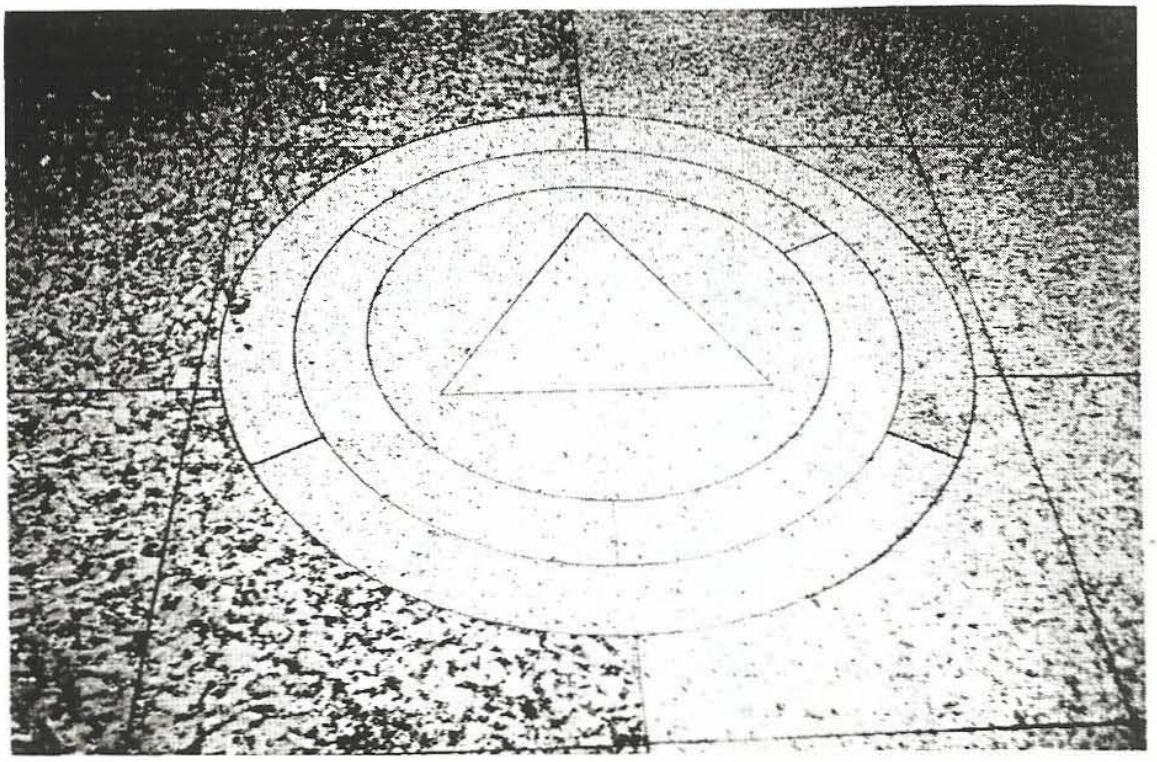


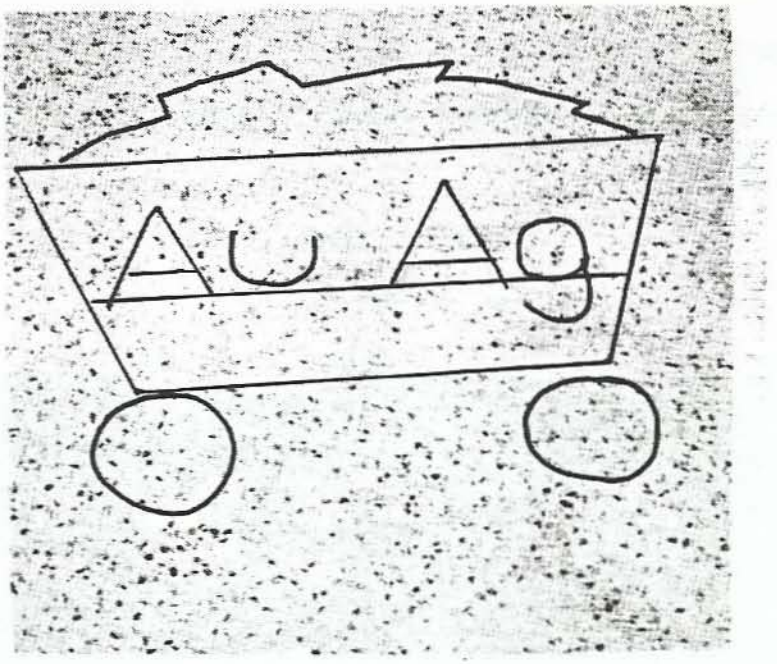


On these two pictures you can see that on the roof adjacent to the mezzanine area of the Great Hall which has a door leading to this area, you can see not only landing lights but tie-downs for helicopters.

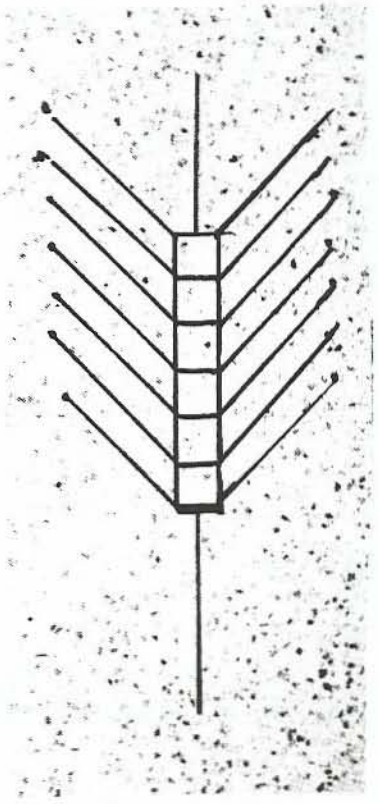


The above is a picture of a Masonic/Nazi symbol that is in the Great Hall floor, the black circle is representative of Saturn over the sun. The lower picture is Masonic and is the circle within a circle with a pyramid which is representative of the Royal Arch mason's and is the same symbol that you will see on the back of your one dollar bill.

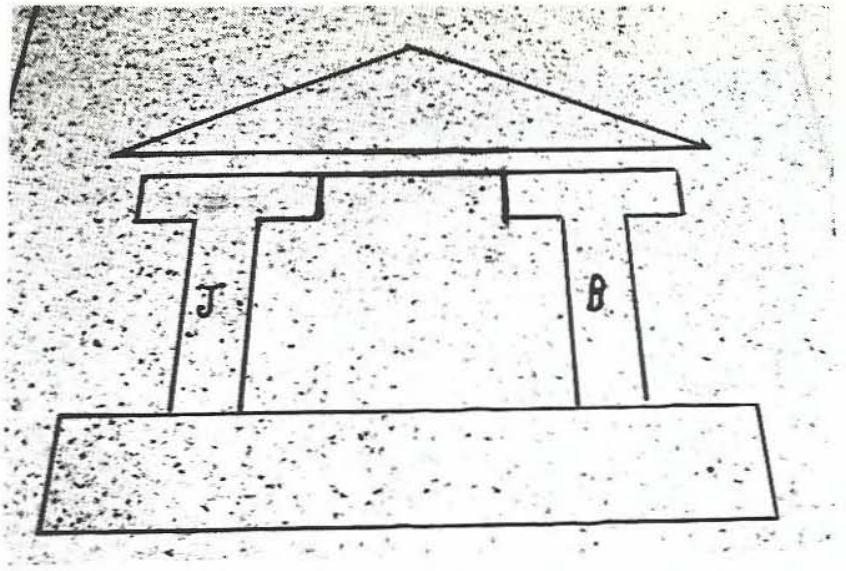




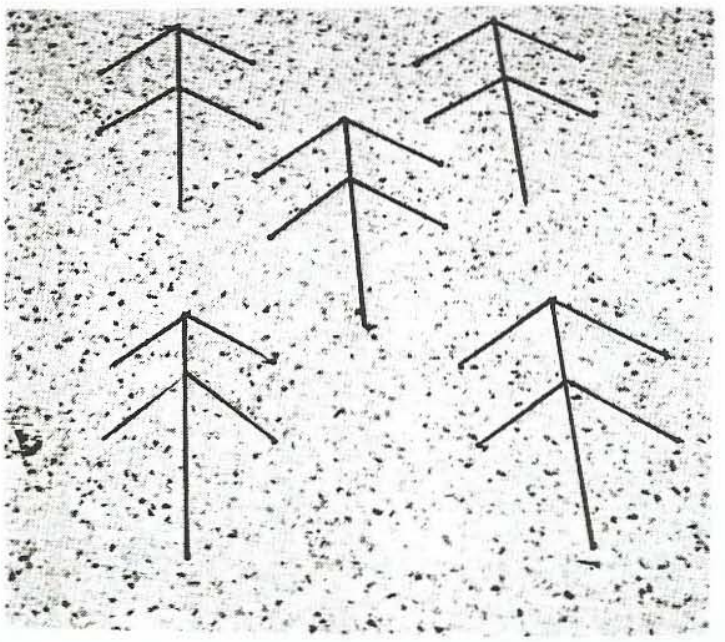
The Alchemist "Gold and Silver"



The Communist symbol for "May Day",
May 1 is the day of celebration.

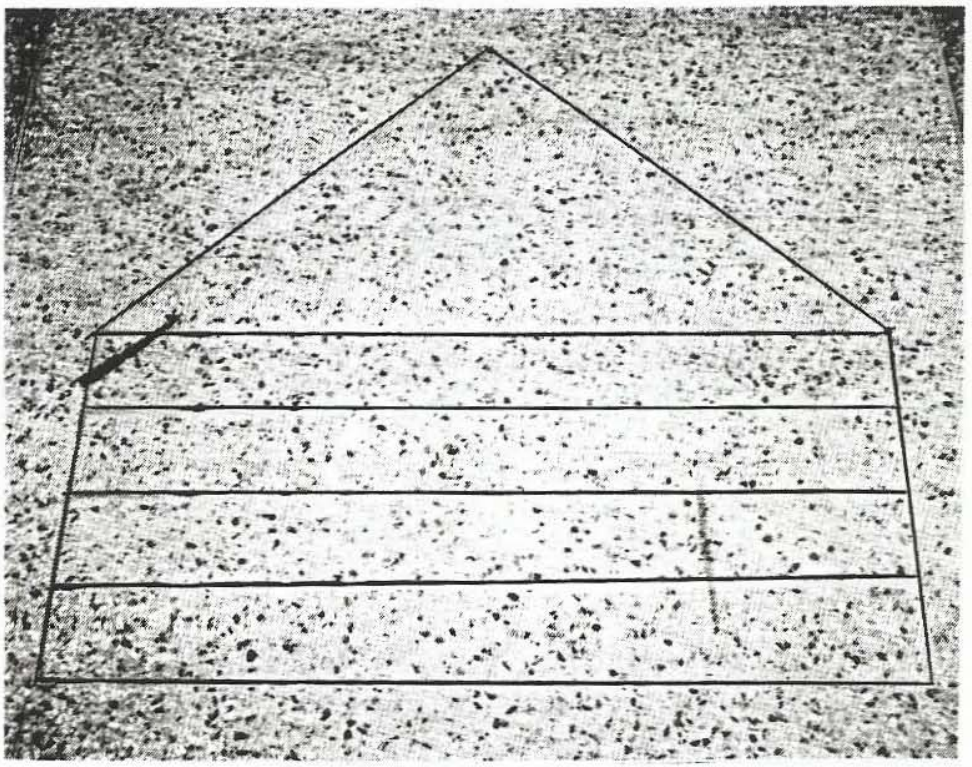


The entrance to a Masonic Temple with the pillars, Jachin and Boaz.

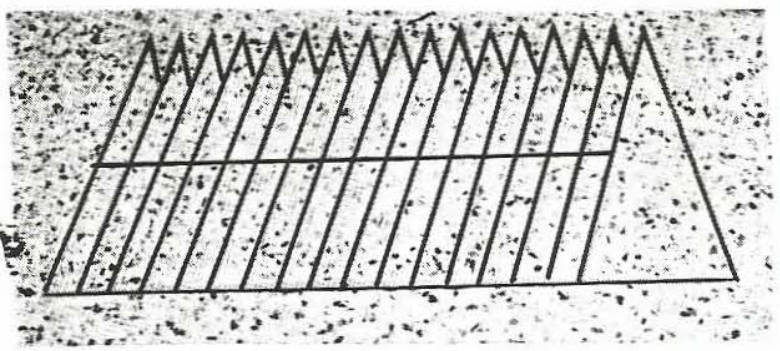


Trees, these could possibly represent "Tall Cedar's".

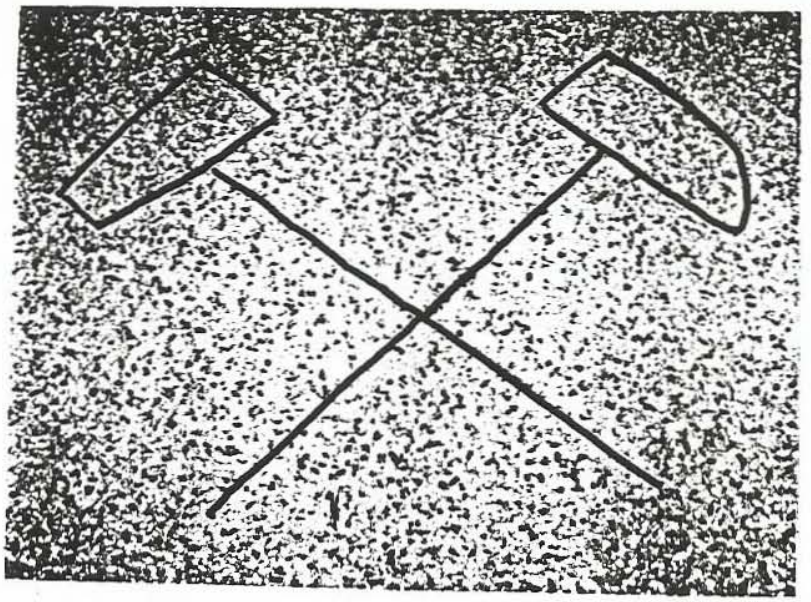
On this page are just a few of the designs that you can see in the floor in the "Great Hall" and "Tram" areas of the airport. These designs that are done in the light oat meal floor are very hard to see, but if you take the time to look you will see many Masonic symbols and then again a few common designs mixed in to confuse you.



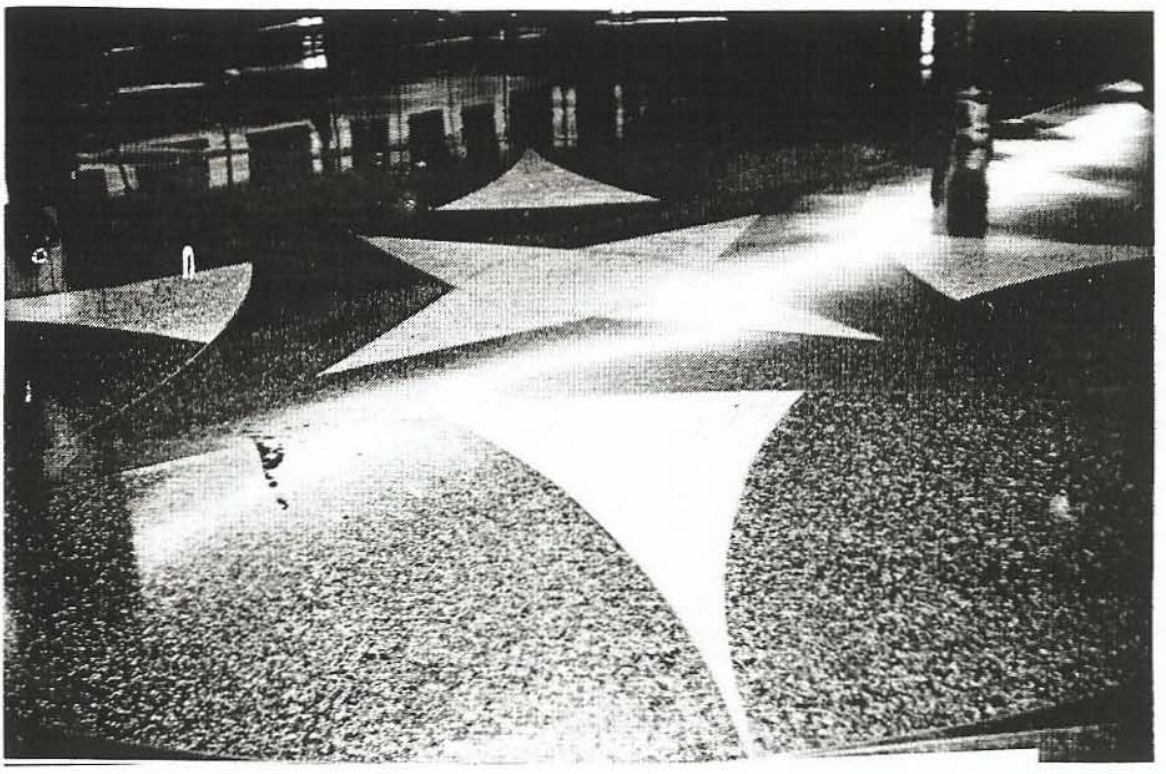
Subterranean Construction



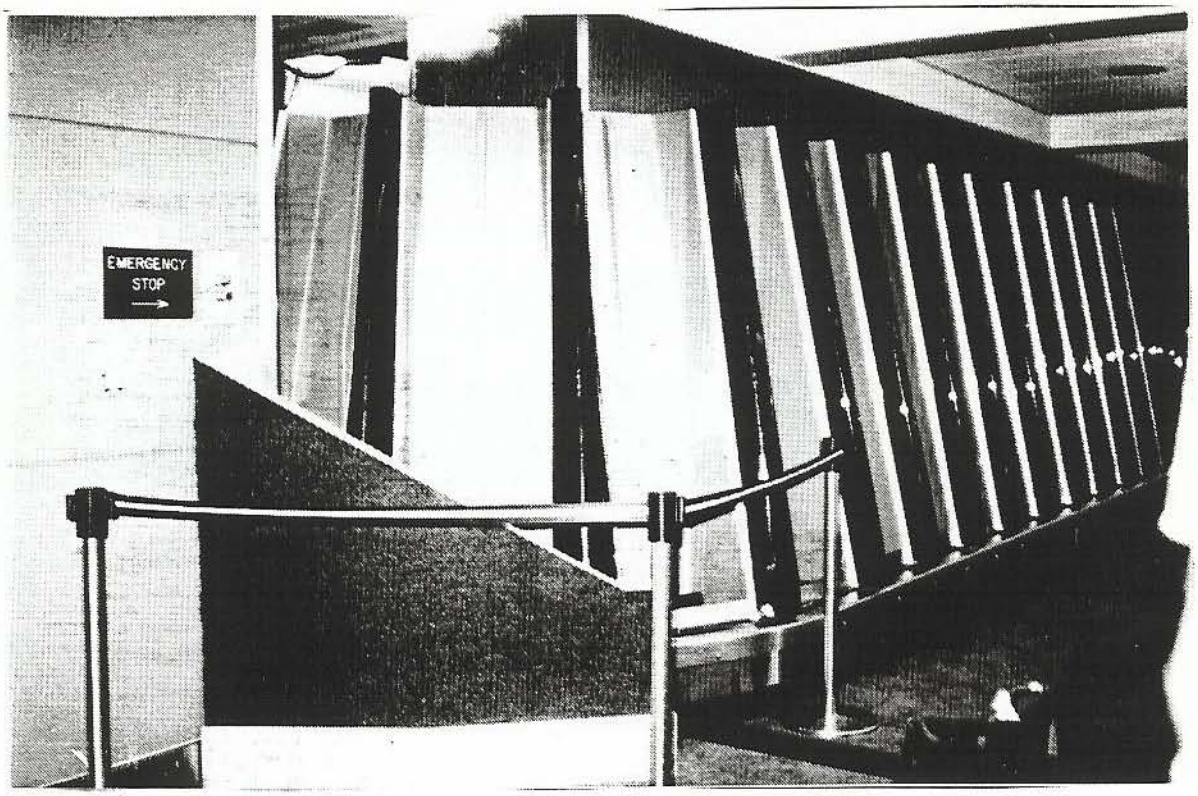
The U.S. Air Force Academy 's all -faith chapel , It has seventeen triangles on each side making a total of 34.



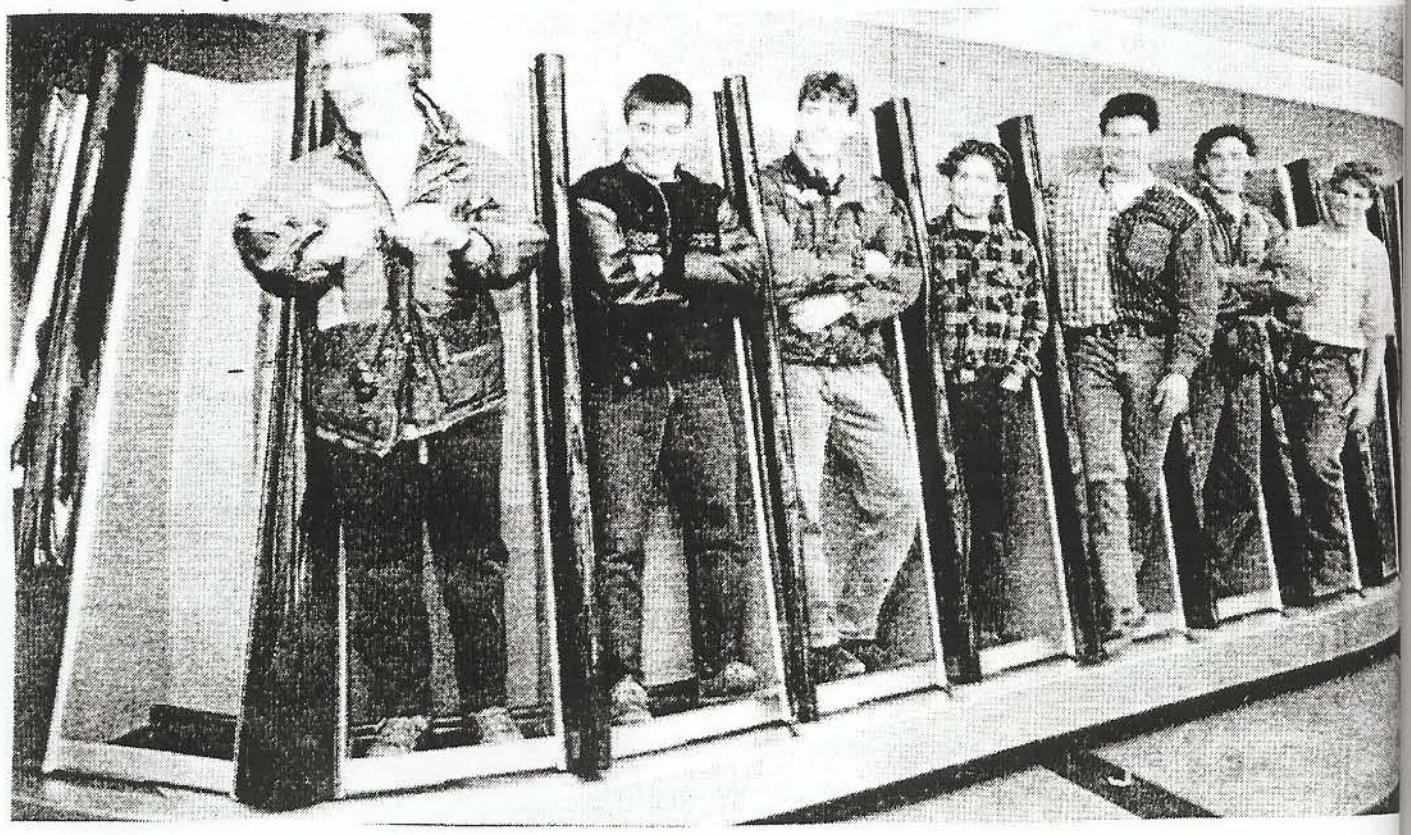
The Masonic "Hammer".

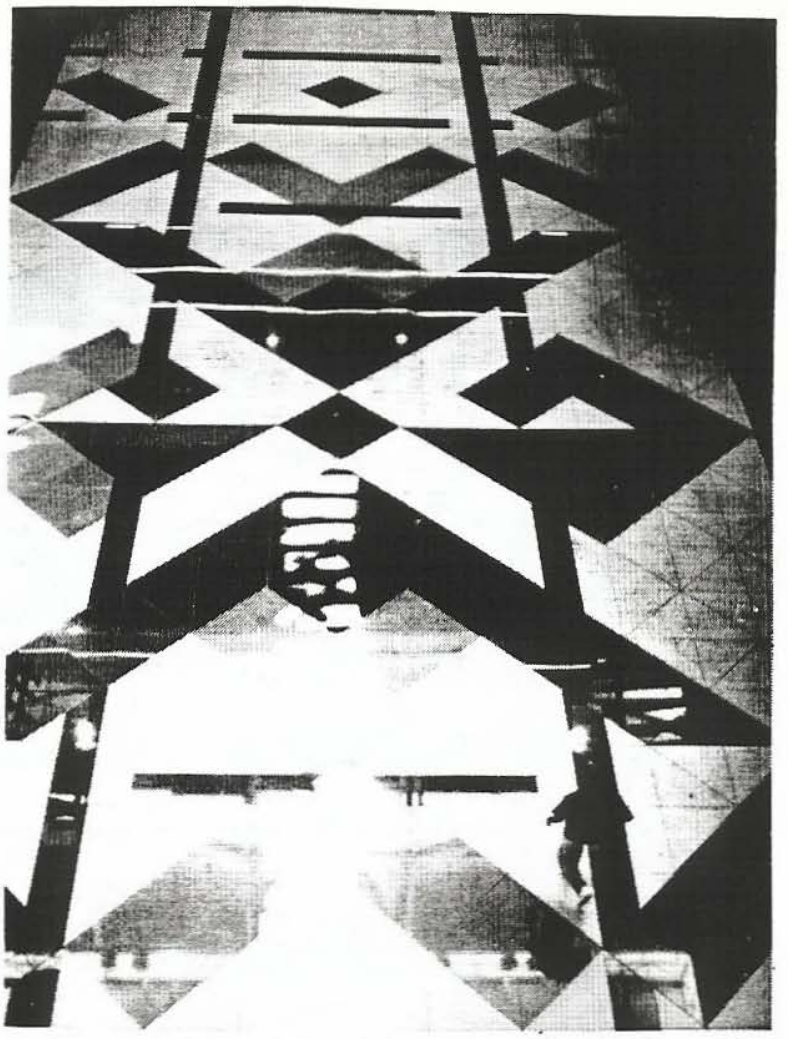


This appears to be a compass pointing in all directions.

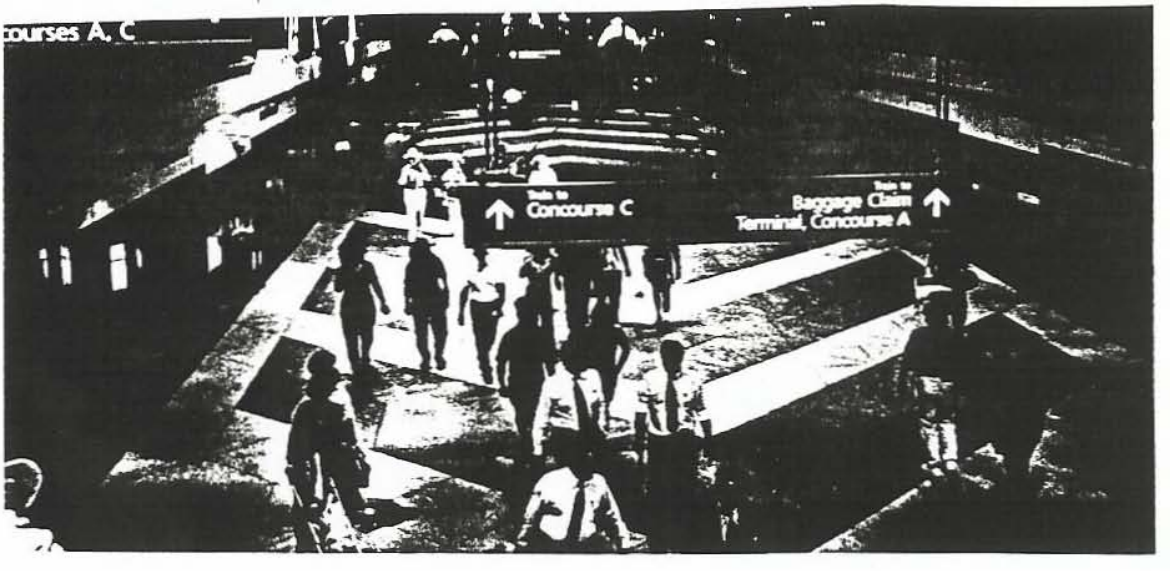


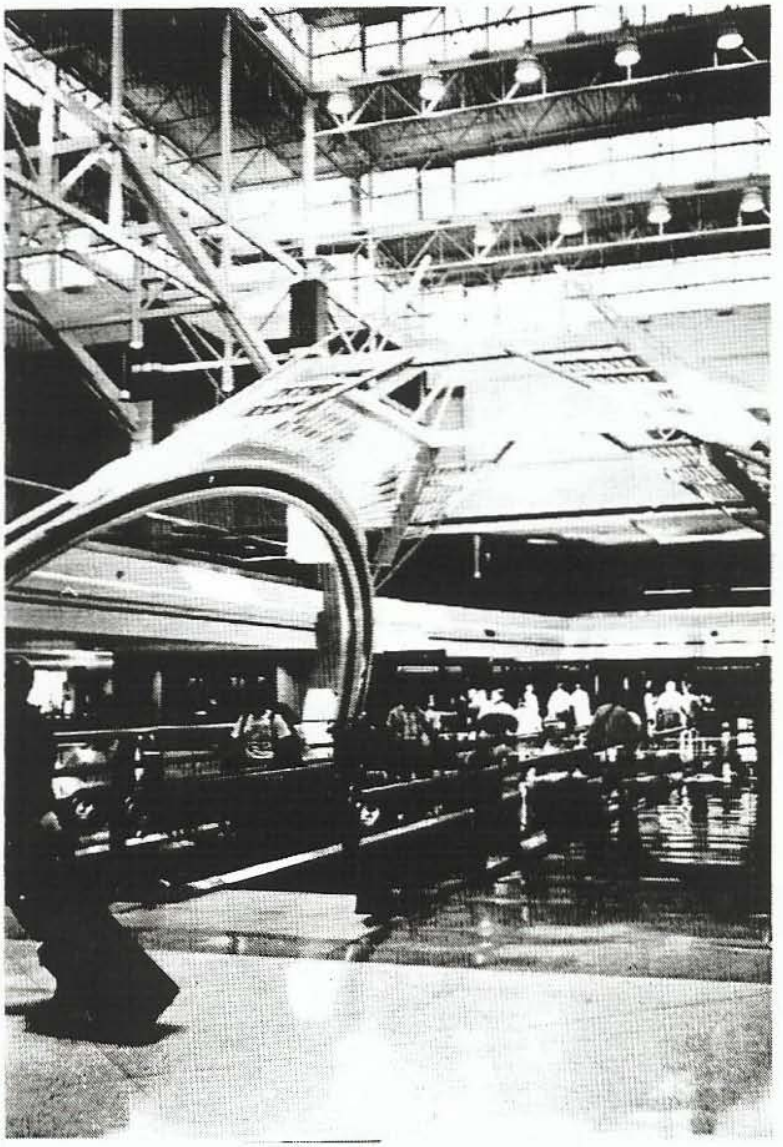
This is the new type of ski, baggage carrier, system that is in Denver Airport. I find it very strange that these carriers have to be so large in order to transport ski's. But I must say that it really isn't a big surprise to see that they are the perfect size for a full grown person.



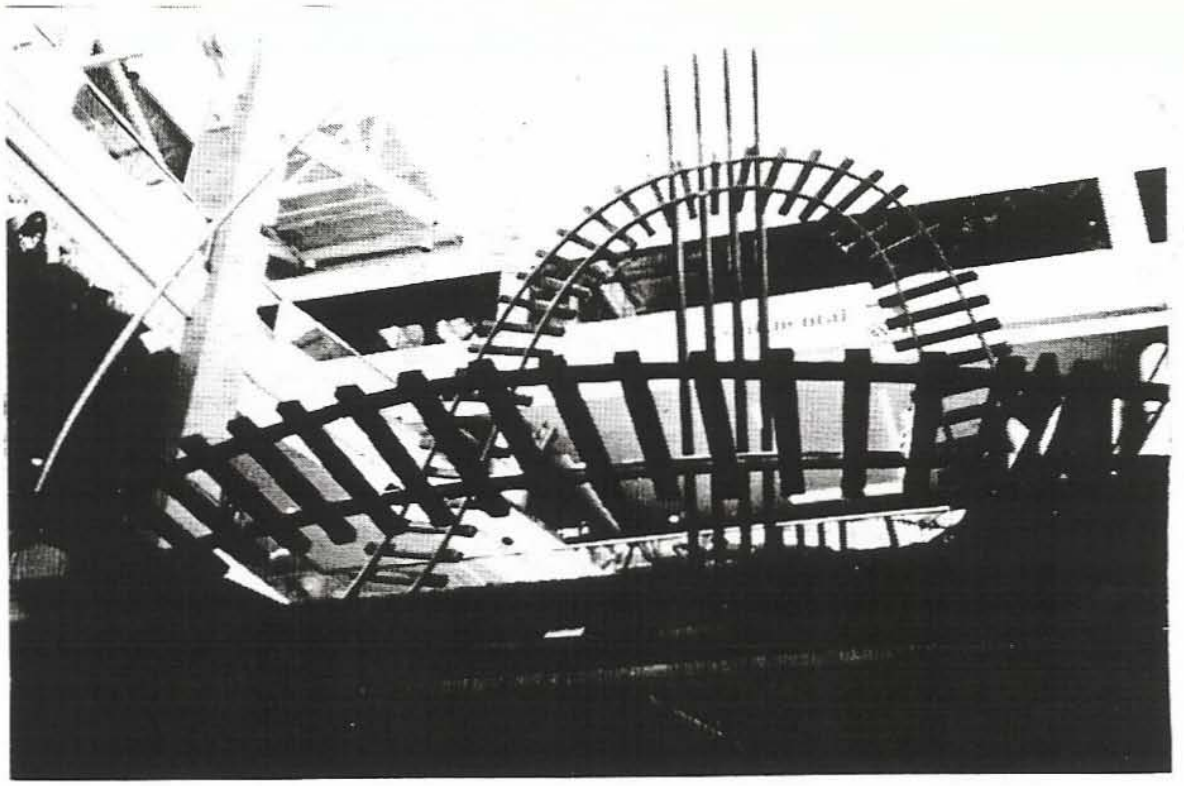


The above picture is of the floor in "Concourse A", notice the large 90 degree angles, they almost look like a stealth bomber. Then in between each one that is facing nose to nose you can see the Masonic "G". Then you have all of that laying on top of railroad tracks. Below you have "Concourse B" with the 90 degree chevron's which is a square box over a box which mean chaos and confusion.

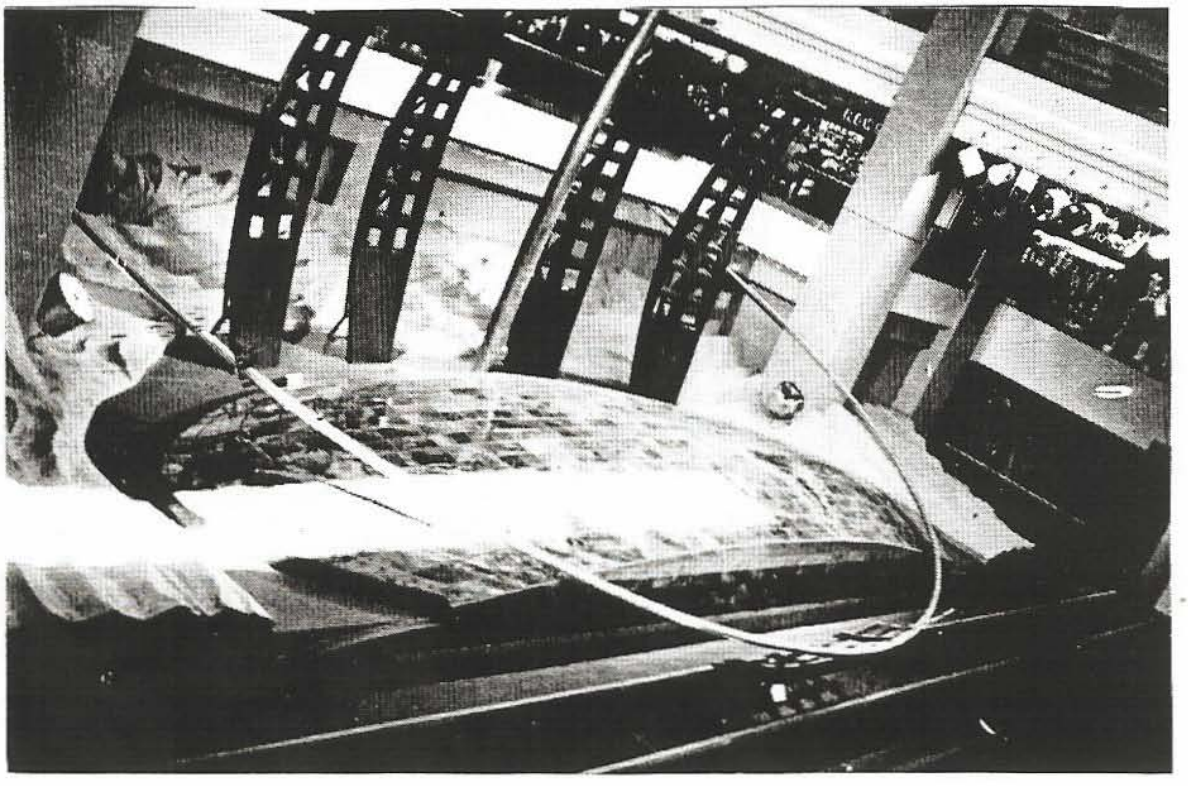


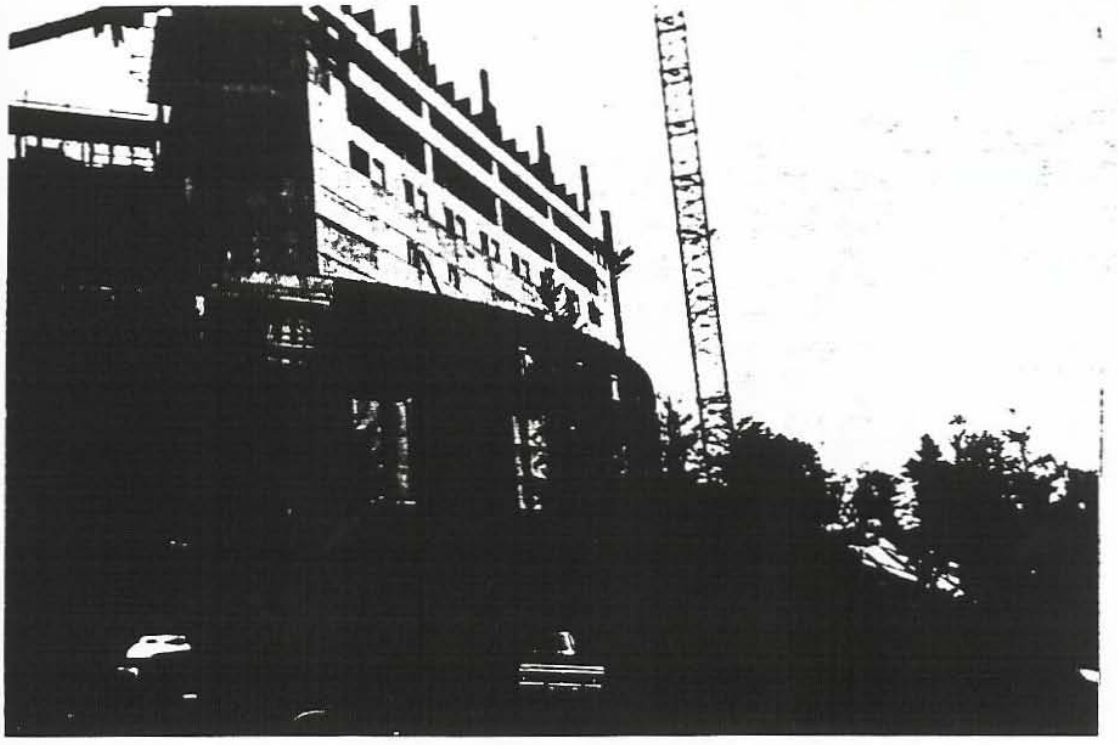


In the "Concours B" area of the airport you will find this huge neon light rainbow pyramid that is over the moving sidewalks with a large open area above it.

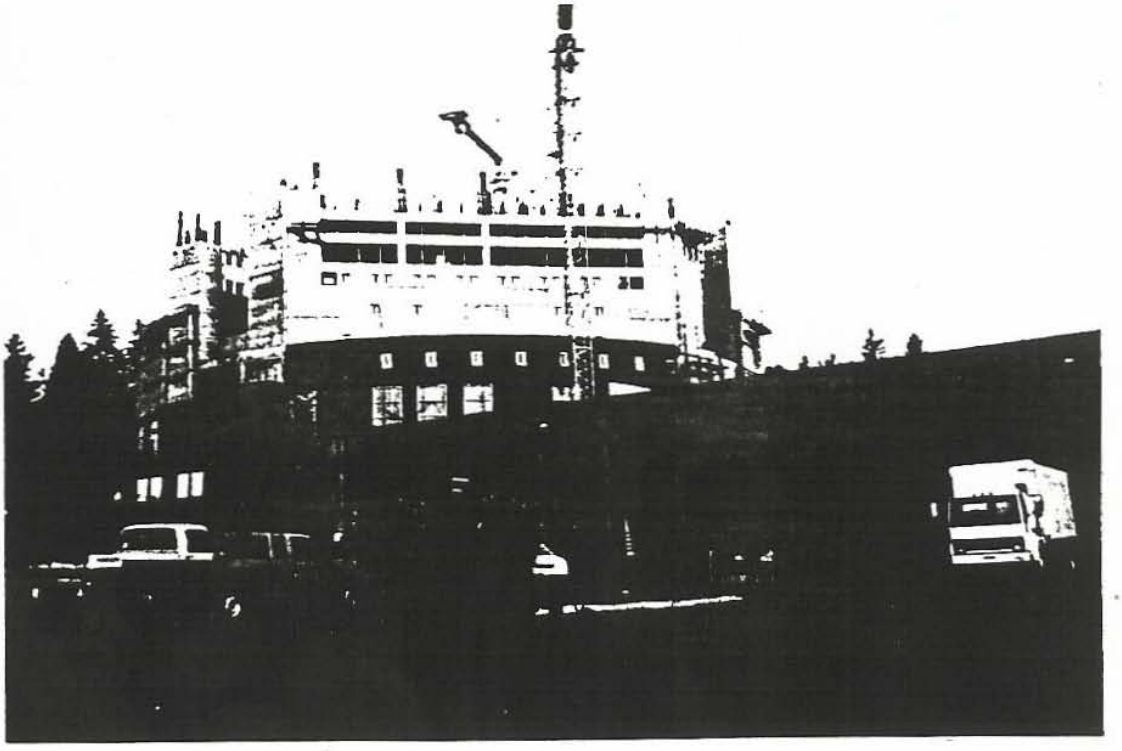


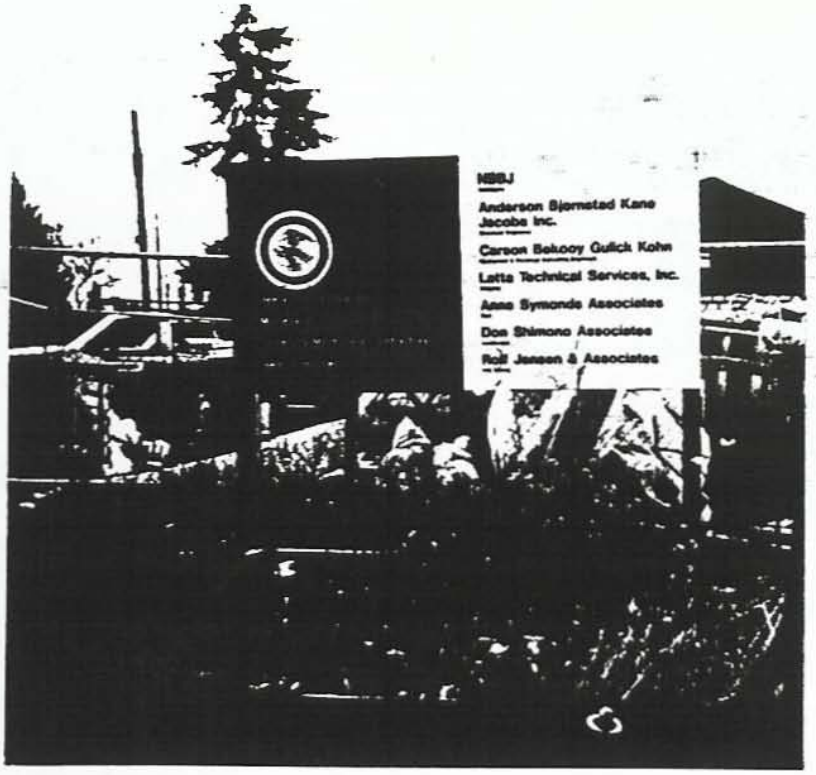
These are pictures of the strange art work that is in "Concourse A", one is of an arch made out of railroad track. I found this really interesting in light of the fact that the railroads own all forms of transportation and communication. The second picture is a marble map of the world with the huge screens of some kind over powering it.





This is the new Federal prison being built at SeaTac Airport in Washington State. Why are they building so many prisons at airport. I don't have a picture of the one at Oklahoma City but it is huge also.





This is the new Federal prison being built at SeaTac Airport in Washington State. Why are they building so many prisons at airport.

All of the following pictures are of the underground area at the Denver International Airport. There really is not much that I can say about them other than most of them are areas that are not being used, dead baggage equipment, long highways, many chain link fences and locked up fences that lead to lower levels and to what I know not, many large open areas not being used, many large fenced in areas not being used.

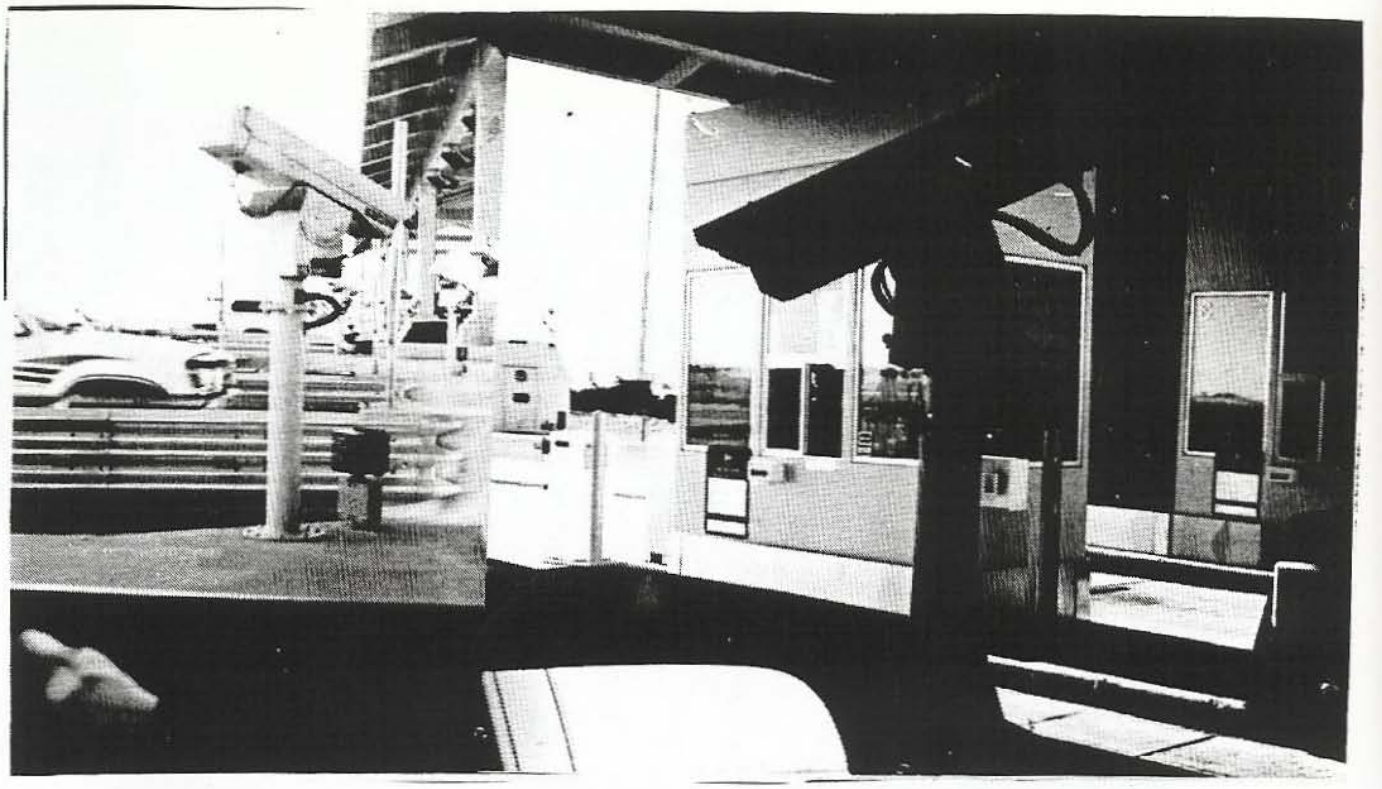
CONCRETE TUNNELS

This is a picture of one of the long four sided concrete tunnels at the Denver International Airport that runs along adjacent to the tram tunnels. There is only one entrance into this concrete tunnel under DIA from the tram tunnels. One end is open in the working areas of the underground and at the very end of the tunnel where the line ends at Concourse "C" , there you will find a huge steel door that is large enough for a dump truck to enter.

The steel doors open onto 55 square miles of open flat empty land that could be used for anything.

The one thing that I found most interesting about the concrete tunnels is that about every five feet on the ceiling, if you look closely in the picture you can see the water sprinkler rods that have four sprinkler heads on each one of the supply lines. It really seems out of place to have so many water sprinklers in a area that has nothing that would burn because everything is concrete or steel. Or could it be in the plans to be used for something sinister in the future.



After traveling almost ten miles on "Pena Boulevard to arrive at the airport entrance plaza you will be greeted by this sight for vehicles entering and leaving the airport. The very high tech surveillance camera takes a picture of your car tag and registers it on a magnetic strip on you parking ticket and when you leave and give the tell at the exit point your ticket and if it does not match your car tag you are in trouble. Then on to the airport.

Private Conversations with Phil Schneider

Phil Schneider was the engineer that went into the underground area of Denver International Airport with me on my first trip down into the underground facility and work areas at DIA.

He pointed out many things to me, such as, on the lowest level we could go into in the underground was very hot, not cool like a basement. He said that it was hot because there were many levels below it and the heat from there was rising from below us. He looked at the electrical panels as we passed them and a crew of electricians were working on the panels and he said they were N.S.A. and that the size of the panels would indicate that there were at least eight levels below this lowest level that we were on in the Denver International Airport underground.

After leaving the underground we went to the Great Hall were Phil pointed out many aspects of the decor that he termed as , Masonic, Nazi and alien oriented. Which are discussed in Pandora's Box II.

While we ate lunch Phil discussed bits and pieces of knowledge that fit into the big picture of the Masonic /Satanic conspiracy that is going on at this time on our planet and how that and the negative alien agenda is working together.

He told me about the time when he was in the battle in the underground cavern where they accidentally broke into a nest of the large grays aliens. The one thing that I remember so well is the description of the large gray's eyes. He said that in the fight with them, one of them that he killed, the eye shields popped out and revealed yellow snake eyes with the up and down type of pupil like a reptilian. He said that the black lenses that covered their eyes is for protection to the light. He said that their eyes are very sensitive to light unless it is a particular hue. He ask me if I had noticed that all the interstate and city street lights now have a pink hue to them? He side that, that hue of pink is the only light that their eyes can handle without the black lenses.

I though that was really interesting because 12,000 years ago and more when these reptiles were roaming earth in the open the hue of light both day and night was pink because the great oceans were in the atmosphere about 11 miles above the earth, which changed the light spectrum.

He also discussed the underground bases / prisons camps. He said that there are thousands of children being used in these underground prison camps and that when they are physically all used up and can not go on , that the nasty Draco's kill, slaughter and eat them on the spot.

My question was how do they control so many slaves? The answer was that they all wear a necklace that controls the brain to make the slaves think that they are happy. Then I remembered the article in Pandora's Box about the happy halters for horses that were originally tested by and approved for human use by the F.D.A. Now I know where the things are being used.

Phil gave me pictures that he said his father made at the bombing of the Bikini Atoll in these you can see saucer craft fleeing the bomb site.

Phil said that the American and Japanese and other governments found out that there was a huge build up of aliens on the Atoll and that they were planning at that time to invade Earth at what was one of our weakest moments in time. The whole world had been at war for years.

The governments came together and agreed that they must end the war and joint together to fight a greater foe, the big gray aliens. So the Japanese agreed to allow the American's to bomb Nagasaki and Hiroshima to finally end the war because the next target was some 28,000 aliens and their ships at the Bikini Atoll. To buy Earth time to advance in technology and power to fight them off sometime in the future. "Independence Day Scenario"

Meanwhile since 1947, our government has captured many downed alien craft and along with their technology that they have had and been developing since the 1890's because of Tesla's technology they, mankind, first went to the moon before the turn of the century and the elitist of the world have had a type of flying saucer or round wing craft since the 1920's. In 1952 our government had a fleet of 500 inter-stellar round wing aircraft. They were first designed, and built at a secret base hidden in a valley in British Columbia and later was moved to Dulce. In the United States.

They successfully flew to the center of the Earth for a meeting with the Inner Earth people and then on to Venus in 1952. All of this is explained in the new book by John Livermore by the name of "The Secret Development of The Roundwing Plane". This is all new information that has never been out before.

The common everyday "Joe", out here on the street has no ideal of the extent of the technology that mankind, the elite, has because they have us ignorance and enslaved to a primitive life style. We get just enough to keep us happy.

Humans on Earth are doing the manufacturing for these aliens because they don't have the capability to do that although they have the technical know how. So the elitist are bartering with these aliens . The human trade manufacturing of high grade metals for them and in return the aliens take heroin and cocaine into space and in micro-gravity process it for the drug trading elite humans. It is then very pure and incredibly powerful because of this type of processing. Then the barter exchange takes place and the drugs are distributed to the American public that have become enslaved to drugs. And the aliens take the metals and use them to build what ever they are up to.

As for the metals the humans can manufacture into their purest state, if they are pure enough, did you know that the metal becomes transparent.

A special team of military mercenaries, have been sense the 1970's, raiding ancient underground and underwater cities and looting all the gold and treasures in these places. They have even gone into other countries and robbed them of these treasures.

The part of the covert government/military/CIA etc. that are involved with the underground bases that are jointly occupied with these agents and negative aliens have been for years working together to created a most deadly biological/germ warfare product. They have found that by using glandular secretions from the aliens to create the biological weapon that it is totally deadly to humans while it has no effect on the aliens and of course there is no antidote or if there is the government is the only one with it.

I hope you can sleep well knowing this information, as for myself I sleep very little knowing that our civilization has sank to such a low respect for the life force to want to have a weapon that could totally wipe this beautiful planet out and all of the human inhabitants. The traders of the human race will someday have to pay the universe back for their treachery.

CONTACT WITH A BEING FROM ANDROMEDA

This is information from a being of the people of Andromeda and, about his people and why they are here and what they have to relate about the other groups that are involved with earth at this time.

There are three major groups of extraterrestrials invading earth at this time and this is a very small amount of the identifying information on each of these groups of beings.

One group is interested in ingenious beings with the ability for knowledge with inter strength. They are looking for people with a mystic understanding of spiritual nature. They are looking for people with a natural quest for scientific understanding and that have a desire to know the unknown, because to know is part of their destiny. They are not interested in anything else.

Physically and genetically these beings are very different from us. These beings are called the great workers of the cosmos.

There are 10 billion suns in the milky way and there are innumerable of those suns with plants that are inhabited, there is life everywhere it is not like it is here on earth but it is life. They are your brothers and sisters. These beings are part of our brothers that are here and that is what the radical few are all about.

They are interstellar, working with light. They are interdimensional and there are those that are just here and now entities. There is an interdimensional craft that exist in another time frame, another vibration level and it does materialize here out of another dimension because here in this dimension it is needed because it has everything to do with time, distance, space and linear thought, for evolution of the human being. It is needed for propelling time and distance.

Interstellar, there are people coming here from the seven sisters the Pleiadean system and a greater group coming from the Andromedas. These are interstellar people and yet they have the ability to go hyper-light, fold time, which is beyond what light speed is conceived in you known physics, so in only a matter of a moment they can be here from an entirely different star system and that is on social group.

The next group is stationed within the interior of your earth and these are the ones your government is in contact with.

The people of Andromeda are beyond the north star, they are interdimensional. They are very tall measuring between 8 to 10 feet, thin in structure and look like giants their heads are very large and these people are beautiful in appearance. They are illuminated in light they are in mythology called the Winged Gods. They love the people of earth very much, you are their brothers and sisters. They live off of truth. They were called the Arch Angles in the Bible. Michael and Gabriel are of the people of Andromeda. They appear as white light.

Their craft is illuminated greater than 10 thousand suns. They are penetrating in thought. They can look down through vibration levels, or dimensions, and see you very clearly. They observe you at all times. They have reseeded this planet once when it was destroyed by the releasing of the atomic levels. They have reseeded this planet when consciousness collapsed in on the people due to decadence. They reseeded civilizations to bring about this race of beings which is, you. Genetically, we are of the seeds of Michael and Gabriel. We look more like them more than any other races, these care takers. Why from this strain and this house? Because these entities are more closely aligned to the original physical make up of the genetic human being. The human being in the beginning on this plan did look like an little ape but was not an ape he was the beginning embodiment of man in a primitive body form, proto-type, the body had to evolve and become refined through millions of years to get to where it is today on earth in the evolutionary process. It was the beginning of the human beings, of the Gods in reality in this dimension on this plan, in this understanding. During that time the Gods, those who have lived in other dimensions have indeed impregnated the human and have seeded them with excellence, up grading continually the physical being. Upgrading their ability for experience of you the physical being. That is why you look similar but not altogether the same as your bony ancestors, these care takers, these angles, they are Lords of Host. They have the ability of understanding, the knowledge to have the longevity and all the things that were necessary to impregnate and insight the human spices to cultivate its continuum. They are highly evolved souls, soul and spirit they do possess but they live the soul and spirit there is no image that binds the spirit that is why they are illuminated. They are evolving in a discovery of taking the soul and turning it inside out and living it. They are beautiful beyond description, the people of earth shadow fragments of that beauty. They have taken care of you because you truly are their brothers and sisters. Because you all came from the same source, you where all created in light. You all possess it, it is the common bond between you. The people of Andromeda evolved very rapidly in involution. In involution they went throughout the seven levels of understanding and back again very rapidly. They are at what your understanding of where seventh level is. These beings who are genetically part of each of the people of earth have been your overseers for civilization upon civilization. They are threaded through mythology and legions which have survived some civilizations. There comings and going have been recorded. They are responsible for Budda climbing the wall. They are responsible for Mohammed and Gabriels sorta. They are responsible for human evolution and keeping consciousness from collapsing in on the people of earth.

Not to many can look upon these people and not be affected by it forever. Some people can't look upon them period. Why have they protected you from your own evolution. Because there has been times in your civilization that you have come by a fragment to an end of this civilization. The people of earth are so powerful and do not know that they have powers in consciousness that you have the ability to collapse that consciousness in upon yourselves and end awareness. They have interceded over and over again. Continually pulling you out of you loins and wombs. Pulling you away from your single minded power, and tyranny. Pulling you away from your absolute insistence on being ignorant. They have stopped you from annihilating yourself, and from killing an organism that this earth is, this emerald of your universe. Why? Because they love you. Because that which constituted you outside of this body that you wear is a great soul and spirit and that spirit connects you to forever and ever. It is that love that binds and keeps you going forward. That is why they do it. There have been those born and have evolved here on earth. Many have lived here much more advanced than you. They have destroyed themselves through decadence through power, the releasing of the atomic energy. That is one reason their here is to keep us from killing everything with nuclear energy because we don't know enough to us it safely.

The other civilizations that have been here before us, there bones and remnants lie at the bottom of the oceans or they are being refined as molten rock. How many people were saved from that destruction, that the seeds are here on earth now. How can a whole civilization be put asunder and yet another one live. You have big brothers and sisters who have taken care, to make sure that you go forward, that you do not collapse upon yourself. They have been your care takers, and guardians for a long time. They are the ones responsible for the green explosion in your stratosphere that are continuously are there to neutralize the poisons, had they not, long ago this earth would be covered in a black cloud and there would not be any life here. Your insistence upon polluting the air, that envelops this earth. They have been responsible for a few remarkable human beings. They are impart responsible for setting up the ancient schools of wisdom. They have been the teachers in those ancient schools. They have been responsible for kidnapping, seducing away certain individuals and opening them up and giving to them the waters of life and returning them back to civilization to teach a truth. There is on great law, that is the law of the will of expression. Called, free will, because your loved. You have to evolve according to your will. It is respected. That will must evolve in its own understanding. That is why they stay hidden and far away. They give you seeds of truth that will aspire and inspire you to greatness to start you thinking, to be an individual. Because that allows you to evolve to where they are. That you can communicate with them. If they appear and invade you, you would have a bunch of ignorant people, superstitiously believing in the resurrection of God coming to save them. Throwing themselves down, bowing down before them or running around hiding in the mountains because they are terrified of them. You do not have knowledge that way nor do you have evolution. Those that have superstitious faith lose the ability to think when they are intimidated by greatness. They don't grow, they are slaves and for some people that all together did not want it that way, or you will have people that are afraid and are running and hoping that the mountain will fall on you to hide you from them because of the terrible light. That kind of mind is why you have always been intervened upon. These great illustrious group have intercoursed your women and have seduced your men. They have created great people from their seeds. The people on earth are those seeds. All of you carry in you that longing, a natural longing that looks into the sky at night. That is where it comes from genetically. The spirit longs for nothing but god, the body longs for its genetic tree. Civilizations have been destroyed and the peoples soul and spirits have reincarnated. The seed people, these my people created the seed people. Those who would survive, and you know who they were? They were the ones that were warned and told to flee to the mountains. They are the ones who survived everything. Don't you know your genes are all hooked up to those survivors. Then regenerated moral dignity, spiritual and moral qualifier, illuminated minds, you have intercoursed with them and they have created greatness. That which is to come back into a natural destiny to move forward to naturally evolve and go forward so that one day the ancient schools can come again that their highways are open as they once where here on your earth. The great pyramids the ones that have been ravaged and one that has been saved. They were natural temples of the ancient schools and the highways of light were open through the dimensions. Selected initiates went to those schools. Myth, superstition, dogmas, religion have gone about destroying the schools throughout the centuries. Destroying them so that the world can be kept in tack through fear. There is coming a day very soon that those schools are going to open up again. Then time, distance and space will be collapsed. The collapsing of the dimensions will allow the interaction of the of earth and the people from beyond the sun once again. You have to earn the right to be there. It isn't hysterical, worshipping, fall on your face kiss their feet, dogmatic worship that will get you there either. When you have earned the right you will be chosen. These are the seed people to illumination. The seeds planting themselves are remarkable people, in as much as they begin first of all with simplicity. The simplicity is being uncluttered and yet having the capability for brilliance these people are naturally more simple, they are more naturally engendered with courage and tenacity and from that courage and tenacity can live a truth regardless of what ever test they are put through no matter what, simple people are chosen as the MEEK. The meek are chosen by these people as the next step civilization. A greater civilization, which will be superconsciousness. Their ability in consciousness to be aware to grow and be empowered through consciousness makes their selection a very natural one. To open up the communication once again for sharing the more equalized you become in consciousness and are able to direct it energy the more equalized you become. Not only to seen but to unseen intelligence. That is how you make yourself worthy. There selection has been based with people that are their brothers. That they again the baby sitters of time will take care to preserve truth. To preserve the reason, meaning and purpose of the human being. To preserve the truth as to what God the light is all about. That a civilization can go all the way through to its seventh understanding in consciousness. The seventh realization in evolution. Inside that simple person truth rolls out of them like a river. Their courage and strength is great. They are worthy of the Gods because they are Gods, both genetically and spiritually. My peoples armada is legion. These people are the great intimidators, of ignorance that is. There great mother ship is thirty miles in diameter and is invisible because of its exterior metal has been created to be invisible, it looks black. It houses great Gods. Your government is aware of this great ship and it is ominous to them. If it were to light up it would be brighter than ten thousand suns. You would not be able to look upon it with your eyes. This ship has warriors on it that would defy your imagination and it has Gods on it that would defy the word beauty. It is legion that it has a sting like a scorpion from above. In a moment it can blast a continent to the bottom of the sea and in a moment it could with one of its lights send this world spinning in its orbit. In a moment it could take your world and turn it upside down. It was this ship that blasted Sodom and Gomorra off the face of the earth in one blast and it didn't take anything to do that. Yet this great guardian is your brothers. Those of the Gods. They are here to see you the people that are chosen through with the truth. For the reason that these things are coming. It is a destiny that is truly beyond your ability to change it. A few people have had a great contact with these people and their code number is 32 and their symbol code is the triad. There are some people that will seat and draw triangles or write the number 32. Those are the codes and it also means that you have had contact with these people it is also preservation and it also inspires you to hear truth to be, to live the truth. It is like a greater source helping you to realize to burn away your limitation to understand it is a code that pushes the buttons in you. This great ship is call Mary-A-Moon which means, the silver life, and some people are going to see it. It is power. That ship is here partly because of the disease of this planet and because of the collapse of consciousness of this civilization and is here because of the changes that are going to occur here on this your planet. It is also here because of another force of entities that are engaged here on this planet, the Dracos or Reptilian aliens. It was this great ship and one of its ambassadors that appeared at Fatima. It was the great spinning burning sun that dried the earth after the great flood. It was this ship that gave the vision about the great wars that were going to come. It told of the Great Scarlet Whore the Catholic church. It has also created great profits in the past. It has aspired to do wonderful things to preserve seeds of people its truth and words have been miss used misconstrued and taken and used by powerful men to enslave people and it has been allowed but the ship is back for truth.

THE ZETA RETICULI GROUP AND THE REPTILIAN DRACO'S

Dividing up the what is what on the who's who is a job and a half because all of them are operating to a greater degree in a mode of anonymity. Because some want to keep you ignorant and the other group wants you off balance because they can keep you under control better that way if you knew what was going on for sure ignorant people panic and in general flip out, people don't really believe things unless their government or church or T.V. tells them, this is what is really going on around you and you buy it hook line and sinker, wake up people you have never been told the truth till now and the deception is going to put you into a messy trap. The controlling group is gambling on this and mind control to keep you in place and a disbeliever until they have everything in place that they have planned to do to you. This is true to a greater extent with two main groups the Zeti Reticuli and the Reptilian Draco's. The Andromeda and Plieadian people recorded in the Bible and mythology as the Arch Angels and the winged gods they are trying to spread the truth and gather together the seed people the decent children of the twelve tribes to a safer place to ride out the storm, of the fall of this civilization and the convulsions that the earth is about to go through. Billions of people are going to die because you are not going to be prepared because you have been programmed to not notice what is really going on around you. If earthquakes and volcano's and hurricane's do not happen in your back yard and you continue to get your pay check this week you don't realize that mother earth is getting ready to clean house and the government and the International Bankers and the Illuminati group is getting ready to declare war on you, mankind, in the form of enslavement and many other horrors. The group of brothers and sisters from the Andromeda are watching over the activities on earth very closely and taking measures to prevent the destruction of earth by man and his ignorance. This section is mainly about the Ziti Reticuli as related by one of them and information given by a being that is of the people of Andromeda about the Zeta Reticuli and the Draco's.

Some people have had nasty experiences with the Zeta Reticuli because you experience with the Zeta Reticuli is only been as great as your fear of them. Some people have probes sitting behind your optic nerve and some have probes up your rectum at the mouth of the intestine. Some people have them behind their ear drum and also in the fleshy parts such as your chest, arms and legs.

The Zeta came here from a place in our Milky Way where the sun is blue. They are interstellar people. They are very old and they never die, they are here to also seed but to gather seeds to take home. They are not mean, nasty or cruel they are not decadent. They are humanoid that poses soul and spirit. They are in the throws of a dying evolution to where they have become so intellectual that they have burned away emotion. They have great difficulty in understanding, love, touch, embrace, the warm touch of a hand. They are the Galactic Geniuses they are poor in spirit. They are the most widely known. They are the little four foot gray people that have been kidnapping people here on earth for a very long time. Their primary leader is a woman which is very beautiful in her own right but genetically comes from the people that the people on earth are connected to, the Andromeda people. She is part of their strain and looks different than all of her people. She is in a way their Goddess if you want to see it that way she is endeavoring to reproduce the strain of her genetic line. Her genetic line is most similar to the people of earth. It is most similar in evolution to where not only is the civilization combined as civilized scientific mind but it is coupled with the intuitive, spiritual and mystic. The spirit that is the idealism that is endeavoring to be replanted and reseeded. These people don't look like the people of earth at all. This woman's' people are small, very fragile and tender, their bones are very easy to brake. If you grabbed their arm you would crush their bones and their great black eyes would fill with red water. They are very thin and their skin is bluish gray. They have over billions of years in the time flow eroded away genetically from being great and beautiful similar to the Andromeda people, to becoming genetically through evolution fitting exactly to what they were evolving to , scientific knowledge. At one point in their genetic history they had a very firm belief of doing away with the emotions and they have breed out emotions and breed in intellect. They are the geniuses they are the ones that can set a nova into motion and explode it, they are the ones that are matter gathers of the universe. They gather matter and create with it. Matter creates in front of them. It is co-existent with their image they can create their image out of raw matter. They are the raiders from above from above on the people of the earth. They have used you and created specimens in a laboratory. They have control over you because their power of though is magnanimous, qunucentual they can pick up matter and assimilate it. They can hypnotize you in a moment, distort your time put you to sleep and everything in the surrounding area with a thought. They have been doing interbreeding with humans for about 40,000 years. They have kidnapped humans and tried to take them to their planet to breed them and to enter act with their people and the children there. The human being can not survive the trip to their environment unless they are impacted with electro magnetic jell throughout their intestine and organs and senses in order to make the trip other wise the human would not survive the trip. To avoid all that risk and trouble they have come for you here. They select you on merit of genetic ability to be "emotional, to be warm and loving." If you are an emotional person you have been selected. They select you on your physical endurance, your emotional abilities, sets you up to be chosen. When you love or feel even anger you are chosen. You have shared your seed with your brothers and sisters. It is without love and emotion, it is the power to create and they are also learning about our sexual habits and behavior. Your seed is extrapolated from you, it is then genetically seeded with their own and the child is raised in their environment. So your seeds are reseeding. These people have been called kidnappers. They are despised and are feared and the population at large thinks its insane. The public in general think it is a wild fantasy of a bunch of neurotic people wanting publicity. Do you know that is the way all civilizations have always destroyed the facts they didn't want to believe or look at, through denial. This kidnapping has happened on a very large scale the numbers are in the millions. Their are untold numbers of women that have been kidnapped, impregnated, and later the child is taken and is raised in another world. Those children belong to that world. They are reseeding the human emotion, love, feelings, touch. They like and they dislike things. Those great luminous eyes of their new children are great blue eyes like the sky and when they cry it is tears of paler blue than their eyes and they think the tears are wonderful because they collect them and save them.

They are rather rough in their way of handling you. It is the only way they know. They are just learning from human kind on earth how to hold and love their infants or any other being. They are learning tender touch they think human beings are superior enough genetically and emotional that it will draw to it souls and spirits that will pickup evolution in a different page in the book of life, and begin to evolve and copulate and create love, which has been gone.

So many people on earth have children in the stars that have great luminous eyes that are blue. They are still small in muscle tone and frail but when they are breed again and have children that line will begin to evolve and that is the reason for these kidnappings. These people are learning about love and the emotional attachment of people that love one another. This happened to millions of people of all races all over the world. These little kidnappers have no emotions. They are objective and amoral.

If your nose bleeds a lot they have gotten you. They have a connection with you. Their love is a thought that stays with you, when you see their face in front of you they have connected with you. Someday, some people will be ready to set and converse with them and be at peace with them. They will look at you in wonderment. They are wary of you, they have to immobilize you. They have to make you not move because one grab from your hand on their arm would shatter their limbs. Because of what has happened between these little people and the peoples they have engaged on earth in a sense you have had children with them. They truly are part of your family. To know if you have been raided by them. If you have lost time. If you have had a sore nose or and ache in your penis or womb. They can take you out of your bed at night and your partner will never know that you were gone. The blood on the pillow case was only a nose bleed in the night, you think. Women that have had a miscarriage not all were because the baby was defective. Some were because the seeding was not from a man here on earth. If you think back to the time of conception that you had lost time, night mares, nose bleeding soreness in your womb.

If you dream about animals and animal forms it is the image given to you by them so you could except the way they look. The Indian thought their spiritual deity is an Eagle, it is probable an alien. Why do you think the Indian saw the eagle as an assaulted spirit. Why do you think the tribes saw animals as assaulted spirit. Because the people of the tribes were connected with the people from the stars. Their memory of the great white buffalo spirit it is the eagle and the bear it is the cry of a killer whale and all of those were images given to the people of what was really a contact with people from the stars. Men if you are attracted to dark haired women with large black eyes, it is most likely a laden memory of these people that keeps playing over and over and it has to do with and erection and an ejaculation without your control. If your penis has been strangely sore and scratches on it, then its most likely because you have had a contact..

These little people do not necessarily eat. They eat truth and knowledge. They don't kiss they don't talk out of their mouth like earth people do they speak through their consciousness. They don't have ears. They don't hear sound as you do. They hear you like a very low RPM motor. They hear the vibration behind your thoughts. They have no hair. These little beings are really very kind. They are not mean nasty or cruel. If they know that you are not going to hurt them they will talk to you and make contact. No matter what you may think about these little beings they are your brothers and sisters. If you happen to see their craft it is either light when changing form and when moving or orange when still. They are very straight they don't make jokes or laugh and they are very precise in their business.

Message from the Zeta Reticuli:

I bring you greetings and good tidings from beyond the stars from your brothers of the Zeta Reticuli. I will explain to you briefly who and what we are. You have named some of our craft that move through your atmosphere FLYING SAUCERS. I am not from one of these ships. The craft that I come to you from is four and three-tenths miles in length by your method of measurement and two and one-tenth miles in length by your method of measurement and two and one-tenth miles in circumference. This craft contains many other of us who are in human form. Some of us have passed the phase of human form. Their knowledge and mind processes were long ago recorded into an instrument you would call a computer. I came to this vicinity of this planet approximately thirty eight thousand years ago, by method of time measurement. Your planet and the living forms upon it have a specific value to us. Your life forms has a particular value to us. For this reason, at about the time I came to this vicinity of your world, we interfered with the natural development of the species of man that inhabited this planet. Our purpose was to shorten the cycle of the development necessary for the human inhabitants of this planet to be of use to us. Our vessels number somewhat over 20,000 just within the confines of your solar system. These craft very in size from a few feet to many miles in length and circumference. These craft very in shape and size depending on the purpose for which it is used for. Our human forms number many thousands, some were alive in their present human forms before I came here. We have worked patiently with you for over thirty eight thousand years. The development brought about would have taken, by normal cycles, over two hundred and fifty thousand years. Our intent however is not to control or to rule over you, intergalactic law within our group forbids this. We are however permitted to guide you. Your acceptance of us is by your own choice. Those in human form inhabiting our craft have ceased to reproduce. This condition makes it necessary to chose one of two courses when it becomes necessary to dispose of the human vessel whether to be recorded into a device and stored as many of us have been or whether to be recorded into another suitable human type form by synthetic means. This therefore makes it necessary to find planets young enough where new man beings are being born, yet old enough for the human forms to be developed to a point that will provide suitable bodies with sufficient brain capacity to receive our knowledge. We seek therefore not to take but to give. There are those of us on our vessels who must carry out menial tasks. They are in human form also. There are men upon your planet who have developed because of our physical form beings. This was done by what you would term artificial insemination. This occurred often in a recent age with a primary that are by products to reach a higher form more near our human form. These are nearest to the forms who inhabit our vessels, Yeshua Ben Joseph, the Jesus of Nazerous, is but one such creation. He had to be created and sent to bring hope to a human race that had a consciousness that was collapsing in on itself and to counter the consciousness that had been created by Jehovah and the Draco's. Jesus came to teach the people the truth that they and the father "God" are one. No separation between God and man. We however are not alone in our interests in your world. There is in existence with us another group. The Draco's and Gray aliens which consider themselves native terrans. They are an ancient race descendent from a reptilian humanoid species which crossbreed with sapien humans. They are untrustworthy manipulator mercenary extraterrestrial culture whom are returning to earth their ancient outpost to use it as a staging area. The Zeta are in conflict with the Draco over who's agendas will be followed for this planet. All the while mental control is being used to keep humans, in place and controlled, especially since the forties. Their methods are in direct opposition to ours, and they think nothing of using people like cattle. They also have interfered with the development of your planet. They wish to reach their ends, not by cooperation but by control and domination. These people are evolved tyrants, technologically. They helped to create religion here as we also did however they created a division between the peoples of earth by introducing worship and enslavement of the seed people. The peoples (souls) that Yahweh brought here long, long ago when the Plieades were at war and Maladeck was destroyed an they could not inhabit it any longer. The Draco's were the ones that created heaven and hell. They created Lucifer and they created Jehovah. They have one objective which is to set the people of the earth against one another so they will someday inherit it. They have selected slaves who are willing to destroy the world in the name of God. They are very powerful. They have a way of keeping the myth's alive and keeping superstitious people ignorant. With pons (high government officials) in high places and do even today. The Draco's aliens contract here runs out here when the Catholic Church falls. The fall of the great scarlet whore, in Revolutions. These people have seeded their truth here, not with enlightenment but with subservience, they are the slave drivers. They have had their ways here through out the times such as in the times when they were around Atlantis. They are also involved on other planets, not only here. Their main goal is to govern and control you. In one since they have done a righteous thing in helping bring about an uplifting of mankind, to evolve ignorant human beings. Ignorant in the ways of evolution. They helped aspire and inspire the first dynasty of Mongolia. They helped aspire and create the dynasty of Egypt. They have helped build up the human condition as their brothers, but only good enough to serve them. It is how the parents raise their children to make them proud. But the parents always own the children, "Those are my children, they are my family". That consciousness belongs to those people. My family is a tyrannical attitude. It is seeded from tyrants that see you as their people they created because they insight sterile civilizations they instilled a concept of subservience, ignorance, enslavement. They have boldly said they will have no other Gods before them because they are very jealous Gods. They have resurrected saints to past on their truth and resurrected demons to keep it in tack. "Demons" meaning the aggressive dark side of the human being and it is all a reflection of their need to have you serve them. If you knew to the extent that they have played in religion and made the figures in religion to some people it would be fatal. Any individual no matter how assaulted, they have the ability to extrapolate from lower beings the ability of subservience, and to lock their minds into a stagnated growth pattern so that they don't grow or evolve. These people have been responsible for powerful governments, they are responsible for the birth of Julius Caesar. They are responsible for the latter years of Napoleon's rein. They are responsible for Hitler. (Now they are probably responsible for the Clinton's and Gore) Their only want you to have the ability to serve them. There is coming a day very soon that a great ARMADA, will appear in the sky over your head. This is the vision of the war in the heavens and that war is a war of highly evolved light beings to light beings. This war is for control of this rag tag environment on earth that will be left, and it is all for an altered ego.

The Zeta say, You must reach a high level of mental development and knowledge to be able to understand our purposes beyond Harvesting. We have attempted to gain your cooperation for thousands of years. We have been vigorously opposed by the other group known as the reptilian grays. We must achieve our goal by guidance for us to be of assistance to you. Our work is beyond your present level of understanding and yet you will eventually be of great assistance to us by cooperating with us in the study of life forms and conditions on your planet. The results of these studies will be intercorrelated with other studies being conducted on other worlds and they will benefit your own planet, our people and the inhabitants of other worlds. We also have limitations which make it necessary to adhere to certain conditions that are difficult for you to rationalize at this time. Our intent and purposes toward you exceed your most beautiful wishes and dreams for your existence on earth. The inhabitants of your world have repeatedly been told of these and they always have converted them into spiritual ideals. It is an understandable thought process to attempt to understand the unknown by measuring it with the known. We do not condemn you for this, but to those of you who will follow certain steps, we may be able to help reach a higher understanding, there by improving man's opportunities for survival on his world while at the same time assisting us in our endeavors. We are using many methods at this time to inform your people of our presence and our immediate purposes. To explain the methods we have used for thousands of years is to speak to you via a tensor-vector beam. It is a light beam similar to a laser. Vector is a beam that carries a message or thought and with mutual agreement between a planetary dweller and an inhabitant of our craft the knowledge of one of us may be blended with the planetary dweller must fully agree and desire this blending. Thus we use the body and mind to speak to you and communicate. If you do not reach out the beam is not sent out in answer to a request. We beam communications to many on your world. This is refereed to in the Bible as divine guidance from God or being in the spirit of God because you can see the energy of the beam around a person it is so intense. Today is called channeling. In many cases we contact people in a direct manor and they either have full memory of this engagement or they have no memory, depending on the humans ability to handle the engagement.

The time is quite near for cooperation between us to begin. Full knowledge of our presence will soon be known to your people. There will be at that time, great upheavals on your planet. We regret this cannot in anyway be avoided. We knew this from the beginning. We therefore have warned man repeatedly too prepare for these events both mentally and physically. Those who take not the trouble to prepare themselves are of little value in any case. You must watch and prepare yourselves according to the conditions you observe. We will guide those of you who sincerely desire us to. We can not tell you the day or hour these upheavals will start but they are very close at hand even this hour. We do not intend any evacuation of your planet on any scale. You are of no use to us in the outer reaches. Our craft are now adequately manned. Our need of your cooperation involves habitation of your world by your own people under more suitable conditions than you now realize. Following the climatic upheavals on your world, we will provide guidance to bring about the desired conditions of your and our mutual benefit. Seek us and you will find us. we only await your call.

More about the Reptilian Draco's

These people have a way to go in evolution themselves, they are already coming to realization and it is how much do you have to concur until you have to concur self. That is their process is the concurring of self. All the people of earth are these peoples toys. The greatest war that was ever fought was the greatest tyrant against the greatest tyrant. That was the sublime battle. All people of earth reflect their consciousness. That consciousness reflected in the "Image". Theirs is to have dominion over you, remember they are the slave drivers. What better esteem than to own a group of Gods, Gods children, and they have programmed the people on earth to not know who they are vigorously for over 6000 years and more. The people on earth have alot of big brothers and sisters that love you very much and these tyrants are one reason we are here, we are going to help the seed people that want to wake up and come home. There is no greater sword than the sword of enlightenment and knowledge. You have in you the capability to be awesome. Knowledge and truth and having the same body that you have with a consciousness that can fine tune itself and is far more powerful than any ship you could ever ride and the light that illuminates them. The greatest beings can take your body just as it is and set its consciousness free then you have power more powerful than the greatest space ship that can blast this planet into turmoil. It is greater and more powerful than any interdeminional craft, weapon or force field. Because all of these things came from consciousness. Because nothing can defy it. What you are learning even those that would take you into submission can't afford to have you know or learn. Because when you learn consciousness and the power of your energy of the human being and what you are you will never be controlled again. They have took steps in evolution because of their involvement here to keep you from knowing WHO YOU ARE and all the peoples of the earth. They are highly technical they understand matter and anti-matter, gravity, and anti-gravity. They understand conscious and sub-conscious, to the degree that it produced anti-matter. Don't you know that light that appears and disappears is anti-matter engaged, but what is anti-matter. Consciousness is what matter is constituted of. They are going to be turned around it has already happened in time you are just catching up to it. You are living in the residue of time it has already happened. Every single person on earth has the latent capability to be a sovereign to themselves. There is no question as to your rights to this state of existence. It is a fact of life. No one in the entire cosmos has the right or power to own or enslave a sovereign being. Trespassing on the sovereignty in any action or by any designed plan is a serious action. You have created untellable havoc in your world because of a programmed lack of knowledge for the masses by a power hungry few. For all time the people of earth should have had one end result toward which to expand all effort. Caring for your earth, your home. To protect it to balance the imbalances. Love and nurture it. The greenlands and forest are necessary for your earth and humanity to survive.
